Silver-The Indiana League.

There seems to be no possibility of convincing the advocates of the free coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1 that the next Democratic National Convention will either utterly ignore the silver problem or make such a deliverance on it as will convince everybody that that problem or its solution will not be a part of the Democratic creed of next year.

Look at the prospect. The Empire State of the Union has already declared in favor of making nothing except gold and silver a legal tender. Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and all the New England States may be set down as on the side of honest money, and we find leading Democratic statesmen still clamoring for the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. They close their eyes to the peculiarities of the situation, and proceed in their unwise undertaking as if they knew nothing at all as to the real condition of things in the Democratic party and amongst the people at large.

One thing which is overlooked by the free-silverites is the fact that the two-thirds rule obtains in Democratic national conventions, and therefore no silver utterances can be forced through that body which are not supported by two thirds of the delegates. We have often had occasion to say that such an utterance could not receive the approving vote of even a majority. If not, what possibility can there be of getting the Democratic party in national convention assembled to declare in favor of the unjust measure insisted upon so strenuously by the men who have given themselves up, body and soul, to it? We ask gold and true Democrats everywhere to be practical as well as true. Not even patience and perseverance can make the solution of the silver problem a part of the national Democratic creed of next year.

We are led into these remarks by the reports sent out on Saturday last from Indiana, stating that the Executive Committee of the State Democratic League claim that their cause is progressing in that State. This is not good news, but bad news; for the league is a movement inside the Democratic party, as is shown by its title. Indeed, President Clarke is reported as claiming that among the district members are members and ex-members of the State Democratic Committee.

The Democrats of Virginia have wisely held aloof from any such entangling alliances as those just named as existing amongst the Democrats of Indiana.

Pick and Choose Delegates. Important as is the duty of scrutinizing with care the charter amendments which are to be passed upon by our voters at the primary, we would not have the election of legislators neglected.

The five men who will represent us in the next House of Delegates will find their hands full of weighty work and they ought to have not only the disposition but the ability to serve this community well. They ought to be men who will exert influence for good in committees and on the floor of the House. They ought to be men who will make friends among the country members for themselves and for Richmond. They ought to be the five best on the list of candidates.

It is in our power to command the services of a very good delegation and we ought to make the most of our opportunity. But this can only be done by the voters' giving due thought to the subject, and by their studiously picking and choosing from the list of candidates the five men best fitted to represent us.

The question of charter amendments is assuming such magnitude as almost to overshadow the chief object of the primary. The nominations and the charter amendments both are worthy of serious attention and neither one should be neglected for the other. Let each voter resolve, first, that he will go to the primary, and next, that he will make up his ticket throughout with unselfish purpose with the sole desire to advance the best interests of this community.

Cleaner Streets Wanted. It is after a drought such as we have had for some weeks that the streets of Richmond are seen at greatest disadvantage. The best of them are then covered with dust and littered with scrap paper. To be sure it is not a particularly unhealthy dirtiness that obtains at such times, but it is a dirtiness that offends the sight and does us discredit as a city.

as necessary to fight down dust and litter, as is done in nearly all other cities of the size of Richmond. The board ought to have more money—at least enough to buy and operate one more street-sweeping machine. Main and Broad streets, where business is thickest, ought to be swept every night, and the piles of dust should be carted off before the people begin to use the streets for the day.

Many worthy but unobservant citizens live under the impression that Richmond is a very clean city. And so it is after a heavy rain; but let a long, dry spell come and you will find that our streets and alleys are not by any means pleasing to the sight. Richmond is badly afflicted with the paper litter nuisance. Housekeepers and shopkeepers ought to be ashamed to sweep or allow their servants to sweep into the streets such litter as is found upon some of our best thoroughfares.

The Dispatch would like to see Richmond the cleanest and neatest city in the country. It could easily be made so. We wish our citizens would help to make it so. We plead too, with the City Council to vote the money necessary to enable the Board of Health to sweep Main and Broad streets thoroughly every night. We believe that if this is done our tax-payers will be so greatly pleased they will cheerfully consent for the same thorough system to be extended to all of our chief thoroughfares.

Cleveland and the Conference. RICHMOND, September 30, 1895. To the Editor of the Dispatch: In Saturday's issue under the caption of "Another Money Day" appears the remarkable statement that "Mr. Cleveland had sent to Europe the commissioners whom the last Congress authorized him to send there, the result might have been the desired international conference. Was a conference of the nations held? Did any other countries appoint commissioners? If so, in the spirit of fairness and justice to Mr. Cleveland, who has always held that the only safe way to a conference of the nations is an international congress, tell your readers all about it. An 'international congress' was nominated in the platform upon which Mr. Cleveland swept the country, and ever since the day of his inauguration he has been faithfully endeavoring to attribute to him the hard times befalling us by the late Republican conference. Crops are plentiful, business improving, and wages greatly increased. Why not give Mr. Cleveland credit for that? The squibs and sneers thrown out against Mr. Cleveland remind me of his stumblings by sea, and seeing the full-moon hanging high over him, concluded that it was the moon that had disturbed him and flew furiously at its throat.

