WHITLOCK AND SAULSBURY MENTIONED FOR ITALIAN POST London — Square jaws are at a discount and "egg-faced" salesmen are in demand in England as a result of disclosures in the Sales Managers' Association here by a phrenologist. "Square-jawed men lack imagination," the expert declared. "Round faced men are not to be relied on, egg-faced men have forethought, ideals and initiative."

THE MIGRATION OF BIRDS Professor Frank Smith, of the department of zoology in the University of Illinois, is quite right in this that he says about the migration of robins. "The sight of a robin does not mean that spring has come. Seeing a flock of robins shows that there has been a migration, but it does not indicate an early or late spring, because the robin has no way of telling the present or future weather conditions. The presence of migratory birds from farther south, as the Gulf States, indicates weather conditions there, but not here. If there is a snow storm after the robin's arrival, he may freeze and starve, for he has not wit enough to fly south again." He may freeze, but probably he will rot, because the robin has great powers of resistance as against spring snowstorms. As a matter of fact, birds migrate without any regard to what the weather is going to be. Their flight is a response to an impulse implanted in them by millions of years of migrations, and this impulse takes them at practically the same time every year. The oriole, for example, is seldom heard around Boston before the 8th day of May; though individuals are generally reported a few days earlier, you and I, gentle reader, are not likely to hear the oriole's whistle before the morning of May 8, and then we are perfectly sure to hear it if we go out. The bird has a delicate organism to respond so closely to the date: it is faculty bred into his tissues ages ago.—Boston Transcript.

BUTTER PRICE MAY REACH $1 POTENTIAL IN SAN FRANCISCO San Francisco, June 17.—Butter statistics were invoked to show that butter 15 cents a pound wholesale higher than last year will soar upward. One pound for $1 is predicted. It's all because of the shortage in cold storage by half a million pounds. Butter for May this year averaged 57.25 cents. Last year the price was 47.12. In April 1918, the April price was 39.92 cents. About 1,000,000 pounds are held in storage here, which is 500,000 pounds less than normal, experts say. Most of the butter held by big consuming companies like hotels and steamship lines.
