LOCAL CREDITORS GIVEN PRIORITY BY REFEREE

Have Claims Approximating $25,000 Against Defunct R. M. Rose Company.

Through an opinion announced Friday morning by Referee in Bankruptcy Anderson, local creditors of the defunct R. M. Rose company, together with individual nonresident creditors, are to be given priority in their claims, and the order provides that they shall be paid in full. Mr. Anderson thus provides for the following payments: Paul Heyman and Leonard J. Frank, receivers, $2,500. Attorneys Williams & Lancaster and C. A. Noone, attorneys for the original and subsequent creditors, $2,000. Jesse M. Littleton, attorney for the receivers, $2,000. Allison, Lynch & Phillips, attorneys for the bankrupt, $500. The receivers in a petition filed ask that they be allowed the sum of $5,000 for their services, but the referee refused to order the amount asked for in the petition, and set down the amount stated for the receivers. The local creditors of the bankrupt, who benefit so materially by the decision of the referee, have claims of approximately $25,000.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING WAS ALMOST UNLIMITED

Partial Statement of What the Newspapers of the Country Have Done.

Walter C. Johnson, of Chattanooga, secretary-treasurer of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' association, recently submitted a questionnaire to publishers of daily newspapers throughout the country, seeking facts and estimates as to the amount of governmental publicity carried by these papers from April 6, 1917, to Jan. 31, 1918. Two hundred and seventy newspapers made reports to Mr. Johnson. In estimating the value of the space donated the matter was figured at the lowest advertising rates. War news and editorials were not included in the computations. The figures are based upon the space given to press matter sent to the papers by the various bureaus, committees, and agencies of the government. Two hundred and seventy newspapers estimate the value of space given in the period named at $4,732,238. It will be noted from the comments made by many publishers that, while they are glad to go to the limit in this form of co-operation with the government, they feel that the congress should take this fact into account, and protect the newspapers from penalty legislation, such as that applying to the tax on advertising carried by the new postal law.

Extracts from the letters of comment accompanying these reports to Mr. Johnson are here given: Cambridge (Ohio) Jeffersonian, T. E. Amos, manager: The government paid nothing for advertising. We threw our columns open for display and readers and our country "went over the trench" in every instance. We are glad to be of some service to our government at this time.

Cincinnati (Ohio) Enquirer: Value of space, $18,500. The government has not paid for any space, although some display space was paid for by patriotic citizens.

Celina (Ohio) Daily Standard, F. A. Snyder, manager: Value of space, $1,500. Received $4.00 for a liberty bond ad.

Elmira (N. Y.) Herald, E. W. Ross, general manager: We have gone back of everything that has looked like patriotism, supporting the Red Cross, liberty loan, war savings stamps, and every other project. Relative to the promotion of the war savings stamps sale, we estimate that we have been giving from $10 to $20 daily in space.

Boston (Mass.) Transcript: The amount of matter (outside of editorials) for government's aid has been unlimited. Five thousand lines donated for second liberty loan.

Burlington (Vt.) Free Press, W. B. Howe, manager: Value of space, $2,276.75. We print practically everything the government asks us to, and it runs over a column of reading matter daily. We have received not one cent for publicity. Why not expect telegraph and telephone services free? Greenville (Pa.) Advance-Argus, R. S. Arthur, managing editor: Value of space, $1,550. We gave of space freely, and every campaign here has been far oversubscribed.

Ridgeway (Pa.) Daily Record: Value of space, $1,320. Constant demands for more space. Refuse to use the stuff sent you, and you are not a friend of America, hence must be pro-German. The ten million or more posters, however, were paid for and men were paid to paste them up.

FALLEN HERO OF FRENCH FIELD KNOWN HERE

Stanley Huguenin Reported as Killed Was Classmate of Rabbi Abraham Burnstein.

In a recent list of casualties appears the name of a former fellow student of his, believes Rabbi Abraham Burnstein, of this city. More than two years ago he and Stanley Huguenin, now reported as a lieutenant killed in action, were studying the French drama together under Prof. Brander Matthews in the graduate department of Columbia university. Huguenin, who was married and an instructor in French at Wadleigh high school, at a subsequent meeting between the two when war was declared by this country, expressed a desire to join Pershing's forces as an interpreter or in some other capacity, and the rabbi believes this is the same Huguenin now reported killed.

FARMERS CAN HELP BY PRODUCING MORE WOOL

Judge Will Cummings Appoints Delegates to State Sheep Convention.

