TIGHT SLEEVES AND WAISTCOAT

Remnant of Skein of O. D. Wool, Left Over From Socks or Sweater, Best Card of Admission—Mrs. Lupton and Miss Armstrong Head Committees.

(By Betty Brown.) New York.—The tight sleeve, the inner waistcoat, the long reverse and the full, belted-in peplum are the distinguishing marks of the spring suit.

Both waistcoat and sleeves are in line with the unwritten law of spring fashion—desires to save wool. There is very little cloth in the new sleeve that fits close, very close to the arm from shoulder to wrist, and the coat that spreads its reverses several inches apart to show the white satin waistcoat beneath also conserves its bit in a few square inches of wool.

WASHINGTON WOOL TEA PLANNED BY WAR WORKERS PROMISES TO BE UNIQUE

Remnant of Skein of O. D. Wool, Left Over From Socks or Sweater, Best Card of Admission—Mrs. Lupton and Miss Armstrong Head Committees.

A bank of wool or skeins left over from sweaters or socks will be a recognized admission to the Washington tea, to be given Feb. 22 at the Hotel Patten, by the National League of Women's Service and the war work council.

A piece of silver with which to buy the wool for knitting knitters will be as acceptable as a card of admission.

There are a number of elderly women who are expert knitters and delight in the work by their own fireside. The purpose of the tea is to supply this class especially, and others who will knit.

Mrs. J. T. Lupton is chairman of the war work council and Miss Zella Armstrong of the National League of Women's Service.

An special invitation is extended to army women to attend, as the opportunity will be afforded the town women to become better acquainted with them.

The Chickamauga chapter, D. A. R., will meet with the war workers.

Assisting Mrs. Lupton and Miss Armstrong will be numbers of ladies of the two organizations included, and some of the army people, including Mrs. Henry Page, Mrs. Catts, Mrs. McMichael, Mrs. Goddard, Mrs. Alex W. Smith, Mrs. Spencer Lewis, Mrs. Somerville, Mrs. H. F. Hoss, Mrs. Sims, Mrs. Read, Mrs. Francis Walton, Mrs. Z. C. Patten, Mrs. Z. C. Patten, Jr., Mrs. Garnett Andrews, Mrs. S. R. Read, Mrs. J. C. County Unions Join in Memorial Held at Frances Willard Home.

The twentieth anniversary of the death of Frances E. Willard, known as the heavenly birthday, was celebrated with appropriate ceremonies at the Willard home on Oak street Friday evening in an open meeting.

The Chattanooga W. C. T. U., with Mrs. W. E. Wheelock, president, in charge, was the hostess organization, the county unions joining in the observance.

Rev. Harold Major, pastor of the First Baptist church, led the devotionals, giving an inspiring address to the young girl residents of the Frances Willard.

Miss Kate Roberts, of Ridgedale, president of the county union, delivered an address on the life of Miss Willard.

Miss Alice Oliver read a paper, prepared by Mrs. Moore, of the Chattanooga union, which dealt with personal reminiscences, the writer having enjoyed an acquaintance with the illustrious founder of the W. C. T. U.

Mrs. W. E. Wheelock, president, gave a talk on the character of Miss Willard, citing her last words, "How beautiful it is to be with God," and

SUFFRAGE BOARD OPENS SESSION

Meets at Hotel Hermitage at Capital—Mrs. Dudley Favors Uniting Two State Bodies.

(Special to The News.) Nashville, Feb. 15.—The state executive board of the Tennessee Equal Suffrage association, incorporated, is meeting today at the Hotel Hermitage with Mrs. Guilford Dudley, the president of the association, presiding.

The opening session opened with the following members present: Mrs. Dudley, Mrs. John Ransom, of Tullahoma, vice-president for Middle Tennessee; Mrs. Hill Bond, of Memphis, vice-president for West Tennessee; Miss Frances Hickerson, of Tullahoma, corresponding secretary; Miss Sue White, formerly of Jackson but recently of Nashville, recording secretary; Miss Mary Lipe, of Nashville, treasurer; Mrs. A. S. Buchanan, of Memphis, congressional chairman; Mrs. George W. Denny, of Knoxville, legislative chairman, and Mrs. Chas. Baker, of Nashville, press director.

Some of the business before the board is the date and place for the next meeting of the state association and also some of the plans for the work of the coming year. The question of amalgamation with the other suffrage association in this state is also up and is reported to be the bone of considerable contention. The members of the board are divided on the morning session that she favors the proposed amalgamation and some of the members support her in this, while some of the others are strongly opposed to it.

At the close of the morning session the members of the board were the guests of Mrs. Dudley at the Hotel Hermitage.

PATRIOTIC CELEBRATION CONDUCTED BY SHRINERS

Service Flag Presented to Alhambra Temple—Twenty-nine on Roll of Honor.