Look at the prospect. The Empire State of the Union has already declared in favor of making nothing except gold and silver a legal tender. Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and all the New England States may be set down as on the side of honest money, and we find leading Democratic statesmen still clamoring for the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. Let each voter resolve, first, that he will go to the primary, and next, that he will make up his ticket throughout with unselfish purpose with the sole desire to advance the best interests of this community.

The Franchise in South Carolina. Mr. James Creelman, who reported the opening exercises at the Atlanta Exposition for the New York World, is now in Columbia, S. C., observing the proceedings of the constitutional convention of that State.

He speaks of the influence wielded by Senator Tillman as something wonderful, and says that Tillman is now carrying out in the convention the pledge that he made in his people five years ago—that "South Carolina shall be a white man's State."

Moreover, says Mr. Creelman, the whites, whether they are ardent supporters or furious opponents of Tillman, are agreed with him that they will no longer consent to the menace of the negro vote, and will no longer suppress it by intimidation or manipulation, but will get rid of it, boldly and openly, by a constitutional amendment. This amendment, he learns, will impose an educational qualification, and it will mean that in the future the whites of South Carolina will not spend nearly so much money as in the past in educating colored children.

Mr. Creelman declares that he is in possession of the section respecting the franchise which will be adopted, and that it is as follows: "The person applying for registration must be able to read and write any section of this Constitution, or must own or under-lease property in this State, provided that at the first registration under this Constitution, and up to January 1, 1898, all male persons of voting age who can read a clause in the Constitution or understand and explain it when read to them by the registration officer, shall be eligible to register and become electors."

A certified record of every illiterate person thus registered, sworn to by the registration officer, shall be filed, one copy with the Clerk of Court and one in the office of the Secretary of State, on or before January 1, 1898.

"Any person who shall apply for registration after January 1, 1898, if otherwise qualified, may be registered, provided he can both read and write any section of this Constitution, or can show that he owns and has control over during the previous year or property in the State valued at $200, or more."

"The General Assembly shall provide by law for the registration of all qualified electors, and the manner of holding elections, and of ascertaining the results of the same, provided that each of the two parties contesting the highest number of votes at the preceding election shall have representation on the Board of Managers of each precinct, and on the Board of County Canvassers in each county."

Woodbury Versus Turner. Governor Woodbury, of Vermont, is quoted as saying that Governor Turner, of Tennessee, would dissolve the Union if he could. The Vermont Chief Executive's assertion is based on the declaration of Governor Turner that he would not touch his children that the South was wrong in the great struggle of 1861-62, which declaration was called forth by Governor Woodbury's statement that the people of the North ought not to do otherwise than teach their children the contrary.

Governor Woodbury is either misquoted or has been talking rank nonsense. We rather reckon were the occasion to arise for a practical test, Governor Turner's loyalty would not suffer by comparison with the Vermonters'. And the same may be said for all other true ex-Confederates in whom and through whom Governor Turner spoke when he refused to satisfy his record.

The use of antitoxine in the treatment of diphtheria at the Boston City Hospital has reduced the mortality there about 50 per cent. According to a report from this hospital received by Dr. Durgin, of the Boston Board of Health, the treatment of the last 113 cases resulted as follows:

"Twenty-three deaths, ninety recoveries. Of these deaths, fifteen entered the hospital with severe sepsis, which would have led to eight deaths out of ninety-eight cases that could reasonably have been expected to be cured, which gives 25 per cent, whereas the mortality at the hospital has ordinarily been over 70 per cent."

In view of the experience that he has had with antitoxine and data that he has accumulated from other hospitals where the remedy has been tried, Dr. Durgin declares himself a strong believer in the use of antitoxine in diphtheria.

The great anthracite coal companies have advanced their rates for coal, to take immediate effect. The highest increase is by the Lackawanna, as follows: Grate, $3.25; egg, $3.45; stove, $3.69, and chestnut, $2.45. Gross prices are 15 cents per ton higher.

The times are out of joint and prophecies are dangerous, but the Republic feels safe in saying that the next President will not come out of Buffalo—St. Louis Republic.

