

THE CITY

A Southern publishing house is about to be established in New Orleans.

RICHARD LAWRENCE, who made an attempt to assassinate Gen. Jackson, in 1836, still lives, and is an inmate of the Maryland Lunatic Asylum.

News at the several Magistrate offices was scarce, yesterday. Only one or two cases were brought up for disposal, and they of no special interest.

We were fortunate in having a return to fine weather yesterday. The sun shone out delightfully during the afternoon, and the mud has already commenced to disappear.

SINGLETON, at the Postoffice, has Frank Leslie's Lady's Magazine for December, the New York Ledger, Wilkes' Spirit, New York Clipper, and the latest dailies.

BASE BALL.—The match game of base ball, which was played yesterday between the Stonewall and Cumberland, resulted in a victory for the latter, by a score of fifty-six to forty-three.

THIEF OF A CAR.—Officer Ambrose arrested on Thursday, a negro named Hugh Cobb, charged with having stolen a cap from the auction store on Market street, just below Church. He was brought before Squire Meacham yesterday, and remanded to jail for trial.

The streets, yesterday afternoon, presented a lovely appearance with the large number of ladies abroad. We observe that early winter styles are making their appearance, and that some of them are particularly gay. The stripe and plaid seems to be in the ascendant, and no great change from last season.

R. H. SINGLETON, has received the New York Ledger, Chimney Corner, Literary Album, London Illustrated News, Metropolitan Record, Boston Pilot, Irish American, Irish People, Freeman's Journal, Banner of Light, Wilkes, Clipper, Field, Turf and Farm, Saturday Post, Criminal Zeitung, and the latest dailies.

On Thursday night we saw not less than three or four horses making their way through the streets without riders or drivers. They had evidently been left standing in the streets while their owners were in saloons, or elsewhere, enjoying the amenities of Thanksgiving night, and had grown tired of long delay. There is a time probably with the brute creation when patience ceases to be a virtue.

MOUNT OLIVET.—Two new and elegant monuments were yesterday put up in Mount Olivet Cemetery—one over the remains of Hiram K. Walker, formerly editor of the Banner, the other for the family of J. E. F. Brown, merchant. Quite a number of elegant monuments have been erected in this cemetery. A. Nelson & Co., sell lots in this burying-ground.

ALLEGED ASSAULT WITH INTENT TO KILL.—Yesterday a man named James Stephens was arrested on complaint of Walter Champs, who charges him with assault with intent to kill. The parties appeared before Squire Meacham yesterday, and Stephens was bound over in the sum of $2,500 to appear on Thursday next for trial.

A GENERAL ROW.—A party of colored individuals congregated on the corner of Broad and McNairy streets, Thursday evening, where they got into a regular quarrel, based upon a stick of wood claimed by different parties. After making several stump speeches on the merits of the case, the police interfered and marched them all off to the calaboose. They were discharged yesterday morning after a severe lecturing from the Recorder.

DECIDED.—The suit instituted against John Overton by H. McClay, which was mentioned on Thursday morning, was decided yesterday for the defendant. H. McClay, it will be remembered, sued Mr. Overton for $18,000 damages to material which the prosector had furnished for the completing of defendant's hotel. Defendant claimed that he did not contract for material, but for the completion of the building, and the court so ruled.

ST. ANDREW'S DAY.—The members of the Caledonian Society of this city, and a number of their friends, celebrated St. Andrew's Day by a banquet at Ford's Hotel last night. Dr. Blackie occupied the Chair, Squire Coltart acting as Vice President. Speeches, toasts, songs and sentiments passed away a most pleasant evening. The Hon. Wm. Napier, an invited guest, made a most eloquent speech on the greatness of this country, and the physical resources and wealth of Tennessee, characterizing her as one of the greatest States in the country.

THE DOLBEAR AND PEARL AFFAIR.—J. W. Dolbear and John F. Pearl appeared before the Police Court yesterday morning, the former charged with using language calculated to provoke a breach of the peace, and writing libelous articles for the papers referring to Mr. Pearl, and the latter charged with assault. The article in the Press and Times of Tuesday, in which certain reflections were made on the conduct of Joshua Pearl, was read, after which the cases were continued until next Monday.

