

Munyon Tells What Not To Do.

Take No Medicine Unless You Are Sick.

Munyon decries dosing and dopping. Why should the glorious springtime be the signal for a deluge of physic, and the golden harvest be associated with the excessive drinking of rum and whiskey disguised as bitter?

is a specific for some particular disease, and for nothing else. Each one of Munyon's cures is a climax of scientific experiment, the exact fit in each case.

LOST THE LAST GAME

JOHNNY REBS VANQUISHED BY THE SILK CITY LADS. AN EXCITING CONTEST, THOUGH. Richmond's Ball-Players Have Gone on a Three-Weeks' Tour Around the Circuit—Play in Newark This Afternoon.

Table showing scores for Richmond, Newark, Lancaster, and Philadelphia across various games.

Richmond got beaten yesterday. The Patersons took their revenge for the defeat of the day before by wresting a victory from the Johnny Rebs in the presence of nearly 5,000 enthusiastic cranks.

None of the cranks, rosters, and fans who witnessed yesterday's game left the park after the ninth inning feeling sore over the defeat. There was nothing, in fact, to feel sore over. True, they would have been better pleased if Richmond had won the victory, that is natural, but they had seen a good game of ball, full of exciting moments and brilliant plays.

The only thing that the cranks felt badly over last night was that for three weeks they will not see the Little Red Sox, but that is the fault of the man who made up the schedule for this season, and not of the team.

MISFORTUNE, NOT THEIR FAULT. The Little Red Sox will have a good many victories to record for Richmond, it is felt yesterday. It was not their fault that they did not win; it was their misfortune. They played a splendid ball game, and worked together like veterans. They were up against it hard, though, for the Patersonians played gritty ball, and though they didn't hit Chesbro with any very great frequency they did get at him, and as a result, they sent more men over the rubber than the Johnnies.

Fischer Vian, the best-looking twirler who has yet contested a Richmond baseball game, tossed the sphere for Paterson, and tossed it skillfully, too, mixing straight ones with curves and throwing knicks in every now and then. Vian was an extent as to pitch the ball all over the park on the preceding day. Vian was master of the situation at every stage of the game, and he held the hits down to a nearly half-dozen, which shows that they did get at him, and as a result, they sent more men over the rubber than the Johnnies.

WERE BENT ON HITTING. The Silk City boys were bent on hitting, though, and they would have hit Rebs' had he been in front of them. That accounts for their victory. Vian was in command of the pitching of the Rich-clevers, and the locals succeeded in holding the visiting run column down to four, and it might also be said of the Paterson fielders that it took some expert catching to keep the Johnnies down to the pair of runs that they got.

WOULDN'T STAY BEHIND. They did not propose to be left behind even in a little while, and the first man up—Wagner—lined off a clean hit into center-field. He stole second and stayed there, while Robinson flew out to Boyle. This juncture Wagner attempted to steal first, and Schabel tried to stop him. He threw badly, however, and Wagner stole his bag, while Smith stole second. Then came the third, and the only double ground work of the game, too. Wagner did not step at third, but continued on toward home. Schabel caught him between the bases, and the whole team surrounded the runner, while the ball was being thrown from one fielder to another. In the mean time Smith came up and occupied third, and there was only one place left for Wagner to go. That was home, and there he went.

CLANCHED THEIR VICTORY. Nothing was made for Richmond when the boys in gray came to the bat, but when the visitors took their third, they led off with a safe single score, Keister leading off with a safe single score, Keister leading off with a safe single score, Keister leading off with a safe single score.

Robinson's ugly work. At this point Robinson engaged in some ugly work, for which he should have been fined. He attempted to steal for the second time, but he was caught by Stuart, who hit him on the bag when he got there. Robinson was mad because of this, and instead of stopping when he reached Stuart, he kept deliberately on, and with his clenched fist struck the shortstop on the head. As it turned out, the blow didn't hurt Stuart, but that is no palliation of his offense.

NEWS BITS GATHERED IN FARMVILLE AND VICINITY. The Resignation of a Popular Military Officer—Peculiar Thefts—The Railway Force Cut—Personal Mention.

FARMVILLE, VA., May 15.—(Special.) At the last meeting of the Farmville Guard the members were surprised at the announcement of Captain John R. Martin, that existing circumstances compelled him to offer his resignation as commandant of the company. His resignation is the result of the recent cut in the forces of the Norfolk and Western railroad, Captain Martin being the depot agent here, and a man's being taken of imposed double duty upon him. This leaves the Farmville Guard somewhat at sea. His resignation will be presented to the Governor within the next few weeks. In the mean time the Guard will be casting about for a suitable man to fill the vacancy. The following non-commissioned officers were appointed at the last meeting: First Sergeant, W. J. Hilleman; Second Sergeant, Walker Scott; Third Sergeant, H. D. Cobb; Fourth Sergeant, E. J. Whitehead; Fifth Sergeant, J. E. Beach; Sixth Sergeant and Quartermaster, R. B. Craile; First Corporal, H. E. Stegar; Second Corporal, N. M. Gill; Third Corporal, J. L. Bugg; Fourth Corporal, L. H. Drumeller.