Does that mean that Mr. Cleveland is already "out of Buffalo?"

New for foot-ball—the gridiron in succession to the diamond, punts and touchdowns instead of three-baggers and assists, and still further enlargement if not enrichment of the English language.

General Harrison has retired from the presidential canvas in a way which will make it quite convenient for him to accept a nomination, should it be offered.

"UNDER THE WEATHER." Why People Feel This Way and That It Is Needless Clearly Shown. "Why is it that so many people feel 'under the weather,' have tired feelings, and complain of chilly sensations at odd times of the year?"

This is a question that is very easily answered. People naturally feel tired and run down after the heat of summer, because it thins the blood and lowers the vitality. The chilly weather of fall and early winter finds them unprepared to withstand the change of temperature, and hence they suffer. This fact is plainly proved by the following opinions of some people who speak from practical experience:

No. 99 Golden Gate avenue, San Francisco, Cal. "I have been using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for some time, and it does all that is claimed for it. Have used many remedies for my complaint, but none of them lasting. The only article that seems to be successful is Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Respectfully, J. M. MARTIN."

Mr. John W. Cooby, 2347 Kensington avenue, Philadelphia, Pa. "I have used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for loss of appetite and tired feeling, and must say I have received great benefit from it. Nothing has ever equalled this whiskey for building up the system, putting the blood in healthy motion, and invigorating the body. Thousands of people testify to its splendid tonic effects in cases of extreme weakness. On this account no inferior imitations should be accepted from grocers or druggists who attempt to substitute something inferior. There is nothing that can take its place."

Webster's International Dictionary. THE BEST FOR EVERYBODY. It is easy to find the word wanted. It shows the origin of each word. It is easy to learn the meaning of a word. It is easy to learn the pronunciation of a word. G. & C. MERRIAM CO., Publishers, Springfield, Mass., U.S.A.

YOU ARE UNDER NO OBLIGATION to the grocer with whom you have been running an account. COMPARE the prices he has been charging you with ours. COMPARE the quality of the goods he has been sending you with ours. IF YOU DO these two things we'll take the chances of your being a customer from choice, for motives of economy, and the wish to be sure of healthful food.

RIPE'S TABLETS. Stella M. Godfrey, writing from Hoffman, N. C., under date of June 12, 1895, says: "My sister has used Ripen's Tablets. She was a sufferer from dyspepsia and indigestion for several years, and after having your Tablets recommended and given to her, she says she is the highest terms of them, and says that they cannot be excelled in keeping the system well regulated. Her name is (Miss) Katherine Godfrey, Post-office, Hoffman, N. C. Ripen's Tablets are sold by druggists, or by mail, if the price (50c a box) is sent to the Ripen's Chemical Company, No. 10 Spruce street, New York. Sample will be sent free of charge."

BOOK AND JOB PRINTING NEATLY EXECUTED AT THE DISPATCH PRINTING HOUSE.

A VISIT TO E.A. Ezekiel's NEW STORE. It is what we know every one ought to do who has any purchases to make. The CLOAK ROOM is stocked with everything new and stylish for ladies, misses, and children. CAPES, JACKETS, GRETCHENS—all of the newest cut and of the most stylish material at prices lower than any other store can afford to sell at. It is our system of selling exclusively for CASH that enables us to sell every article at the LOWEST PRICE.

UNDERWEAR for men, women, boys, and girls—such a stock as you would hardly expect to find in any store outside of New York—every quality, color, and size—and every piece at the lowest price. A comparison of prices and qualities will show conclusively how much it is to your interest—in plain English, will show a big save of money—if you buy your family's underwear here.

BLANKETS—COMFORTABLES. And o! how cheap you do all I am told, I can do it. Buying and selling only for CASH saves you many a dollar. Come and try it.

A. HUTZLER'S SONS, 315 East Broad Street. RELIABILITY OUR STANDARD!!!

To correct a number of false impressions, we will say that: 1. Sensational advertising is not one of our methods. 2. We sell no seconds or damaged goods of any kind except when they are plainly marked as such. 3. The excellence of the fabrics sold in our establishment does not require us to charge higher prices than houses which sell inferior grades. 4. The economical management of our business enables us to sell at smaller profits than those concerns which are being undermined by high priced rents and other extravagances that are necessarily paid for by the purchaser. 5. Our aim is to deal fairly, give full value, and meet the demands of the trade.

DRESS GOODS, HOUSEKEEPING ARTICLES, LOW-PRICED DOMESTICS, CARPETS, RUGS, BLANKETS—in fact, everything found in a first-class Dry-Goods House. See last Sunday's Dispatch for prices.
