

MONEY AND TRUSTS.

COL. ALEXANDER TELLS EAST-END DEMOCRATS ABOUT THEM.

A RINGING SPEECH IN FULTON.

Democrats and Republicans Deal Heavy Blows—Mr. Royall's Connection with the Former—History of our Financial System.

Fulton's Hall, at the corner of Orleans and seventh streets, in Fulton, was packed with Democratic workmen last night. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Fulton Bryan and Sewall clubs and the Rocketts Democratic Club, and the speaker was Colonel W. H. Alexander, who has recently been elected to hear...

AS TO COERCION.

The speaker defined the meaning of the word "coercion." It meant an expression of opinion which was intended to influence or to control or to restrain you. (Applause.) "Do you know," continued Colonel Alexander, "that some of the people who are going around telling the people that ordinary men can understand the currency question? I am going to show you that the man who makes any such statement is a liar or a fool. The man who is able to understand the currency question will always commence it by striking axes of justice to all, and special privileges to none. I see that this government has promised to every living man, whether he breaks rocks upon any turnpike or occupies any office of civil duty, exact and equal justice." (Applause.)

OUR FINANCIAL SYSTEM.

Colonel Alexander dealt with the history of the money system of this country. Up to 1873 we were a wealthy and prosperous people under the double standard; since then we have been going down and down and deeper and deeper. A paper money system was introduced, a paper money system was introduced, a paper money system was introduced...

A VERY SMALL PER CAPITA.

Colonel Alexander declared that all this talk about this country having a great amount of money per capita in circulation was false. "I say to you that of full legal-tender money there are only 21 cents per capita." (Applause.) He argued that by power given to this government by the Constitution there could be no such thing as a 60-cent dollar. Every dollar issued by the United States is bound to be a 100-cent dollar, and all of England, Germany, France, and Africa could not make them otherwise.

He went into an explanation to show that gold was the only money issued by this government that was a full legal-tender. The silver dollar was a legal-tender except where expressly stated in the contract, but gold was full legal-tender.

The Republican party had passed laws which said that an individual could make a contract destroying the legal-tender dollar and put into a dollar coined by the government under the Constitution of this country. The speaker characterized this as a dastardly, contemptible class legislation.

He read from the platform of the Republican party of 1856, wherein it declared for the use of both gold and silver as money, and condemned the Democratic party for its alleged efforts to demonetize silver. (Laughter.) In 1858 the Democratic party demanded the use of both gold and silver as money, and the Democratic party was putting it back just where it stood when the Constitution of this country was adopted. The nominee upon that platform was a man by the name of Grover Cleveland. The same Democratic party in 1862 declared for the constitutional money—gold and silver—without discrimination and without charge of interest. "And who was your candidate then?" asked the speaker, sarcastically, and then in a weak and disgusted voice he gave the answer: "The same Grover Cleveland." (Cries of "What's the matter with O'Ferrall.")

Colonel Alexander expressed his opinion of the check of the Boitroters in their assertion that they had to declare it had deserted true Democratic principles. "This reminds me of a case in which a fellow would steal a hog from his own and call me a thief." (Laughter.) Colonel Alexander said he did not know whether these fellows were lying or not, but that they talked very much like he did when he lied. A voice in the audience said: "They're lying."

WANTED HIM TO GO FOR O'FERRALL.

Some 500 or three persons in the crowd began to call upon the speaker to give them present some of his impressions about Governor O'Ferrall. The Colonel replied to these demands by explaining that in 1891, when the man whose name had just been mentioned was running for Governor, he took occasion to make an assault upon him (Alexander), and the speaker read from a letter which he had addressed to Colonel O'Ferrall, in the last paragraph of which (Colonel Alexander stated that he would not again notice O'Ferrall, and gave some very caustic and uncompromising reasons for taking this position.

Colonel Alexander then proceeded to discuss the three parties, and explain the aims and objects of each. He said that in all nations there were two great elements in politics. They were materialism and patriotism. He gave the Democrats the credit of being the patriots here, and the Republicans and Boitroters the name of Boitroters. The Colonel did not mince matters in telling who the leaders in each of these parties were, designating as the leader of the Boitroters a certain man, not so long ago, was the representative here of the English bondholders for the State of Virginia. Some one present: "Go for Buck Kuyell," and there was a storm of applause amid which, some fellow with a fog-horn voice yelled, "Right."

