

ELKS TO HELP SALVATION ARMY

Offer Aid During the Army's Drive From May 19 to 26

New York, May 5.—Former Governor Charles S. Whitman, of New York, and Brigadier General Cornelius Vanderbilt, national chairman of the Salvation Army Home Service Fund Campaign for $13,000,000 have received a tender of aid and co-operation from the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, Bruce A. Campbell, grand exalted ruler of the Elks, came to New York from St. Louis to make the offer, in company with John K. Tener, former Governor of Pennsylvania, and a committee of members high in the Elk councils. Mr. Campbell called on General Vanderbilt and Mr. Whitman and placed the Elks unreservedly at the service of the Salvation Army, for the drive May 19-26. "We have watched the work of the Salvation Army at home for a long time," said Mr. Campbell, "and what was done in France was right in line with what it has done in times of peace." John K. Tener confirmed the attitude of the Elks toward the Salvation Army. "The Elks had 50,000 men in the war," he explained and 7,000 officers. We know from them that the Salvation Army came nearest to a perfect score of all the civilian agencies undertaking war relief work. Our men are earnest in commendation of the Salvation Army and we are all lined up to fortify them for their financial needs. In last year's campaign for funds to support Salvation Army war activi-

REDS MARCH TO RED MUSIC

Men and Women With Red Ribbons Crowded the Streets

Budapest, May 5.—May Day has been an orgy of red. Thousands of red troops marched to red music through red-bannered streets. The sidewalks were crowded with men, women and girls flaunting red ribbons. Street cars were red, automobiles were red, railway stations and lamp posts were red, in squares and on street corners were huge red wooden stands on which were enshrined the statement, "This is the day of freedom and world brotherhood." There also were numerous immense plaster casts of Lenin and Karl Marx, some of them twenty feet high. The red celebration continued all day and all night and red electric lights added to the crimson hue after dark. In the city there were fiery speeches in different parts of the city by Bela Kun and other leaders of the Soviets. The total cost of this effort to make a red letter day for Hungarian communism was $12,000,000 marks, taken from the banks of the country. Bela Kun declared that the people could at least remember forever what had been tried, and he said privately that no matter if communism failed, it could be said that it went out in a blaze of glory. The imagination of Hungary's best artists and sculptors was employed to make the celebration a success from this viewpoint if it did not fail. The most remarkable feature of the situation now prevailing is the fact that there is absolutely no disorder. The Elks carried on the drive in nearly 500 communities. We are ready to contribute, to help, and to co-operate now to the limit of our powers. There are no negative votes as to the worthiness of the Salvation Army call."

HELPED DRAW OVER 1,000 BILLS

State Legislative Reference Bureau Has to Work on Sunday to Do It

Aid of the State Legislative Reference Bureau has been asked for the drafting of bills presented to the 1919 Legislature and its staff and its staff upon the revision of the last of the measures to be sent before the House of Representatives. The time for introduction of new legislation ends in the lower branch of the Legislature on Wednesday. This is probably the busiest session for the bureau of any since it was created and virtually every appropriation bill has been handled by it, as well as scores of other bills. It is expected that there will be considerable new legislation presented in the House to-night and on the next two days. Inquiries made regarding legislation and requests for proper drafting of provisions of proposed bills caused the bureau to be kept busy all of yesterday. The Henry Case—Final steps in the first big grade crossing elimination proposition to be handled by the Public Service Commission since the close of the war will be taken within the next few days in the Perry township case. Argument is being heard by the commission to-day and a report on apportionment of costs will be made shortly. The National Road Administration will then indicate its policy. The case involves the abolition of what are really five crossings on the State highway between Harrisburg and Reading. It has been going on for months, the State Highway Department being the complainant. The course in this case will have important future bearing. Guard Homes—A Chester dispatch says: "A guard of armed men was assigned yesterday to watch the homes of Governor Sprout and Attorney General William I. Schaffer in Chester. The precautions were taken by Sheriff Granger because these were but two of sixteen prominent officials to whom bombs were mailed but intercepted several days ago in the New York post office. Early yesterday the guards noticed a suspicious looking individual with a suitcase loitering the homes of the two distinguished men. The stranger handled the suitcase gingerly as if there were something in it that he were not sure of, but when the guards gave chase he disappeared into the darkness. The guard, it is announced, will be maintained until the officials are convinced that all danger of bomb planting is passed." On a War Basis—The State Capitol and the park around it are back on a war basis. The big bronze doors at the ends of the building are locked up at 10 o'clock at night as they were for a year or so after the war began and people who come and go through the central doorway pass before eyes of State Policemen and plain clothes men who unobtrusively see everything that is going on. Visitors are only permitted to go about the building with guides, although when the Legislature is in session the precautions will be to a certain extent relaxed. The restrictions about visiting certain parts of the building are still in force. In fact the prohibition against the roof and the dome without a permit enforced in April two years ago has not been removed. The manner in which these precautions have been taken and shotguns and weapons placed in various offices about the building has been strictly business and in striking contrast to the methods adopted two years ago when the war began. The building is guarded as are nine-tenths of the public buildings in the United States nowadays, but the average man would never know it. Increases Filed—The Eastern Pennsylvania Railway, Pottsville, has filed notice with the Public Service Commission of issuance of $48,000 of bonds and $15,000 of notes. The Petroleum Telephone Company, of Oil City, has given notice of issuance of $100,000 of common stock and the Johnstown Telephone Company, of Johnstown, of a like sum, for extensions. The New York Central Railroad filed notice of issuance of $7,410,000 of equipment trust car certificates. To Review—The Supreme Court in an opinion by Justice John S. Edwards has reversed the Schuylkill county court and returned for review the compensation case of Reimyer vs. Cox Bros. & Co. The referee declined to deduct the amount of tool and material cost furnished by the employer on the ground that the contract of hiring did not so provide. The Workmen's Compensation Board and the Schuylkill court sustained the referees. The opinion says that "There is no pretence that an express contract of hiring existed between the parties. Whether from the facts and circumstances shown an implied hiring contract could be derived was a question of law and should have been passed upon by the court." "The case is remanded for the question to be passed upon. It is of considerable importance in mining districts. To Enforce Narcotic Law.—The State authorities have caused a number of arrests at Williamsport and other up-State towns on charges of violation of the State Narcotic law. Socialist Party in Sweden Gains When It Drops Prohibition Stockholm, May 5.—Considerable gains made by the Socialist party in the county council elections held in Sweden recently is attributed by some Swedish newspapers to the fact that the party dropped its former prohibition platform and now stands for moderate liberation of supplies of beer and spirits. That is also the policy of the Conservative Party. Under a new franchise act passed by the Riksdag last fall, the polls were open to all men and women over 23 years of age. Previously only qualified tax payers had been permitted to vote. The number of voters cast showed an increase over the last election of more than 100 per cent.