ACCIDENT ON THE MEMPHIS AND CHARLESTON RAILROAD.—About 1 o'clock yesterday morning, a dreadful collision occurred on the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, about four miles west of Corinth. The passenger train bound for Memphis collided with a freight train, producing a terrible smash up. We learn that four or five men were killed and many severely wounded. The conductor of the passenger train had his leg broken in several places, and was so badly injured that no hopes are entertained for his life. To add to the horrors of the occasion, the cars took fire, and it is rumored that at least two, unable to extricate themselves from the ruins, perished in the flames. The particulars of the melancholy affair have not yet been received here.

A DESPERATE MAN CAPTURED

Pad Diggs, the Guerrilla, Robber and Murderer, in Custody—A Bit of His History—A Record of Terrible and Cold-Blooded Outrages—Digs' Letter to the People of Henry County—He Declines them to Attempt His Capture, Etc., Etc.

In Thursday morning's paper we mentioned the arrest of an individual named Diggs, who is charged with having committed a foul murder in Henry county some time in the early part of last January. We have since learned some additional facts about that particular case, and also concerning the character of the alleged murderer, who is now in confinement in our county jail, awaiting the sitting of court in Henry county, which will occur next January.

Throughout West Tennessee the name of "Pad" Diggs is familiar to every household as linked with the most horrible outrages perpetrated by guerrillas during the war. His name became a terror to whole counties, and brave men have been known to turn pale at the bare mention of this wretch, such was the dread of his ferocious assaults, and of the terrible punishments he had inspired. This desperado, whose cruel and inhuman deeds will long be remembered in not a few localities of the western portion of the State, is only about twenty-four years of age. His family reside near Paris, Henry county, and have the reputation of being honest, hard working people. His father was at one time a minister of the gospel. W. F. Digs, such is the true name of the son, who has passed at different times by different aliases, entered the Confederate army about twelve months after the opening of the war, and served with distinction in a number of regiments. At the battle of Stone River he received the medal as being the bravest man of his command. Shortly after the fight at Murfreesboro, Diggs abandoned his regiment and joined a notorious gang of guerrillas, commanded by one Phillips, and known as Phillips' Guerrillas. From this time on the soldier was lost in the cruel and inhuman wretch whose delight was rapine and plunder. In the pursuit of booty, especially money, he has been known to propose and execute almost unheard-of tortures. In September of 1864, Diggs and several others of the above-mentioned gang captured six Federal soldiers at Johnsonville, took them out near Paris, and shot the last man in cold blood; after stripping the slain, and clothing themselves in the still reeking and bloody garments of their victims, they mounted their horses and rode like madmen through the streets of the town, with drawn weapons, swearing they would kill any one who should speak a word against their conduct.

About the same time Diggs was implicated in some terrible outrages committed in Carroll county. A small party, of which he was one, visited the house of Edward Gwin, a well known citizen, and reported quite wealthy. They bound the old gentleman in a helpless condition and then proceeded to inflict cruel tortures for the purpose of making him discover where his money was concealed. They burned his feet and ears and tortured him in the most savage manner with hot irons. From Gwin they took one thousand five hundred dollars, and from another man named Frank Thomas, three hundred more.

Shortly after this some of Hood's or Forrest's command chased this notorious gang from the country, and succeeded in capturing two of them, Lucier and McKinsey, who were court martialed and hung. Afterwards the Independent Company of Confederates, commanded by Petty Jones, captured and killed two more of this infamous gang. The Federals at Johnsonville also succeeded at various times in disposing of several more. "Pad Diggs," however, was too shrewd for them and succeeded always in eluding their grasp.

