New Law of North Dakota Being Put Into Operation

Fargo, N. D., Aug. 4.—The industrial program of the National Nonpartisan League, which was endorsed by the voters of North Dakota at a special referendum election on June 26, is being put into operation. The bank of North Dakota, in which all State, county and municipal funds are to be deposited under the new laws, is in operation, but is not yet ready to make loans and handle deposits on a big scale. The bank now employs twenty persons with an annual payroll of $50,000. The bank's resources will be more than $21,000,000. Public funds totaling $21,000,000 have been reported and there are State bonds of $10,000,000. Only about $100,000 worth of bank bonds have been sold in the State, but bank officials explain this by saying investors held off pending the outcome of the referendum. The bank had planned to sell $500,000 worth of bonds.

When the institution is in full operation a statement similar to those from the federal reserve banks will be issued monthly outlining conditions over the State. J. H. Waters, formerly State bank examiner, is head of the bank, and F. W. Cahoon, for thirty years a North Dakota banker, is director general. The bank will provide funds for carrying out the industrial program, and an industrial commission will control the State-owned industries to be established.

The Home Building Association, which will provide funds for persons desiring to build homes, is expected to be in operation soon. The Mill and Elevator Association, in charge of the league's wheat marketing and distributing system, has been inspecting mills and elevators with a view to purchasing two or three to start the experiment. The State is not expected to start an extensive building program for several months.

Those directing the work express confidence that every phase of the program will meet with success, despite strong opposition which they say is being offered by league opponents.

American Buffalo Are on the Increase

Washington, Aug. 4.—Provision is made in the current agricultural appropriation act for the Secretary of Agriculture to give buffalo to municipalities and public institutions from any surplus which may exist in the herds now under the control of the Department of Agriculture. In order to aid in the propagation of the species the bill provides that animals may be lent to or exchanged with other owners of American bison. No provision is made to give them to individuals, and only one may be given to each municipality or public institution. This provision is made because of the surplus of bulls in some of the Department of Agriculture's buffalo herds, particularly the one in the Wichita National Forest and Game Preserve, in Oklahoma, and because the department is nearing the realization of the first stage in the preservation of the species—the acquisition of at least 1,000 head of buffalo by the Government.

There are approximately 7,000 buffalo in North America. Canada has something over 3,000, and the total number in the United States is more than 2,000. This is about seven times the number in the United States in 1889, when the first buffalo census was taken.
