

GRID SEASON IS NEARING FINISH

Game Today Winds Up College Season; Scholastic Battle

This is an important day in football. Results of college games this afternoon will fix the winners for the season. Most of the games to be played on Thanksgiving Day are annual events, and do not figure a whole lot in deciding the championship.

Teach meets the Naval Prep school team this afternoon. On Thursday the annual battle with Steelton High will be featured. This game, while attracting great interest has not figured in the championship series for the past two seasons. However, next year promises to bring together Steelton and Tech again as hated rivals.

Interest is strong in the Junior High game scheduled for Wednesday afternoon at Island Park between Camp Curtin and Edison. These teams are away from home to-day. The High School will play the Highspire High School at Highspire, while the Edison school will meet the strong Mechanicsburg team at Mechanicsburg.

"Shorty" Miller, coach, is rapidly rounding out the Edison squad for the game at Mechanicsburg. The team realizes that the game next Wednesday is the important event, but also wants to put up a good game at Mechanicsburg.

CITIZENSHIP IS OF PARAMOUNT IMPORTANCE NOW

State Educators Submit Conclusions; Endorse Junior High Schools

Establishment of a course in citizenship is declared to be of the utmost importance for high schools in the reports of two of the sectional meetings of the recent State Educational Congress which have been submitted to the State Department of Public Instruction for use in formulating the State's future educational policy.

Reference to the value of such courses in training the boys and girls who will be the voters of tomorrow are made in conclusion of several other sections. Incidentally, the high school section recommended that the junior high school be encouraged as a district institution, designed to afford a tryout of various school activities.

Instruction in citizenship is recommended as a requirement for both junior and senior high schools by the committee composed of Dr. George Wheeler, Philadelphia; Edward R. Fynewear, Pittsburgh; and Walter E. Severance, Harrisburg. This committee also urged that it be taught through school administration by delegating under watchful supervision certain functions of the school government. A definite program is to be made up.

Demand is made for a better distribution of State funds, the closer supervision of rural schools and developing health courses.

Hold Up Fighters' Pay For Stalling in Windup Bout; Eastern Boys Are in Bad

Toledo, O., Nov. 22.—Compensation they were to receive for 12 rounds of boxing here last night was withheld from Jack McCarron, of Philadelphia, and Jeff Smith, of Bayonne, N. J., because of "stalling in the ring." It was announced Mayor Cornell Schreiber's boxing commission to-day.

The commission also will fine the boxers for failure to give the crowd a show, it is said. Smith and McCarron, middleweights, were ejected from the Coliseum ring last night in the sixth round of their scheduled 12-round bout.

Action was taken by Colie Peacor, referee, when that official was ordered by Mayor Schreiber to stop the bout because the "people were not receiving their money's worth." The money will be converted to the commission's charity fund, Mayor Schreiber said.

Commissioner Sadler Is Boomed For Governor

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 22.—Ex-Lieutenant Governor Lawrence A. Watres sprang a surprise at the dinner of the Lackawanna Motor Club last night by launching a boom for Governor Lewis S. Sadler, State Highway Commissioner.

Three hundred guests cheered and applauded again when Senator Edward Jones, of Susquehanna, started in where ex-Lieutenant Governor Watres left off.

Mr. Sadler was at the dinner but would make no comment. Watres checked that when Sadler retires as commissioner three years hence, it will be to take up the higher duties of the Governorship. Louis S. Sadler is building a monument for this empire about the great State of Pennsylvania. I believe Mr. Sadler will be our next Governor.

Senator Jones said Mr. Sadler will be "our next Governor on a platform of $100,000,000 for State highways."

MOST DRAMATIC RUSSIAN FIGHTER NOW IS TRAGIC

Gen. Gaida, Brilliant Leader For Five Years, Captured by Bolsheviks

By Associated Press. Vladivostok, Tuesday, Nov. 18.—Rudolph Gaida, 30-year-old Czech general, until this morning the most dramatic fighter during the five years in Russia, to-night was the most tragic. Gaida, who rose from private to general and who twice freed Siberia from organized Bolshevism, at daylight, wounded, wet and disheveled, limped along the streets of Vladivostok, a prisoner of soldiers of the Omsk government.

