

Three Local Bankers Delegates to Convention

F. M. Gilbert, of Dauphin Deposit Trust Company, A. S. Bannister, First National Bank, and R. I. Deihl, Mechanics Trust Company, will leave to-morrow morning for New Orleans to attend the convention of the American Institute of Banking October 7, 8 and 9.

These local men were chosen as delegates by the Harrisburg Chapter A. I. B. and will travel on the Bankers' Special which leaves New York to-morrow at noon for New Orleans via Washington and other southern points.

The fall and winter course of study of the Harrisburg chapter starts to-night at 8 o'clock in Technical High school and a large and enthusiastic class is expected to take up the season's study of notable instruments.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Simonetti are home after a wedding journey by automobile through New York State and have started housekeeping at 228 Emerald street.

Visiting the Shops with Adele

"LOUIS, the Ladies' Tailor, made it, of course!" exclaimed a prominent young matron when I asked her where she had purchased her lovely fur coat.

"I have seen a day or two ago, I have such an oddly-shaped bureau with a writing table that I just can't find scarfs to fit. I know I've walked miles and miles in search of some, and all to no avail."

"I could scarcely suppress a smile at her wobegone face and mournful eyes, for I knew just how to end her tiresome quest. And in a few brief words I told her that at the Art and Gift Store, 105 North Second street, she could have attractively stamped linen covers made to fit any piece of furniture.

A pattern of paper is all she need furnish, as the other materials, including the linen, are all to be found at this helpful shop. Particular pains are taken with the stamping of patterns from the most elaborate to the simplest of monograms.

"I HAVE a dear old auntie who for years has paid us an annual visit. Just several weeks ago she spent four days with us and then departed for a brief stay at Sulphur Springs. Shortly after her arrival there she wrote me a gracious little note expressing her appreciation of various minor diversions afforded her while here. In closing she added these words: 'And, above all, my dear, I want to tell you that I would have enjoyed my visit in Harrisburg if for no other reason than the coffee you served. Never before in all my long life have I tasted a more delicious brand. You say it came from the Grand Union Tea Company, 298 North Second street? Well, I must carefully preserve that address. I may use it in the near future.'"

"THE world in general has taken to rolling so rapidly of late that one has to rush and scurry in a wild effort to keep up with it. And, as for the world of fashions—everyone knows that it speeds along with such a rapid succession of styles and materials as to be a trifle breathtaking. Those of us who daily visit the shops sometimes wonder how the designers can keep on evolving so many new and clever garments. That question was uppermost in my mind to-day as I gazed at an 'Ed-just-love-it' coat of bronze silk tulle cloth hanging on a Closs Shop rack. Button trimmed, with belt effect, nutria collar and gorgeous brocade lining, it bears the imprints of everything that's late and modish in the realm of fashions.

MARRIAGE UNITES OLD FAMILIES

Miss Hazel Drawbaugh and Paul Zimmerman Marry in Presence of Friends

Miss Hazel Drawbaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Drawbaugh, of Eberlys Mills and Conrad Paul Zimmerman, son of Mr. J. Markward Peters, of that place, were united in marriage at noon Monday, in the New Cumberland Church of God, the Rev. Mr. Heiges officiating.

Both the bride and bridegroom are descendants of families that figured prominently in Colonial days, the first member of each one to arrive in America coming as a member of the Mayflower's crew. The bride is a direct descendant of Governor Bradford, one of the most famous colonial governors of Massachusetts and a niece of Daniel Drawbaugh, the inventor.

Mr. Zimmerman, a son of the late George Zimmerman, and the only grandson of Henry Burn, one of the city's best-known Civil War veterans, served four years in the Navy, part of the time under Admiral Mayo off Tampico, during the Vera Cruz trouble. He was also on the Mexican border with the 81st Infantry Regiment and was promoted to sergeant of infantry, later being transferred to the Machine Gun Company of the same regiment.

When this country entered the World War, he was commissioned second lieutenant by Governor Brumbaugh and went overseas as lieutenant of the Machine Gun Company receiving his promotion to the rank of first lieutenant. He was with the 28th Division during his entire service in France, participating in five engagements.

After a short wedding trip to Mt. Gretna, Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman will reside at Eberlys Mills.

Mrs. Alexander Snyder went home to Ardmore yesterday after spending several weeks here with her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Miller at 293 Pine street.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton M. Hedley, of Cincinnati, are spending ten days looking up old friends and former neighbors in this vicinity.

Herman B. McCandless, of Baltimore, is in town for a few days combining business and pleasure.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace F. Yang, of Albany, N. Y., is a guest of Mrs. Nelson B. Long of Market street.

Miss Mary B. Robinson, of Pine street, has gone to Pen Yan, N. Y., to visit the Rev. and Mrs. Charles K. Imbrie, formerly of this city.

Miss Phyllis Harrison, of Ithaca, N. Y., is in the city for a little visit with her aunt, Mrs. Thomas F. Thompson, of Verbeke street.

CAMP HILL HONOR ROLL UNVEILED

Town's Civic Club Arranging For Special Exercises on Friday, October 10

The Camp Hill Civic Club is making arrangements for unveiling the Honor Roll to Camp Hill boys who were in the service Friday evening, October 10, at the schoolhouse. The exercises will be held outside unless the weather is inclement when they will go indoors.

The unveiling exercises will mark the end of a work taking untiring patience and energy on the part of Mrs. George W. Kehr, chairman of the outdoor committee, and her assistants.

The Rev. Dr. Robert Bagnell, minister of Grace Methodist Church, will make the address of the evening, after which the boys and their guests will be taken in charge by a committee of men headed by George D. Cook, who will see they have a royal good time.

