

THE OLD NORTH STATE.

A BUDGET FROM RALEIGH.

The sudden death of a Challenge-Railroad Master-Ready Work on New Lines-Eden...

(Special telegram to the Dispatch.) RALEIGH, N. C., June 22.—Mr. Tarrantine, living near Chapel Hill, lost two sons Saturday. They came up to their home, lay down on the piazza, were quickly seized with convulsions, and died in a few minutes. The boys had been eating cherries and other fruits, and it is supposed had some way become poisoned.

W. L. Person, of Rocky Mount, extends a challenge to all mail-carriers in the State. He walks every day from Rocky Mount to Nashville and returns, carrying an average weight of 25 pounds of mail-matter. His best time in fifty-seven miles is five minutes. He is now making a challenge to all mail-carriers in the State. He walks every day from Rocky Mount to Nashville and returns, carrying an average weight of 25 pounds of mail-matter. His best time in fifty-seven miles is five minutes. He is now making a challenge to all mail-carriers in the State.

It has been decided to form a social club here, composed of the most prominent citizens of Raleigh and develop the many features necessary to the prosperity of the place. This evening W. H. Hicks, a warden of the penitentiary, returned from Frankfort, bringing 125 convicts who have been employed in the construction of the railway from Frankfort to Louisville. He left thirty convicts here to complete the last half mile of the road. The men brought here will be put to work on the Cape Fear and Yadkin-Valley and Western North Carolina railroads in a few days. There has been quite a pressure recently for more convicts for these two lines, and there is also a special request for convicts to build the new road from Clinton to Warsaw.

Over 3,000 applications for pensions have been made by soldiers and soldiers' widows under the act of the last Legislature. The number of applicants will reach 4,000. Auditor Roberts believes only one pensioner can be found in Tyrrell county, while some other counties furnish as many as 150. There are many more widows than disabled soldiers.

Only residents of the State now are entitled to aid under the act. North Carolina living in other States apply for aid, but their claims are not entertained. As the amount of the annual appropriation is only $30,000, each pensioner will get a mere pittance. Friday night the citizens of Newton were greatly alarmed at hearing an ominous roaring, such as accompanied the cyclone a year ago. Only a severe rain occurred there, however. A damaging water-spout started three miles from the town, and followed the Clark's creek, sweeping off crops as it went. The exact amount of the damage is not yet ascertained.

Friday a young white man was working on the wall of the insane asylum at Morganton. He had committed some offence, and was afraid the constable was after him. A stranger came to the wall and so frightened the young man that he fell to the ground. The constable, seeing the man fall, ran to say, he was not hurt, but ran off as soon as he recovered his senses.

The State Colored Normal School at Fayetteville closes its eighth year Friday. The present session has been largely attended and the progress made by the students is very satisfactory. The attendance is 164. The State appropriate $3,000 annually for this school. It is one of the best State normal schools; the other twelve will all be in operation in a week. The attendance at all will exceed 2,500.

Track-laying on the Spartanburg and Asheville railroad begins August the 1st. Two hundred convicts are rapidly building the line between Asheville and Henderson. More convicts go there in a few days.

Additions are daily made to the members attending the Teachers' Assembly at High Mountain.

After a long debate Saturday the following resolution was unanimously adopted: That the educational interests of North Carolina demand that the State make provision for giving aid to young men and women preparing themselves in the normal schools of the State for teachers of graded and common schools. The wish of the Teachers' Assembly is that the State in the future use the entire normal-school fund in establishing a permanent normal school for the instruction of both male and female teachers—this normal school to grant certificates of proficiency to graduates, which shall take the place of future examinations by county superintendents, and students at this normal school to be sent to conduct all the county institutes of the State.

STANTON. The Second Presbyterian Church and Rev. J. W. French, New Buildings and Improvements, etc. (Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.) JUNE 22, 1885. The seasons in this section of the Valley are fine for the growing crops. Our officers of the city and county school boards are very active in completing ample preparations for the accommodation and instruction of the visitors we shall have in July during the session of the Normal Institute.

Mrs. Sarah Wray, widow of the late John Wray, and mother of Dr. N. and J. H. Wray, druggists, died in this city Sunday morning. Her sons are well known and esteemed in Richmond and throughout the State.

The resignation of the Rev. Dr. S. A. Repass, pastor of the Lutheran church, creates another vacancy in the city pulpits. He goes to Kentucky. The congregation expect to have the vacancy supplied at an early day.

