

Geological Survey Bill Causes Debate in House

A bill making a supplement to the geological survey act, which, in the opinion of several legislators, relates to land embraced in the Hog Island shipyard, was the cause of an unusual incident in the House at the opening of the morning session and the bill was allowed a place on the calendar, so that its status could be settled by a vote.

NEW WAY TO REMOVE HAIRS CREATES SENSATION

What beauty specialists regard as one of the most important discoveries in recent years is the method of removing superfluous hair. Its great advantage, of course, lies in the fact that it actually removes the hair roots. It does this easily, instantly, harmlessly. Sufferers from the affliction named need no longer resort to the actual hair-removal cream before your very eyes, leaving the skin as smooth and hairless as a

SUFFRAGE WORKERS HERE FOR VERDICT

Mere Men Reduced to the Simple Position of Sightseers as Women Advance on Legislative Halls to Witness Voting

"Hey-ho, the coming rulers of America!" At the corner of Third and Walnut streets shortly before noon yesterday a concourse of mere men saw the approach of the suffragist advance guard, jangling up the street in motorcars gayly festooned, bound for the Capitol, their countenances gleaming and confident as that of Phil Sheridan after his long ride to Winchester.

"They're going to handle Uncle Sam from now on," shouted one man, waving a pretzel; an I don't care much either way, because I ain't married. As an advance guard reached the Capitol work quickly passed that high noon was the moment when Pennsylvania would ratify the Federal constitution amendment for all women to vote in Pennsylvania, and a multitude gathered.

Effort Like Epidemic "Pretty nearly all my life I have opposed this effort," explained Miss Erwin, "for it came back from time to time like an epidemic. Mr. Armstrong will be chief speaker in New York on Thursday when the anti-suffragists make their last determined stand against the Federal amendment."

Politics Takes a Woman's Refinement, just as it does for men, for some time in the past men have been able to run our government successfully. It requires force to back up laws; when women employ force they subtract from their natural feminine nature. Finally, there is no record of the plishing which have suffrage accomplished in the past. The Federal government not suddenly taken up the idea.

Why do we demand the vote? "Why do we demand the vote?" he very enlightening features flashed with a challenge. "Why, because we are human. Our move represents real democracy, and not sex-autocracy. If a lot of women decline to vote what of it? It is the same situation with many men who take no interest in public affairs."

How Women Will Help "How will women voting help the nation?" They will achieve much for woman's trade unions, for child labor; women who want the suffrage are intelligent enough to co-operate with men. "Do you suppose the wife will vote as her husband orders?" "Not by a big sight. I could tell you of many of my friends who are of the State is being represented by Miss Mary E. Bakewell. Miss Bakewell is vice-chairman of the Pennsylvania branch of the National Woman's Party and was one of those who helped organize the State for suffrage in 1911, 1912 and 1913. Miss Bakewell was the second president of the Pittsburgh suffrage organization and the first woman to speak before the State Republican convention in 1912, on which occasion the Republican party of the State came out for suffrage. The Democratic convention also invited Miss Bakewell to speak in the latter and endorsed votes for women. She is one of the presidents of the Mothers' Pension Fund of Allegheny county, a member of the Executive Committee of the Urban League, a member of the Twentieth Century Club, the Civic Club, the People's Association of Pennsylvania, the National American Women's Trade Union League and other associations. Miss Bakewell is the great-granddaughter of Benjamin Bakewell, whose Pittsburgh glass factory was the first one west of the Allegheny Mountains, and grand-niece of the late Rev. Henry Borman, long a noted Presbyterian divine of Philadelphia.

STATE IS SEVENTH FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Hard Campaigners Miss Kate Hofflinger, of Shamokin, is descended from the Harrises of Harrisburg and has been working for many days in the city. She has charge of the table in the Pennsylvania Hotel lobby, and has contributed valuable work toward the cause to-day. In addition to her work in Pennsylvania she has organized in Virginia, and has assisted on many occasions in the Washington work.

Pays a Tribute Mr. Simpson, Allegheny, paid a tribute to Miss Eliza Armstrong, of Pittsburgh, the leader of the anti-suffrage movement, and urged men to vote against suffrage before the State convention in the fall. Instead of lining up at the final hour, Mr. Dithrich, Allegheny, said if women of one State had the right to vote, then in others should have the same privilege. He is an ardent opponent of suffrage, he said he had found the majority of women favorable to suffrage and yielded.

Cheers From Women The announcement of the vote was cheered in an outburst of cheering and flag-waving that lasted several minutes, the delegations of women rising and cheering. Members joined in and then sang "The Long, Long Trail," with emphasis on "long night of waiting" and "dreams come true."

