REPUBLICAN LEADER IN SENATE APPROVES REPLY

HITCHCOCK SAYS CRISIS IN GERMANY WILL FOLLOW.

Logical Climax to Correspondence With the Enemy.

Lodge Disapproves.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Disapproval of President Wilson's course in continuing the discussions with the German government and in transmitting the request for an armistice and peace to the allied governments was voiced last night by Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the republican leader in the senate. Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, approved the president's reply, saying it would create a political crisis in Germany.

"The president," said Senator Lodge, "says in his last sentence that if we must deal with the military masters and autocrats of Germany we must demand 'not peace negotiations but surrender.' With this I am in full accord, as I was with the president's statement of Sept. 27. In the first paragraph, the president says that as the present German government, which, as all the world knows, is controlled by the kaiser and the military party, represents through its ministers the majority of the reichstag and an overwhelming majority of the German people; that the firm cannot decline to take up with the allied governments the question of an armistice. With this I am not in accord, for the German government described in the first paragraph and that described in the last sentence are one and the same.

"My own view is a simple one. There is no German government in existence with which I would discuss anything. I deplore at this stage, when we are advancing steadily to a complete victory, any discussion or exchange of notes with the German government. The only thing now is to demand unconditional surrender. I believe that the United States and the generals of the armies. When the report that the German army has surrendered and ceased to exist as an army in being, then and not until then, let the allies and the United States meet and agree what terms they will impose upon Germany to insure the safety of civilization and mankind."

Senator Hitchcock made this statement:

"In this note the president reaches a logical climax to his correspondence with Germany. He places squarely upon the people of Germany the issue of democratizing their government and being accorded a peace of justice, holding out to their military autocracy and submitting to an unconditional surrender. In my opinion his note will create a political crisis in Germany. I believe the American people will fully endorse the firm stand which he has taken and it is very evident that the allied nations are giving him their support. An armistice does not seem to me probable for some time to come under the circumstances."

DYING AVIATOR BRINGS DOWN ADVERSARY

FIRE'S MACHINE GUN AND FALLS BACK DEAD.

Tracer Bullet Enters Head of Pilot and Machine Falls in Flames.

(By Henry G. Wales.)

With the American Army Northwest of Verdun, Oct. 23.—(Delayed.)—(I. N. S.)—After being mortally wounded, Lieut. Paul B. O'Donnell, of Washington, an observer, managed to raise himself from the cockpit of his airplane into which he had fallen and opened fire with his machine gun against his assailant, which crashed to the earth in flames.

This sky fight took place over Billery-Le-Grand, on the front northwest of Verdun. O. D. Donnell was on the floor of the airplane and died just after Lieut. Harold J. Forsyth, his pilot, landed the two-seater.

The first burst of fire from the German machine gun of O'Donnell and Forsyth, after landing, "I looked around and saw him dragging himself up, and then he began manning the machine gun. I saw a tracer bullet enter the head of the pilot of the other airplane which crashed to earth in a spinning nose dive. Then O'Donnell crumpled up in the cockpit. He was dead when he landed."

O'Donnell had been recommended for the distinguished service cross.

OFF THE WIRES

The embarkation of the Red Cross in New York carried for 1,000,000 soldiers during the last year, and a single railroad car carried 31,000.

Warning that workers engaged on government contracts who violate the principles of "straightforward" labor will not only forfeit their jobs, but are liable to be blacklisted for government employment for the rest of the war," was issued at New York by William Z. Ripley, administrator of labor standards.

In discharging thirty-eight men arrested in a "red room" charged with disorderly conduct and violating the anti-union law, Magistrate Joseph Corbett declared that the men had committed to crime either in loitering, playing poker or betting on the races.

G. A. Martini, former minister of finance for the region of the north, has been delegated to go to the United States to join the Siberian commission as a representative of the Tchaikovsky government.

A further improvement in the Spanish influenza epidemic was noted in Alabama. Forty-two deaths were reported against fifty-two Wednesday, and the number of new cases decreased from 776 to 737.

The amount of merchant shipping sunk by enemy, excluding marine risk, was lower in September than any month since August 1916.

Announcement was made at Montgomery that the railway administration has granted petitions for the establishment of through rate tariffs from northern points to cities in the south, including Montgomery, hereby eliminating the payment of the combination through rate to Ohio river crossings and the local rate from those points southward.

Trig-Gen. Melville S. Jarvis, after a short leave of absence from the 18th Infantry brigade of the Ninth division, has been assigned to the command of the 94th Division, now being formed at Camp McClean, Annapolis, Md.

Reports to the Alabama state board of health today carried a total of 2,455 new cases of influenza in Alabama, compared with 4,762 for the preceding day. Sixty-three deaths were reported and 178 new cases of pneumonia.

