

A PERMANENT ORGANIZATION EFFECTED.
NO PLATFORM REPORTED YET.
VARIOUS RESOLUTIONS OFFERED AND REFERRED.
NAMING THE CANDIDATES.
SOME GOOD NOMINATING SPEECHES MADE.
CLEVELAND AGAINST THE FIELD.

The National Democratic Convention met yesterday at 11:30 A. M., and adjourned at 6:30 P. M. A permanent organization was effected. The permanent chairman, the committee on Resolutions were not ready to report, and the presentation of the names of candidates was deferred. The tone of the Convention was quiet and harmonious. Our special interest in the Cleveland campaign is that the platform will be something like that of the Ohio platform.

THE VIRGINIA DELEGATION.
Vote in the Conference—Kell's Performance—McKinney Put on Platform to Carry Out the Ohio Policy.
Special session to the Dispatch, Oct. 10, 1894. The Virginia delegation held a conference this morning, and held 14 for Cleveland, 3 for Bayard, and 1 for Thurman. Cleveland had the lion since the meeting of the Convention, but Bayard showed strength as the opposition in New York intensified.

The tone of the Convention was quiet and harmonious, and striking contrast to that of the late Republican circus. Temporary Chairman Hubbard made a most practical and telling introductory speech, favorably to Cleveland. He was equally happy in his remarks. All the delegations seemed disposed to try their personal preference, while on the one hand, the Cleveland party had the advantage. This was yesterday, and last night the political bonfire, bonfires, and bonfires visited the Convention. The Ohio delegation held until far into the morning. After the preliminary proceedings the nominating body, Delaware presenting the names of Cleveland, Bayard, and Thurman, and the others were able to put forward, and the galleries and the "chapters" did their full share of the business.

CLEVELAND AGAINST THE FIELD.
It is now Cleveland against the field, and all the opposition claim that the field must be broken up. A dark day for the Cleveland party is ahead. The Ohio delegation is in the political camp, which is the Ohio delegation. The Virginia delegation is in the Ohio camp, and above all, the Ohio delegation is to sacrifice everything to the available man. It is understood that the protest, which is being made, will put forward something like the Ohio platform. Virginia put McKinney on the Platform Committee with this view.

Opening of the Convention.
Chicago, July 9.—The Convention was opened by prayer by Right Reverend Bishop McLaughlin, and the invocation of the Holy Spirit. The proceedings might be tempered by sober contemplation of the future, so that future generations might be able to suffer the consequences of a rash disregard of the national honor. He prayed that the influence of patriotism might be supreme in the Convention, and that all things might be done for the welfare of the land and the glory of the name of God.

Mr. Manning of New York, chairman of the New York delegation, asked unanimous consent that Mr. Grady might be allowed to proceed to discuss the Ohio platform. The object of the Convention was to make a nomination for the presidency that would be acceptable to the people. He did not claim that the Irish or Catholics were against Cleveland, but the anti-union feeling of the State and the laboring interest of the people were against Cleveland, Irish, German, and American.