COMPANY I SPENT LITTLE TIME AT ANY ONE PLACE

Camp Dix, N. J., May 5.—Leon L. Liddick, first class private and mechanic, of Company I, 112th Infantry, whose home address is 2507 Agate street, Harrisburg, kept an accurate record of the travels of his company from the time of sailing for France until the boys once more set foot on the shores of U. S. A. The record as compiled from notes which Liddick made includes dates of arrival and departure at all times when the company was overseas, and he vouches for its accuracy. Liddick also kept a diary of events in which Company I played a prominent part but unfortunately this valuable bit of information which would have been of much use in compiling a history of the work of some of the Harrisburg boys in the world war, has been lost. Liddick hopes to find it but hasn't located it yet in his baggage. While the record of the towns in which Company I had been stationed does not give an accurate record of other units of the 112th at the same time it furnishes an idea of the extent of the movement of the 28th Division and the regiments attached to it, for at no time were the battalions of the 112th a great distance apart. Of course some of the companies were quartered in villages very close to each other, but during important engagements, the movements of the regiment rather than that of the battalions can be noticed by comparison with service records of these infantrymen in the battles in which they participated. It will be remembered that the National Guard units got to Camp Hancock during the summer and fall of 1917 and remained there until late in April, 1919, in training. May 1, 1918 the last battalion of the 112th left camp on a clear, sunny day. Just two weeks later the entire regiment arrived in Liverpool, England, aboard the Aquitania. Following is the record as compiled by Liddick: Liverpool, May 14; Folkestone, May 15; Dover, May 15; Calais, France, May 16; Bayenhem, May 19; Reclingham, June 9; Agincourt, June 10; Harnicourt, June 11; Wavrans, June 12; Vaires St. Mand, June 14; Villepint, June 14; Villern, June 20; LaTretoire, June 23; Busieres, June 24; LaChapelle District,

July 4; LaChapelle, Grand Forest), July 4; Bussieres, July 5; LaChapelle, (Grand Forest), July 6; La Grande Forest farm, July 8; Fay Farm, July 14; Chamblon, July 18; Charly Sur Marne, July 21; Brasles, July 21; Etropilly, July 23; Epiels, (woods east of Aisne), July 24; Bois de Trigny, July 26; Forest de Pere, July 28; Dravegny, (Hill 210), August 4; Chery (Chartreuve, August 5; Fismes and Fismette, August 7; Chery Chartreuve, August 10; La Mouliet, August 13; St. Giles, August 17; Fismes and Fismette, August 23; Dravegny, August 27; Cohan, September 3; St. Giles, September 4; Cohan, September 7; Marcilly, September 8; Bois de Boussault, September 10; Haussingent, September 13; Lahayeourt, September 17; Bellefontaine, September 18; Le Neufort, September 18; Camp Monhoyer, (Argonne Forest), September 19. On the night of September 25th, the regiment took up position in accordance with official orders preparatory to the Arzonne Meuse offensive which started September 25 and ended October 9 at Chatel Chery. Chatel Chery, October 7; Apremont, October 9; Vignot, October 11; Bois de la Grande Souche, October 16; Buxieres, November 12; Sauvigny, January 9 1919; LaMans, March 21; St. Nazaire, April 17;

Plans Big Tenement House in London With Conveniences

London, May 5.—Housing schemes to replace the slums of London are abundant in these days of reconstruction, but none is attracting more attention than that in the congested district of Southwark, where the Duchess of Marlborough recently purchased a tract of land. The plan is to erect modern tenements, with bathrooms and hot water on every floor and a playground on the roof. A perambulator shed in the basement is designed to eliminate the necessity of dragging heavy baby carriages upstairs. A central laundry with mechanical driers is to be located in the lower part of the building. There are now no such tenements with these conveniences in London, and some doubt is expressed as to their future popularity because of the liking of London women for "detached" or "semi-detached" houses, even though they are not modern.

Hog Island Shipyard Open to the Public

Philadelphia, Pa., April 30; Camp Dix, March 30. The great Hog Island shipyard was thrown open to the general public yesterday for the first time since it was built. A crowd estimated at 50,000 visited the vast plant, where fifty ships are on the ways. Every part of the yard was open for inspection. Liberty Loan rallies were held during the day.
