FORD-MIDDLETON EVENING BRIDAL

The Rev. Dr. J. Ritchie Smith
Officiates at Quiet Home Wedding

A quiet home wedding was solemnized last evening at 7 o'clock, when Miss Katharine Margaret Middleton, daughter of Mrs. William H. Middleton, of Camp Hill, and Arthur Jackson Ford, of Port Deposit, Md., were united in marriage at the Middleton residence, the Rev. Dr. J. Ritchie Smith, of Princeton Theological Seminary, officiating.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, William Sheik Middleton, wore a gown of white satin with an overskirt of satin and Georgette crepe and a tulle veil with touches of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids, lilies of the valley and trench flowers.

The bridesmaids were Miss Anna Katharine Hart, of Duncannon, whose gown was of violet crepe over satin and who carried an arm bouquet of Killarney roses and larkspur, and Miss Helen McFarland Kates, of Chicago, who wore a coral-colored, yellow and white snapdragon and larkspur.

Henry P. Worthington, of Baltimore, was best man. The livingroom, in which the ceremony was performed, was filled with a profusion of yellow flowers, Marigolds and gladioli combined with the clematis, festooning the stairway and doorways, in carrying out an effective decorative scheme. The bridal party stood in the large bay window.

Where Parents Have Helped

In their mature judgment, and in the wealth of their experience, parents have the power to make their daughter happy in her work. A wise choice of a place for her in the business world often depends upon their careful consideration of certain questions. Will her associates prove to be carefully chosen? Is the work permanent? Is the salary satisfactory, and will it be increased as the girl's experience? Will she find an opportunity for promotion to positions where the added responsibility means still higher salary? Harrisburg parents have found these questions answered affirmatively when inquiring about telephone operating for The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania. This company invites the interest of fathers and mothers who wish to insure for their daughter work in protected surroundings where she can enjoy positive advantages. If you are interested in having your daughter work under these conditions, send her, or better yet, go with her, to see the Chief Operator, 208 Walnut Street.—Adv.
