

MOTOR CARS GREAT MENACE TO MORALITY

Worse Than "Red Lights" of Thirty Years Ago, Declares Report

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 14.—The automobile was declared to be "a greater menace to morality to-day than 'red-light' districts were thirty years ago," by Dr. B. S. Steadwell, of LaCrosse, Wis., in a report to the World Commission on Social Purity Conference here to-day.

"Motor cars," said the speaker, "bring the country roadhouse practically to the city limits. This was the difficulty with the anti-vice zones surrounding our military camps. They were not large enough. The perfection of transportation facilities popularized the distant resort twenty, thirty and even fifty miles away.

"To-day we appear to be getting what we have been asking for, a single standard of morals. But the trouble with this single standard is that it is a low standard. The libertine has never been denied our best society, or the freedom of our best homes. To-day the cigarette-smoking woman is not denied our best society if no open scandal has resulted from her exploits. The single standard that we desire is one that will place men upon as high a moral plane as we formerly demanded for women."

Dr. Steadwell praised the work which was being done in Australia, Canada, the United States, England, South America and South Africa for the promotion of purity and the suppression of commercialized vice. He said that the international movement for stamping out the "white slave" traffic, which virtually stopped during the war, had been resumed under the leadership of William Alexander Cooze, of England, and that all of the committees in various nations were still intact.

Radical Weeps When Threatened With Deportation

Philadelphia, Nov. 14.—Roman Mosyck, an alleged radical arrested in Trenton, N. J., during the Nation-wide raid, was put through a severe examination here yesterday by Federal agents. Mosyck at this examination told the agents that he was employed as a blacksmith at the munitions plant at Morgan, N. J., at the time of the explosion there when millions of dollars worth of property was destroyed and more than 60 persons lost their lives. He broke down and wept when he was informed that he might be deported.

New Cumberland, Pa., Nov. 14.—The pastors and members of the congregations attended the Sunday School Convention held at Wormleysburg yesterday.

URGES PUBLIC OWNERSHIP OF STATE FORESTS

Committee on Conservation Reports to Paper and Pulp Association

New York, Nov. 14.—Public ownership of national or state timberlands, with private cutting and marketing of the older and larger sizes of timber was urged in a report of the Committee on Forest Conservation to the Paper and Pulp Association here to-day.

The committee, composed of Frank L. Moore, of Watertown, N. Y.; D. A. Croker, W. E. Haskell and H. S. Kellogg, of New York, and C. H. Worcester, of Chicago, declared that any plan looking toward the solution of the problem of a permanent timber supply must be adequate and practicable to produce the needed results; just to all interests concerned and acceptable to the majority.

Five recommendations by the committee included a nation-wide forest survey; doubling the area of public forests; better fire prevention; uniform forest taxation laws and increased planting of trees. Every encouragement said the report, should be offered by the public to the owner of forest lands, who wishes to grow timber. In the case of refusal the report said "the land should be acquired by the public at a fair price and made a part of the system of public forests."

State Takes Over Mines in N. Dakota and Will Run Them

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 14.—The state of North Dakota expects to take over the 40 union coal mines in the state under its control and in operation to-day. Troops were dispatched to local coal fields yesterday to take over the mines as requested by Governor Frazier.

The Washburn Lignite Company's mines at Wilton were surrendered to the state yesterday under protest. In handing over the property, President W. P. Macomber reserves the right to seek restoration and reparation in the courts.

Unionized Firemen Demoted Because of "Insubordination"

Jersey City, N. J., Nov. 14.—Sixty-seven members of the recently unionized city fire department, including two captains, are to-day in a less desirable position. Commissioner of Public Safety F. X. O'Brien says they were demoted because of "insubordination and a disposition to defy their superior officers."

Between 200 and 300 other members of the force, O'Brien announced, will be likewise disciplined and if this proves sufficient punishment he declared, the entire force will be reorganized, with former service men replacing the alleged malcontents.

"The unionizing of the department has had a most disastrous effect upon its morale," O'Brien asserted.

CENTURY OF U. S. PHARMACY
American pharmacists are looking forward for the convention for the revision of the United States Pharmacopoeia next May as a landmark in their progress. Concerning its significance Prof. Edward Kremers, director of the course in pharmacy and the Pharmaceutical Experiment Station, University of Wisconsin, writes:

"The call for the convention for the revision of the United States Pharmacopoeia in Washington, D. C., next May brings out the fact that our National pharmaceutical and medical standard has passed through nine decennial revisions and that the next revision marks the beginning of the second century of pharmaceutical history in the United States.

"Thought many a state pharmacopoeia dates back much longer than our standard, few of the more important standards are as old as our own. The first British Pharmacopoeia was published in 1541, replacing the local standards of London, Edinburgh and Dublin. The first German Pharmacopoeia was published in 1812, a year after the replacement of the German Empire, replacing the numerous local pharmacopoeias of Prussia, Bavaria, Hesse, etc. The first French Pharmacopoeia was published in 1818, several decades after the French revolution has disposed of the old order of things, pharmaceutically as well as otherwise.

"Anticipating the founding out of the first century of pharmaceutical history in the United States, the pharmacy department of the university for more than ten years has been collecting material for a series of monographs to be published under the general caption, 'A Century of the United States Pharmacopoeia, 1820-1920.' The first of these, based on laboratory as well as library research, has just been issued from the press, and is entitled, 'The Galenicaleoecorins.' This monograph constitutes the doctor's thesis of A. G. Du Mez, now in government service, being associated with the hygienic laboratory. This monograph of 238 pages was first published in volume 19 of the Transactions of the Wisconsin Academy of Sciences, Arts and Letters and has since been issued as a reprint by the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical Experiment Station. It has already received very favorable comment."—New York Evening Post.

Meet Independents in First of Series of Contests; Strong Lineup

The Vincome five of Philadelphia scheduled to oppose the Harrisburg Independents on the Chestnut street hall floor here to-morrow night, has been organized for five years, and retains practically the same lineup with which it started. It has appeared here on several occasions in games with the Independents, and has always shown a good account of itself. During the last two seasons it has won two and lost two of the games played with the Independents.

Eddie Bilson and MacGregor, who are playing in the guard positions for the Vincomes, are both former members of the world championship Greyhound five, Zahn and Simondinger are to be forward.

The latter is not one of the original five, but has been playing with the Vincome combination since early last season. Either Jack Lawrence or Larry Esquire will be at center.

All of the independent players are in good trim. Wallower's ankle has been injured, but he and McCord will fill the forward positions. Sammie Moorehead, of Philadelphia, will be in the center position. Gordon and Gordon Ford and either Merle Gerdes or Benny Kilne will take care of the guard jobs. The team has figured in two practices this week, and the players will get together for a short period to-night in order to better arrange their signal work.

Gompers Reiterates Gregory's Stand on Lever Act in 1917

Washington, Nov. 14.—President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, reiterated last night his assertion that former Attorney General Gregory had "given assurance" to the union leaders in 1917 that the Lever food and fuel act, under which the coal strike has been enjoined, would not be used against labor organizations. Referring to Mr. Gregory's denial of the assertion originally made by the executive council of the federation, Mr. Gompers said the former Attorney General had gone into conference with the labor executives on the subject.

"At that conference with the Attorney General in 1917 Mr. Gregory stated emphatically, speaking for himself and for the Government," Mr. Gompers declared, "that the provisions of the Lever act would not be applied to workers and that he would write to the United States district attorneys, that they, too, should be governed by that assurance. Whether Mr. Gregory carried out his pledge to write his subordinates, I am not in a position to say, but that he gave that assurance that he would do so there, is absolutely no question."
