ALLIES MAY SEND ARMY TO HUNGARY TO QUELL RIOTING

Council Believes Intervention Is Only Means to End Dangerous Situation For Both Poland and Rumania

AUSTRIAN PEACE TREATY IS RAPIDLY NEARING COMPLETION

Paris, July 18 (Havas).—The principal topic of discussion before the Allied Supreme Council yesterday, the Journal says, was Allied intervention in Hungary, "where military action seems the only means to end a situation dangerous for Rumania and Poland."

Paris, July 18.—The final clauses of the peace treaty to be presented to the Austrian delegates are nearing completion and the document will be delivered shortly. Bela Kun, head of the Hungarian Communist government, has been ousted, according to dispatches from reliable sources in Vienna, received by the Peace Conference. Troops returning from the Czech front were reported entering Budapest in large numbers. Budapest was in disorder. Herr Boehm and Herr Lander have taken over control of the Communist government. Dispatches reaching Peace Conference circles from Budapest indicate that general demoralization has struck Bela Kun's army, which is straggling back from the different fronts with utter lack of discipline. Reports from the same source received by peace delegates are to the effect that Bolshevism in Hungary is confined almost exclusively to Budapest. Peasants are said to be obstructing shipments of food

School Head Driven by Reds to Seek Death

Vienna, July 18.—A report from Budapest says Major Bartha, head of the military school, shot himself recently when he learned that eleven of his students had been sentenced to death and twenty-five others to terms of imprisonment. Chief Justice Kiskis, who is a former blacksmith, was unable to secure answers from Bartha when the students were on trial. The report adds that Bartha, on being questioned by the court, replied: "I refuse to recognize the legality of this court or you as a judge."

to the capital, which is rapidly reaching a desperate state. The Inter-Allied Council has refused Italy's request that Austrian concessions at Tien Tsin, China, be transferred to her.

LONDON PAYS HER TRIBUTE TO GEN. PERSHING

Presented With Gold Sword of Honor in Presence of Distinguished Persons

London, July 18.—London honored General Pershing to-day by presenting him the freedom of the city and a sword of honor in the presence of a distinguished company of Britons and Americans gathered within the historic Guild Hall. John W. Davis, the American Ambassador, the embassy staff, Rear Admiral Harry S. Knapp and his staff, members of the British government and a number of British generals were participants in the ceremony. General Pershing was applauded by the crowds that had gathered when he made his entry into the city, where the guilds and the aldermen in their customary welcoming robes lent a picturesque aspect to the scene. Reviews Guard The general found a company of the Grenadier Guards, with its band, drawn up in the yard. He in-

GOOD BEER OR NONE WANTED BY DRINKERS HERE

Prefer Soft Drinks to Near Beer Stuff; Soda Fountains Picking Up

Harrisburg is drinking less beer! The sale of beer in Harrisburg has fallen off two-thirds. The saloon keeper of the city themselves are authority for this statement of the decrease of this kind of liquid refreshment. The dropping off especially has been noticeable ever since the war-time prohibition measure became effective on July 1, it is said. Since then the sales of soft drinks at the bars have increased in just as amazing quantities as the ratio of decrease in beer sales. Soda fountain proprietors report greater percent-

Ford Says He Hardly Reads Anything but Headlines of Papers

Mount Clemens, Mich., July 18.—Henry Ford resumed his place on the witness stand to-day in his libel suit against the Chicago Tribune. Counsel for the newspaper alluded to the Tribune editorial of June 23, 1916, which was headed "Ford Is An Anarchist." "What is a headline?" asked Elliott G. Stevenson, one of the defendant's attorneys. "It shows what is in the body of an article under it." "Mr. Ford yesterday testified that an anarchist is a bomb-thrower, or one who overturns government. Mr. Stevenson then read the text of the editorial. "Nothing there about bomb-throwing, is there, Mr. Ford?" "No, but the headline—" "But you said a headline shows what is in the body of the article, Mr. Ford." This precipitated an argument in the course of which Alfred G. Murphy, attorney for the plaintiff, contended it was the contention of Mr. Ford that the headline was libelous standing by itself, for the very reason that the text of the article related nothing anarchistic of him. "It seems to me, Your Honor," said Mr. Stevenson, "that we have a right to know what the plaintiff himself thinks—just how he thinks he has been injured." "I hardly ever read anything but the headlines," put in Mr. Ford.

GUESTS AT "Y" PICNIC HAVE SPLENDID TIME

Outing of Live Businessmen of City Proves Great Success at Home of Former Mayor J. William Bowman, Near Dauphin, Yesterday; Committes Are Grateful

There were high jinks at the summer home of ex-Mayor J. William Bowman on the rim of Clark's Valley just north of Dauphin yesterday afternoon. Three hundred of the liveliest of the live businessmen of Harrisburg foregathered on the plateau overlooking the Susquehanna river as members or guests of the Central Y. M. C. at the annual "Y" picnic. This was a deluxe outing in every way. And the next day it rained. Hundreds Witness Start For weeks all present had been looking forward to the big day and when the long convoy of automobiles left the city hundreds of people stood on the sidewalks regretting they had neglected to become identified with the Y. M. C. A. in time to participate in the big occasion. Even work on the big State highway reconstruction between Dauphin and Clark's Ferry was suspended for a time in order that the long line of automobiles might pass through in a safe and sane fashion to the picnic grounds. Pages of the newspaper might be filled with the many interesting and humorous incidents of the day, but these must be left to the historian of the "Y." Mention must be made, however, of the athletic contests, the midway features, the refreshments and other things which contributed to the pleasure of the most successful picnic ever held in Central Pennsylvania. Soldiers as Guests Fifty of the convalescent soldiers from the base hospital at Carlisle were present as guests of the Harrisburg association and they left the grounds along toward twilight the happiest bunch of soldiers that may be imagined. They had served with the Sunset Division and many other units of the great army in France