The men's committee is planning a dance with plenty of refreshments to be held in the school auditorium. The entertainment will be in charge of the young folks both prominently in musical circles. Mr. Miller is an office employe of Swift and Co.

The guests included the Misses Elizabeth McMullen, Beatrice McKeever, Mary Steckbeck, Edith Smith, Ruth Wolfe, Sarah Meadath, Rhoda Kautz, MacDole Kautz, George Miller, Harold Shaner, Fredrick Mayer, Timothy Euker, Joseph Germer, Leon Sible, John Shiller, Edward Bollinger, John Miller, and Mrs. Paul Bowers, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Martin, Leota and Richard Martin, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Kautz and Edwin Kautz.

The women's committee comprises Mrs. George W. Kehr, Mrs. Howard W. Goodman, Mrs. George D. Cook, Mrs. Carl K. Deen, Mrs. W. Fred Kendall, Mrs. J. C. Armstrong, Mrs. J. C. Zook. On the men's committee are: George D. Cook, George W. Kehr, Carl D. Deen, R. E. Cahill, Robert Phelan, Charles W. Harding, Howard W. Goodman, Edward B. King, Dr. R. M. Staley, C. F. Goodman, U. G. Fry, Dr. E. F. Kendall and Clark Enterline. The committees request all the boys to wear their uniforms.

The first fall meeting of the Camp Hill Civic Club was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. King, Dr. R. M. Staley, C. F. Goodman, U. G. Fry, Dr. E. F. Kendall and Clark Enterline. The committees request all the boys to wear their uniforms.

An appropriation was appointed to cooperate with the men in entertaining soldiers at the table unveiling and the first of a series of current event talks by Mrs. George A. Stearns, the most delightful. Tea and cakes were served during the social hour.

The Deaconess Work of Harrisburg, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, is accomplishing much towards the Americanization of many hundreds of people in the most crowded districts. The board, meeting the third Friday of every month at 116 Vine street, comprises a president, who is the district superintendent, the pastors of each Methodist church, two laymen from each congregation, and representatives from the Home Missionary societies, Y auxiliaries and Queen Esther Circles of every church.

The work is for the new Americans of the locality and includes the carrying on of two kindergartens, sewing classes, social and welfare organizations, welfare work among the families and children, as well as Red Cross activities during the war. The report for the year ending June, 1919, shows that 1,556 calls and visits were made, and that 91 children were enrolled in the kindergarten with a total of 4,904. In the sewing classes 421 names appeared on the roll and the attendance totaled 2,199. In the boys' clubs the attendance was 844, in the girls' clubs 62, and in the Red Cross classes 116, making a total for the year of 8,025. The year's budget amounted to $1,600.

In the Sunday School, 80 persons were taught; 166 meetings were conducted or addressed; 118 people were taken for day's outings. Families were given material relief, positions were secured for two people, 171 garments were given out, forty-three cases of furniture and twenty-eight glasses of jelly were distributed, the total value of the supplies amounting to $122.80. Over fifteen hundred sheets of literature were given out and 100 testaments.

Officers and Teachers in Get-Together Banquet

The officers and teachers of the senior department of Market Square Sunday school were guests at a get-together banquet given last evening at the church by John DeGray, superintendent. An informal discussion was held and plans were begun for a gathering of similar nature for the whole senior department, to be held in the near future, with the idea of increasing the efficiency of the Sunday school.

Those present at last night's event were the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. George Edward Hayes, John DeGray, superintendent; the Rev. Howard Rodgers, assistant pastor; Mrs. Herman P. Miller, Mrs. Edward Manser, Mrs. Edward Bailey, Miss Anna Orth, Mrs. W. G. Schooley, Miss Lenore Stadler, Mrs. Mary B. Gottschall, Miss Bertha Wittmeyer, Miss Minerva Heppford, Mrs. E. M. Stoner, Miss Caroline Pearson, Mrs. L. B. Jones, Judge S. J. M. McCarrall, A. M. Lindsey, J. Henry Spicer, Dr. R. W. Fair, C. S. Anderson, Gwyneth Watkins, James N. O'Hall, Blair Gourley, Warren G. Koltz, Frank G. Fahnestock, Jesse E. B. Cunningham and John E. Corl.

TEA AT COLONIAL

The informal Saturday afternoon gatherings at the Colonial Country Club which have proved so popular in the past will be resumed this winter and tea will be served each Saturday afternoon beginning to-morrow to club members.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin P. Shure and son Gordon, have returned to their home, 251 South Thirteenth street, after spending some time at Herald Square Hotel, New York city.

TELL BETROTHAL OF YOUNG FOLKS

Miss Addie Catherine Kautz Will Marry John Wence Miller in the Spring

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin P. Kautz, of 436 Hamilton street, gave a delightful little party the other evening to announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Addie Catherine Kautz to John Wence Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, of this city.

After games and music, the guests were seated in the diningroom for supper. A color scheme of lavender and white was carried out in the decorations and ribbons extended from the dais to each corner, ending in a favor which bore the news of the betrothal. Congratulations and good wishes were showered on the young folks both prominently in musical circles. Mr. Miller is an office employe of Swift and Co.

The guests included the Misses Elizabeth McMullen, Beatrice McKeever, Mary Steckbeck, Edith Smith, Ruth Wolfe, Sarah Meadath, Rhoda Kautz, MacDole Kautz, George Miller, Harold Shaner, Fredrick Mayer, Timothy Euker, Joseph Germer, Leon Sible, John Shiller, Edward Bollinger, John Miller, and Mrs. Paul Bowers, Mr. and Mrs. O.
