

U. S. HOSPITAL LEAVES OMSK

Some Kolchak Government Departments to Go as Reds Advance

By Associated Press.
Omsk, Friday, Oct. 31.—Owing to the menacing advance of the Bolshevik forces, Admiral Bolchak has ordered a preliminary evacuation of Omsk by the American hospital and such government departments as are not directly necessary here. It is possible that the seat of government may be moved to the eastward. Express railway service has been temporarily suspended and railway cars are being concentrated at Omsk as a precautionary measure. Colonel Emerson has rescinded the order to the American Railway Corps to retire from Siberia and the men are remaining at their posts for duty. The American hospital and the government offices which are now leaving Omsk will be established at Irkutsk. Barges and trains have been placed at the disposal of the Red Cross and the evacuation of the 800 patients at the hospital is in progress. (Irkutsk lies near the southern end of Lake Baikal, over 1,000 miles east of Omsk).

Hartslog Valley Farmer Gets Alexandria Bride

Huntington, Pa., Nov. 7.—At the home of the bride's father, "River-view," near Alexandria, John Thompson Martin, of Hartslog Valley, and Miss Maude Beckley Neff, youngest daughter of J. C. Neff, were united in marriage on Wednesday evening. The Rev. Dr. Charles W. Levan, pastor of Christ Reformed Church, Alexandria, officiated. The wedding music was played by Miss Martha Creswell, of Harrisburg, the fiancée of Guy Neff, brother of the bride, and who was best man at the ceremony. Luncheon followed the ceremony. Upon their return from a wedding trip they will reside on the Martin homestead in Hartslog Valley, the home of the groom, who is a prosperous farmer of the valley. The bride is the last of Mr. Neff's four daughters to be given away in marriage.

PRISON WARDEN LONG A STUDENT OF HUMAN LIFE

John Francies Will Address Chamber of Commerce Next Tuesday Noon

An interesting meeting of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce will take place in the Penn-Harris ballroom next Tuesday at noon, when John Francies, warden of the Western Penitentiary of Pennsylvania, will make an address. Mr. Francies is the sponsor in Pennsylvania for the penal farm idea, and at his suggestion, a recent legislature authorized the erection on 6,000 acres of beautiful lands in the Nittany Valley, center county, of a penal institution which will be a model for the rest of the world. As the champion of modern and humane prison methods, Mr. Francies' address is expected to be of great interest to Harrisburgers.

John Francies was born in Allegheny City, educated in the public schools and Western University. In his youth he was employed as a machinist at the Allegheny plant of the Pittsburgh Locomotive Works. From 1891 until 1903 he held a position in the Department of Public Works, of Allegheny City. Mr. Francies was a deep student, applying his leisure hours to study. From 1903 to 1905 Mr. Francies represented his district in the Legislature. He was one of the most popular members of the House and sponsored much important legislation. During his tenure of office he acquired the warm friendship of almost every legislator and attorney of the state government, and as the years rolled by their friendships have intensified. While a member of the House, Mr. Francies had an ardent admirer and supporter in the person of Governor Pennypacker. They remained staunch friends until the death of the distinguished statesman and jurist a few months ago.

In 1905 Mr. Francies was appointed Postmaster of Allegheny City by President Roosevelt. He resigned that position in 1907 to become superintendent of the United States Penitentiary of the Philadelphia Company, a responsible and highly lucrative office which he held until 1908, when he was elected warden of the Western Penitentiary of Pennsylvania, which position he now holds. Mr. Francies is a life-long student of human nature, therefore, he is eminently adapted for his intricate work which deals with the analyzing of mankind's weakness and prescribing antidotes for the peculiar aberrations and abnormalities of his kind. The advent of Mr. Francies in penology was attended by the first comprehensive step in prison reform throughout the United States. Within only one month in office he discovered that the fundamental principles of the prison system not only in Pennsylvania, but throughout the United States were defective. There appeared to be but one basic principle of the state prison—to lock a man up and keep him isolated from the world until the law unlocked the door. Immediate steps were taken by Mr. Francies to alleviate the misery and suffering of his wards. He went before the Legislature at a joint meeting of the House of Representatives and the Senate, and laid bare all the harrowing facts connected with the system of the institution which he inherited. He supported before the Legislature in support of a bill which he had carefully drawn, providing for the erection of a new penitentiary on a large tract of land surrounded by nature, with atmospheric and other advantages that would prove conducive to the health and moral betterment of the inmates. So convincing and convincing were his statements that a modern new penitentiary that promises to be a model for the whole world is being erected on a tract of 6,000 acres in beautiful Nittany Valley, in Center county. This institution will supplant the old Eastern State Penitentiary at Philadelphia and the Western Penitentiary at Pittsburgh. It is the aim of Warden Francies that the new institution will be self-sustaining. Agriculture is already being pursued along extensive lines by the inmates. Stock raising on a large scale is also being carried on, while hundreds of men have found healthful outdoor employment at work on the construction of new buildings. The new prison and penal farm ideas are by no means the only innovations that were made by Mr. Francies since he assumed the duties of warden. In fact, the entire system of discipline has been changed markedly. The inmates are governed, fed, clothed and ministered to in accordance with the best judgment of humane law.

Mowry Convicted on Second Trial; Fined 100 Yen

Seoul, Korea, Nov. 7.—The Rev. Ell Miller Mowry, of Mansfield, O., a Presbyterian missionary, has been convicted of sheltering Korean agitators during the revolt in Korea. Mr. Mowry was fined 100 yen. This was his second trial.

On his conviction last April, the Rev. Mr. Mowry was sentenced to six months' imprisonment at hard labor, but the court of appeal suspended judgment for two years. Later the court quashed the original judgment and remanded the missionary for a new trial before the court of appeals.

Coal Production in West Virginia Show Increases

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 7.—Large increases in coal production in West Virginia are reported by the West Virginia Coal Association. It was claimed that the mines were now producing at the rate of 60,000,000 tons per year or two-thirds of the normal annual output of the state. The association reported that production was on the increase in every field of the state and that gains were made to-day in union fields, where, it was said, miners continued to return to work. Mines of West Virginia closed by the strike will not be reopened with imported labor, the operators said.

Army Sale Rush Causes Death of One Woman; Hurts Others

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 7.—One woman is dead and a score of others were injured when a crowd rushed the doors of the Sixty-fifth Regiment Armory yesterday at the opening of a sale of United States Army goods. The dead woman is Mrs. Emma Baumelster, 65 years old, who fainted in the crush and died in an ambulance on the way to a hospital. When the doors were thrown open after hours of waiting the rush swept aside 12 policemen who were on hand to keep order and it was necessary to call reserves to regain control of the crowd. Police Chief Higgins ordered the army officers to call off the sale for the day.

Moon in Shadow; Visible at Sundown

If clouds do not obscure the moon this evening a partial eclipse of that planet will be visible here. The moon enters penumbra at 4:34 p. m. The middle eclipse will be visible at 6 p. m. and the moon will leave penumbra at 8:55 p. m. This is the only eclipse of the moon this year. There will be an annual eclipse of the sun on November 22, which will be visible in North America as a partial eclipse. The beginning of the partial eclipse of the moon this evening is visible in the eastern parts of North and South America. The ending is visible generally in Western Asia, Europe, Africa, South America and North America, except the extreme western part.