John Kenneth Macleod, of Glencoe, Ill., and Artemus L. Gates, of Clinton, Iowa, naval aviators who have been missing for a number of days, are believed to have been taken prisoner; the navy department was advised by Vice-Admiral Sims.

Health officers expressed relief over reports from the state outside of New Orleans, showing only 5,458 new cases of influenza against 9,471 reported yesterday.

Although 5,290 new cases of influenza were reported in New York Thursday, the greatest number since the outbreak of the disease. Health Commissioner Comelmed held last night to his assertion that the epidemic was on the wane.

Dr. James A. Hayes, state health officer of South Carolina, telegraphed the sheriffs of all South Carolina counties to keep schools, church and places of amusement closed and prevent public gatherings until Nov. 2.

About 500 men were rounded up today in Columbia's first "sneaker raid." Most of them were released on proof of having registered. The raid was a joint one by civilian and military authorities.

BEATING THE "FLU" ON SEA

A sister living in Larned has received the following letter from Karl Wenk, a senior medical officer on one of Uncle Sam's destroyers:

"We put to sea on the 23d and developed an epidemic of Spanish influenza. Doubtless you've seen reports in the papers. We kept on for five days and by that time we didn't have enough well men to run the ship and man the guns at the same time, so we returned. The second day we lay to and got a medical officer from the U. S. S. Astoria, but he developed the disease the next day and was of little use to me. Two days later I developed it and couldn't turn in except at the sacrifice of the other men's lives. The doctor was confined to his bed. I've recovered from the disease, but am undoubtedly sicker today than I was when I had my patients all to the hospital. I had my clothes off since the 24th of September. No use. I had two recovered patients standing around me, but I had to have them call me at every rise in temperature, delirium or other alarming symptoms. Consequently I was called every hour or less. I'm dead on my feet. But I lost no cases! You know the percentage of fatalities from the papers, I suppose. Love, KARL."

BIT OF FRENCH PLUCK

American Aviator Tells Story of Peasant's First Leap from Airplane

(By Paraglider.)

With the American Army Northwest of Verdun, Oct. 24.—"A British ace, whose name is a household word in America owing to his achievements and his magazine articles, told me a wonderful story today," said an American army officer.

"This ace was ordered to make a flight at night with a French peasant as a passenger," he said. "The peasant carried a paratrooper's pack and a carrier pigeon. He asked the ace to point out the place where he wanted the peasant to jump. The aviator then asked the peasant if he had ever leaped from an airplane. The peasant, chaste before, the ace was astonished to learn that it was the Frenchman's first trip in the air.

"The aviator circled over an industrial point in the landscape and the signal to the parachutist. The latter stood up. Waving to the aviator, the peasant shouted:

"'Au revoir, vive la France!' then jumped.

"That was a bit of French pluck for you."

COUGHED SO HE COULDN'T SLEEP

Bronchial coughs, tickling in throat and asthmatic spasms bring on sleep and weaken one so that the system is run-down and serious sickness may result. Enos Halbert, Paoli, Ind., writes: "I had a severe cold, this fall and coughed continually at night; couldn't sleep. The first bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar relieved me, entirely curing my cough." It covers irritated membranes with a healing and soothing coating, loosens phlegm and clears air passages. Jo Anderson, druggist.—(Adv.)

ONE CORPS ITALIANS IN FRANCE

Nearly Half Million Men From Italy Are in France, Aiding Fight.

Washington, Oct. 23.—(Delayed.)—Italian forces numbering nearly half a million men are in France, Gen. Mangin, in a telegram congratulating the Italian minister of war, disclosed the fact that Italy has a full army corps in the great battle in France.

The Italian embassy here pointed out that in addition to this combatant body of more than 250,000 troops, the Italians have and approximately 200,000 non-combatants and work troops behind the French lines since early in the war.

The embassy today made public Gen. Mangin's message to Rome, which was: "The second Italian army corps has driven before it the German rear guards, advancing eight, fifteen, twenty and thirty hours on the French front by Gen. Albrizzi. I am happy to have him under my wing. Making for civilization and forging on."

DON'T YOU NEED ONE NOW?

There are times when every person needs an old-fashioned physic. Indigestion, biliousness, bad breath, bloating, gas, constipation or other condition arising from a mass of undigested food in the stomach needs immediate attention. Foley's Cathartic Tablets are mild and gentle, but sure in action. They cause no griping, pain or nausea. They cleanse the bowels, sweeten the stomach and tone up the liver. Give stout people a welcome light, free feeling. Jo Anderson, druggist, Chattanooga, Tenn.—(Adv.)