The Rev. H. H. Hays, D. D., of Farmville, who has been called by the Second Presbyterian church to become its pastor, preached to that congregation Sabbath morning and night. He arrived here Saturday afternoon. He was here a few weeks since, and having impressed himself so favorably with the church membership, they are very much in hopes that his second visit will determine his decision as they desire it. His sermons are earnest and impressive. He has thoroughly and intelligently found in concise delivery and familiar illustrations force and power, which many more words than he employs often fail to produce. His sermon in the morning was from Matthew xi., 29.—"Take My yoke upon you and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart." It is not alone Dr. Hays' ability in the pulpit which the congregation of the Second church admire. His reputation as a pastor had preceded him, and his training in church polity and his contributions to its literature have also had

FURIOUS WINDS.

CYCLONES IN THE WEST.

Forests Swept-Crops Destroyed-Buildings Blown Down-Stock Killed-A Wide Sweep.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.) INDEPENDENCE, Mo., June 22.—A cyclone visited the northeastern portion of this county Saturday night. As yet only a vague idea can be formed as to the extent of the damage. At the town of Sibley, on the river, a number of houses were destroyed, among them being the large general store of C. S. McMullin, scarcely a vestige of which remains. No lives were lost, though the track of the storm was through the dense portion of the town. Throughout the county the forests suffered from loss of large trees, and the grain is more or less damaged. Much of the latter was almost ready for the sickle.

The new business-house of T. W. Herson, in this city, was blown out of shape. The wind blew a gale, and the driving rain was general throughout the county. The path of the cyclone was from the southwestern portion of the county to the northeastern.

STOCK KILLED. LEAVENWORTH, Kan., June 22.—A tornado, accompanied by rain, hail and electricity, passed over this city late Saturday night, and it is now learned that although in the city the only damage was to trees, fences and gardens, in the country it was more severe. The large stock-farm belonging to Captain W. S. Tough, four miles to the south, was badly wrecked. A large barn was blown to atoms and nine calves killed outright and all the others severely injured. The second story was blown from the home of George Richardson, but although the family was in the house no one was injured.

The residence of John Hinkins, about twelve miles from the city, was blown to atoms. The family, consisting of five persons, were scattered about the yard in all directions by the force of the wind. All, however, were injured more or less. The timbers of the house were blown more than a mile.

SHERBORN, Dak., June 22.—Every building in the town was blown over Saturday except the county building, which was held up by the safe. No one was hurt.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 22.—The storm Saturday night did little damage in Kansas City, the most serious being the blowing down of a three-story brick building at Eighteenth and Frank streets. The building, which is valued at $2,000, is a ten-story building. Reports, however, are coming in of serious damage to growing crops as well as destruction of fences and houses, and in some cases of dwellings.

Specials from St. Joseph, Warrenburg, Independence, Cameron, Chillicothe, Bevier, Missouri City, Marshall, Slater, and Glasgow, all Missouri towns, all tell the same story. At Glasgow, a C. M. life and Peoria traveling man lost his life, and the business portion of the town is almost destroyed.

Violent Wind-Storm in Augusta. (By telegraph to the Dispatch.) STAUNTON, Va., June 22.—Sunday afternoon a violent storm of wind, rain, and hail, commencing twelve miles south of Swoope's depot, on the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, swept over the western side of Augusta county for thirty miles. The track was three-fourths of a mile wide, passing over Swoope's depot, Valley Mills, Rock-Hill Mills, Spring Hill, Hundley's Mill, and Salem-Church neighborhoods. Much damage was done to forests and orchards. The barn and other buildings were injured. The fence along the whole route was more or less thrown down, and many roads blocked by fallen trees.

Severe Storm in Louisiana. (By telegraph to the Dispatch.) NEW ORLEANS, June 22.—A special to the Times-Democrat from Minden says: A severe storm passed over this section about 1 o'clock yesterday, doing great damage to the crops, fences, and trees. The storm lasted about twenty minutes, leaving a track about a mile wide.

Cold Wave with Snow. (By telegraph to the Dispatch.) DETROIT, June 22.—A special to the Journal from Traverse City reports a cold wave, with snow, in Grand Traverse county.

Hibbs' Trial. (By telegraph to the Dispatch.) QUEBEC, June 22.—Messrs. Lemieux and Fitzpatrick returned yesterday from Ottawa, having been there to interview the Government about having Hibel tried in the Supreme Court of Lower Canada. The Government would give no assurance. The Minister of Justice stated that he did not think there was any provision in the law to justify the Government in giving assistance to enable counsel for the defence to produce witnesses who are required to establish Hibel's defence.