At the close of Colonel Alexander's speech there were prolonged calls for Mr. H. M. Smith, Jr., who addressed the audience briefly upon the issues. Mr. Smith's remarks were well received, and they were such as "Harry" knows how to make in such campaigns as this.

Mr. Martin to Union Club.

The Union Democratic Club held a well-attended meeting last night at the Powell's Hall. The raising of the issue of the Boitroters, and consequently, the meeting began promptly at 8 o'clock, and ended rather earlier than is usual with such gatherings.

Mr. F. A. Bowry, president of the club, introduced the first article which has been hard at work on the stump all over Virginia, ever since the opening of the campaign, made a sound and convincing argument in support of the Democratic cause, and his address was received with every mark of approval.

Mr. W. P. Reddy made a short address, and was given the closest attention, while he briefly touched upon some of the points of the day. Mr. Charles M. Wallace, Jr., was called upon to speak, but only made a few remarks.

ENTERTAINED ORPHAN BOYS.

A Complimentary Musical Entertainment of the Charges of Mrs. Gill.

Last night was one of the most enjoyable occasions for a long time at the Richmond Male Orphan Asylum, which church was the popular superintendent. Mr. Joseph R. Gill, the object of her care and tender solicitude were there, of course, and eagerly expected. There was also present many friends of the orphans, comprising well-known and gentlemen of the city, all of whom had assembled to listen to beautiful music, to be rendered by kindly and gifted friends for the delectation of the young folks. The entire occasion overflowed with enjoyment, and was embraced an opening chorus by the boys, accompanied by Mrs. Gill. The Old Dominion Sextette—composed of Messrs. Crowder, Tanner and Mohr, and Mr. and Mrs. Boster—played several numbers, which were received with vociferous acclaim. Professor M. Stein made a great hit with his violin solo. He is always welcomed at the home of his gentle nature and his genius. Mr. C. Evesen's little lads, Edwin and Freddie, in their renditions, took the home lads by storm. They play violin and piano, and do it well. An infant brother, "Young Chris" (about the mature age of 5 years), gathered the boys also in happy communion, when he piped out, "You can't play in my yard," and "Boys, I love my mother."

Captain Frank W. Cunningham, who was never in better voice, sang several songs, which set the youngsters wild with delight. An infant brother, "Young Chris" (about the mature age of 5 years), gathered the boys also in happy communion, when he piped out, "You can't play in my yard," and "Boys, I love my mother."

Among those present were Rev. James E. Cook and wife, Mrs. William E. Trahern, Miss Lily Trahern, Miss Virginia Talbot, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Burton, Mrs. C. Nolan, and Mrs. White, and many others. The boys of the home had a treat last night that they will not soon forget.

WANT A COPY OF THE ROSTER.

Session of Lee Camp—Resolution About Davis Monument Design.

Lee Camp held a very interesting meeting last night. Commander Gray filled the chair and the attendance was quite large. Comrade W. P. Smith offered a resolution, which was adopted, instructing the delegates from the camp to the Grand Camp to use every effort in their power to secure such action by the Grand Camp as will enable the camp to have a complete roster of the Virginia troops in possession of the Confederate States now in possession of the United States Government at Washington.

A series of resolutions submitted by General Thomas A. Brander, but laid on the table, referred to the adverse criticisms which had been made upon the design selected for the proposed Jefferson Davis monument, and set forth that in the opinion of Lee Camp the design should be made for some other design than the one selected. This matter was discussed by a number of members of the camp, and was laid over until next Friday night.

Mr. W. C. Nolan of this camp, and presented to the camp a photograph of his design for the proposed monument to President Davis.

On motion, the photograph was accepted and referred to the adverse criticisms which had been made upon the design selected for the proposed Jefferson Davis monument, and set forth that in the opinion of Lee Camp the design should be made for some other design than the one selected. This matter was discussed by a number of members of the camp, and was laid over until next Friday night.