ROANOKE, VA., May 15.—(Special.)—The largest crowd of the season assembled at the base-ball park to-day to witness the game of ball between the Virginia Military Institute and Blacksburg College. The game was one of the best played on the grounds here. The Virginia Polytechnic Institute boys could not hit Allen, of the Virginia Military Institute, and he held them down to only six runs. Had they been able to hit him hard, sure the score would have been doubled at the beginning of the ninth inning by a free-for-all fight, in which several of the boys on both sides were severely injured. Blacksburg boys also badly injured. Shipps came out to bat for the Virginia Military Institute in the ninth and struck a grounder to short-stop, which was cleverly fielded and sent to first base. When Shipps saw he was out he jumped at Tidwell, who was on first, and struck him in the head with his bat. This exasperated Tidwell so much that he threw the ball, which he still held in his hand, at Shipps, and then they clinched. Friends of both sides came with the crowd, and a lively fight ensued. Mills, a cadet from the Virginia Military Institute, was the most seriously wounded, he having received a severe hit on the head with a bat. Martin, of Blacksburg, was also badly injured by a similar blow. This terminated the game in the beginning of the ninth inning. Score:

PECULIAR THEFTS. There have been some rather peculiar thefts in Buckingham county lately. Messrs. M. D. Gannaway, Branch Ferguson, and P. T. Saunders each had a plant-bed cloth stolen from their plant-beds. The value of the cloth stolen is not near so great as the loss made possible by taking the cover off the beds. There is no clue so far as to the thieves. A great deal of complaint is heard throughout this section of the damage done by the chinchbug in wheat. It is reported that some farmers will actually plough their wheat under and plant the land in corn. The hay crop in this section is short. This is due to the dry weather of April and up to a week ago in this month. Yet the prospect of the farmer is fairly good, and the crop of fruit will be larger than some think.

A disease among the horses of Buckingham county has caused the death of a number recently. Messrs. Tip Gilles, J. W. Smith, Norvell Polard, and George Davis have each lost a horse in the past week.

Quite a curious natural phenomenon exists on the farm of Mr. Per, in Buckingham county. A bold spring of water has burst out full thirty feet up on the hillside above the branch. There was no indication of water there until lately. It is barely possible that the recent earthquakes caused it.

A number of the citizens of Farmville are considering the subject of entering the town into the list of those places of Virginia that have made it a part of municipal duty to protect dumb animals. It is probably not known to all that Virginia, in common with the other States, has a law for the prevention of cruelty to animals. There is need of a society in Farmville for the prevention of cruelty to animals. Every day there is overloading of teams, and cruel driving is seen often. All the clergymen have expressed interest in this subject. They wish to have something done for the helpless animals. They consider it the duty of Christianity and of civilization.

The rains this week have been timely and refreshing. Next Monday is County-Court day. The case of the Commonwealth against Siney Carter will be the most important trial event of the term. Mr. D. Burton Hanton, of New York, arrived here last Sunday to join his wife, who is on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bugg. Mrs. M. F. Holt returned last Tuesday from Norfolk, where she had been to see her son, who was ill. She reports that he was much improved when she left. Children's Day will be observed at the Methodist church to-morrow. The exercises will be of a highly interesting nature. The hour for holding the meeting will be 5 o'clock in the afternoon and the public is cordially invited to be present. GENERAL REGRET. It is very generally regretted that in cutting lines across the Norfolk and Western railroad the axe did not miss Farmville. Mr. Ewen Davidson was put off. We hear that he has secured employment elsewhere, and while his many friends will be glad to learn of his luck in having speedy employment, yet they sincerely regret to part with him. The Daughters of the Confederacy had a small attendance at their monthly meeting last Tuesday afternoon. This was due to the inclement day, as there has not ever been shown in the chapter any lack of interest. It is the intention of the Daughters of the Confederacy to call another meeting at an early day as practicable to take action for making improvements in the old soldiers' burying-ground in time for Memorial Day. Ex-Governor McElhenny is improving steadily. He was on Main street yesterday, and although quite thin, he was looking almost as natural as before his species of illness. The Masonic Lodge at this place has been for the past three months, and is now on a veritable boom. Instead of meeting once a month, as it used to, its committee are now meeting weekly, and at such there are several candidates for initiation or raising. The negro, Billy Cole, who recently shot the little 3-year-old girl of Mr. J. E. Stearns, who narrowly escaped a frenzied mob, seems to have made good his departure from town. He has not been heard from since the night of the 15th, the time of his deplorable act. Another excursion will be run from Farmville to Richmond during the first week in June, and so pleased were the people with the last one, that quite a large crowd is expected to go on the next. Miss Fannie C. Owen, of Halifax county, great-granddaughter of Mrs. M. E. Edmunds, of Farmville, will be the only full graduate of Peace Institute, North Carolina, and she will wear a dress trimmed with emerald Malacca, the color of Mrs. Edmunds, who is in her 80th year of age.