A patriotic celebration of Alhambra temple, Mystic Shrine, was conducted in their habitat, the Masonic temple, Friday evening. More than 100 Nobles of the Mystic Shrine participated in the event. Among them were a number of officers from the camps at Chickamauga, members of other temples throughout the country.

Patriotic addresses, patriotic music by Alhambra's band, and a regular Hoover lunch were features of the evening. Thrift stamps and war savings certificates divided honors with references to liberty bonds, smileage books and other evidences as to the part the Nobles at home are playing in helping the United States to win the war.

Beginning with the singing of "America" and the invocation by A. J. Gahagan, until "Home, Sweet Home," the spirit of patriotism predominated. Addresses on patriotic subjects were delivered by James H. Anderson, J. R. Huff and John Fouche. Following a talk by Richard Hardy on thrift stamps and war savings certificates, a committee headed by Charles Rosen, began the sale of stamps, with the result that the available supply was exhausted. In addition to Alhambra temple subscribing to the $1,000 club war savings certificates, three members of Alhambra temple at the meeting Friday night signed for $1,000 each. The fact was brought out that a number of members had subscribed for and purchased amounts amounting from 25 cents up to $1,000 maturity value, which subscriptions had been credited through other sources than Alhambra temple.

The presentation of the service flag containing twenty-nine stars was made by A. N. Sloan, past potentate, who paid a tribute to the twenty-nine members of the temple in the service, the names of which were called from the roll. George E. Mackenney reporting "Absent with the colors" as their names were called. The members of the temple in the service, in fact, are scattered among all branches of the service, are as follows:

Richard Alger, Horace D. Allen, W. E. Baust, Ernest Bell, J. Y. Bruce, Paul Carter, George C. Clayton, Fred W. Fritta, George A. Grable, John W. Halberg, Arthur T. Hayes, G. W. Hughes, D. A. Jewell, Jr., M. J. Keith, Karl A. Leake, Richard L. Lodge, R. H. Miesger, D. Moffitt, J. F. Mitchell, Cory C. McClelland, E. F. Nickum, Harry F. Newton, Thomas Shaw, Carl Trometre, George F. R. Taylor, George S. Webber, T. Carlton Wright.

The neat sum of $16,000 is the price Mrs. Donnie Gavins has placed upon her mouth. Singers have been known to insist their throats, aches their arms and legs, and even beauties their charms, but "bringing the war home to Chattanooga," Mrs. Gavins has the unique distinction of placing a positive monetary value upon her teeth.

The possessor of the $16,000 aperture between the jaws has not asked for insurance. The valuation, in fact, is merely a collective one: Mrs. Gavins suing a local dentist for $500 for the unwarranted and felonious extraction of one tooth.

Teeth, as they go, may not have so much value except as enhanced by their relative positions. Possibly the possessor of a full set of thirty-two might be induced to part with a cupid, or a letter in a clear at a more modest figure. The value, according to the opinion of the court, is therefore an issue of how and where they chance to hit.

Mrs. Gavins' case, however, was brought in the tribunal of Justice H. B. Caulkins. The defendant in the case was Dr. J. N. Willis. Contrary to the familiar adage so frequently applied to the small courts, "justice for the plaintiff," the court decided the case in favor of the defendant. The plaintiff's insistence was that the doctor had, through error or carelessness, pulled a sound and hardy ivory. The defendant, however, produced evidence—which matched fairly well—and pointed out a cavity, so Mrs. Gavins' valuation upon her teeth is a matter of personal pride in her own smile, and the courts will take official cognizance.

THROAT TROUBLE TEN YEARS

Mr. Jacobs Says He Also Had Catarrh.

ENTIRELY WELL NOW

Has Taken Only One Bottle of Lung-Vita.

"I suffered with throat trouble for about ten years and also had catarrh for about the same length of time," says Mr. J. A. Jacobs, who lives at 405 Long street, Chattanooga, Tennessee. "About six weeks ago I heard of Lung-Vita and began taking it. I have taken about one bottle and can truthfully say that my throat does not bother me now and that my catarrh is also entirely gone. As is natural with these complaints, I had a cough, but this is also gone now. I will and recommend Lung-Vita to all people who are bothered with these troublesome diseases and ask them to try it, for I believe they will be benefited."

Lung-Vita is sold by druggists and dealers.—(Adv.)

FOR WOMEN WHO WORRY

Worry and "the blues" are usually linked together, and in many cases are due to some functional derangement which, if not corrected, may lead to more serious ailments. More outdoor life, sleep, water-drinking and a few weeks' treatment with that good old-fashioned root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, will revitalize and strengthen the system and work wonders for any woman. If you are prone to worry and "the blues," try it.—(Adv.)