Remsen Rogers, who was employed on the road, was thrown from the engine and killed. Charles H. Hayward, fireman, and Wiggins, engineer, were seriously hurt.

Dead in a Well. (By telegraph to the Dispatch.) STAMFORD, Ct., June 22.—The body of an unknown man was found by some boys in a well, head downward, yesterday afternoon. The man's arms and legs were tied with a rope, and his head was wrapped in a piece of carpet. The premises where the body was found have been unoccupied for some time.

Killed by a Bad-lyrat. (By telegraph to the Dispatch.) LANCASTER, Pa., June 22.—A party of workmen on the Pennsylvania railroad stepped from the north to the south track to-day at North Bend Cat to avoid a train, when they were run into by the mud-train. Harry Kennedy, William Conover, and Joseph McIlvaine were instantly killed.

A Chapter of Accidents. (By telegraph to the Dispatch.) NEW YORK, June 22.—The excursion-steamship Long Branch, with 1,300 people on board, smashed a wheel yesterday while returning from Newburg and drifted about helplessly for some time. A portion of her passengers were landed by tug and small boats and returned by rail. The vessel was sent for her relief, and took on a greater part of the Long Branch's passengers and returned to the city last night. On her way down the river the Columbia ran into the slip Edith, of Fort Montgomery, crushing in her stern. Captain John Kent and Warren Sheldon were knocked overboard from the ship. Kent swam ashore, but Sheldon, who was eighteen years of age and a resident of Fort Montgomery, was drowned. The men of the ship cried out to the steamer for assistance, but on ascertaining that she was injured herself the Columbia went on, leaving the ship in a sinking condition. The crew succeeded in beaching the ship near Peekskill.

THE GRAND ARMY AND LIQUOR. A Levels State of Affairs in Portland, Maine. (By telegraph to the Dispatch.) PORTLAND, Me., June 22.—The Grand Army men began to arrive to-day with a rush. The city has a festive appearance as far as the crowded streets are concerned, but the decorations, while being in most cases tastefully and appropriately arranged, are not numerous. The decorations are principally made of the leaves of march of Tuesday's great parade, and are few and farther between than might have been thought would be the case during so important a season of festivity. The grand double arch in Congress Square, which bears appropriate mottoes, is really the most artistic exhibition of the decorative art in the city. There are two other arches, one at the corner of the Congress street and the other over Congress street in Market Square. The public buildings are not decorated, which causes considerable adverse comment. There has been considerable agitation during the past few days over the liquor law. Prominent Prohibitionists have been very active in seizing liquor in order that intoxicants might not be obtainable. A large quantity of liquor, shipped here from Boston, principally by Cheyenne, General Augustus, and committees of temperance people are exercising great vigilance to keep any being smuggled in. A circular address, which was issued to the Grand Army members a day or two ago by representatives of the Law-and-Order League and the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, has caused some grumbling among the victors. A similar circular from the same source notified of an intention to seize any liquor consigned to members of the Grand Army of the Republic. A proposition made by the same committee, that all consignments to members of the Grand Army be seized and taken to police headquarters, and if, after inspection by Commander-in-Chief Knoutz, they be found to contain any liquor, that they shall not be forwarded to consignees, met with instant opposition, and the fact of such a proposition having been made has caused something of a rebellious spirit to arise, and the visitors openly declare their intention to resist any such arbitrary action should it be attempted. It is not denied that there are quantities of liquor now en route consigned to members of the Grand Army who are either now here or who are to arrive, and prominent officers of the Grand Army are endeavoring to prevent them from being seized. The fact of such a proposition having been made has caused something of a rebellious spirit to arise, and the visitors openly declare their intention to resist any such arbitrary action should it be attempted.

POSTMASTERS' SALARIES.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.) WASHINGTON, June 22.—The annual adjustment of the salaries of presidential post-offices has been completed, and the changes made in Virginia are given below. In the offices not mentioned the salaries remain the same: Alexandria, from $2,400 to $2,300; Berryville, from $1,100 to $1,000; Colpeper, from $1,900 to $1,800; Danville, from $1,400 to $2,200; Farmville, from $1,200 to $1,300; Fredericksburg, from $1,800 to $1,700; Gordonsville, from $1,200 to $1,300; Harrisonburg, from $1,600 to $1,500; Leesburg, from $1,400 to $1,200; Lynchburg, from $1,600 to $1,500; Lytleburg, from $2,800 to $2,700; Norfolk, from $1,200 to $1,000; Petersburg, from $2,600 to $2,500; Roanoke, from $2,100 to $2,000; Salem, from $1,400 to $1,500; Winchester, from $1,900 to $1,800; Wytheville, from $1,500 to $1,400.

