

WRIT ISSUED BY JUDGE SANFORD

Baroness Zollner Ordered to Knoxville for Hearing on Writ Habeas Corpus.

WRIT IN BARONESS CASE

The United States of America, Eastern District of Tennessee, To N. P. Bush, Sheriff of Hamilton county, Tennessee. We command you that the body of Ione W. Zollner, in your custody detained, as it is said, together with the day and cause of the caption and detention, you safely have before Edward T. Sanford, Judge of our district court of the United States within and for the district of aforesaid in the federal building at Knoxville, Tennessee, within twenty days from the date, as provided by law, to do and receive all and singularly those things which the said Edward T. Sanford, Judge of our district court, shall direct and there consider of her in this behalf, and have you then and there this writ.

Witness the Honorable Edward T. Sanford, Judge of the district court of the United States, this 24 day of January A. D. 1918, and in 1424 year of the Independence of the United States of America. HORACE VAN DEVENTER, Clerk.

The above writ was received Friday morning by Sheriff Bush and is an order made by Judge Sanford's court as the result of his granting Baroness Zollner a hearing within twenty days on a writ of habeas corpus filed Monday by her attorney, C. C. Abernathy. The baroness will be taken to Knoxville by the sheriff's messenger at a time when it is convenient to him within the next twenty days. The hearing will be given the baroness before Judge Sanford in the federal courtroom at Knoxville. The baroness, since receiving the news that she probably would not be held in jail without bond until April, at which time the federal court meets, has appeared to be in much better spirits, according to her counsel, and has slept more than at any other time since her confinement. She expresses herself with being well pleased with her chances for acquittal when a thorough hearing is given her at Knoxville by Judge Sanford.

EXPEDITIONARY FORCES RESUME TRAINING

With the American Army in France, Jan. 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—With holiday diversions over, the entire American expeditionary force by today had resumed training. The newly-landed divisions of former national guardsmen began active work in hand grenade training, their instruction going on despite the snow which today covered the ground in some places to the depth of a foot. Other former guardsmen who had been found to be good marksmen were picked for sniping and began learning the finer points of that practice. A division of regular army men which

The following statement explains itself: To Whom It May Concern: "I make it a rule never to recommend medicines until I have tried them, as there are a great many in the land that are perfect shams, but having tried your preparation (Jovan's) for colds, sore throat, rheumatism and other inflammatory troubles, I have no hesitation in cordially recommending it to the public, for I think it is a blessing to the people; especially the children. I have known of its being used for pneumonia, and throat troubles with marvelous effect. It is with pleasure I give you this testimonial. Any time in the world that I can say a word for your company I will do so without hesitation or reserve. Yours very truly, (Signed) R. B. Glenn, ex-governor of North Carolina." VENTRILOQUIST WILHELM HEARD THROUGH HIS PUPPET PRESS ON "THE HORRORS OF DEMOCRACY"

Alive to the dangers of his position, the Kaiser has inspired his subservient press to an elaborate defense of the monarchy in Germany. A typical article is printed by the Deutsche Kurier: "Is there any German with a half-penny worth of brains who thinks that there is any country in the world that can set us an example in government? "Let us glance around and we shall see that everywhere where the hereditary monarchy has been shorn of its powers there is a people corrupted by election fights, honeycombed with mammonism, and by the most dangerous of all aliments, personal vanity, cupidity, bribery, and with a neglect of the workers that cries to the heavens in contrast with our solicitous concern for the welfare of the proletariat. "Yet people behave in Germany as though the war had disclosed a lack of liberty, as though everything had gone wrong among us, as though the Cossacks were in Berlin and the English and French were stationed on the Rhine. "Will it never occur to our people that these very things would have happened had we not the advantage of a rigid, strict, and iron system of government under the direct control of a strong and responsible monarch? "Woe to us all if the day dawns for which, unhappily, so many among us are longing, the day when our monarchy was to be emasculated and degraded to the condition of the sovereign in the enemy countries! "It would be the death-knell of our national power and influence, which depend on the chieftainship of the King of Prussia as the real ruler and father of the country."

FRENCH METHOD ATTACK TOOK ITALY'S ENEMIES BY SURPRISE

Motley Lot of Austrians, Moravians, Etc., Captured in Recent Charge Say Only Germany Keeps Central Powers in War—All Others Are Sick of Fight.

