New London, Conn., Sept. 19.—George A. Fish, 35 years old, a former timekeeper at the Croton Iron Works, killed his wife, Etta, yesterday, by firing three shots at her while she was at luncheon in the lunchroom of the Croton Town Building, where she was employed as a clerk in the probate court.

Fish then left the building, entered his automobile and drove to his home in Noank, several miles from here, where he shot and killed his 5-year-old daughter. He then went to his garage, it is stated, and after making preparations to hang himself, shot himself through the head with a revolver, dying almost instantly.

Fish and his wife had been living

Inspector Launched at Hog Island

Philadelphia, Sept. 19.—The cargo carrier inspector, named in honor of the shipping board inspectors at Hog Island, was launched yesterday.

Miss Marion Stoy, Camden, N. J., an employe of the United States Shipping Board, was the sponsor. It was the fifty-fourth vessel launched at Hog Island since August 5, 1918.

Governor J. B. A. Robertson and a large delegation of other prominent Oklahomans were among those who saw the inspector slide down the ways.

Attempt to Burn Trolley Terminal as Zone Protest

Camden, N. J., Sept. 19.—Four attempts were made yesterday to burn the trolley terminal at the loop of the Camden-Gloucester lines, near the Pusey and Jones shipyard at Gloucester in protest against the new zone fare system, the establishment of which has resulted in orders and damage to the property of the New Jersey Public Service Corporation, which operates the lines in this city and vicinity.

The police say employes stuffed oily waste in the collection boxes at the terminal and set fire to it. Each time the blaze was extinguished before it did much damage. The alleged incendiary attempts followed an announcement that trolley service to the shipyards would be resumed to-day under the protection of armed guards.

Other minor disorders were reported in Gloucester, but in Camden and other points on the company's lines nothing unusual occurred.

SPORTING NEWS GOOD HITTERS IN D-P LEAGUE

"Lefty" Wertz Leads List of Seventeen Players; Hard Worker

Final averages of the Dauphin-Perry Baseball League, just compiled by the president, E. E. Knauss, show that seventeen of the sixty-three players participating in the organization, ended the season with a batting average of over .300. The players are well divided between the four clubs of the circuit.

"Lefty" Wertz, of Newport, heads the list with .444, but he has been in only eight contests. The real leader is the individual Ford of Duncannon, who has an average of .413 in fifteen games. Harry Wagner, of Newport, comes next in line with .397. He played in the entire eighteen games that were allotted to Newport. One contest ended in a tie with Duncannon and was not replayed. Joe Lightner and "Mook" Gerdes, of the Marysville champions, are next in line with .387 and .380.

Kenneth Kepner, of Newport, the loosely-jointed second-sacker, surprised his many friends by turning in a final average of .377 for seventeen games. M. Frankhouse follows in order and heads the list of Port Royal batters. The remainder of the .300 clouters are closely bunched.

When it comes to scoring runs, "Mook" Gerdes leads the league with eight runs. This is more than a run a contest. Harry Wagner drove out the most hits, although he participated in more contests than several of the leading hitters. He is credited with thirty-one drives from opposing tossers, and quite a few of those were of the home-run variety.

The fact that Newport landed five of the seventeen .300 sluggers, brought up the Newport batting average, showing that the team led by Manager Taylor clouted the horsehide for the toppy average of .290. Marysville is second with .277. Duncannon comes in third and Port Royal fourth.

The individual and club records are appended. No record of Millersburg, which dropped in midseason, are included:

Heinie Groh Day Brings Gifts to Reds' Captain

Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 19.—The new champions of the National League won from Brooklyn yesterday, 2 to 0. It was a pitchers' battle between Eller and Cadore, in which the former had only slightly the better of it.

The Reds scored their two runs in the seventh inning on Duncan's double. Kopf's single and stolen base, a wild throw by Krueger and an infield hit by Nease.

Johnston had a big day at the bat with a single, a double and a triple.

Myers opened the ninth with a three-bagger and Konechky walked, but Eller struck out the next two batters and Hickman, who ran for Konechky, was out, stealing.

It was Heinie Groh Day and the captain of the Cincinnati club was presented with a hall clock, a silver bow from his bowling team, a wristwatch and a diamond stick pin.

Schrelbner, the recruit who has been playing for the Reds while Groh is out of the lineup with an injured finger, refused to put on a uniform because he was not allotted a full share of the world's series receipts. At a meeting of the Cincinnati players yesterday morning it was voted that every man on the team should receive a full share except Duncan Schrelbner and Nease, who have been with the team only about a month. These three were voted half a share each.
