MR. SAVAGE'S ALIBI. HE HAS LEFT STATE VIRGINIA. Says that he never did see Cluverius, and was at Clifton Forge on the night of the murder.

The Hustings Court will be in session on Friday to hear any motion defense may present, supported by proper affidavits.

WELDON, N. C., June 23, 1885. To the Editor of the Dispatch:

J. D. Savage, of Clifton Forge, Va., is in my office (236 P. M.)

He was in Clifton Forge, on the 13th of March, 1885, and remained there until the 18th or 19th of June, 1885.

This was said to me in the presence of Captains W. H. Kitchin and W. H. Davis.

Savage is a native of Edgecombe county, N. C.

T. L. ELLERY, Mayor, &c.

Savage may have been a little drunk when he was interviewed in Mr. Johnson's presence.

He was in Clifton Forge, Va., on the 13th of March, 1885.

Editor Dispatch:

J. D. Savage makes the following statement in to-morrow's Southern:

Editor Southern: Please allow 'Cluverius's Alibi' to have a say:

I did say to Mr. Johnson (night clerk at Ford's Hotel) that I had seen at the Dime Museum a man who had all the appearance of Cluverius.

I saw the man at the time of the evening that I said I did; the day of the murder I have never seen, nor can I.

It is true that I am on March 13th, but I have no recollection of saying so to the counsel for Cluverius.

I wish to say that counsel for Cluverius thought I was perfectly sober.

I did see at the Dime Museum a man answering to the description of Cluverius, but it was not on the 13th of March.

It was in January or February that I saw one who much resembled him.

THE PROPOSED AFFIDAVIT.

The following is the draft of the affidavit Mr. Evans, of counsel for defense, submitted to the Court, saying that he had been unable to find Mr. Johnson to get his signature, and it was never signed:

On the evening of the 19th of June, 1885, to wit, about the hour of 11 o'clock, the affiant met with Savage, who had just arrived in the city of Richmond from Clifton Forge.

He had been on an overcoat that was of a color or shade a little darker than the Confederate gray uniform.

He said young man then left the hotel, and that shortly thereafter the said Savage left the hotel.

He saw and recognized the same person whom he had just seen at the hotel, above stated, seated in the audience on the left-hand side of the middle aisle.

That said Savage arrived at the Dime Museum and saw and recognized the young man at about twenty minutes past 8 o'clock, and that he saw him often in his seat during the performance of the play being the "Chimes of Normandy," which closed about 10 o'clock or thereabouts.

Savage states that during the progress of the trial he saw photographs of the deceased, F. L. Madison, and the accused, Thomas J. Cluverius, both in the Richmond Dispatch and in card form, and that upon seeing the photograph of said Thomas J. Cluverius he at once recognized it as that of the same person whom he had seen at Ford's Hotel and at the Dime Museum on the night of the 13th of March, 1885.

Savage stated that he had been engaged at Clifton Forge since March 16th, engaged as a night-clerk in a hotel there, and that he came to Richmond yesterday on the business of a private character.

The affiant communicated the character of the conversation to the counsel for Thomas J. Cluverius shortly after the same was had.

THE VIRGINIA DRO GAMES. The Nationals' Success a Victim from Almost Certain Defeat in the Eighth Round.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 23. - Bunched hills by the Nationals in the eighth inning, assisted by two passed balls, gave the home nine the game, though the visitors had them beaten up to that point.

Pyke was not up to his usual form, being very wild at times. Both nines fielded and batted well, the Virginias, however, scattering their hits:

MANAGING THE BASE-BALL SCORE. It has been circulated throughout the city that I have withheld the base-ball score after receiving it so that bets may be made on the result.

I claim to be the originator of getting the base-ball reports by telegraph on the same day games are played, and being a lover of the national game, I have tried in every honorable way to encourage it, and despite the sayings of those who are at times sore over the loss of their money by betting, I intend to continue doing all I can to procure all legitimate information for my patrons and give it to them as quickly as received.

In the future I will give no information by telephone or otherwise to be used on other blackboards to my injury.

A Remarkable Fact in Court Records. A patriotic paper advocating public good often quote court statistics to show promoting sources of crimes committed.

Telling shafts are frequently shot at available points in the distilled-beverage trade by tracing infractions of law and morality directly to the debasing effect of vicious goods.

The street investigation among all court records discloses the remarkable fact that not a single breach of law or morals has ever been tangibly inspired or abetted by the many millions of bottles of DEFFEY'S PURE MALT WHISKY that have been sold and consumed.

The reason is obvious. First, it is absolutely free from all residues of deadly poisons found in ordinary liquors, which, except whisky, create morbid cravings, and beget depressed appetites; second, it is the most scientific concentration of the nutritious and tonic qualities of the finest barley, and quite as beneficial for universal use as the best bread that ever came from honest baker's oven.

All Reliable Druggists and Grocers will furnish it.

On motion of Mr. Pool, Mr. Weisiger's resignation was accepted.

The chair then announced that the new business in order was the election of Mr. Weisiger's successor.

The retiring clerk nominated Mr. W. T. Lighthow for this position. A communication was read from Professor E. Morrisette asking for the place, and he was nominated for it by Mr. Pool.

Four ballots, which resulted in ties, Mr. Morrisette was elected, having received 6 votes to Mr. Lighthow's 4.
