

VICTORY LOAN SERMONS BY CITY PASTORS, CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE MONDAY

REV. BALDWIN IN PINE ST. CHURCH

Assistant Pastor Will Talk at Morning Service; Rev. Fales in Evening

The services at the Pine Street Presbyterian church on Sunday will, as usual, be full of interest and helpfulness. In the absence of the pastor, the assistant pastor, Rev. Harold H. Baldwin, will preach at the morning service. His sermon subject will be "First Things" and at the evening service, what are first things and where they should be placed. In the evening the pulpit will be occupied by the Rev. Merton S. Fales, director of men and boys' work, who will preach on "The Bow in the Clouds." Both these services will be enriched by congregational singing, and church music of the highest character and quality rendered by the church quartet. The church Sunday school will hold its session as usual at 1:40 p. m. This service will be of especial interest to the members of the Boy Bible Class, as the teachers, Mrs. John Y. Boyd, who has been absent for four months, will teach the class on Sunday. Special efforts are being made to secure a large attendance to welcome her.

On Monday evening the Woman's Missionary Society will hold its monthly meeting in the church parlor at 7:30 o'clock, at which the following program will be presented: "Latin America" by Mrs. Charles Felix, "Mexicans in the United States" by Mrs. E. Z. Gross, and a paper on "Current Events" by Mrs. L. S. Mudge. On Tuesday evening the Woman's Missionary Guild will meet in the church parlor at 7:30 o'clock, and will have as their guest, Mrs. William Jessup, of Cairo, Egypt. William Jessup will be remembered as having delivered an address in Pine Street a few weeks ago on his experience as director of Y. M. C. A. work in Cairo and on the Eastern battle fronts. Mrs. Jessup will tell of her hospital and Y. M. C. A. work in Palestine during the war. The regular mid-week service will be held on Wednesday evening with the pastor in charge. The Red Cross Auxiliary will meet as usual on Friday from 8:30 a. m. to 10:30 a. m. at mid-day in the Women and Girls' building. On Friday evening at 6:45 o'clock in the church parlor, the pastor will begin a communicants' class for boys preparatory to the June communion.

The Boy Scout Troop, No. 12, is campaigning this week for funds for the Victory Loan. It has raised $12,000 bonds of the last issue, totaling $13,000. They are endeavoring to exceed this amount for the new loan.

Allison Hill Churches Take Religious Census

Under the direction of Children's Division of the International Sunday School Association which is conducting a nation-wide campaign this week for the purpose of emphasizing the religious instruction of children, the Sunday school workers of Allison Hill have just completed a census of their section of the city. The work has gone forward under the efficient leadership of Mrs. W. G. Pentz, the superintendent of the children's division of district 29, who has been ably seconded in her efforts by Mrs. H. W. Jackson, children's division superintendent for the county, and E. C. Class, superintendent of district 26. These leaders recognize that the splendid success would have been impossible had it not been for the thoroughness with which the following lieutenants did their work: Mrs. C. E. Wagner of the Park Street U. E. church; W. F. Wolf of the Church of the Redeemer; Miss Emma Arnsbach of the Epworth M. E. Church; Mrs. C. E. Whitman of the Market Street Baptist; Mrs. Paul Grundon of the Olivet Presbyterian; Mrs. W. D. Meikle of the Immanuel Presbyterian; Mrs. A. M. Buck of the State Street U. E.; Mrs. Gertrude Leidigh of the Christ Lutheran; M. W. White of the Memorial Lutheran; Mrs. George Moore of the Berry Street U. E.; Mrs. Paul Reynolds of the Fourth Baptist; Miss Helen Appleby of the Stevens Memorial; Rev. W. K. Conner of the Hummel Street Church of the Brethren. The work done by the Rev. A. J. Green and Rev. E. C. Winfield in behalf of the colored citizenship is also greatly appreciated.

The cards covering the canvass are now in the hands of the district officers and as soon as possible the pastors and Sunday school superintendents of the churches of the Hill will be notified regarding results judging from the amount of material received. There ought to be a decided impetus to all departments of religious work. On Sunday all the churches are asked to lay special emphasis on the responsibility of parents in the matter of properly training their children in the things of the Kingdom of God.

C. E. CHORAL UNION TO GIVE "CREATION" NEXT WEEK

Famous Oratorio to Be Presented in the Technical High School Auditorium

Ten successive years of first-class music has given the Harrisburg Christian Endeavor Choral Union a reputation that is known throughout the State. Much ground has been accomplished by the loyal Endeavorers who sing at hospitals, jails, churches and on many special occasions. Music loving people will again have the opportunity to hear a new oratorio, entitled, "Creation," to be rendered on next Thursday evening, in the Technical High School auditorium.

Professor Frank McCarrell, of this city, will direct the large chorus, composed of local talent. The oratorio has an interesting historical sketch as follows: In 1790, Franz Joseph Haydn wrote the oratorio after the English style. In 1794 he wrote a text by the great violinist, Salomon, which originally was prepared by Mr. Lidley for Handel, but it had evidently not taken the fancy of the great English writer. It was a description of the creative work from the Scripture as recorded in Genesis and from Milton's "Paradise Lost." He began the work late in 1795 and took more than two years to complete it. He would ever get it finished, he replied, "I spend much time on it because I intend it to last a long time."

The writer was a pious man, and confessed later to having "prayed daily to God that he would grant him strength to complete the work and to praise Him worthily." It was first presented in Vienna in 1798, directed by Haydn himself, in the presence of the notables in music and literary achievements. "Creation" begins with an orchestral description of chaos when darkness prevails. Soon the temperament of the chorus changes to a soft representation of dawn when suddenly the light bursts forth into day.

Part two dwells on the succeeding days are vividly pictured in story and song, until the climax is reached in the chorus, "The Heavens are telling the glory of God."

Part two dwells on the creation of living creatures, and reaches its climax in the great work which has been achieved, and gives proper credit to the Creator in a majestic triumphal chorus.

The oratorio is composed of the following persons: Sopranos—Mrs. C. A. Boehringer, Beatrice Bogar, Mrs. T. M. Clark, Mrs. Mary Deal, Mrs. George Deane, Mrs. Harry Deiker, Mrs. Mabel Drawbaugh, Wilhelmina K.
