

OUR HEROES

CHARLOTTE CAVALRY

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE GAL- LANT COMMAND.

ITS RECORD A SPLENDID ONE

From its Organization to the End of the War—in the Charging Squadron—Other Interesting Confederate Matter.

The following sketch of the Charlotte Cavalry has been offered for file in the Charlotte County Court, together with the roll of the company, which was recently printed in the Dispatch.

This Charlotte Cavalry left Charlotte Courthouse, Va., May 16, 1861, having been called into service by the Governor of Virginia. It went by Farmville, Cumberland Courthouse, and Richmond, to Ashland, Va., to a camp of instruction.

On the 27th of May, 1861, this roll contains not only those mustered in there, but the others who were mustered in afterwards.

After drilling for some weeks, it was ordered to reinforce General Garnett in West Virginia, and, with the Pennsylvania Cavalry, went to Staunton on the railroad from Ashland, and then marched to Monterey and Cheat Mountain, arriving at Laurel Hill July 6, 1861.

General Garnett was forced to retreat to the mountain in the night, to Nicholas Mountain, on his flank. Our army retreated by Carrock's ford, and participated in that battle, where Garnett was killed.

It went then to Moorfield, Va. In April, 1862, it was reorganized, and new officers elected. From Churchillville, under the command of Major George Jackson, this and several other cavalry companies were sent to the Kanawha Valley, W. Va., and operated there under General Loring.

In 1862 the Charlotte Cavalry and the Churchillville and two Rockbridge companies of cavalry made a raid over the mountains in the night, to Nicholas Courthouse, W. Va., and stormed a camp of Federals, capturing nearly every man and officer.

Part of the winter of 1862-63 was spent at Salem, Va., where the company was who were not paroled then received honorable paroles with the rest of Lee's army in a few days after the surrender.

While we submitted to the result of war, there is nothing before or since to show that we were wrong. The very letters which were written against the South have been since more tenacious to maintain State rights, for which we fought, and the first to resist interference on the part of the North.

It is not the liberty of this country which we desire, but the liberty of the South. If they do not, the liberty of this country will be lost, and the government can never exist on any other basis.

Returning from Gettysburg, several of our company were killed and wounded at Williamsport, July 14, 1863, myself among the wounded.

We served under General John Echols, in the battle of Droop Mountain, not far from Lewisburg, W. Va., and spent the winter of 1863-64 in Monroe county, W. Va.

In the spring of 1864, General Jenkins having been killed, our brigade was placed under the command of Major M. McCausland. This company and the Churchillville Cavalry constituted McCausland's extreme rear-guard from Covington to Buchanan, while McCausland was in front of Hunter and Crook, delaying their advance on Lynchburg, Va.

On our return from Washington, McCausland with his brigade, and General Bradley Johnson's cavalry brigade, were sent to Chambersburg to retaliate for the burning of Hunter and others had done in Virginia and the South.

It was very likely commended by General Early for the very gallant manner in which the enemy's flank was turned by it.

On our return from Washington, McCausland with his brigade, and General Bradley Johnson's cavalry brigade, were sent to Chambersburg to retaliate for the burning of Hunter and others had done in Virginia and the South.

It was very likely commended by General Early for the very gallant manner in which the enemy's flank was turned by it.

Mrs. Bradish, of Detroit, Wrote Mrs. Pinkham and Tells the Result. "About two years ago I began to run down and soon became almost a wreck. I lost my appetite and began to lose flesh; my blood was impoverished and I had to leave my store."

"The doctors gave me a little tonic, but it steadily grew worse and consulted another doctor. He helped me in some ways, but my headaches continued, and I began to have night sweats and my rest was so disturbed that I would have hysteria and would cry and worry over business matters and my poor health."

"Finally, husband took me South, but with no benefit. This was a year ago; no one can ever know what a winter of misery I spent. Would blot after eating and was troubled with palpitation of heart and whites. Having read by happy chance of your medicine, I bought it and wrote for your advice, and before having finished the first bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the hysterics nearly stopped and I slept soundly."

"I used seven or eight bottles with such benefit that I am as healthy as I can ever remember of being. I shall never cease to sound your praises."—Mrs. E. M. BRADISH, 179 DIX AVE., DETROIT, MICH.

Mrs. Pinkham's advice is at the free disposal of every ailing woman who wishes help. Her address is Lynn, Mass. Every case is sacredly confidential.

North Carolina Volunteers, died September 18, 1861. A. Spear, Eleventh North Carolina Volunteers, died September 8, 1861. Robert Armstrong, Eleventh Regiment, Mississippi Volunteers, died August 23, 1861.

J. W. Rains, Eighth Regiment, Georgia Volunteers, died October 12, 1861. J. G. Collins, Latham's Battery, Virginia, died August 25, 1861.

T. P. Bagwell, Fourth Regiment, South Carolina Volunteers, died August 25, 1861. W. G. Fynn, Sixth Regiment, Louisiana Volunteers, died August 25, 1861.