At the close of the war attempts were made to arrest this young desperado for the outrages committed in Carroll county. It was during these efforts that Diggs met the Deputy Sheriff of Henry county, Frederick Irvin, while that official was searching for him, and shot the man dead in the road. After this act, Diggs left the country and went to Louisiana. He staid some time at Port Hudson, and afterwards proceeded to New Orleans and thence to Jackson, Mississippi. After several months spent in wandering about the country, he returned to Tennessee about five months ago, and has been living for some time past near Shelbyville, with a man named Webb, where he has been going to school. To bind the authorities of Henry county, his letters were postmarked from different places so as to lead them astray. At last, however, they succeeded in locating him at Shelbyville. About three weeks ago two men went from Paris to Shelbyville to arrest Diggs, but he learned of their design and left the country, writing the following letter, which explains itself, to the editors of the Paris Intelligencer:

SHREVEPORT, TENN., Nov. 10, 1866.—To the People of Henry and adjoining Counties: Your orders have been received here for my arrest. I am not surprised in the least. But they will do me no good. I heard of them too soon for you to get hold of me. I am sorry you went to the trouble of sending here for me; I will come without a guard. I will say to the people interested in this matter: (Gentlemen, you are just trying to do what you are wanting to do.) So far as having anything against the people of that county, I have nothing; but if the time does come that I am compelled to return to Paris, I will make some thing very strange of things. So far as the killing of Mr. Irvin, that was all his fault; it was a surprise to me. I was very sorry I had it to do. I either had that to do or surrender to one man; and if I had done that the people would have cursed me for that. So he is killed, and I cannot bring him to life, and if I could I would not. There is no use grieving over spilled milk. I have left Henry county for the purpose of having no difficulties. I want nothing to do with time that is past. The war is over, and if I cannot be let alone, I will buckle on my pistols and fight it out with you. God knows my heart, I am telling you the truth, and I will do it if I live. I say to you, I will let you alone if you will let me alone, but if you do not do that, you must expect something from me! I will just say, if ever you order my arrest again you had better get me. In conclusion, I hope they may consider this matter before it is too late. It had better be one than a dozen. You will please put this in your next copy, correcting mistakes and excuse paper and writing.

I remain yours, as ever,
W. F. DIGGS.

After writing the above, Diggs it seems concluded to leave the country, and packing up his baggage shipped it by express to Nashville, under the name of J. H. Horbon. The sheriff of Bedford county, Joe Thompson, learning of his departure, telegraphed at once to the City Marshal here to be on the lookout and on Tuesday morning Diggs was arrested at the office of the Adams Express, just as he was, inquiring for his baggage, officers Ambrose, Tignor and Sturdivant, having been on the lookout for him nearly all night.

Word was at once sent to the authorities of Henry county, and Sheriff Jno. C. Porter came to the city to look after the prisoner. It has been decided to confine him in the county jail here until next January, when court sits at Paris, Henry county.

CARELESS DRIVING.—A negro named Major Turner was arrested on Thursday, charged with having been careless in driving an express wagon near the Louisville depot. His want of attention resulted in his running over the foot of a horse standing at the side of the street. The colored individual was brought before the Police Court yesterday, and fined fifty-four dollars for the offense. The carelessness of some of these negro drivers is reprehensible in the extreme, and a few tolerably heavy fines will doubtless have a good effect.

UNSOPHISTICATED.—An individual from the country was brought up before the Police Court yesterday morning, for walking on the street with a woman of bad character. He said in defense of his conduct, that the woman asked him some question and that he thought common civility would dictate sufficient respect to reply. Being fresh from the provincial districts he was unaware of the evils of such characters, and of course fell into the clutches of the police. He was fined fourteen dollars as a gentle admonition for future good conduct in this direction.

YOUTHFUL CATTLE THIEVES.—On Thursday night Mr. John H. Dix, who resides on the Stone River pike, some three miles from the city, had four head of cattle stolen. The thieves drove the cattle to the city and disposed of them to Schute & Co., butchers, after which they purchased a couple of suits of light colored fancy clothing, and it is supposed left town. One of them was only seventeen years old and the other nineteen. Mr. Dix traced the cattle to the city and immediately upon the track of the robbers. They are supposed, young as they are, to belong to a regular band which has been operating quite extensively throughout this region of country of late.

