COLUMBUS GRAND CIRCUIT PAGES ATTRACT INTEREST Exceptional Entries for Horse Races Which Start in Ohio City Monday.

A baseball player wakened with a jerk. His memory had stilled him like a dork. He felt a pang of vain regret when he remembered it was time to go to work.

Secretary Baker is expected to change his ruling in the "work-or-fight" order. He may order the magnates to go to work.

Burleigh Gimes pitched a one-hit game against Pittsburgh for Brooklyn, blanking his former teammates. Coombs won the second for the Dodgers.

The Giants came to life long enough to take a double hit from the Cards. They are now three games behind the Cubs.

Gandil drove in three runs with three hits and scored one tally himself, enabling the White Sox to whip Boston.

A three-base hit by George Sialer in the fifth, joined by a wild throw by Shanks, gave Sialer a tally and the Browns a victory over Washington.

Red Russell came back Sunday and pitched as in the days of old before his arm started to go back. He blanked Boston with six hits.

The Yanks and Indians proved the futility of closely-contested baseball, playing a ten-inning tie. Ray Caldwell pitched a line game.

Connie Mack's team is in eighth place and trying to retreat still farther. The Tigers took both ends of a double-header from the Mackmen. Kallio and Cunningham officiated in the box.

Thanks to the Brooklyn Robins, there is a close race for the pennant in the National league. The Robins stopped the Cubs to let the Giants catch up.

Little doubt that the world's series will be played. The magnates will never stand by and see that money getting away.

The Reds can make runs when they don't need 'em. If they could have made a few of the forty-three runs they scored last week when they needed 'em in tight games they would not be in the second division now.
