

Girls of City to Enjoy a Swim and Outing Under Auspices of War Camp

The big swim for girls scheduled by the War Camp Community Service is to be run off to-morrow, unless old man Bad Weather gets a flying start on the throng of fair bathers who are waiting anxiously for the clock to roll around another 24 hours or so.

The following Saturday an even bigger event is on the cards. This is the Harrisburg girls' picnic, which is under the auspices of the same Community Service and will be in co-operation with the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The regiment idea, which is to be formed of companies having each officers, non-coms and privates, will be carried out. Each company will have its own colors and will be in show in expected to retire in the parade and confusion at the arrival of the party.

Physician Charged With Sending Drugs to City

Charged with illegally shipping weekly supplies of habit-forming drugs to William C. Adams, 411 Hummel street, by express, Dr. B. H. Markley, of Reading was released under $1,000 bail, and will be given a hearing in police court next Wednesday.

Weekly supplies of narcotics have been received by Adams, addressed to his father, William A. Adams, at the office of the American Railway Express Company, of which he is an employee. Dr. Markley, in his defense, said that he was unaware of the fact that he was receiving the narcotics.

INSURANCE MEN MEET

At the business session of the Insurance Federation of Pennsylvania held this morning at 10 o'clock in the ballroom of the Hotel Warwick, officers were elected for the coming year and the ordinary business was transacted.

CHANGE EXECUTION

Governor Sprout granted the petition for an extension of the time for the execution of William Evans, colored, convicted of murder in the Dauphin county courts, changing the date from the week of July 21 to the week of August 29.

WARN OF FOOD AND MEAT DOMINATION

ance of full publicity of corporate ownership for all industries. "As to devices for securing control, there does not exist adequate law," the report states.

"They have interests large enough to be a dominating influence in most of the services connected with the production and distribution of animal foods and their byproducts and are reaching for control, not only of substitutes of animal food but of substitutes for other lines into which the integration of their business has led them.

"They are interested in banks from which their competitor packing houses borrow money; in companies supplying machinery, ice, salt, materials, boxes, etc., to themselves and their competitors; they are principal dealers in the provision exchanges where future prices in standard cured animal products are determined; they or their subsidiary companies deal in hides, oleo, fertilizer, material and other crude animal byproducts; purchase from other packers these crude by-products, and themselves carry the manufacture thereof to a further stage than most of their competitors. "They are important factors in the leather industry, in oleomargarine and lard substitutes, in cotton seed oil, in fertilizer, in soap, in glue, etc."

the control of private cars, cold storage and a network of branch houses, has enabled them to extend their activities on a large scale into poultry, eggs, cheese, butter, rice, breakfast foods, canned vegetables, soda fountain supplies and other lines.

a prominent factor in the American International Corporation, with its shipping and shipbuilding interests, its import and export companies and various lines, its interest in a company organized to develop cattle raising, meat packing, Quebrach extract and allied businesses in Paraguay, its control of a large tea importing company and a sugar machinery corporation, and its minority stock in the United Fruit Company. "Some of Swift & Company's subsidiaries are growing tropical fruits in Hawaii; a subsidiary of Wilson & Company, incorporated, has reached into the salmon fisheries of Alaska, and a Morris concern cans shrimp taken in the waters of the Gulf of Mexico.

land and other European countries large meat distributing companies have been organized by the packers to sell the meats from their plants in the United States, Argentina, Uruguay, Paraguay, Brazil and Australia.

marked degree upon the banks of the country for liquid funds. To assure himself loans ample to his purpose the big packer has secured affiliation through stock ownership representation on directorates, and in other ways, with numerous banks and trust companies.

close with those who are strong at the sources of credit in the United States. Being thus allied with the powerful interests at the sources of credit, the packers' power is great, not only for financing their own national and international operations, but for affecting, for good or for ill, the credit of cattle producers and of competitors or customers in any line."