Italian Army Headquarters in Northern Italy, Jan. 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—The officer commanding the 1,400 Austrian prisoners captured in the recent French success on Monte Tomba gave the correspondent an opportunity today of going among them and talking freely with officers and men on war conditions and what the enemy still could do in carrying on the struggle. A more miserable lot of human beings would be difficult to imagine. The officers were in even worse condition than the men. Their clothing was ragged and they were unkempt and had not been shaved for a week. None had overcoats, as all were wearing light trench uniforms when the French swept around them. Yet they put on a bold front, and any one thinking they are crushed is closing his eyes to facts. All ages were seen among the prisoners. There was a boy of 18 and a man of 50 with a gray beard. A coat-bag of French mud made them look worse than they really were, for they had stout boots, leggings and overcoats. They tramped along sullenly to large courtyards, where food was being distributed. Each man got a small tin of meat and a large chunk of bread. The prisoners ate like ravenous animals and said it was the best food they had had in weeks. Bowled Them Over. The correspondent was told by the prisoners that the method of the French attack was an entirely new experience for them, as they seldom had undergone such murderous artillery fire. Most of the men were Moravians, Dalmatians and Galicians. The sudden French charge after the artillery fire bowled them over before they had any chance to offer resistance. They all expressed themselves as heartily sick of the war and the Germans were keeping the others in the fight. As the officers came from their quarters it was seen they were chiefly Hungarians, with some Moravians and Dalmatians and one Galician. They were very cold, and their first request was for warm food. "We have not had warm food for days," said their spokesman, a stocky young Dalmatian officer. All World Against Them. Asked about the war, the officers gave America's entry into it as an instance that all the world was against the central powers. One officer said the food supply was running low, but it was better off in Hungary than in Austria. They thought, however, that Austria-Hungary could hang on. Asked about the ragged condition of their uniforms, one officer said: "Yes, we are ragged and look like tramps, but what does that count in fighting?" A German artillery officer, who was captured with the Austrians, was given quarters by himself, but the commandant said that another German would soon arrive to keep him company. The German, while different and civil, maintained complete silence on the war. His equipment looked in better condition than that of the Austro-Hungarian officers, but they were badly run down.

Why is a Bridegroom? The following paragraph taken from the society columns of the Louisville Herald of Sunday, Sept. 3, and apparently somewhat synopsized in form, may be adduced as evidence that a bridegroom is not nearly so much importance as he supposes himself to be, however important he may later become as friend husband: "Mr. and Mrs. T. Bishop announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Clara A. Bishop, which was solemnized Tuesday evening, Sept. 4, at 8 o'clock. The ceremony was performed in the green room at the Walderson hotel, and only the two immediate families were present."

Wanted All the Spoils. (Chicago News.) An old colored man charged with stealing chickens was arraigned in court and was incriminating himself when the judge said: "You ought to have a lawyer, Jedge." "Ah ain't got no lawyer, Jedge," said the old man. "Very well, then," said his honor, "I'll assign a lawyer to defend you." "Oh, no, suh; no, suh! Please don't do dat!" the darky begged. "Why not?" asked the judge. "It 't cost you anything, Jedge, don't you want a lawyer?" "Well, Jedge, I'll tell you, suh," said the old man, waving his tattered old hat confidentially. "It's dis way, Ah want tsh enjoy dem chickens mapher!"

SCHOOL MAPS SEIZED BY HARD-PRESSED GERMANY Berne, Nov. 30.—(Correspondence of Associated Press.)—German ingenuity has once more found a way to stave off the crisis threatening by reason of the lack of cloths and clothing. The authorities of the so-called imperial advising headquarters, according to Berlin papers just arrived, have ordered all schools to turn in old wall maps that are mounted on linen or cloth of any sort. The maps, it is explained by the clothing headquarters, will then be separated from the cloth by a cleansing process, and the supply of linen thus obtained will be used for clothing if possible, but in any event for linings.

TRAVELING PICTURE SHOW CHEERS SOLDIERS Rotterdam, Netherlands, Nov. 30.—(Correspondence of Associated Press.)—A traveling moving picture show, in the form of a specially built automobile, is the latest acquisition of The Netherlands soldier. It has been invented with a view to bringing cheer into the monotonous and hard life of the troops engaged in guarding the frontiers in the forthcoming winter. A cyclist theatrical company was already in existence, peddling from one detachment to the other to give its performances. The new movie car resembles an ordinary military freight automobile. Arrived on the spot, where the performance is to be given, the automobile is stationed in front of the hall, into ICE-BOUND BARGES OF COAL RELEASED New York, Jan. 5.—With the arrival here today of nearly 50,000 tons of coal on barges that had been ice-bound in the bay, fuel administrators expressed their belief that the backbones of New York's coal famine had been broken. Unless severe weather sets in again, it is expected there will be a steady flow of coal to the city in the next few days, as more than 400,000 tons are reported at or near terminals.

WHAT IS GOING ON IN GERMANY

As Told by the Newspapers We Get From the Teutonic Empires and Neutral Nations.

People Warned Against Riots. The new organization called "the League of Faithful Followers of the Kaiser" has just been established in Berlin to "counteract the baleful tendencies of the democracy."

Berlin, Cologne, Frankfurt and numerous other towns have been the scene of violent demonstrations. So the various military commands have issued broadcast the following proclamation: "The German people are hereby denounced by the German socialist press: 'German workmen: Attend no anti-government protest meetings. Participate in no street demonstrations. Do not strike.'"

"German mothers: Guard your children from the evil that will befall them if they take part in public rioting or disorders of any kind. "Whoever is found implicated in the distribution of protest literature of any description is guilty of treason, and will be sent to prison, and in certain circumstances summarily executed."