TROUBLESOME RED-SKINS.

The Cheyennes Threaten to Go Upon the War-Path-Excitement at Reno.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.) WASHINGTON, June 22.—The War Department has received reports from Fort Reno, I. T., dated 20th instant, to the effect that great excitement prevails at that place over a threatened Indian attack by the Cheyennes. The Indians, known as the Southern Cheyennes, are making preparations to go on the war-path. A few days since troops were sent to quiet a local disturbance among the more advanced Indians. The War Department officials are not informed as to the cause of the threatened outbreak Saturday. If these Indians go on the war-path, there will be great difficulty in quelling them. The Cheyennes are reported to be in trouble to deal with the Apaches. The country, however, in which the former live would be more advantageous to the soldiers pursuing them than is the rough, rocky country in which the latter are being followed. News was received at the War Department late this afternoon to the effect that the difficulty with the Cheyenne Indians is becoming very serious. General Augustus has ordered four companies of the Fifth cavalry to go to the scene of the disturbances. This makes ten companies at Reno, and three additional companies are held in readiness to go at a moment's notice. General Augustus commends the appointment of a commission to ascertain the cause of discontent. General Pope has transmitted to the War Department an account of the killing of a Piate Indian named Joe by two white men in Happy Valley, Oregon. In commenting upon the killing General Pope assigns attention to the white and Indian outrages which are increasing in frequency in the southern part of Oregon. He said the Piates having no reservation, they are willing to go over the country for subsistence by hunting and fishing. The state of affairs now existing is certainly very serious, and must finally culminate in open hostilities unless a reservation is assigned to these Indians and they are all placed upon it. The Commissioner of Indian Affairs has directed an agent to investigate the circumstances and report measures looking to the protection of these Indians.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.) CINCINNATI, June 22.—Thomas Knott, a stone-cutter, who lives at Dayton, Ky., when on the Middle Newport and Cincinnati railway bridge, late this afternoon, suddenly jumped over and descended to the deep water in the river, 105 feet below. He was perfectly sober, and was returning from Cincinnati, where he had spent in vain for work.

TORONTO, Ont., June 22.—The striking laborers are jubilant to-day over the acceptance of the increased rate of wages by seven more of the master builders, making fifteen in all who have agreed to the increase. None of these, however, are members of the Master Builders' Association, which stands firm. It is reported that Italians are being imported from Buffalo to take the place of the strikers. The men say they will call the Italians.

Natural Gas in Pittsburgh.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.) PITTSBURGH, June 22.—By the first of next month every iron and steel mill in Pittsburgh and vicinity, with one exception, will be using natural gas as fuel. This will reduce the consumption of coal here 3,250,000 bushels per annum, or one seventh of the yearly output of the region tributary to Pittsburgh. It will also throw out of employment thousands of firemen, coal-heavers, and ash-haulers employed in the mills.

A Horrible Attempt at Murder.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.) PORT AUSTIN, Mich., June 22.—A horrible attempt at murder is reported from Grindstone City. Yesterday morning Maggie Morgan, aged twenty, was alone at her home, when a strange man entered the house, stopped her cries with a handkerchief, and then seized her by the neck, and with a knife cut her throat, leaving her for dead. She is still alive, but her condition is very critical.

Further Trouble With the Utes.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.) DENVER, Col., June 22.—A special to the Tribune (Republican) from Fort Lewis, Colo., says: "It is rumored this evening that six Ute Indians had been killed by a white man in Dolores Valley, and that the chief of the tribe to which they belonged is very much enraged and demands satisfaction. THE SITUATION IN ENGLAND.

St. Charles Dilke Speaks—His Proposed Visit to Ireland.