A communication was received from Grand-Commander William A. Smoot, urging attendance on the meeting of the Grand Camp, at Winchester, Va., on October 27th and 28th.

General William B. Talleferro, who was present, made a very interesting address to the camp.

The delegation from Lee Camp to the Grand Camp will meet in the camp hall this evening at 8 o'clock, to consider plans for the trip to Winchester.

COUNTY AUTHORITIES ACTIVE.

They are Investigating the Cause of Young Blaylock's Death.

The death of young Blaylock, which resulted, as told in the Dispatch, from injuries received in a football game last Thursday, is being investigated by the county authorities, and, if it appears that any one of the participants in the game was responsible for the accident, arrests will promptly be made.

Commonwealth's Attorney Conway R. Sands took official cognizance of the affair yesterday, and at 10 o'clock instructed the county officers to prepare the case and ascertain whether it was of such a character as to require action on the part of the court. As yet the officers have not reported to him, but developments are expected to-day.

If your name is not on the registration books by sundown today you will lose your vote. Unless you have recently registered, REGISTER TO-DAY. There will be no other opportunity before the presidential election, REGISTER TO-DAY.

The Analysis Not Yet Concluded.

State Chemist W. H. Taylor has not yet concluded his analysis of the stomach and liver taken from the body of Mr. William J. Ward of Henric, who is supposed to have died from the effects of poison, but expects to be able to make his report at the inquest, on next Tuesday.

CITY OF MANCHESTER

ACTION OF THE FINANCE COMMITTEE'S REPORT DEFERRED.

The Bolters, Have a Poor Meeting in Swansboro—Accident to Be Inquired Into—Death of a Lady—Police Court Cases—Personal.

Richmonders in New York.

The Manchester City held an adjourned meeting last night for the special purpose of receiving and considering the report of the Finance Committee on several important subjects. This report as has been explained in the Dispatch, recommended that only $1,000 be spent in the remodeling and conversion of the old Council Chamber building into suitable headquarters for the several city officers, and suggested the creation of a committee on retrenchment to look into the matter of keeping expenditures within the scope of the city's revenue.

After some little discussion it was decided to postpone action on these matters, and only routine business was disposed of.

The Bolters had a meeting at Morrisette's Hall, in Swansboro, last night, but it was a dismal failure. There were about thirty men—twenty colored and ten white—and eleven youths present.

Mr. Otis H. Russell, the Republican ex-postmaster of Richmond, made a speech. Superintendent Charles Selden, of the Richmond Railway and Electric Company, when seen last night, said it was intended to have an investigation Thursday concerning the railway and street-car accident of Wednesday evening, which came so near being serious, but it was found inoperative. The two companies will hold a joint investigation of the affair Monday.

DEATH OF A WELL-KNOWN LADY.

Mrs. Mary Gibbs, a well-known lady of this city, died at the Retreat for the Sick, in Richmond, Thursday morning.

Mrs. Gibbs for quite awhile had been quite a sufferer, and was carried to the Retreat two weeks ago, where Drs. Johnson and Long performed an operation on her, which, to all appearances, was successful. Several days after the operation was performed complications set in, and Mrs. Gibbs gradually grew worse, and peacefully passed away.

Rev. Mr. Christian, pastor of the Assembly Chapel of Richmond, of which church she was a member, conducted the funeral services, assisted by Rev. W. W. Lear, pastor of Central Methodist Church, from the residence of her brother-in-law, Mr. E. Scott Gibbs, No. 87 Bainbridge street, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Interment was made in Maury Cemetery.

IN POLICE CIRCLER.

Moses Booth (colored) was before Mayor Mendenhall yesterday, charged with being drunk and disorderly on the street, for which he paid $2.50 and costs.

Walter Crowder (white), Maggie West, and Victoria Johnson (colored) were charged with being drunk and disorderly. They were fined $2.50 and costs each, and, on being unable to pay, were sent to jail for ten days.

PERSONALS AND BRIEFS.

Little Lee B. Davis, the son of Mr. George B. Davis, who fell down stairs Wednesday and hit a large iron safe, is today recovering nicely. Dr. Whitfield was summoned immediately and sewed up the cut.

