MISS CORNISH BRIDE OF CHATEAU THIERRY HERO

WEDS W. L. BARTON, WOUNDED MARINE. Happy Climax to Barton's Return From War—Childhood Sweethearts. William Leonard Barton, one of the first Chattanooga heroes to return from "over there" where he was seriously wounded in the battle of Chateau-Thierry, and Miss Grace Cornish, daughter of Mrs. C. L. Scott, of Highland park, were married Wednesday evening, Dr. W. S. Kneese, pastor of the Highland Park Baptist church, was the officiating minister. The solemn ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock, with Miss Cornish as bridesmaid and Roy Green as attendant. The young couple will spend their honeymoon in Atlanta, and upon returning to this city, Private Barton expects to go to a hospital in Massachusetts where he will have a chunk of shrapnel removed from his shoulder. He will also have a broken bone in his shoulder reset. He was a patient in this hospital before coming to Chattanooga a few days ago. Last summer Leonard Barton was officially reported as having died of wounds received in action. His father, W. A. Barton, who is a foreman at the Converse Bridge and Steel company, in spite of the official notification, refused to believe that Leonard was dead. He had been decorated and had four medals at the time of his death. This boy is now a 1900 orphan, probably owing to his former environments and his musical ability. The MacDowell club plans to give a series of musicals through the winter in the green parlor of the Hotel Patten for the benefit of their orphan boy. These musicals are to be called the "Pop" musicals, and the sole admission to each musical is charged. One has already been given and the next will be on Thursday, Dec. 5. The program will be announced later. Rev. Vance, of New York, and Mrs. Finley, of Virginia, were the invited guests.

THOUSANDS ARE NOW USING ANTI-FLU TREATMENT

Few Drops on Handkerchief Will Disinfect. Declared Deadly Enemy of Influenza Germs. Discovered by Georgia College Professor—Having Big Sale Here. As announced in yesterday's papers, Wilson's Solution, the new preventive treatment for Spanish Influenza which has been used in checking the epidemic in the south, is now on sale in Chattanooga and will be given as rapid distribution as possible throughout the city. The solution, or "Anti-Flu" as it is more commonly called, was compounded by Professor Robert C. Wilson, for eleven years head of the department of chemistry at the leading southern university, for the protection of himself and his family against the maledy. The immunity of the Wilson family and their circle of friends, which followed the use of the solution, made it famous overnight. On account of his university connection and his high standing as an educator, the people of his home city began clamoring for it just as soon as it became known that he had perfected the formula. Leading physicians, specialists and bacteriologists give their preparation their unqualified endorsement and are recommending it to their patients. Although far more powerful than many other disinfectants now commonly used, it is nonpoisonous, and the odor, although very pungent, is not unpleasant. A few drops of the solution inhaled from a pocket handkerchief at frequent intervals will protect the throat. The professor Wilson strongly recommends spraying the nose and throat night and morning with the solution in a diluted form, according to directions accompanying the bottle. It is Professor Wilson's theory that the influenza germ in the nose and throat can be killed by the powerful antiseptic vapors of the solution just as effectively as you can kill germs in a room by fumigation. One of the greatest advantages over other preparations is the fact that it can be conveniently carried on the person, and is always ready for use when entering crowds or public places. Local druggists are already reporting an enormous demand for the preparation and are experiencing considerable difficulty in keeping a supply on hand. A 25-cent vial is sufficient for a week's treatment. The preparation is sold by all druggists. Wilson's Solution, which is also known as Anti-Flu, is to be used as a preventive treatment only and not as a cure. If you contract Spanish Influenza, call your doctor at once. WRITERS MEET

Chattanooga Club Gives Original Program. Mrs. Frances Fort Brown was hostess to the first full meeting of the Chattanooga Club Writers' group yesterday afternoon. It had been announced that each member bring something original to read, and the result was that a most excellent program full of surprises was given. The first thing that the other was going to read. Mrs. Brown read a paper called "The Other Side of the Question" which showed some deep thinking along the lines of child psychology. The sentiments expressed were most heartily approved by the members. Paying children for their services for "mother" was dealt with, allowing them to go from door to door selling tickets or soliciting for other benefits, and offering their gaping banks to every guest who changed to go to their homes, would permit ways of begging. Service for other was advocated, rather than exerting their efforts to gain a little in money value and lose much in character building. Mrs. H. Cantrell read a poem entitled "Reflections". Mrs. W. E. Wheelock read two poems, one "A Hymn of Love" and another written for a patriotic celebration of the school children at Porto Rico. Mrs. H. O. Milton read a 1,000-word story of Chickamauga in 1862, based on an incident at an hour around Snodgrass hill. Mrs. C. E. Buek read a poem "To My Garden" which embodied a beautiful tribute to the night-blooming Jessamine. Mrs. John Lamar Meek read one of her published poems on "Thanksgiving". Mrs. G. F. Milton read an exquisite poem "Lines to a Portrait". Mrs. Lucy H. McDonald read a poem entitled "God There," beginning with a soldier's doubts when going over the top" and concluding with the sentiment: "His omnipresence fills Land, sea and air and every kind that lives". Mrs. John A. Neal of Knoxville, was a visitor. The matter of adopting a French war orphan was discussed during the business session and it was announced that Mrs. G. F. Milton would adopt an orphan for the Writers' club. Mrs. J. L. Meek, the retiring vice-president, presided. Owing to the fact that Miss Ernestine Non, president, has taken up her residence in North Carolina, Mrs. M. B. Littleton, vice-president, was declared an election of a vice-president, and Mrs. C. E. Buek was elected to fill the place. Following the literary program refreshments were served. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Whiteman, when Christmas stories will be read.

OLD PRESCRIPTION FOR WEAK KIDNEYS

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of almost every case forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promise of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it. A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy that I know of has so large a sale." According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact that, so many people claim, it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism. You may receive a little bottle of Swamp-Root by parcels post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention the Chattanooga News, News and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—(Adv.)
