WED AT NOON IN AUTUMN NUPTIAL

Miss Mary E. Mumma Is Bride of Samuel C. Hertzler, Near Mechanicsburg

Mechanicsburg, Pa., Sept. 26.—At noon yesterday a pretty autumn wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton S. Mumma, near here, when their daughter, Miss Mary E. Mumma, and Samuel C. Hertzler, of Carlisle, were united in marriage. The Rev. Dr. T. J. Ferguson, pastor of Silver Spring Presbyterian Church, officiated. The ring ceremony was used. Only the immediate families of the couple were present. A color scheme of yellow and white prevailed in the rooms. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a tailored suit of wine-colored broadcloth, with hat to match, and a corsage bouquet of bride roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Sarah Mumma, as maid of honor, who wore a blue charmeuse frock and blue hat, and carried Sweetheart roses. Adam B. Miller, of Lebanon, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was the best man. Miss Florence Greybill, of Harrisburg, played the "Lohengrin" "Bridal Chorus" and Miss Mae Singiser, of Mechanicsburg, sang "Because."

Following the ceremony and congratulations, a wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Hertzler will reside in their newly furnished home in Carlisle upon their return from a honeymoon trip which includes a Philadelphia, Atlantic City, New York and the New England States. The bride, who is well known here, has a wide circle of friends. The groom is the son of former County Commissioner John E. Hertzler, of Carlisle. He is a member of the firm of Bowman & Co., department store, Carlisle.

VALLEY CITIZEN HELD IN GOTHAM

Chambersburg Pawnbroker Is Arrested For Carrying Guns For New York Bandits

New York, Sept. 26.—Harry Shapiro, a pawnbroker, of Chambersburg, Pa., before Magistrate Cobb, in the Morrisania Police Court yesterday on a charge of violating the Sullivan law, pleaded guilty and was held in $300 bail for the Court of Special Sessions.

Shapiro left his home in Pennsylvania for a visit to New York, his mind teeming with stories of brazen holdups in New York he had read. Nearly the last thing he did before starting on his 250-mile journey was to buy a revolver and a box of cartridges and place them around his person to be readily available when he met a bandit. He came to New York and began his round of mingled business and pleasure.

The pleasure dropped out of his life yesterday morning. About 4:30 o'clock Shapiro and his chauffeur were confined while driving in the mazes of the Bronx near Intervale avenue and 163d street, and stopped to inquire the way from two men standing on a nearby street corner. As Shapiro finished questioning the men he grew suspicious; he remembered all that he had read of the bold, bad men of New York, and his hand went to his pistol pocket. The two men, who were Detectives Meyer and Wubbenhurst, of the Simpson Street Station, calmed Shapiro by telling him they were detectives. But when they looked at his Pennsylvania license and forthwith demanded to look over his car closely all of Shapiro's suspicions returned and he was quieted a second time when the detectives dazzled his eyes by revealing their badges to him.

At this point the detectives believed the little friendly interplay had gone far enough and proceeded to business. They might not be holdup men, but they could at least give Shapiro a thrill equal to that of the softest-footed bandit. Perhaps they were unwilling to disappoint Shapiro's rather hectic expectations. At any rate, they arrested him for carrying a pistol without a permit, and he was taken to the station. The last thing Shapiro learned from them was that ignorance of the law is no excuse.

POTATOES MUST BE IMMUNIZED

Dr. Sanders Says That in Europe Methods Used Are Superior to Those Here

Pennsylvania will have to ascertain what types of potatoes are immune from the potato wart disease and the way to grow the crop so that it will not be affected by pests before it can be sure of immunizing the wart which has caused loss amounting to thousands of dollars in opinion of G. Sanders, Director of the State Bureau of Plant Industry in the State Department of Agriculture, just home from a study of potato growing and steps to control the wart in Great Britain and Ireland.

The spread of the disease can be checked, but it will take hard work, compliance with regulations and eternal vigilance," said Mr. Sanders. Reports have come to this city of the appearance of the wart disease, which has been more or less localized in the lower anthracite field, in Cambria and Butler counties and at places in vicinities of Horton and time have been spent in efforts to will be made at once to determine what types of potatoes are immune in this country and especially Pennsylvania. The United States Government permits will import some of the European varieties found immune and try them out. It is thought that the immunity is established that the State National Government could produce or buy seed potatoes to supply people who want to grow them and require the use of only special kinds in localities that have shown signs of infection."

Dr. Sanders extended his inquiries to that of Holland, where the British Isles and secured the benefit of experiments made with over 500 varieties extending over a period of years. The wart disease is a century ago, but its dangers were not realized until it secured a hold in England and since then money and time have been spent in efforts to curb it. At least thirty varieties have been established as immune, some of them comparable to standard varieties in this section of the United States. The Director was impressed with the superiority of methods of growing in England, Scotland, Wales and Ireland over those practiced in the United States and says that in most sections the potatoes are sprouted before they are planted, resulting in an increase of over 50 per cent. Dr. Sanders said that in Europe certain potatoes are used for certain uses, some being exclusively for frying, others for soups, others being of different colors.

JUDGES FAIL IN ADAMS PRIMARY

Do Not Carry Out Instructions and Official Count Is Delayed

Gettysburg, Pa., Sept. 26.—Failure to comply with the new primary law on the part of election judges in many of the districts of Adams county have been discovered in such numbers by the board computing the returns as to make it rather evident the judges did not carefully read the instructions sent them by the county commissioners. So many complications have arisen that it likely will be another week before the task of counting the official returns is completed. The judges of 15 of the 40 election districts of the county, including Freedom, Mountjoy, Union, Biglerville, Benderville, Tyrone and 2, Straban, Fairfield, both precincts of Hamiltonban, the third precinct of Mountpleasant, and the first and third wards of Gettysburg have already been summoned before the computing board to explain their actions in certain matters.

Although circulars of instructions were sent to all judges many failed to send the unused ballots back to the county commissioners. Instead, they sealed them in the ballot box and under the old law, it is in this particular most of the judges failed and the failure is causing the board the most trouble. Other judges who just judges neglected their instructions were displayed in failure to return certificate containing the number of ballots they received and other necessary information to the commissioners.

Franklin township's judge of election has probably the most serious complication of any. He was called before the computing board to explain how one more ballot had been received than there were votes cast in the precinct. It could be clearly explained that there was no effort to stuff the ballot box, but that one of the clerks had unintentionally cut off two ballots and handed them to a voter who must have marked both and dropped the ballot box. Early on election day a case just like that had been discovered in that district in time to prevent the extra ballot from getting into the box.
