Mr. Edwards Lester is said to be the writer of the articles in the New York Herald abusive of the administration...

THE BAZARS OF THE TWO NATIONS.

A London correspondent of the National Intelligencer says that a late calculation respecting the military power of Russia makes the forces which the Czar could employ in a European war...

THE BAZARS OF THE TWO NATIONS.

The bazaars are usually so much crowded with women and dogs that one is compelled to move very slowly, especially as more ceremony is required than amongst the well dressed crowd that throng Broadway...

LETTER LIII.

After our confinement for a many days to the Lazaretto and on board the steamer, it was natural for us to think of the history of a Turkish bath, and make arrangements to visit one of the numerous establishments of this city...

LETTER LIII.

Rev. C. W. Lester—Yes, and we would publish it as such in our paper. I would give you to suggest one thought, whether it might not be proper for this Convention to present a very respectful remonstrance to our Minister at the Court of St. James...

LETTER LIII.

Rev. C. W. Lester—I know him (a certain fugitive slave) well, for the last six months I was in America, he sat under my preaching in the church where the first Anti-Slavery Convention was held in New York, in 1833...

LETTER LIII.

The bazaars of Stamboul are mostly covered, and have more the appearance of a row of booths in a fair than a street of shops. They are very dark, narrow and intricate, so much so that it is absolutely necessary for the stranger to have a guide.

THE SLANDERS OF THE PRESIDENT.

The Washington Union, in an article relative to the assaults on the President's personal character, thus summarily disposes of the columns of two of its editors.

THE SLANDERS OF THE PRESIDENT.

Edmund Burke plays the part of domestic conspirator, and to make his treason effective, he deems it important to maintain the relation of personal friendship to the President. He has done this by the assignment of the work of undermining the personal character of his victim while Mr. Cooley, aided by Mr. Brady, is to storm the citadel by open assault.

THE SLANDERS OF THE PRESIDENT.

Revoked Fall of Perks—Letters received from Canton, in Washington, by the last steamer from Oregon, bearing date August 21st, speak concerning the removal of the custom house in New Hampshire, but toly assert that Gen. Pierce himself was co-operating in his design.

THE SLANDERS OF THE PRESIDENT.

Revoked Fall of Perks—Letters received from Canton, in Washington, by the last steamer from Oregon, bearing date August 21st, speak concerning the removal of the custom house in New Hampshire, but toly assert that Gen. Pierce himself was co-operating in his design.