BASE BALL.—THE STATE CHAMPIONSHIP.—On the 20th inst., the Lookout Base Ball Club of Chattanooga challenged the Cumberland Base Ball Club of Nashville to play a match game on Thanksgiving Day, in Nashville, for the championship of the State of Tennessee, which the Cumberland claims. To this challenge the Cumberland replied as follows:

"NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 24, 1866.—Whereas, we have learned that the Lookout Base Ball Club of Chattanooga have challenged the Stonewall Base Ball Club of Edgfield, Tenn., and, as the ball season is over, and for other reasons:

"Resolved, That we accept the challenge of the former club, contained in their communication of the 20th inst., as far as relates to playing the game, but that we postpone the time in which to play the game to some early day in the next ball season, the date of which they will be duly notified.

"A true copy: HENRY F. ROLL, Secretary pro tem.

The Lookout Club does not seem to be satisfied with this reply, and quotes from the laws of the National Association: We are not sufficiently versed in the good natured game to decide the merits of the case.

Grand Division Sons of Temperance.—The Grand Division of Tennessee met in Temperance Hall on Wednesday evening, at 7 o'clock, and was opened in due form by Anson Nelson, P. G. W. P., W. B. Thompson, G. W. P., J. L. Eyrie, G. C. and others. Sixteen representatives from subordinate Divisions, were received and duly initiated that night. About fifty representatives were present at the session.

After opening, the G. D. was tendered a public reception by the subordinate Divisions of Nashville and vicinity, in the large concert room of Masonic Temple. The invitation was accepted, and the G. D. was welcomed in a speech of great beauty and force from George H. Smith, of Edgfield Division, No. 12. A suitable and appropriate reply was made by W. B. Thompson, G. W. P. After which a supper was served, prepared by Ozanne, which was followed by a ball.

On Thursday, a public procession took place, participated in by about three hundred members of the Order, and at night public speaking was held at the First Presbyterian Church, and spirited and eloquent addresses were made by Rev. Dr. Young and Wm. G. Brien, Esq., both of Edgfield Division. The audience was large, and paid marked attention to these public exercises. On the same day, in the G. D. room, the election of officers for the ensuing year took place, which resulted as follows:

Dr. Thos. Norman, Lebanon, G. W. P.; Jno. V. Powell, Memphis, G. W. A.; Dr. Jno. H. Curry, Nashville, Grand Scribe.

E. W. Adams, Nashville, G. Treasurer; Douglas R. Grafton, Chattanooga, G. Chaplain.

Samuel M. Stockard, Mount Pleasant, G. Conductor.

Dr. Pinckney A. Williams, Robertson county, G. Sentinel.

By reference to the card of Newton & Co., it will be seen that they have taken our friend, Maj. Jas. Glover, into partnership with them. Maj. Glover is one of our oldest real estate agents, and a man of sound judgment and untiring energy. Many of our Confederate soldiers, and other worthy distressed brethren will remember with gratitude the Major's kindness and liberality to them during the war, and will doubtless encourage him in his new avocation, by entrusting him with their business.

THANKSGIVING AT THE ST. CLOUD.—If a proper observance of Thanksgiving day consists in a sumptuous dinner, most elegantly served, the proprietors of this justly popular institution were eminently successful on Thursday last. This, however, is nothing unusual at the St. Cloud. Their table is always well supplied and the uniform courtesy and attention towards its guests, on the part of all connected with the house challenge general commendation.

A new feature in its management is the introduction of colored instead of white servants, which experience has proven to be the most reliable and convenient system in this community at the present time.