WANTS TO KNOW HOW U. S. CAN DROP LEAGUE

Will Ask President if Withdrawal Any Time Is Possible; Still Conferring

Washington, July 18.—President Wilson continued his conferences with Republican senators to-day, discussing the Peace Treaty and the League of Nations covenant at length with Senators Kenyon, of Iowa, and Kellogg, of Minnesota. Later he had engagements with Senators Capper, of Kansas, and McNary, of Oregon. Neither Senator Kenyon nor Senator Kellogg would discuss their conversations with the President but as he went to the White House Senator Kenyon said he intended to ask about the statement of Senator Swanson, Democrat, Virginia, in the Senate recently that the United States could withdraw from the League whenever it desired, adding that this was an important point which would clarify the situation,

STATE BANK IN PHILADELPHIA CLOSES DOORS

Commissioner Says Institution Over Extended Itself on Loans

Philadelphia, July 18.—The North Penn Bank, a State institution closed its doors to-day. The bank's last report issued in June showed that it had deposits of $2,066,643; resources $2,695,282 and loans and investments of $2,304,538. The State of Pennsylvania had considerable money on deposit in the North Penn Bank, of Philadelphia, which was closed by the State Banking Department to-day. It is understood the bank had been under observation by the State officials who had been looking up its loans. Commissioner of Banking John S. Fisher said that the bank had over-extended itself and had gotten to a place where it could not function and that Deputy Commissioner P. G. Cameron was sent to Philadelphia last night to look into the affairs of the bank. From what he reported, said the Commissioner, he had taken charge of the institution to-day. Under the law the Commissioner can not make any statement about the bank's finances. It is understood its assets were of a character that could not readily be converted into cash. The State Treasury had a deposit of $50,000 at the bank, fully protected by surety bonds. Half of this was drawn out on July 15. The State Insurance Department had large deposits in the bank, including $60,000 realized from the Union Casualty Company, of Philadelphia, and something like $200,000 from the Pittsburgh Life and Trust proceedings. Originally the latter deposit was larger, it is understood, but when Insurance Commissioner Thomas B. Donaldson came in he withdrew some of it and has been working to reduce the holding. The Commissioner is in Philadelphia. The State departments interested in the bank will have the assistance of the Attorney General's office if required.

City Health Officer Wants Complaint Filed as to Taint in Milk

Dr. J. M. J. Raunick, city health officer, said he had received no report that farmers near the city have been feeding garbage to their cows, and that as a result at least one milk dealer in the city stopped buying the supply of milk because of its taste. He declared that complaint should be made at once to the health bureau if the report is true, and it will be investigated. H. S. Sheesley, superintendent of the Bureau of Ash and Garbage Inspection, said he did not believe any garbage was being collected in the city except by the contractors for the work. Bright, aged 85, of 47 North Cameron street, through counsel filed a suit against the daughter, asking $2,000 damages.

Lieutenant Boyle Still in Washington Trying to Get Better Price

BACON STANDS OUT AS SINGLE INDUCEMENT FOR PURCHASING

NEW YORK, July 18.—Capt. A. A. Stewart, zone surplus property officer here, announced to-day that he was sending communications to every municipality in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Connecticut, offering to sell surplus army canned meat and vegetables in carload lots at a price of 20 per cent. below the cost to the government.

Similar information to that in the foregoing dispatch was yesterday given to the Mayor's food committee by Lieut. J. R. Boyle of the Reserve Depot at New Cumberland. He is in Washington, D. C., to-day attending a conference of War Department officials at which a new list of goods for sale and prices will be arranged. On his return Lieutenant Boyle will submit the list to the local committee.

Subcommittee Busy The subcommittee, to make inquiries and ascertain the feasibility of the food offered by the Government, was busy yesterday getting a line on prices. Further information was secured to-day. This committee will meet with Lieutenant Boyle on his return and after this conference will prepare a recommendation for the general committee. It is probable the next meeting will be held Wednesday or Thursday. Unless there is a further reduction in prices which will enable the committee to offer the food to Harrisburg people at a lower rate it is probable the purchase of a supply for this city will be deferred until another plan is taken up. One member of the committee suggested yesterday a plan to secure a list of prices from large wholesale houses, and to make a bid to the Government for certain supplies based on the latest wholesale prices. It was figured yesterday that the only inducement offered was in bacon at 36 cents per pound for canned goods, and 24 cents for bacon packed in crates. The meat and corn beef prices were considered high.

May Be Changes Lieutenant Boyle admitted some of the prices were high compared with present wholesale prices, but was of the opinion that when the new list is submitted there will be changes showing a reduction. That while some of the foodstuffs could not reach the people at bargain prices, when the prices of canned
