MAN BEATEN AT PRIMARIES WINS

Says He Will Not Take Office Because Victory Was Through Error

Gettysburg, Pa., Nov. 18.—A middle has developed following the announcement of the results of the recent election in Cumberland township. The thing goes back to the primaries in September when Sentman S. Schriver was one of a number of aspirants for the Republican nomination for the office of supervisor of that township. Schriver was defeated, but in some way his name was certified to the county commissioners as elected and his name printed on the ballot. At the polls this month Schriver, with one of the other men on the ticket, was elected to be a supervisor, an office for which two men were to be elected, the other two of the four candidates being tie. He now says he will not accept the office as he could not legally have his name on the ballot when he was defeated at the primaries, and will resign. To straighten out the middle it is likely the two men who were tie will draw straws and the court will be asked to appoint the winner.

TURKEY HUNTERS IN PERRY GET VICTIMS

One Nimrod Cripples Fowl and Pursues Gobbler, First Getting Tail Feathers and Finally Capturing Bird; Game Plentiful Because of Mild Winter

New Bloomfield, Pa., Nov. 18.—The opening day of the turkey season found many local sportsmen in the woods. Several of the birds fell victims to their aim. Stanley Hair and Merle Owens, High School students, each killed a turkey on Iron Ridge. Squire D. C. Kell, of this place, on his annual trip to his old hunting grounds in Liberty Valley, bagged a 17-pound gobbler. Frank R. Eckerd and brother, George, each killed a fine specimen in the same locality. Ralph Hoffman, of Center township, shot one on Dick's Hill. John Hoffman and Carl A. McClure, on their return from the mountains near New Germantown, each exhibited a turkey, one being minus its tail feathers. Mr. Hoffman shot at and crippled the bird, and forgetting he had a gun, immediately set out in pursuit. In the chase he overtook the turkey and made a lunge, getting the bird by the tail. The gobbler and the hunter parted, Hoffman regaining his feet, renewed the chase and in the course of half an hour ran him down. According to reports within this country there are more turkeys in this country this year than in ten years, due possibly to the mild winter last year. Spring and summer were quite favorable for hatching and rearing. Within a radius of five miles of this town four flocks are known to have been raised, one containing twenty-two turkeys.

Wilson Vetoes Bill Restoring Commerce Body to Prewar Basis

Washington, Nov. 18.—President Wilson to-day vetoed the bill restoring to the Interstate Commerce Commission its prewar rate-making powers. The President's veto message will be transmitted to-day to the Senate in which the bill originated. Chairman Cummins of the Interstate Commerce Commission, author of the bill, said it was not likely that any attempt would be made to pass the measure over the President's veto, as the rate-making powers of the commission would be restored when the roads were returned to private operation, January 1. Senator Cummins said the President's action was not surprising. The President said the immediate effect of the proposed law would be to deprive the Federal Government of the ability "to cope promptly and decisively with operating emergencies which are now arising and must continue to arise during the existing period of heavy traffic."
