U. S. Casualties During 47-Day Meuse-Argonne Drive 120,000

Washington, June 27.—American casualties during the forty-seven-day Meuse-Argonne offensive aggregated 120,000 men, or 10 per cent of the total of 1,200,000 engaged, according to a "statistical summary of the war with Germany," prepared by Col. Leonard P. Ayres, chief of the statistical branch of the general staff and published yesterday by the war department.

"Of every 100 American soldiers and sailors who took part in the war with Germany," the report said, "two were killed or died of disease during the period of hostilities. In the northern army during the Civil war the number was about ten. Among the other great nations in this war, between twenty and twenty-five in each 100 called to the colors were killed or died."

"Best information obtainable by the general staff places the total battle deaths for all belligerents at 7,485,200, divided as follows: Russia, 1,700,000. Germany, 1,600,000. France, 1,385,300. Great Britain, 900,000. Austria, 800,000. Italy, 330,000. Turkey, 250,000. Serbia and Montenegro, 125,000. Belgium, 102,000. Rumania, 100,000. Bulgaria, 100,000. United States, 45,000. Greece, 7,000. Portugal, 2,000.

American participation is summarized in the report in the following table: Total armed forces, including army, navy, marine corps, 4,800,000. Total men in the army, 4,000,000. Men who went overseas, 2,056,000. Men who fought in France, 1,390,000. Tons of supplies shipped from America to France, 7,500,000. Total registered in draft, 24,234,021. Total draft inductions, 2,510,296. Cost of war to April 30, 1919, $21,850,000,000. Battles fought by American forces, 15. Days of battle, 200. Days of duration of Meuse-Argonne battle, 47. American battle deaths in war, 50,000. American wounded in war, 234,000. American deaths from disease, 56,991. Total deaths in the army, 112,422. Under the head of "sources of the army" the report shows that 13 per cent came from the regular army, 10 per cent from the national guard and 77 per cent from the draft. A concise history of the military operations in which American troops took part is given in a chapter headed "Two hundred days of battle." Attention was called to the fact that "two of every three American soldiers who reached France took part in battle."

Timely Warning. Don't wait until the last minute, but act as soon as the first indications of a bilious attack appear, and you can usually ward it off. You have timely warning, as your appetite falls some hours before the attack appears and you keep on eating because it is the last time. Skip one meal and take a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets and the attack can be prevented and all the distressing symptoms avoided. Try it. —(Adv.)
