

AT LAST

THEY CURE AND PREVENT DISEASE

They Save Life. They are Honest, Reliable. Non-Alcoholic Medicines within the reach of all. When you take a Sovereign Cure you use a medicine that you can analyze.

THEY ARE NO Experiment

THEY ARE ESTABLISHED

27 Different Medicines for 27 Different Diseases

The season for Grippe, Coughs, Colds and Rheumatism is at hand—Don't risk your life with worthless medicines when you can obtain a Sovereign Cure.

SOVEREIGN REMEDIES Appeal to Your Intelligence

Tested for years by physicians and the people, they stand upon the solid rock of public confidence.

HAVE CURED THOUSANDS—WILL CURE YOU

Study "HOME TREASURE" if in doubt as to the nature of your illness, or if any complications exist, write to us. IT COSTS YOU NOTHING

SOVEREIGN REMEDY CO.

1237 Arch St. PHILADELPHIA, PA.

EVERY REMEDY 25¢ EACH

COURT OF APPEALS.

OPINIONS HANDED DOWN YESTERDAY IN ELEVEN CASES.

SOME RICHMOND CAUSES DECIDED.

Traction Company vs. Hildebrand, Reversed; Also, Brown vs. Commonwealth—Many Important Questions Decided.

The Supreme Court of Appeals handed down opinions in eleven cases yesterday. It is remarkable that of this number, six reverse decisions of lower courts, and one partially reverses such decision.

Nearly every case is interesting, and in all of them are points of law decided that are of importance to the lawyer and the lay citizen.

Verdict for Traction Company.

Richmond Traction Company vs. Hildebrand. Circuit Court of Henrico county. Reversed. Harrison, J., delivered the opinion.

This is an action of trespass on the case brought by Mary B. Hildebrand to recover damages for an injury alleged to have been sustained by her in consequence of the careless, negligent, and reckless conduct of the plaintiff in error in running his electric cars over a certain highway from the city of Richmond to the city of Henrico, Va., proceeding in the lower court resulted in a verdict and judgment for $12,500 against the defendant company.

After reversing the case upon the instructions of the court, the plaintiff was struck by defendant's car while she was crossing the street, upon which she had just stepped.

The court holds that plaintiff was guilty of negligence in crossing the street, and that the defendant was not liable for the consequences of which could not be avoided by the utmost care on the part of the plaintiff. The court also holds that the defendant's conduct was not negligent, and the demurrer should have been sustained. An opinion is given that the plaintiff is not liable for the consequences of which could not be avoided by the utmost care on the part of the plaintiff.

Case sent back for new trial, with leave to plaintiff to amend her declaration.

Brown Given a New Trial.

Brown vs. Commonwealth. From the County Court of Henrico. Opinion by Cardwell, J. Reversed.

The court reversed the judgment of the County Court of Henrico in the case of William Brown, a negro, who was convicted several months ago of attempting to break out of the city of Henrico, and sentenced to four years in the penitentiary. Brown was ejected from a car for disorderly conduct, and was locked in a cell in the penitentiary. The court held that the defendant was not liable for the consequences of which could not be avoided by the utmost care on the part of the plaintiff.

A Brakeman's Suit for Damages.

Danville Street Car Company vs. Watkins. From the Circuit Court of Henrico. Opinion by Keith, P. Reversed.

The defendant in error sued the Danville Street Car Company for an injury sustained under the following circumstances: The plaintiff was riding on a car which was being operated by the defendant. The car was crossing a street, and the plaintiff was struck by the car. The court held that the defendant was not liable for the consequences of which could not be avoided by the utmost care on the part of the plaintiff.

Bicycle Case from Williamsburg.

Jones vs. City of Williamsburg. From the Circuit Court of James City. Opinion by Keith, P. Reversed.

The plaintiff was struck and injured by a bicycle that was being ridden upon a sidewalk in the city of Williamsburg. The court held that the defendant was not liable for the consequences of which could not be avoided by the utmost care on the part of the plaintiff.

FOUOUREAN, TEMPLE & CO.,

429 East Broad Street.

BLANKETS, Important Specials, SILKS, SILK WAISTS, and other goods.

DOUBLE TALK TO-DAY IS OF A SELECT LOT OF SPECIAL OFFERINGS—some reasonably reduced, ALL SEASONABLE AND SERVICEABLE. They are good, dependably good, every one of them, and the verdict of your most critical test must be that they are great in everything that makes merchandise right, and small in price.

Sale of Comfortables and Blankets.

Cotton-Covered Comfortables, good and heavy, at $1, $1.50, and $1.75 each.

Wool-Covered Comfortables, with laminated cotton fillings, at $2.25 each; with fine satine coverings at $3.25.

Eiderdown Quilts, with best French satine coverings, at $5 each.

Eiderdown Quilts, with fine French satine coverings, in extra sizes, at $7 each.

BLANKETS—Fine White Wool, extra quality, at $3.50 per pair.

10-4 sizes at $4.00 per pair.

11-4 sizes at $4.50 per pair.

12-4 sizes at $4.50 per pair.

Specials in Silks.

Colored Taffetas, brocade, striped, and figured, were $1 per yard, now 75c.

One lot Striped and Figured Silks, were $1.25 per yard, now $1.

One lot Striped and Figured Silks, were $1.25 per yard, now $1.25 and $1.50.

REDUCED SILK WAISTS—Any Colored Silk Waist at a reduction of 25 per cent. Every one is new and desirable.

Specials in Black Silk Waists at $6, $7, and $8 each.

FEBRUARY PATTERNS and PUBLICATIONS are here—advance price styles. Fashion Plates at our counter.

Unusual White Goods Values.

