

OVAATION FOR MR. WHITAKER

First of Draft Instruction Institutes Proves Great Success, Auditorium Crowded.

The meeting held by the instruction boarding in the courthouse was a success from every standpoint. The registrants were there in large numbers and their enthusiasm was unbounded. Every one of the four principal speakers was well read and informed upon his subject and their talks were listened to with eagerness by the large audience, and the speakers were interrupted by round after round of hearty applause, as they touched upon matters of interest. The members of the instruction board who were on the platform last night were: J. E. Milligan, chairman; John Tinker, secretary; Judge Oscar Yarnell, Maj. Charles R. Evans, J. H. Cantrell, Rev. T. S. McCallie, Francis Lynde and Gen. M. N. Whitaker.

After calling the meeting to order, Chairman Milligan expressed the purpose of the meeting in a few words and then introduced the first speaker of the evening, Judge Oscar Yarnell. The speaker gave a brief but instructive talk on the subject of allotments. He explained why every soldier should either make a certain part of his allowance either to some dependent, or, lacking this, loan a part of it to the government.

Francis Lynde, the second speaker of the evening, talked upon "Why We Are at War." Going back to the beginning of the growth of militarism in Germany and the attending horror thereof, and touching on the terrible atrocities committed by the Germans in Belgium, he fired every heart with his hearing distance with the determination to do their utmost in stamping militarism from the world forever.

The next speaker introduced was J. H. Cantrell, who explained the subject of "Compensation and Insurance." He explained clearly the liberal policy of the government, just what would be received in the event of his being injured or dying, and finally urged every one to take out a $10,000 policy. Dr. J. L. Bibb, the next speaker, spoke at length upon social diseases in the army. Among his other statements he said: "Venereal diseases in the army cause more deaths than the German bullets, gas and all of their hellishness combined."

At the conclusion of the meeting the name and serial number of every man present was taken.

When Dr. Bibb had concluded his lecture on social diseases, Chairman Milligan was about to adjourn the meeting, but cried out: "Whitaker, Whitaker," rang out. The clamor ceased when Gen. Whitaker arose and made his way to the front of the platform. He was cheered again and again. Not content with that manifestation, the hundreds of young men present stood and paid further tribute to the draft board chairman.

Whitaker stated that as the hour was late and the weather was hot, he would not make a speech. He agreed to be present at the second institute next Friday night and address the young men on selective service.

RESOLUTIONS ON DEATH OF LIEUT. BUCHANAN

The following resolutions on the death of Robert Garrett Buchanan, son of Judson Buchanan, were adopted at a meeting of the Chattanooga Manufacturers' association held Friday: "It is with sorrow that the members of this board learn of the death of Lieut. Robert G. Buchanan, son of Mr. Judson Buchanan, one of the most valued members of this board.

"In this hour of our nation's peril a high spirit of patriotic zeal impelled thousands of the most virile of our young men to rush to the colors of their country and first among them was Lieut. Buchanan. After over a year's service under the flag as an officer of the United States army he was killed at Camp Perry, Ohio, and died Aug. 13, 1918. The sudden passing away of this young man, so full of promise, so vigorous and energetic in his splendid youth, is a real shock to the entire community, and especially to the members of this board.

"Resolved, by the board of governors of the Chattanooga Manufacturers' association, that we extend to Mr. Judson Buchanan and his bereaved family the heartfelt sympathy not only of this board but of every member of the association, and our strongest hope that comfort will soon come to them through their pride in having placed so costly a sacrifice on the altar of Freedom."

"Resolved, that these resolutions be spread upon our minute book on a memorial page and a copy be sent the family of Mr. Buchanan.

"The navy is preparing to launch a campaign for nine thousand engineer officers for the service, such men as are selected and enrolled upon the reump-

A portion of my time is available for any who require an audit of their books or desire to have their accounts kept at a very small cost. I am especially prepared to keep the books for concerns and individuals whose volume of business does not justify the employment of a regular bookkeeper.