W. R. Hagan, Eleventh Regiment, Mississippi Volunteers, died August 26, 1861. J. F. Raper, Fourth Regiment, South Carolina Volunteers, died August 28, 1861.

J. W. Rains, Eighth Regiment, Georgia Volunteers, died October 12, 1861. J. G. Collins, Latham's Battery, Virginia, died August 25, 1861.

iment Volunteers, died September 29, 1861. S. C. O'Neal, Eighth Louisiana Regiment Volunteers, died September 29, 1861. James Owens, Company B, First Georgia Volunteers, died September 26, 1861.

G. B. Sillers, First Battery, Mississippi Volunteers, died September 26, 1861. P. Hutto, Fifth Regiment Alabama Volunteers, died September 26, 1861.

W. A. Huffman, Eighteenth Regiment Mississippi Volunteers, died July 20, 1861. W. A. Huffman, Eighteenth Regiment Mississippi Volunteers, died July 20, 1861.

W. Mosely, Georgia Regiment Volunteers, died July 22, 1861. W. Mosely, Georgia Regiment Volunteers, died July 22, 1861.

W. Briscoe, Second Regiment Virginia Volunteers, died July 23, 1861. B. Winter, died July 23, 1861.

J. C. Moore, Seventh Georgia Volunteer Regiment, died August 2, 1861. James Baker, Fifth Regiment North Carolina Volunteers, died August 2, 1861.

Charles Delane, Seventh Louisiana Regiment, died August 1, 1861. Murphy Institute, died August 2, 1861.

E. A. Johnson, Twentieth Georgia Volunteer Regiment, died October 2, 1861. T. J. Cruser, First Regiment Georgia Volunteers, died October 2, 1861.

S. Lassus, died October 2, 1861. J. L. Jones, Twenty-fourth Regiment Virginia Volunteers, died October 2, 1861.

W. E. Workman, Eighth Louisiana Volunteer Regiment, died October 3, 1861. James J. Tucker, Eleventh Regiment Alabama Volunteers, died October 3, 1861.

"77" "breaks up" COUGHS That have lingered.

You don't want a cold to linger through the summer, into the fall and winter months, so break it up by using "77."

To learn about the Cure of Colds and other diseases ask your druggist for, or send for, a free copy of Dr. Humphreys' Specific Manual, and doctor yourself at home.

Humphreys' Medicine Company, corner William and John streets, New York. Carolina Volunteers, died August 21, 1861. G. W. Herron, Eighth Regiment South Carolina Volunteers, died August 21, 1861.

J. R. Vandover, Fourth Regiment South Carolina Volunteers, died August 21, 1861. R. T. Root, Eighth Regiment Georgia Volunteers, died August 22, 1861.

T. H. Henry, Eighth Regiment Georgia Volunteers, died August 22, 1861. J. H. Redford, Seventh Regiment Georgia Volunteers, died August 22, 1861.

Edwin Smith, Seventh Regiment Mississippi Volunteers, died August 7, 1861. W. S. Boydston, Thirteenth Regiment Mississippi Volunteers, died August 7, 1861.

Edward Wilson, Fourth Regiment South Carolina Volunteers, died August 6, 1861. Mike Rodgers, Sixth Regiment South Carolina Volunteers, died August 6, 1861.

J. W. Boone, Eighth Regiment South Carolina Volunteers, died August 7, 1861. J. H. Redford, Seventh Regiment Georgia Volunteers, died August 7, 1861.

G. W. Dodd, Fourth Regiment South Carolina Volunteers, died August 8, 1861. S. D. Honey, Second South Carolina Volunteer Regiment, died August 8, 1861.

We've Hit It Again! This Time It is 309 Children's Suits bought at just one half their regular price from E. & H. Sobel, 710 Broadway, New York, who were desirous of closing out all their spring and summer stock.

Manufacturers know we have the outlet for quantities as well as the ready cash to pay for them, hence it's no unusual thing for us to pick up wonderful bargains.

TO-MORROW we place this lot of Suits on sale, divided into three grades. $1.50 At this price we have bunched 93 Suits. Every one guaranteed pure wool, made and trimmed elegantly, worth $2.75 and $3; ages 3 to 16. See them.

$2.00 buys a Suit that you would have to pay $3.75 and $4 for; in beautiful effects, of pure Worsted, in Blue, Black, and neat plaids, double seat and knees, ages 3 to 16. See them.

$2.50 At this price you can have your choice of the highest grades, ranging from $4.50 to $6, actual value. To appreciate what they are you must see them. Ages 3 to 16. See them.

We want 300 mothers to look here to-morrow—just look. We know what the result will be. Don't put it off till Tuesday, for there'll be few if any left.

Knee Pants for Monday only! All 75c, and $1 grades, and to-morrow 49c. See our 13 and 25c. grades also. They're wonders.