Lee's Granddaughter Mrs. Archibald R. Harmon, of Philadelphia, who is the granddaughter of General Robert E. Lee, is chairman of the Sixth congressional district of the National Woman's Party. For many years she has been an officer in the W. C. T. U. and for weeks past has been active in the ratification campaign at Harrisburg.

300 at Jubilee With nearly three hundred of its active workers from all over the State as its guests, the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association celebrated the ratification of the national suffrage amendment by the Legislature with a victory luncheon this afternoon in the ballroom of the Penn-Harris hotel.

Long a Worker Pittsburgh and the western part of the State is being represented by Miss Mary E. Bakewell. Miss Bakewell is vice-chairman of the Pennsylvania branch of the National Woman's Party and was one of those who helped organize the State for suffrage in 1911, 1912 and 1913.

Walter S. Hackman Again With D. P. & S.

WALTER S. HACKMAN

After an absence of four years, Walter S. Hackman, has returned to, and assumed charge of the selling force of the Dives, Pomroy and Stewart Men's and Young Men's clothing store.

Organized in 1889 the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association is the pioneer worker in the suffrage campaign started in this State. It maintained headquarters in the Arcade building, this city, from the beginning of the 1913 session of the Legislature until July 1, 1917, when the headquarters were transferred to Philadelphia, following the adjournment of the Assembly.

When the United States Senate defeated the national suffrage amendment the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association returned to Harrisburg. Its reputation was renewed the fight for a State referendum and were successful in putting through the Legislature a referendum in the State in November, 1917.

Through its county branches in the 67 counties of the State it obtained pledges from 60 per cent. of the members of the House and a substantial majority of the members of the Senate to vote for either a referendum or ratification. This work was done by the women constituents of members of the Legislature.

In its efforts to obtain equal suffrage the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association has always done constructive work. It never favored militant tactics and declined to enter into any picketing campaigns or the burning of President Wilson in effigy or other public officials when it was felt that suffrage was not coming as fast as the women would like to have it come.

At a fitting celebration to its long years of labor the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association has arranged for Government luncheon in the Penn-Harris Hotel.

The suffrage workers affiliated with the association from all sections of the State are expected to be here to-day when the final ratification vote in the House is taken. Officers of the association are: President, Mrs. J. O. Miller, Pittsburgh; vice-president, Mrs. Lewis L. Smith, Stafford; secretary, Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, Milford; treasurer, Mrs. Robert Mills Beach, Bellefonte.

Members of the board of directors: Mrs. George A. Piersol, Mrs. George A. Dunning and Mrs. Edward J. Davis, Philadelphia; Mrs. H. Talbot, Peterson, Pittsburgh; Mrs. William Ward, Jr., Chester; Mrs. E. E. Kiernon, Somerset; Mrs. James E. Rogers, Warren; Mrs. Henrietta B. Lyon, Williamsport; Mrs. R. S. Quigley, Lock Haven; Mrs. F. H. Hagerman, Towanda; Mrs. Miss Anna M. Denniston, Luzerne.

MAILED FIST OF GERMANY A MENACE

[Continued from First Page.] Obligation is its own interest, that treaties do not exist when they clash with the interest of a state and get rich by any means. We know from witnesses who were at the side of William II that when he learned of the Sarajevo tragedy, he who posed as a keeper of the peace, cried: "The hour has struck. Now we shall see what an army is."

Story Told at Dinner This story of how the French premier received the news was told at a dinner given by the Economic Commission of the Conference in honor of the French delegation by Etienne Clementel, former minister of commerce and agriculture, last night. The minister concluded his speech with a eulogy of the League of Nations, which he said was "at present the world's hope."

Herbert Hoover, chairman of the Inter-Allied Food Commission and Signor Crespi, a member of the Italian delegation, also spoke.

Senate May Vote on Resolution to Declare War at End Tonight Washington, June 24.—The Peace Treaty fight centered about a new issue to-day as a result of the introduction in the Senate late yesterday of proposals to declare the war at an end so that peace conditions could be resumed while the extended controversy over ratification of the Treaty is in progress.

It was expected that to-night the Senate would reach consideration of the proposal embodied in the amendment presented by Senator Fall, Republican of New Mexico, to the Army appropriation bill.

Don't Scrub Walls and Woodwork SCRUBBING ruins the tinting and finish, causing walls and woodwork to become soiled more quickly and making them harder to clean.

A better and easier way is to make a paste of 20 MULE TEAM BORAX SOAP CHIPS by dissolving one cup of the chips in two cups of boiling water. Apply to surface to be cleaned and remove with a wet cloth. The Borax in the chips quickly softens and removes all dirt and stains without scrubbing.