RIDGEDALE BAPTIST TO DEDICATE SERVICE FLAG

Stars Representing Seven Patriots on Its Folds—M. N. Whitaker the Speaker.

ALLOTMENTS WILL NOW COME MORE PROMPTLY Good News for Dependents of Soldiers Contained in Letter From W. B. Swaney.

Cautioning dependents of soldiers and sailors to be patient when there is delay in receiving allotments from the government, W. B. Swaney, chairman of the local lawyers' board to assist such dependents, writes to The News in appreciation of a recent article by Miss Mary Alice Jones.

Mr. Swaney says: "The paper published by you in The News about the war risk insurance bureau, by Miss Mary Alice Jones, formerly a teacher in Chattanooga High school, now engaged in war work in Washington, D. C., has been read by me with great interest and profit. It should be read carefully by all persons who have complaints against the bureau on account of not having received prompt replies to their letters. As chairman of the committee of lawyers in Chattanooga on allotments and allowances, I have written to one to a half-dozen inquiries daily to C. F. Nesbit, commissioner of the war risk insurance bureau, and have received no answer. I have written to the bureau to handle this enormous insurance business and the allotments and allowances besides indemnities, litigation and other matters over which it has jurisdiction.

Just recently I received notice that this would soon be divided between the war department, navy department and the war risk insurance bureau, and that all allotments which carry allowances from the government would be returned by the war risk insurance bureau and those not including allowances would be paid through the war department and navy department. This will greatly simplify matters and make it possible to get prompt replies to all inquiries.

Just now I would caution all persons having complaints to be patient, and if they will read Miss Jones' article in The News they will understand the reasons for the delay. Unfortunately there are many allotments now being held up on account of trouble between soldiers and their wives. This is especially true as to many colored soldiers. These cases are being investigated as rapidly as possible, and will be cleared up as soon as possible, but it will require time to get all of the facts.

There is a recent ruling which will be helpful to the children in these cases which provides that the guardian or friend of children in these unfortunate cases can apply for allotments and allowances for children, and quarrels and contentions between parents will not affect the children. In other words, to quote from special regulations No. 72: "It should be further noted that the basis of the right to an allotment is essentially one of guardianship, and that while the relationship of husband and wife may be terminated by law the relationship of father and child can not. The enlisted man must make a compulsory allotment for his children in the circumstances stated, unless the allotment is waived or an exception is granted under Section 20 of the Act."

I cannot close this letter without expressing my profound appreciation of the excellent humanitarian that have ever been adopted by our country, and are a century ahead of the times. Nothing has been left undone by our great government to aid the dependents of our soldiers and sailors and their dependents that money could provide for. It is vastly superior to the old bounty and pension systems, which have been the bane of our country, but now in the navy, will visit the union meeting Sunday evening, when Miss Olin Whaley will be in charge of the program. Mr. Robinson was one of the recognized leaders in young people's work in Chattanooga, and his many friends will be glad to welcome him back. He is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Robinson, at 634 Douglas street.

Dr. J. B. Ward, presiding elder of the Chattanooga district, will preach Wednesday evening at the East Lake Methodist church, south.

Young ladies from the B. Y. P. U. will provide games for the "Open House" for the men from the post on Saturday night at the First Baptist church.

Rev. R. A. McCulloh, pastor of the First Cumberland Presbyterian church, has returned from a visit in Oklahoma.

Union Service at Highland Park M. E. Church. The Sunday evening union service of the Highland Park churches will be held in the Highland Park Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. W. S. Keese, pastor of the Highland Park Baptist church, will preach. This is the last union service of the season, and it is expected that a large congregation will be present.

Dr. Phillips Closes Series of Sermons. Rev. J. B. Phillips will close the two series of sermons he has been preaching during August tomorrow. The subject for the morning hour will be "The Landlord's Blessings and Curses." At night the subject will be "The Possibilities of a Woman." Large congregations have attended the previous services of the series, and many are expected to hear the two closing sermons.

The finance committee will have envelopes for next year all ready to give out at both services, and every member of the church who can do so is urged to attend and get them so as to help the committee out with their delivery.
