

WORKING FOR CHRIST

THE STATE ASSEMBLIES OF THREE DENOMINATIONS MEET THIS WEEK. Baptist General Association and Methodist Conference, Lynchburg.

Three important religious bodies, representing denominations whose membership in this State aggregates something like a quarter of a million, will hold their annual meetings in Virginia this week.

Two convocations in this city and one in Lynchburg, and all three to be in session at the same time, at least for a day or two.

Their proceedings will be watched with keen interest by the thousands who are connected with the respective Churches.

First on the list comes the Baptist General Association of Virginia, which will open its sixty-seventh annual meeting at the Lewis Street church, corner of Leigh and Twenty-fifth streets, Tuesday evening, at 7:30 o'clock.

A PRETTY PLACE TO MEET. The Baptists are arranging to make the session one of the most pleasant ones ever held by the association. There will be present prominent Baptists from every section of the State, and the meetings will last for ten days.

This great body will be fortunate in having one of the most commodious churches in Virginia to hold its sessions. The auditorium is of unusual size, there are splendid galleries, and the Sunday-school and classrooms will afford the most convenient accommodations for the committees and various boards.

It is expected that the attendance will be very large, and that the sessions will be of unusual interest. The program is well planned, and the services will be of a high order.

Rev. T. G. Jones, D. D., of Norfolk, will preach the introductory sermon. It is expected that the sessions will be of unusual interest, and that the services will be of a high order.

After the introductory sermon or just before, Dr. Frost, in the name of the city, will deliver an address of welcome. And the visiting brethren will, during the week, be the guests of the city.

THE LAYMEN'S MOVEMENT. Of late years the Virginia Baptists have been making a decided effort to develop and make efficient their laymen. They have the work so arranged that the laymen are the backbone of the church.

Rev. John A. Broadbent, D. D., writes that his health and strength will not admit of his coming to this great Baptist conference. He is, however, sending his best wishes to the assembly.

Rev. W. H. Whitsett, D. D., the professor of church history at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, will be present to deliver an address on the subject of the Virginia Baptist Historical Society.

Rev. W. B. Frawley, D. D., of the Baptist church in Charlottesville, the latter gave it as his opinion that young Whitsett would become a man of great influence and ability.

Rev. D. B. Hittins will be here. Rev. C. O. Bittling, D. D., well known and well loved in Virginia, will be present to deliver an address on the subject of the Virginia Baptist Historical Society.

Rev. R. Griffith, D. D., of Philadelphia, is also expected to be present. A CONVENTION IN NORTH CAROLINA. Several of the leading North Carolina Baptists express profound regret that they will be kept away by the fact that their State Convention will meet on Tuesday at the Virginia Association at Shelby, N. C.

As the ministers and deacons arrive they will report at the house of Mr. E. S. Sparks, No. 502 east Main street, who is the secretary of the Committee on Homes. They will also report at the house of Mr. J. W. DeLoach, No. 502 east Main street, who is the secretary of the Committee on Homes.

It is probable that the association will hold two sessions daily, one to begin at 9 A. M. and continue until 3 P. M., and the other to commence at 7:30 or 8 P. M. The hours at which these matters of detail, though, will be arranged later on.

One of the most important matters to be settled will be the location of the Baptist State Organizing. The Executive Committee will meet on Tuesday at the house of Mr. J. W. DeLoach, No. 502 east Main street, who is the secretary of the Committee on Homes.

Back to His First Love.

Mr. Spiro Zetelle and His Broad-Street Extravaganza.

Mr. Spiro Zetelle has returned to his first love—to Richmond and to catering for her people. On Monday he will open a dining and gentlemen's restaurant on Antoinette's up-town confectionery store, corner of Seventh and Broad streets.

The dining-room, which extends the full length of the store, has been fitted up in the handsomest and most comfortable style and provided with costly and tempting refreshments.

Zetelle is a chef de cuisine than which there is none more experienced for many years. His restaurant is in Richmond which is familiar to every man, woman, and child as a synonyme for good things. It came and that of its proprietor was known far and wide outside of Richmond, and Zetelle has persuaded the after-dinner shift of satisfaction from more popular than any other man in the South.