To-night the anniversary of the coup d'etat by which Kolchak placed himself in power through promising a constitutional assembly and immediate representative government for Siberia, the plot to overthrow Admiral Kolchak was completely crushed here.

Gaida was captured at the railroad station in the revolutionists' surrendered after suffering from the cross-fire of a field piece placed at the corner of the station plaza. This fired at a 100-yard range into the revolutionists. Russian torpedoboots were in the harbor.

Wounded in the leg by a grenade, Gaida was marched through the streets under heavy guard to the headquarters of the all-Russian staff. A few hours later he was turned into the custody of the revolutionists to be deported within three days.

Volleys of Executioners. Vladivostok is quiet. There has been no firing since early this morning. Officials of the all-Russian government are holding four hundred prisoners including many railroad workers.

Red Cross on Scene. The government losses in the fighting are unknown. Occasional wounded soldiers and civilians continue to arrive at the American Red Cross hospital. Aid has been sent from this to the Russian hospital. This is the nearest that any American came to being a casualty during the civil fighting.

Members of the provisional cabinet of the movement headed by Gaida is unknown. Many escaped, and the remainder fled to the Russian front.

The entire movement centered on Gaida. His military success was essential. The revolution was doomed during the civil fighting. The artillery first placed on the Svaldunkava bridge, nearer the railroad station and began a bombardment of Gaida's followers, unprepared for heavy fighting, were caught in a trap and surrounded.

Capitol Hill Notes

D. F. Coleman of Gratz, was appointed a notary public for Dauphin County.

Representative James Franklin, of Philadelphia, gave a dinner last night to legislators and others interested in the character fight. William Walsh, registration commissioner, was toastmaster.

Edmund Shaw, former legislator from Elkton, is said to be an advanced age. He served in the eighties.

Captain W. C. Rehm, of Lancaster, was at the Capitol on National Guard matters.

State Insurance officials are jubilant over the conviction in the Birds-eye insurance case in Pittsburgh and believe that will have quite a deterrent effect upon other attempts to juggle insurance assets.

Director Frank E. McClain, of the State Welfare Commission, said last night that he had found the unexpected. He called a rent proffiter an "Irish shylock" and said he never thought he would run across one.

Forest fires are continuing to cause annoyance to people in eastern counties. Valuable timber has been burned in Northern Berks county.

Tech May Play Erie Team at Pittsburgh Next Saturday. Negotiations were started to-day by P. L. WAR VETERANS BEING HONORED IN MILLERSTOWN

Medals Presented to ex-Servicemen After Big Parade

Millerstown, Pa., Nov. 22.—Millerstown is to-day honoring at her welcome home celebration 54 of 58 men and women of the town who served with the United States forces during the past war. Special services are being held in honor of the other four men who died while in the service. They were: Wilbur G. Anderson, Robert H. Garman, Edward S. Knight and Walter A. Smith.

The presentation of medals to the service men, special medals to the mothers of the deceased veterans and the unveiling of a big bronze memorial tablet, with the names of the veterans thereon, are big features of to-day's celebration. On the face of the medal will be the lettering: "United States Forces, 1917-1918." The reverse will show: "Presented by the People of Millerstown, Pa., in grateful recognition of patriotic services during the World War."

A big street parade, forming promptly at 1.30 o'clock, meted off at 2 o'clock with John Holman as chief marshal. The route traversed was: From High to Greenwood, to Main, to northern part of town and countermarch in Main to Square, to Sunbury, across Juniata bridge to railroad and countermarch to High, to Greenwood, to Main, to Square and disband.

Four divisions are included in the procession, veterans of the World War, together with the veterans of the Civil and Spanish-American Wars with the first division. Four bands, the Beaverbrook Girls' Band, the Moose Band, of Harrisburg; Mexico Band and Newport Band furnished music for the divisions. A large number of floats, members of secret orders, school children and other interesting features were included in the procession.

At the conclusion of the parade, the program will be held in the Square, where a bandstand has been erected. President Judge-elect James M. Barnett, of New Bloomfield, will make the principal address of the day.