THE HANLON BROTHERS.—We are gratified to be able to state that these magnificent artists are about to visit our city for a number of days and give us another opportunity of seeing and admiring their wonderful and world-renowned "light" The Hanlons are not unknown to Nashville. It will be remembered that they visited our city during the fore part of last season, and performed with grand success. Their wonderful trained dogs of Prof. Tanner are still connected with the combination, which is rendered still more brilliant by the celebrated tight-rope artist, Senorita Rosita. The Brothers are now in Louisville, performing nightly to crowded houses. They will visit our city for one week, commencing Monday, December 10th, and their advent will certainly be an event in our amusement circles.

EDWARD WILDER'S

FAMOUS

STOMACH BITTERS

READ THE FOLLOWING, HOME EVIDENCE OF ITS MEDICAL VIRTUE, AND TRY IT IN YOUR OWN FAMILY CIRCLE:

Mr. Edward Wilder, City:

Dear Sir: I have examined your Stomach Bitters carefully, and find it what you represent it to be. The high order which the ingredients going into it take in the Materia Medica, as well as the most happy proportioned combination of substances, make your Bitters far superior to any similar preparation in the country. The fact that you use only the purest Bourbon Whisky must necessarily recommend your Bitters in another point, especially as far as wholesomeness and palatability are taken into consideration. I was well pleased to see in your establishment the process of manufacturing your Bitters carried on by way of displacement, which not only gives you a better product, but also recommends itself by clearer operation. EMMIL SCHEFFER, Apothecary and Chemist, Louisville, Sept. 29, 1866.

Dear Sir: My wife and child have been suffering for several months from indigestion. My wife, seeing your advertisement, requested me to bring her a bottle of your Stomach Bitters, which I did; and on using one bottle, I am more than happy to state that my child, now four months old, who has not had a voluntary action since his birth, is entirely restored, and my wife is enjoying the best of health, and is now wholly unwilling to be without a bottle of your Bitters in the house, as she says it is the most strengthening and appetizing tonic she can use, and that no house ought to be without it; and I feel it due to the public to make known the wonderful good it has performed in my household, and most heartily recommend its use in every family. I remain yours respectfully, M. SWANN, Of Craig, Truman & Co., 215 Main street, Louisville, October 29, 1866.

Mr. Edward Wilder, City:

Dear Sir: I take pleasure in saying that I was suffering from Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, for several months, when I was advised by a friend to try your famous Stomach Bitters, and after using two bottles I am entirely restored. It not only imparts new vigor, but it is truly the best strengthening and appetizing tonic, at the same time pleasant to the taste. I have ever known one so afforded to the public, and I would say to all those similarly afflicted that if they would be cured and have the disease thoroughly eradicated from the system, to use your Bitters, and be convinced of their wonderful medicinal power and virtue. I remain yours respectfully, P. F. NEVITT, LOUISVILLE, KY., October 12, 1866.

To E. Wilder, Esq., City:

I was a good deal afflicted with Indigestion, and occasional attacks of Dyspepsia. I was advised to use your Bitters. I scarcely used one bottle when I felt relief, and from the use of the Bitters, though nearly sixty-seven years of age, felt the same energy and vivacity and cheerful spirit of a boy of twenty-five. Your Bitters are a pleasant tonic and cordial, and as they are prepared from pure ingredients and good old Bourbon Whisky, I can safely endorse their use to all afflicted as I was. I would say to such persons, keep your minds easy, your bowels open, your head cool, your feet warm, and use Wilder's Bitters, and never let the Doctor call. Respectfully, J. C. BUCKLEY, "Old Reliable" Agent Erie R. R.

IT WILL CURE DYSPEPSIA, LIVER COMPLAINT, Indigestion, Intermittent Fever, and Fever and Ague. And all periodical disorders. It will give immediate relief in FUR SEASON, COLIC AND FLUX.

It will cure CONSTIPATION. It is a most delightful invigorant for delicate Females. It is a safe Anti-Bilious Alternative and Tonic for family purposes. It is a powerful recuperant after the frame has been debilitated and reduced by sickness. It is an excellent appetizer as well as a strengthener of the digestive forces. It is digestible alike, as a corrective and medicinal. It is being daily used and prescribed by all physicians, as the formula will be handed to any regular graduate.