It is highly advisable and patriotic that there should be from Hamilton county a large delegation attend the sheep and wool growers' convention to be held in Nashville, Tuesday, April 30, at 11 o'clock a.m. Judge Will Cummings, who is the head of the movement in this county, has appointed the following delegates to attend the convention from this county: Ed Downey, Ross Cliff, I. Moore, Clifford Friar and Squire John Gadd. All of these delegates are leading sheep raisers of this county and they have awakened unusual interest in their neighborhoods.

The war has made a startling shortage of wool and this will be accentuated as the conflict progresses. Relief from this situation depends largely upon the producers throughout the country. It is being urged that the raising of more sheep is as imperative as the conservation of foodstuffs and the purchasing of liberty bonds. Wool is a product that is daily in need at home, but especially to the soldiers of the country. Judge Cummings asks that every one throughout the county become interested in wool raising and this will be doing not only their bit, but a big bit to win this war.

YOUNG ATHLETE GOES TO JOIN COLORS

A. Lynn Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Parker, and one of Chattanooga's best known athletes and football stars, who came home a few days ago to be with his parents, departed Saturday afternoon for Columbia, S. C., with a number of local men who have been drafted for service in Uncle Sam's great army. Lynn Parker attended the second training camp at Fort Oglethorpe, and has been working in a big steel plant at Woodlawn, Pa., for several months. The young man is a graduate of Central High school and formerly attended Sewanee.

BUILD FINANCIAL BASIS ON SAVINGS

Vice-Governor of Federal Reserve Board Issues Statement on Prospects of Other Liberty Loan Calls.

(International News Service.) Washington, April 27.—With possibilities of a fourth and a fifth, and perhaps a sixth and a seventh liberty loan following the one now being subscribed, Paul Warburg, vice-governor of the federal reserve board, has issued a loan statement declaring that the only firm financial basis for the American people to look forward to is that built on the savings of the people. He said: "If people do not save, the alternative must be inflation with all of its disastrous consequences."

Mr. Warburg compares the nations at war to a world corporation in which $112 has been spent for powder and shot, for trenches, for food and other things of which no trace is being left. He said further: "If we should draw up a world's balance sheet, we should find that the assets of the corporation have not increased, but the obligations issued against them increased out of all proportion. This process must lead quickly to disaster wherever the assets of the government is not counterbalanced by increased economy on the part of the people."

"By saving we release labor and render possible increased production, and, finally, by absorbing the loans through saving, we render unnecessary the creation of new dollars with which to carry government securities by means of increased bank credits, unless we wish to carry the whole load by taxation, which, however, again must be met by savings."

"It becomes clear, therefore, that inflation is fundamentally not a banking question, but a question of saving, and that if we want to avoid the evil consequences of inflation and if we want to avoid a policy of the extreme kind of taxation, we must accept the only alternative—conscientious sacrifice of all unnecessary comforts and luxuries and a voluntary lending of the resulting savings to the government."

Berlin Orders Dutch To Pass War Supplies

(By Arthur S. Draper, New York Tribune Cable Service.)

London, April 23.—The serious situation which has developed in Holland puts her nominally in the same position which Belgium occupied in 1914. Germany has made several demands, including the restitution of the old Rhine arrangement and the right of passage through Dutch territory to Belgium for certain stores of sand and gravel. Holland has not allowed the transportation of these goods since objections were raised by England. The above questions are possibly capable of pacific solution, but it is understood that Germany has officially made additional demands for the passage of war materials and troops, which Holland cannot grant without a breach of her neutrality.

Holland is thus faced by the prospect of war at any moment. If she refuses the German demands she will be open to attack from the east; if she accepts, the allies cannot longer consider Holland a neutral.

The outcome of the situation appears to depend entirely upon Germany's plans, but the opinion here seems to be that Germany can have no adequate motive to force Holland into the war, although she may consider that a threat to Holland may serve to keep reserves in England.

Holland possesses an army of about 600,000, which has the advantage of having been mobilized since the beginning of the war and would undoubtedly put up a good fight against the German army. The Dutch army is reported to be massed on the frontier in view of a possible threat by Germany.

Orders were given some days ago for the conscription of all men and all unmarried and childless women capable of war work. The situation is regarded with much perturbation in Holland, but it remains to be seen whether Germany presses her demands for the passage of troops, or is merely bluffing for military reasons, or if trying to force an unequal acceptance of other demands.