English Nainsook, 36 inches wide, at $1.25 per yard.

English Nainsook, 36 inches wide, at $1.25 per yard; $1.50 per piece.

Lady Cloth, for underwear, 36 inches wide, at $1.25 per yard; $1.50 per piece.

English Long Cloth, 36 inches wide, 12-1-2c. per yard.

Beached Cloth, extra fine, soft finish, 36 inches wide, at $1.25 per yard.

WED AT THE MANSION

SISTER OF GOVERNOR TYLER MARRIED TO MR. MILLER.

AN EVENT OF SPECIAL INTEREST.

The Parlor Beautifully Decorated—The Attendants and Dresses—Miss Walker Becomes the Bride of Mr. Williams—Other Weddings.

An extremely pretty wedding was solemnized last evening at 6:30 o'clock, at the Executive Mansion, when Miss Evelyn May Tyler became the wife of Mr. John J. Miller, of Rappahannock county.

The handsome reception rooms were illuminated with light, and fragrant with the scent of roses, presenting a brilliant contrast to the sullen weather without. At the end of the south parlor a graceful bank of palms stood between the windows. Here the ceremony was performed by Bishop Gibson and Rev. Mr. Claybrook of Rappahannock, the rector of the groom. Directly back of the altar stood two tall mahogany stands, on which were crystal vases of La France roses. From these stands came white satin ribbons, forming an aisle for the bridal party. La France roses, relieved by small, palms, and ferns, made the rooms extremely pretty.

THE BRIDAL PARTY'S ENTRANCE.

The bridal party entered in this order: First, the little ribbon girl, Miss Mary Hays Tyler, in a dainty gown of white organdie. Then Miss Belle Norwood Tyler, the maid of honor, followed by the bride, on the arm of her brother, Governor Tyler. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. George Brooking, of Washington.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of white duchesse satin, made princess en traine, and with elaborate garniture of point lace, chiffon, and pearl ornaments. She carried a cluster of La France roses. The wedding march was played by Mr. Frank Costly, who also played with great feeling throughout the ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of the late Hon. George Tyler, of Blenheim, Caroline county, for many years a member of the Virginia delegation, and a sister of Governor Tyler. Her mother, before her marriage, was Miss Julia Magruder, of Albemarle. She is a petite blonde, and has a host of friends throughout the State. Mr. Miller is a prominent citizen of Rappahannock county, where he owns one of the finest farms in the State.

After a wedding journey to the principal cities of the South, Mr. and Mrs. Miller will live at Mountain Grove, a country home, four miles out of Washington.

The marriage was attended only by the relatives, and a small number of intimate friends of the contracting parties. Among the guests from a distance were Judge and Mrs. Cassel, Mr. and Mrs. John Washington, and Miss Julia Tyler.

Mr. Williams and Miss Walker.

Miss Margaret Hays Walker was married to Mr. Arthur D. Williams last evening at 7 o'clock at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Ellen Walker, No. 613 North Twenty-third street.

The parlor were prettily decorated with palms and cut-flowers, and the ceremony was performed before an improvised altar by Rev. Mr. Ashby Jones, of Leigh Street Baptist church. The bride wore a handsome gown of white tulle, and carried a large bouquet of American Beauty roses. Mr. John S. Melvaine acted as best man. The bride entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. Ernest Lee Walker, who gave her away.

Mr. Williams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Williams, of this city. He now resides in Washington, where he is connected with the firm of Luchs & Brother. His bride is the bright and attractive daughter of Mrs. Mary Ellen Walker of Church Hill, and has a large number of friends in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams left on the 7:45 train for Washington, which will be their future home. They were the recipients of a large number of handsome presents.

Wed at the Cathedral.

St. Peter's Cathedral was the scene of a very pretty wedding yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, when Miss Madeline Gilman was married to Mr. Salvador Cassala.

The bride was dressed in a pearl-gray tulle gown, and carried a bouquet of white roses. Her maid of honor, Miss Sarah J. Lott, wore a dainty gown of white organdie, and the matron of honor was Mrs. Darries Gregory, of Norfolk. An intimate friend of the bride. The best man was Mr. Louis Guglielmo, and the bridesmaids were Messrs. John Murphy, Louis Pol, E. A. Lott, and Joseph Canepa.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Cassala left for Norfolk, where they will spend a few days, and will then visit the relatives of the bridegroom in New York, returning by way of Norfolk, after an absence of about three weeks.

The bride is the niece of Mr. R. Frank Gilman, and is a very pretty and petite

CAPE TOWN IN WAR TIME.

It is Crowded, Prosperous, and Bustling with Queer People.

(London Leader.)

Cape Town is as busy and bustling as a hive of bees in June. It is sharing with Durban the deserters from Johannesburg and other refugees who fled eastward at the first note of war's alarms. Its hotel proprietors are smiling complacently upon the world; its storekeepers rule their prices according to their imagination— which is of the quality termed vast—and the Semitic speculator is making golden hay while the sun shines.

It isn't exactly true to say that candies are at famine prices or that Dukas, Marquesses, and millionaires are paying 25c a night for the privilege of sleeping on billiard tables, or that cab proprietors are selling the most dilapidated of their horses to be turned into bully beef for the vagrant refugee. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty in Cape Town; but to obtain a decent sufficiency of the latter you must certainly have a decent sufficiency of the former.

"I am told this on the authority of a man who shuffles in the most polite circles of South African society—a man who has a bowing acquaintance with the personal habits of Mr. Schreiner, and who knows where the Governor of the Colony buys his suits.

"Yes," he said, indicating the universe with a majestic wave of the hand. "We have embarked upon an era of temporary prosperity. There is plenty of money and there are provisions in plenty