A REMARKABLE PROPOSITION. The proposition of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac railroad to guarantee the State of Virginia dividends at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum on the latter's stock in the road, on condition that the State will charter a parallel line, is remarkable, to say the least.

As for the criminals and notorious persons who have attracted attention by their misdeeds, they can be forbidden publicly to expose themselves on the ground that their appearance would be hurtful to public morals.

From a legal standpoint, it will be improbable that any one will contest the wisdom of this decision, which appears most sound and just.

M. Deschanel, president of the French Chamber of Deputies, is now an "immortal," having been elected a member of the famous French Academy in succession to the late Edouard Herve.

Edmund Clarence Stedman, the banker-poet, has quit Wall street, where he had been operating thirty-one years.

There has been a decided disposition in certain quarters in England to hold Lord Wolseley responsible for the blunders of the South African campaign.

According to the Guardian's defence correspondent, the Committee of National Defence proceeded in several important matters to set Wolseley's advice at naught.

In an article advocating the chartering of the Richmond and Washington Air-Line railway, the Blackstone Courier says: "We assert the time has arrived when the State should no longer be a stockholder in any corporation doing business in the State, as it would naturally be expected to receive favors that would be denied its competitors."

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Piper were married at Colorado Springs January 16th, it is reported, and on February 1st the groom was granted a divorce, still according to report, on the ground of extreme cruelty and inhuman conduct.

A contemporary remarks that Senator Hanna, who apparently thinks he is the whole government, showed in a recent speech that he is more bent than ever upon pushing through Congress the Hanna-Payne shipping subsidy bill.

The supposition that the so-called Governor Taylor, of Kentucky, had the public funds at his disposal is disproved by the fact that the banks upon which his warrants have been drawn are not honoring them. The banks are right. The Democrats are going to come out on top in the struggle now going on. Public sentiment in Kentucky is overwhelmingly against Taylor; the more so since it is believed that his party is concealing and protecting the assassins instead of delivering them into the hands of justice.

At a general meeting of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce held yesterday afternoon, amid great enthusiasm, and without a dissenting voice, resolutions were adopted urging the General Assembly to charter the Richmond and Washington Air-Line railway—the proposed new line from this city to Washington.

After much discussion and no little controversy, an Illinois judge has handed down a decision bearing on the constitutionality of the law passed last year by that state forbidding the exhibition of "freaks" in sideshows, museums, &c. Of course, the statute was contested most vigorously by the showmen, and the decision just made was rendered in a habeas corpus proceeding for the release of a museum proprietor.

The judge, in his opinion, which presents some most interesting points of law, makes a distinction between two classes of persons affected. He thinks that there is no law to forbid deformed persons from making a living in any honorable vocation they may choose, but the same rule does not apply to notorious criminals, who put themselves on exhibition merely to satisfy a morbid curiosity upon the part of the public.

In this connection the judge says that matters of this character can be decided by asking the question: "Is the person who is exhibited an intellectual being having the power to think, to do, to will, and to act? If so, he may exhibit his own traits, skill, or dexterity, however simply, and as the right to contract is an inalienable right, he may hire himself to any one desiring his services, and the person employing him cannot be held amenable to the law, because he has committed no offence known to the law."

As for the criminals and notorious persons who have attracted attention by their misdeeds, they can be forbidden publicly to expose themselves on the ground that their appearance would be hurtful to public morals.

From a legal standpoint, it will be improbable that any one will contest the wisdom of this decision, which appears most sound and just.

The number of British troops in South Africa seems overwhelming to everybody but the Boers.

At a meeting in New York of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad directors yesterday afternoon, S. M. Provost, third vice-president of the Pennsylvania railroad, was elected a director of the Baltimore and Ohio to succeed General Louis Fitzgerald.

It is now reported that the rumored extensive acquisition of Chesapeake and Ohio stock by the Pennsy is also correct, and that the Vanderbilts and the Pennsylvania railroad interests control the whole eastern railroad situation with the Pennsylvania railroad, Baltimore and Ohio, New York Central, New York, New Haven, and Hartford, and Chesapeake and Ohio, working in harmony.

It was said in the hotels last night that a meeting of the directors of the railroad directors will be held next week, and that Mr. Provost will be elected a director at that meeting, and that arrangements would be made for the election of two other directors identified with the Pennsylvania railroad in the near future.

THE BARYN MILK. Many cities have derived advantage from having reliable inspections of milk, and we see no reason for doubting that Richmond would benefit itself by the establishment of a similar system.

As a rule, food inspection may be left to buyers; the average housekeeper is fairly competent to judge of the value of his or her purchases. And in most cases, if the purchaser does not get precisely the article the seller represents it to be, little or no harm to health is done. But in the matter of milk, a different rule obtains. In every city hundreds of babies are brought up "by hand"—i. e., from the milk bottle, and we have to remember that an infant's stomach is of small capacity. If its stomach is filled with good, pure milk at stated times, the child will thrive and grow apace.

But suppose the milk is thin? Suppose it has been adulterated? Then, though the child's stomach be filled regularly, the needed quantity of nutriment is lacking. The result will be that the child will be cheated of its due, and its health will suffer. It will be stunted; will grow up a weakling, or may fall an easy and early victim to one of the numerous diseases to which babyhood is subject.

According to the statements of experts, the health of thousands of infants in the United States is undermined every year because the milk upon which they are fed is lacking in these natural ingredients which go to build up the system. The adult who drinks watered milk for pure milk is cheated, but only in exceptional instances is he injured. Not so with the infant. It is cheated beyond any compensation which money can make. It is defrauded of strength and health, and in some cases, of life itself.

