Lancaster Buys Berries and Produce Much Cheaper Than Harrisburg

WEST END IS INDIGNANT Talk of Co-operative Clubs to Combat Excessive Profits

Residents in the western section of Harrisburg are planning for a series of meetings in their effort to cut the cost of living.

In several localities plans are underway to organize co-operative clubs with a view to purchasing goods in large quantities and at prices that will be below the present cost.

Berries Cheaper "I visited the mountains in the vicinity of Lancaster and found hundreds of men, women, boys and girls, picking huckleberries.

Relief is seen in a forestalling ordinance now in preparation by Mayor Daniel L. Keister.

Government Food Distribution Lieutenant J. Boyle of the Reserve Depot at New Cumberland, is expected home to-day or to-morrow.

Members of the local committee will make a thorough inspection of the goods stored at New Cumberland.