"German men and women: Repel as abominable vermin those who would drive your fathers and brothers, and also your wives and daughters, into the streets, on the plea of serving the cause of peace, but really to deliver Germany into the hands of the enemy. "The future of our people is at stake. The victor is close at hand. Therefore have patience and heed this final warning."

"Through Tirpitz to Jesus." According to the Frankischer Volksfreund, Pastor Wilhelm Philipps, the editor of a "Christian Patriotic" weekly in Berlin, "contrives with consummate skill to carry focus on his lips and Tirpitz in his heart."

After dropping Belgium quietly into his wide-gaping Prussian pocket, the pastor, in an article entitled "Through Tirpitz to Jesus," writes: "Our living Redeemer is a lover of peace. So are we, but the peace that the Lord wants must be a lasting peace, and no peace can be lasting except one that brings us Courland, the mining region of Longwy and Briey, and bases for our fleet to serve as future starting points in any eventual war with England. "The latter our Tirpitz, a man after Christ's own heart, can assure us. He may be appropriately styled the Warlike Nazarene, whose ardent patriotism is only equaled by his devotion to his Divine Master, who will be his guide in any future enterprises he may engage in for the glorification of Germanism."

Faith by Force in Germany. Secretary-General Herr von Kautzel devotes much space in the Pan-Germanic organ, the Deutsche Kurier to an explanation of "Germany's Latest and Greatest Peril."

"The Kaiser standard which Bismarck in times of storm and stress hoisted over the Hohenzollern palace in Berlin has hitherto been to us a symbol of German might and greatness. If things continue only a little longer as they are now this glorious emblem will be nothing more than a meaningless decoration. "Let us not, however, entirely abandon all hope for a better future. We still have Hindenburg and Ludendorff. They will surely know how to utilize and develop the sound common sense of the German people, and to plant in them forever if need be the faith that removes mountains."

Ever'puddy Luff Germany, Vot? It is to the Cologne Volkszeitung that the world is indebted for this original and refreshing view: "One of the pet propaganda factors of the entente powers consists in emphasizing the fact Germany has incurred the enmity of nearly the whole world. From this the entente journalists make the deduction that the world is intensely antagonistic to Germany. "These premises are entirely false. There exists no real antagonism toward Germany in any part of the neutral world, nor even in those countries, particularly in South America, which have gone over to the side of our enemies. "Only let us win the war and we shall see ourselves taken to the hearts of all these folk, and the artificially hatched pro-entente sentiments will be dispelled like so many gigantic soap bubbles."

Berlin Pictures of U. S. Prisoners. The World in Pictures, the weekly illustrated paper published by the propaganda department of the German government in ten languages and circulated throughout the world, makes a "feature" of the capture of a dozen Americans on the western front. The Huns seek to convey the impression that they have already met and "defeated" the American army. Photographs covering a large page show three "Sammys" being cross-questioned by German officers in the midst of a crowd of grinning Huns. Another picture shows the prisoners herded in a motor-lorry like cattle, under heavy guard. This is entitled "American prisoners arriving in the German lines," the idea being that the twelve are only a small section of a huge cavalcade.

MEMPHIS HOTELS DO NOT OBSERVE MEATLESS DAY (Special to The News.) Nashville, Jan. 5.—Hotels and restaurants at Memphis are not observing meatless and wheatless days as carefully as those in other Tennessee cities, according to Dr. H. A. Morgan, state food administrator. Inspector J. C. Joyce has returned from a trip to Memphis and other West Tennessee points, and reported to Dr. Morgan that one large hotel simply requests its patrons to refrain from eating meat and wheat bread on the specified days, but adds that these products will be furnished if desired. Dr. Morgan says this is clearly an evasion of the food regulations, and steps will be taken at once to bring the offending eating places into line. Inspector Joyce also found that a number of large corn buyers in West Tennessee were operating without license, although repeatedly warned. He has turned over to the license division a list of the offenders for further action.

HAD THE GRIP THREE WEEKS With January comes lagrippe. Lingering colds seem to settle in the system, causing one to ache all over, feel feverish and chills, tired, heavy and drooping. Mrs. Lizzie Tyles, Henderson, Ky., writes: "My daughter had lagrippe for three weeks. I had the doctor and bought medicine and none of it did any good. I gave her Foley's Honey and Tar and now she is all right. I have told all my friends about it." Insist on the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar. Jo Anderson, Druggist, Chattanooga, Tenn.—(Adv.)

SUCCESSOR TO DR. PARDUÉ, STATE GEOLOGIST (Special to The News.) Nashville, Jan. 5.—The successor to Dr. A. H. Pardue, state geologist, who died recently, will be selected soon at a meeting of the state geological commission called by Gov. Rye. The members of the commission are the governor, commissioner of agriculture, chief state mine inspector, president of the University of Tennessee, chancellor of Vanderbilt university and vice-chancellor of the University of the South.
