

Local Man Weds Memphis Girl

Miss Sarah Ione Driver Married to Vernon P. Pinton, of This City.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 12.—(Special.) Vernon P. Pinton of Chattanooga and Miss Sarah Ione Driver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Driver, were married at the home of the bride on Central avenue Tuesday afternoon.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Dr. Thomas S. Potts of the Baptist church. Only relatives and a few intimate friends were present.

Miss Mary Williams was bridesmaid and Miss Edith Driver, maid of honor. The groom was attended by his brother, Percy Pinton, of Chattanooga.

The wedding gifts were many and beautiful, including several costly presents. After a short wedding trip which began immediately after the ceremony, the whereabouts of which were kept secret, the young couple will return to Chattanooga and reside in a home already prepared and fully furnished by the groom in North Chattanooga.

Mrs. Pinton is one of Memphis' most charming young women, belonging to an old and prominent family and being very active in the younger set of the city. She is a graduate of Central-high school, and since leaving school has devoted much time to church work among the poor of Memphis.

Mr. Pinton is the son of S. A. Pinton, a prominent manufacturer of Chattanooga, his home being on Jarrett avenue, North Chattanooga. He is associated in business with his father, and has been for some time one of the most prominent of church workers among the young people both in North Chattanooga and in the city.

Mr. Pinton is a member of the Northside Christian Endeavor society and was recently elected president of the city union of that society. He is a member of the Northside Presbyterian church.

Such of the success of the young people's societies north of the river is attributed to Mr. Pinton's genius and faithful work. His friends are planning a huge welcome for the young couple when they reach home, which it is thought will be the last of this week.

Music Recital Pleases Audience

Miss Baylor and Mr. RiDout Presented by Chattanooga Music Club.

Last night at the courthouse auditorium the Chattanooga Music club presented Mrs. Elsie Baylor of this city and Mr. Hugh RiDout in a joint recital. The auditorium was well filled and the audience unusually appreciative.

Mr. RiDout opened the program with one of Beethoven's sonatas, op. 2. The sonata has an inviting introduction, and in the allegro it needs a great deal of spirit to make the piece show to its best advantage.

Miss Baylor followed this number with Chopin's Ballade in F major, op. 37, No. 1. Miss Baylor showed a genuine understanding of the essential character and spirit of the song.

The most pleasing piano numbers of Mr. RiDout's were Debussy's Hungarian dance, No. 7 and Juba, a Debussy composition. Miss Baylor was singularly successful in one of Claude Debussy's most popular songs, "Cheveaux de Bois." The recital was a delightful and well worked modern school, as are all of Debussy's pieces for both voice and piano.

"Night and the Curtains Drawn" was a most exquisite little composition, in which the music fits the words like a glove. "At the Well" was a refreshing number that was quite pleasing. Miss Baylor's closing number was a composition, one of Chattanooga's well known musicians, Mr. Roy L. Smith. "The Merry Brown Thrush" it is a delightfully and favorably worked and the music club has reason to be proud of the author.

Miss Baylor is the most talented singer that Chattanooga possesses, and when she leaves the city she will lose a gem. Her repertoire of musical circles. Her popularity was attested by the enthusiastic audience that "Night and the Curtains Drawn" treated her.

Both of the performers were pleasing. Miss Baylor had a careful and attentive accompanist in Mr. RiDout. A. W. M.

TO ENTERTAIN WITH TEA Stewart Chapter to Honor Parent-Teacher Delegates.

At the regular meeting of the Gen. A. P. Stewart chapter Daughters of the Confederacy, held Monday afternoon, it was decided to entertain with a tea Thursday afternoon, Oct. 21, at Memorial hall for the delegates to the State Federation of Parent-Teachers Associations, to be in session here at that time. The details were left in the hands of the entertainment committee of which Mrs. Willard Steele is general chairman.

The yearbook of the chapter was distributed at this meeting and was pronounced a most creditable and complete makeup. Besides the annual program it contained a full roster of the members and a page devoted to the deceased members. Mrs. E. H. Rose, chapter historian, was in charge of compiling the book.

Delegates to the U. D. C. convention at Asheville were named as follows: Mrs. Sam Erwin, president; Miss Mollie Kavanagh, past president; Mrs. J. P. Hoskins, Mrs. J. P. Hunt, Mrs. Dunbar Newell, Mrs. M. H. Clift, Mrs. Lon Foster, Mrs. W. G. Oehmig, Mrs. D. E. Wells, Mrs. F. C. Schneider, Mrs. Louise Newell and Miss Maxine Gardner. The alternate are Mrs. C. E. Wingham and Mrs. Mary Middleton.

Mrs. John L. Graham, chairman of the fair committee, reported the sum of $23.50 made at the booth, and Mrs. Belle Spencer, who was general chairman of the opening luncheon at the D. C. Loveman store, reported the sum of $245.63 cleared at the luncheon.

The October meeting is always observed as an anniversary of Sam Davis, the boy hero of the Confederacy, as his birthday falls on Oct. 6. At this time Mrs. J. E. Alexander read a paper paying a beautiful tribute to the martyred Boy Scout. Two new members were enrolled and the meeting was adjourned.

U. D. C. DID NOT INDORSE At Meeting Denounce G. O. P. Allegation.

At a regular meeting of the Daughters of the Confederacy, held Monday afternoon at the Memorial hall on Georgia avenue, the following resolution was passed relative to an article appearing in a local morning newspaper:

"An article in Monday's Times, Oct. 11, indorsing a republican candidate and signed by 'The Daughters of a Confederate Veteran' has been mislabeled. This indorsement did not come from any chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy as an organization; it is contrary to their constitution and bylaws to take part in politics. There are 26,000 Daughters of the Confederacy in the United States and they will vote in the coming elections as individuals."

The Parent-Teachers' association of the Third District will meet at the school building Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.