And so, in view of the standpoint of the infant, it is worth while for cities to pass laws and appoint inspectors, and try to ensure pure milk supplies. Their experience is that diluted milk is put upon the market. And it diluted milk be offered for sale where inspections prevail, may we not believe it is offered in places where there are no public inspections?

In Baltimore, where they think they have a very good inspection system, it has been found that bad milk is put upon the market, despite all they can do. Recently, a considerable quantity was seized and emptied into the culverts. One of the newspapers of that city printed a striking picture, showing the inspectors in the act of emptying the cans.

We suppose Richmond is no better and no worse off in this respect than other cities of our size, which have no public inspections of milk. Our Board of Health has repeatedly urged legislation upon the subject, but, as yet, the City Council has not acted.

We are not inclined to blame the Council very much. It will act when it finds that the people wish it to. Usually we have found it ready to respond to public sentiment, and here that public sentiment would be quickly kindled if mothers understood better than they do how very harmful it is to fill the stomachs of their little ones with impoverished milk, instead of with good, rich milk.

There are plenty of people who are cutting ice these days, though not always socially, of course.

His Swinish Majesty Saw His Shadow and Sneaked Back for Forty Days. Yesterday was "ground-hog day," which is equally as well known in Virginia as Christmas-Day or the Fourth of July.

The sun shone out nearly all day long, and it was not until about 11 o'clock, when his shadow "came out," as he was scheduled to do. Consequently, he learned that the next forty days would be no fit weather for him, and so went back to his hole to feast on reminiscences of last summer.

The Mineral Belt Railroad. Captain Boyd Smith, president of the Pyrites Mining and Chemical Company of Virginia, is in the city, accompanied by counsel, seeking to secure an outlet for his and from the mine near Mineral City. Captain Smith desires to have the Mineral Belt road built from Mineral City, Va., to the Chesapeake and Ohio, and the "Potomac" where deep water will be reached.

and Miss Julia West, in their happy sketch; the Brenton-Remick trio, in a fine act, and the excellent performance of Shevett and Newell helped make the bill popular. Miss Gertrude Haynes, whose beautiful "Choir Celestial" has been so well received, holds over next week. She advertises for fifty boys to take part in the act next week. The usual matinee will be given to-day.

THE FORGED SECURITIES. Mr. Ryland Will Remain Until After Schroeter's Hearing. Nothing was heard at the Capitol yesterday from Second-Auditor Ryland, who is in New York in connection with the prosecution of Julius Schroeter, charged with uttering a large amount of forged State securities. It is presumed that he will remain until after the preliminary hearing of Schroeter to-day.

Attention was called to the fact yesterday, that although these forged bills have given much trouble to various holders, they have never caused the State to lose a penny. Mr. J. C. Hankins, chief clerk to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, has added another to his interesting collection of forged letters. It came yesterday as a sample of "English as she is wrote" in Cuba, the letter is valuable. It is as follows: Havana, 28th January, 1900.

To the Honorable Secretary of State of Virginia, Richmond: Sir—I would be very much obliged to you if you will kindly send to the office expressing under your signature and seal that in that State it is not a legal requisite to become married a publication of any list, or promulgation of whatsoever kind it may be, nor the father's consent.

State certificates must be legalized by the Secretary of State of the U. S. if it is to have legal force in the courts of this country. Enclose herewith you will find twenty cents for fees of legalizations. I remain, Yours respectfully, FRANCISCO G. GONZALEZ y MORALES.

The fees referred to in the letter were remitted in the form of a money-order for 20 cents. Among the visitors to the Capitol yesterday were Hon. Thomas W. Shelton, of Norfolk; Colonel James Mann, of Norfolk; a member of the last House, and a member of the Governor's staff; Hon. Greenlee D. Leitcher, formerly a member of the House from Rockbridge county; Hon. John B. Moon, of Albemarle; Colonel George S. Shackelford, of Orange, ex-member of the House from that county; Robert Pettit, Esq., a brother of Hon. Pembroke Pettit, and a prominent attorney of Fluvanna; Joel Cutchins, Esq., a prominent attorney; Mr. Cutchins is a brother of Major Sol. Cutchins, and is a former resident of this city; Hon. C. G. Kaiser, Chief of Police of the city of Norfolk, and ex-member of the House; Hon. Francis R. Lassiter, of Petersburg, Census Supervisor for the Fourth Congressional District; Captain A. A. Phlegar, of Christiansburg; Colonel James C. Baker, of Newport News.

RHODES IN COURT. Hearing Continued Until This Morning. Awaiting Verdict of Jury. The demands for justice yesterday were slight. Justice John soon finished his criminal docket, and turned his attention to the civil docket.

W. J. Rhodes was in court on the charge of the murder of Frank Barnett. The case was merely called and continued until this morning to await the verdict of the coroner's jury. Rhodes appeared to be bright and cheerful and betrayed no remorse.

Mary Jones, a colored woman, was charged with stealing 35 cents, the property of Josie Jones. She was dismissed on this charge, as a greater one awaited her. Mary was up for stealing from Ann Hudson one counterpane, one apron, and one table cloth, all of the value of $1. She was sent to jail for thirty days.

Arthur Waininger and James Butlock (boys) were charged with throwing rocks in the street. Each was fined $2. The other cases were small ones.

PAIN'S CELERY COMPOUND A Great Reconstructant.

REV. JOHN RICE, SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS OLD, Scotch Grove, Iowa, writes:

"My wife and I have used two bottles of Paine's Celery Compound with great advantage to our general health. It cured her rheumatism and proved a good regulator of the system in general and a tonic for the nerves. In my own case I have found it a cure for kidney trouble arising from old age, as I am now in my 75th year. In this trouble it has given me almost instant relief."

The human system in old age must have a large store of nervous energy and rich, nourishing blood. Paine's Celery Compound keeps the liver and kidneys active and the body strong.