Extra salesmen will be called in to serve you quickly. Jacobs & Levy, 707 East Broad, POPULAR OUTFITTERS TO MEN. (my 28-11)

SAFE SURE SPEEDY MME. LE CLAIR'S FAMOUS FRENCH REMEDY Never Fails. ENDORSED BY THOUSANDS. Twenty-five cent stamps bring trial package and guarantee the most perfect of all remedies.

"Two Heads Are Better Than One." One, however, is the portion allotted to the average mortal. If this one aches and will not work properly, it is worse than none. When this condition is present, the kidneys come in for censure and the liver is sure not to escape. As a fact, the blood is solely responsible for the condition of these organs.

Let your one head dwell on this fact, because it is the leading point in life and health. The natural blood purifier and tonic is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It has been "tried" and never "found wanting." It never disappoints.

Scrofulous Humor—"I was in terrible condition from the itching and burning of scrofulous humor. It grew worse under treatment of several doctors. Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills. These cured me thoroughly." J. J. LITTLE, Fulton, N. Y.

Pimples—"I have never been well and strong until lately. Hood's Sarsaparilla restored my strength and caused the disappearance of annoying pimples on my forehead. It is a great medicine." ANNETTE MESSERS, 1240 Atlantic St., St. Paul, Minn.

Right at the ford across the South Branch of the Potomac, the heaviest of the fight, one where this squadron lost most in killed and wounded.

It was very likely commended by General Early for the very gallant manner in which the enemy's flank was turned by it.

On our return from Washington, McCausland with his brigade, and General Bradley Johnson's cavalry brigade, were sent to Chambersburg to retaliate for the burning of Hunter and others had done in Virginia and the South.

It was very likely commended by General Early for the very gallant manner in which the enemy's flank was turned by it.

Benjamin Cole, Eighth Regiment — Volunteers, died July 24, 1861. C. B. Rankin, Second Regiment South Carolina Volunteers, died July 24, 1861.

G. B. Smith, Sixth Louisiana Regiment Volunteers, died July 24, 1861. Tom Gregory, Eighteenth Virginia Regiment Volunteers, died July 25, 1861.

J. T. Polk, Fourth Georgia Volunteer Regiment, died July 25, 1861. Oecola Drain, Eighteenth Mississippi Regiment Volunteers, died August 5, 1861.

Thomas Beville, Eighth Georgia Regiment Volunteers, died July 25, 1861. Joseph Hammel, Third Battery Georgia Volunteers, died August 3, 1861.

W. H. Hovers, Ninth Regiment Louisiana Volunteers, died October 23, 1861. J. Dykes, Ninth Regiment Louisiana Volunteers, died October 25, 1861.

W. H. Budd, Eighth Regiment Georgia Volunteers, died October 25, 1861. George W. Sibert, Tenth Regiment Virginia Volunteers, died August 2, 1861.

James D. Horgan, Second Regiment Alabama Volunteers, died August 2, 1861. John Robinson, Fifth Regiment Mississippi Volunteers, died August 2, 1861.

J. P. Atchison, Eighth Regiment Georgia Volunteers, died August 4, 1861. A. H. Owen, Seventeenth Regiment Alabama Volunteers, died August 4, 1861.

W. H. Budd, Eighth Regiment Georgia Volunteers, died October 25, 1861. George W. Sibert, Tenth Regiment Virginia Volunteers, died August 2, 1861.

James D. Horgan, Second Regiment Alabama Volunteers, died August 2, 1861. John Robinson, Fifth Regiment Mississippi Volunteers, died August 2, 1861.

J. P. Atchison, Eighth Regiment Georgia Volunteers, died August 4, 1861. A. H. Owen, Seventeenth Regiment Alabama Volunteers, died August 4, 1861.

W. H. Budd, Eighth Regiment Georgia Volunteers, died October 25, 1861. George W. Sibert, Tenth Regiment Virginia Volunteers, died August 2, 1861.

WHEN YOU CAN HAVE YOUR MEASURE TAKEN SHOES MADE TO FIT YOU FOR THE SAME MONEY. AND MADE IN RICHMOND BY THE BEST SHOEMAKERS, VICI KID, GLAZE CALF, WAX CALF, RUSSIA CALF, TAX CALF, AND OTHER LEATHERS.

Shoes Half-Soled for 25c (waxed). Rubber-Cushion Heels, 50c. Will send for, repair, and return postage free. FOR E. Phone, 1222.

W. E. DREW & CO., Main, Corner Eighth Street. ap 28-2u, Tu & Th

THE XANTHINE PROF. HERTZ GREAT GERMAN HAIR RESTORATIVE Restores Life, Color, Beauty to the Hair. THE BEST YOU HAVE EVER TRIED. IF YOU HAVE NEVER TRIED, THE BEST YOU HAVE NEVER TRIED. Should be on every dressing table. A toilet article — not a dave.