Mrs. J. W. Bronough, Jr., left town Thursday for Salt Hill, Albemarle county, to be present at the marriage of Miss Sarah Minor and Mr. Meredith Janvier, which will take place on October 28th, at 4 o'clock P. M.

The young ladies of Meade-Memorial church will give a very enjoyable autumn tea at Buck Hill, near this city. There will be given under their supervision a dinner on Thanksgiving-Day.

Thrown from His Wheel and Hurt.

Mr. Lee Whitlock, a son of Mr. P. Whitlock, manager of the White Oak Branch of the American Tobacco Company, was thrown from his bicycle on Broad street near Fifth street, yesterday, and sustained a serious injury. He was riding down the street at a rapid rate of speed, when his wheel struck a hole in the pavement. He was thrown head foremost upon the Helianthus paving. "This" he exclaimed, "is a hole in the pavement, and was painfully bruised about his body. He was taken into Miller's drugstore, on Broadway, where he was attended by Dr. Labenberg in charge. Mr. Whitlock was dressed by Drs. Labenberg and Moseley, and he was taken to the home of his cousin, Mr. W. W. Lear, on Main street. He will be able to be out in a few days.

Bicycle Races This Afternoon.

The weather last night was not propitious, and those who were interested in the bicycle races to be run to-day were eagerly watching the clouds. But unless it rains to-day the races will be run, and the rain of yesterday will only result in the track being put in a better condition. Had it rained, the course would have been sprinkled in order to get it ready for the scraper. Now artificial irrigation is unnecessary, and the course will be ready for the races this morning, will get in its work, and put the track in splendid condition.

Personals and Briefs.

Dr. Charles M. Shield, who has been recently ill with pleurisy, is now recovering.

CATHOLIC CHURCH CONFERENCE.

Indian Schools—Cardinal Gibbons on University Situation.

BALTIMORE, Md., October 23.—Cardinal Gibbons and two other prelates of the Catholic Church—Archbishops Ryan, of Philadelphia, and Kain, of St. Louis—held a conference in this city to-day to further consider the subject of Indian schools. The Cardinal, who was accompanied by Stephen, head of the Catholic Bureau of Indian Missions, appeared before the churchmen and made a statement of the condition of the schools under the present charge, with views on determining what course shall be taken when government aid is withdrawn on July 1st next. He reported that $38,228 of government money was available this year, which is a 50 per cent. reduction from last year.

The Cardinal announced at the close of the conference that about $60,000 had been apportioned among the Indian and negro schools of the country, but declined to give details of the apportionment.

His Eminence regrets that the impression has gone out that there are any dissensions in the directorate of the Catholic University. "It is a great misapprehension," he says, "that these ideas should be corrected, and that the true state of affairs should be shown. As a result of the whole affair, from the removal of the Keane to the conclusion of the meeting of the Archbishops yesterday, there was more unanimity of opinion, more friendly feeling, and more harmony among the prelates and the board than have been for some time past. Whatever differences there may have been in the past, or may be in the future, it is assured that there are none existing now. This gives strong hopes that the lines so sharply drawn by the late Cardinal will disappear. It will be the earnest effort of all the members of the hierarchy to see that this is done."

DANIEL AT SUFFOLK.

HE SPEAKS TO AN IMMENSE CROWD ON THE FAIR-GROUNDS.

A Masterly Exposure of Republican Misrepresentation, Misrule and Machinations—Accorded a Most Enthusiastic Reception.

SUFFOLK, VA., October 23.—(Special.)—The Suffolk fair closed to-day with the largest attendance ever known for the last day, the extra crowd being on account of the presence of Hon. John W. Daniel, who made a fine speech on the issues of the campaign. While his boresness put him at a disadvantage in the open air, his exposures of Republican misrule, misrepresentation, and machinations were made with a master hand, and received the plaudits of his many listeners. He upheld the action of the Democratic National Convention at Chicago, stating that some were opposed to it because it was Democratic rather than McKinley. He paid his respects to Mr. McKinley and his tariff bill, showed that a surplus of $111,000,000 had been dissipated under Republican administration from 1882 to 1892, and exposed the fallacy of the Sherman bill. Mr. Daniel's speech was a great effort, and was pronounced one of the best speeches he has ever made.
