

SOUTHERN BALL AT WASHINGTON

President and First Lady Attend Function—Prominent Tennesseans Present.

The end of the social season preceding Lent in Washington, D. C. was marked by the southern relief ball, which was one of the most brilliant events of the present day in the capital.

Among the guests were many prominent Tennesseans. President and Mrs. Wilson were present; the first lady of the land wearing a handsome costume of gray satin, outlined in rhinestones, over a petticoat of silver lace.

Two leading debutantes of the occasion were Miss Enid Sims, of Tennessee, and Miss Mary D. Gibson, of Kentucky. Among Tennesseans present were Mrs. Robert L. Taylor, Senator McKellar and Mrs. Brownlow.

Mrs. J. W. Folk wore black satin heavily brocaded in gold; Miss Frances Wilkinson, of Nashville, pink velvet embroidered in pearls; Mrs. Margaret Wilson wore turquoise blue velvet. Mrs. William G. McAdoo was in white satin and silver lace.

The woman's foreign missionary society of the Mission Ridge Presbyterian church meets Monday afternoon with Mrs. Kelly Massey.

S. and at the National Cathedral school, Washington, D. C.

EARLY SPRING WEDDINGS MARK BEGINNING OF LENTEN SEASON

Many Announcements Noted—Surprise Weddings Feature of Present Day—Arrangements Distinctive by Simplicity—All Sections of City Visited by Dan Cupid.

Dan Cupid's observance of the Lenten season, is marked by a series of nuptial events, or perhaps the proximity of St. Valentine's day has inspired the little love god to renewed interest in affairs of the heart. Many marriages are noted within the past few days and engagements announced for weddings in the near future, verifying the Tennysonian sentiment, "In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love."

southern cities and comes from one of the south's oldest and most prominent families, who were conspicuous in the ante-bellum days, both on her father's and mother's side. Her personality is most charming and a wide circle of friends and admirers has been gained by her winsome ways. It was while Maj. Jernigan was a second lieutenant at Fort Oglethorpe that he first met Miss Colyar. He spent much of his time here, going from Fort Oglethorpe to the border, and is therefore well known in Chattanooga. He is the brother of Lieut. Albert Jernigan, of Fort Sill, Okla., and Curtis Jernigan, of Paris, and enjoys the distinction of being the third youngest major in the army. Maj. Jernigan graduated from West Point in 1914 and was assigned to the Eleventh cavalry, stationed at Fort Oglethorpe. He took his course in aviation in San Diego and is now chief instructor in flying at the aviation school at Millington, Tenn.

"DRAG, DRAG--- AND SUFFER

Was All I Did," Says Dallas Lady, Who Gives Cardui Credit for Her Being Well and Strong Today.

Dallas, Tex.—"It is hard to express the gratitude I feel for the medicine that saved my life," says Mrs. S. W. Bergen, of 2609 Lake Ave. "That is what Cardui did and I would like for others to know, as the few words I say may save a lot of suffering for some one...

"I suffered everything one can suffer and live. My back hurt, my head, my sides... a weak nervous hurting all over... Drag, drag and suffer, it was all I did. No rest and very little sleep or appetite.

"I began to have spells... One night... I told my husband I would try Cardui. It had been recommended to me. I began it and it did me good. It saved my life, I verily believe.

"I began to improve. I grew strong... I am a strong and well woman today. I can't say too much for Cardui. I praise Cardui and will praise it as long as I live.

"Whenever I feel the need of a tonic, I send and get a bottle of Cardui and it helps me, seems to be what I need. Cardui may be what you need. Try Cardui. It's a mild, medicinal female tonic, that has helped many thousands of women in the past 40 years. It should help you.