(By cable to the Dispatch.) LONDON, June 22.—Sir Charles Dilke, addressing a meeting of Liberals last night, said he was prepared to give the Conservatives reasonable assurances. He wished to study in Ireland a plan for devolution from Parliament to the Welsh, Scottish, and Irish bodies much of the business that Parliament is not now competent to discharge. He would visit Ireland as soon as possible for that purpose. He believed that many Irish officials were in favor of decentralization, and many agreed that it was necessary to abolish Dublin Castle. He thought that Lord Salisbury's recent attitude savored of bluff and brag, and was not likely to induce the Liberals to enter into a formal compact. The Daily News, in an editorial, says that Sir Charles Dilke has been given full credit for his general promise has been offered that the general strength of the opposition shall be like a giant.

It will then be used for the reelection of Cabinet members.

TRAGEDIES AND ACCIDENTS.

MURDER NEAR LYNCHBURG.

A Young Man Drowned—Attempted Suicide—Dredger for the Chesapeake Swam, etc. (Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.)

LYNCHBURG, June 22, 1885. Yesterday was a memorable day for accidents and tragedies in this vicinity. On Saturday night a party of negroes had a fair near Thomas's Store, about three miles from Lynchburg on the Nelson pike. Early in the night two negroes, William Atkins and Peter Gilliam, quarreled over the question of carrying one of the women home, but the matter was quieted down for the time. Sunday morning about 4 o'clock the fair broke up, and immediately the quarrel between the two men was renewed, and the difficulty culminated in Atkins murdering Gilliam, whose head is reported to have been severed from the body, the weapon used in the work of butchery being a large carving knife given to Gilliam by Atkins. Atkins claimed that Gilliam had a razor and intended to use it on him (Atkins), but others say it was a deliberate murder, advised and abetted by the woman about whom the quarrel occurred. A mob gathered and threatened to lynch Atkins, but he escaped their vengeance, and yesterday was captured by Magistrate Ryasse and lodged in the Lynchburg jail. Campbell county will soon have a hanging, judging from the circumstances as related to your correspondent.

Yesterdays Afternoon a Young Man Named James McLeome, Book-keeper for Jacob H. Franklin & Co., was drowned in the river about half a mile above the city. He was bathing with several companions, and got into water beyond his depth. Being unable to swim, he was drowned before assistance could reach him, and it was several hours before the body was recovered. Young McLeome was from New River, Pulaski county, and was greatly esteemed at home and in this city. His father died several weeks since, and this second affliction is reported to have greatly prostrated his mother.

A White Girl, of a questionable character, named Mattie Ruby, walked deliberately into the river yesterday and attempted to drown herself. After going nearly beyond her depth she called to a female companion on the bank and coolly delivered some last messages to her relatives, who reside in Alabama, and then threw herself forward into the stream. Meanwhile Policeman John Seay had been informed of what was going on, and, procuring a skiff, he pulled it out into the river, reaching the woman just as she was sinking the third time. The officer grasped her by the hair and drew her into the boat, thereby saving her life. The woman vows she will not live, and threatens to commit suicide the first opportunity she gets.

Saturday evening late, a man named James Deaton, manager of a brick-yard one mile below Lynchburg, stabbed a small negro boy in the back. It is reported that the knife-lunged penetrated the lung and made a very serious wound. The boy's name is John Beverly. Deaton claims that the boy was assisting his uncle to beat him (Deaton).

Sunday evening a colored woman was placed on the Norfolk and Western train at Six-mile bridge, to be brought to Lynchburg for medical treatment, who died just as the train reached the city.

A colored woman, the wife of a worthy negro man in the employ of the city, dropped dead Sunday morning near the Methodist cemetery.

Mrs. McCarthy, wife of an Irishman in the employ of the city, dropped dead at her home on College Hill this morning.

Three persons had fits on the streets Sunday, and two of them sustained very painful injuries from falling face on the hard stone flagging. These are some of the tragedies and accidents that I call to mind; there may be more, but I think I have them all.

A GENTLEMAN'S WARDROBE

is probably as much importance as a lady's; they both answer the same purpose—a covering for the person. How, as the average female would say, "Lag as the dress which is as intricate in its make up as the hat; slip on a dainty pair of shoes over a pair of delicate, new stockings; snap on the rings, pins, buckles, and chains, dust a little powder over their faces, smother up a fancy-handled parasol, and then the tragedy begins. The gentleman goes through a similar process, minus the nose-piece. His hat is simple, and the balance of his clothes are just as plain. Common sense makes up for the wardrobe of the sterner sex, while dressmakers are responsible for that of the other.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, June 22.—The New York market for stocks and bonds was active and steady. The principal feature was the advance in the price of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad stock, which advanced 1/2 per cent to 110 1/2.
