

MRS. GARLAND DEAD

WIFE OF THE PRESIDING ELDER OF THE METHODIST CHURCH. EXPIRES SUDDENLY. BRAD CONGESTION OF BOTH LUNGS. Stricken Suddenly in White With Her Husband, Rev. J. Powell Garland, at Hampton—Remains Will Be Taken to Lynchburg To-Day.

Mrs. J. Powell Garland, wife of Rev. J. Powell Garland, presiding elder of the Richmond District, died at the home of Rev. J. S. Sney Peters, in Hampton, Va., at 12:30 o'clock yesterday morning. Her death was a particularly sad one, and comes as a great shock to the many friends of the family.

Dr. and Mrs. Garland were on a visit to Rev. Mr. Peters, pastor of the First Methodist church, where Dr. Garland preached to a large congregation Wednesday night shortly before Mrs. Garland's death.

Mrs. Garland spent the evening very pleasantly with the family of Mr. Peters, and retired at 11 o'clock, apparently in good health.

At 12:30 she awoke with a sudden attack of sickness. A physician was immediately summoned and everything possible was done to relieve the intense suffering of Mrs. Garland, but the efforts were of no avail. She died in about an hour after that time of congestion of both lungs.

IT WAS A GREAT SHOCK. The suddenness of the death of Mrs. Garland completely prostrated Dr. Garland, and came as a great shock to the many friends in Richmond.

The remains were brought to Richmond over the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad yesterday afternoon and were taken to the home of Dr. Garland, at No. 86 east Clay street. Every minister of the city was invited to the funeral.

Mrs. Garland was a woman of the loftiest character and the gentlest disposition. She was noted for her great zeal in church work, and in her efforts to promote the work of charity and benevolence among the people.

A NATIVE OF AMHERST. Her maiden name was Cissa Dillard, and she was a daughter of Captain James D. Dillard, of Amherst, Va.

Her mother was Elizabeth Dillard, both before and after marriage. Mrs. Garland leaves one brother, Dr. John W. Dillard, of the same city.

Mrs. Garland was in her 53rd year, having been born on May 15, 1848. She was married to Dr. Garland seventeen years ago. She leaves no children.

Dr. Garland has received many telegrams from all over the state, expressing the deepest sympathy for him in his great grief.

The funeral will take place from the residence of Dr. Garland, No. 86 east Clay street, at 9 o'clock this morning. The remains will be taken to Lynchburg over the James-River Division of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad at 10:30 o'clock.

The official body of Broad-Street Methodist church, and the many members, and the Methodist ministers of the city the honorary pall-bearers.

A large number of the ministers will accompany the remains to Lynchburg, where the funeral train will arrive about 2 o'clock. The remains will be taken immediately to the Court-Street Methodist church, where Rev. Dr. Paul Whitehead will conduct the funeral services. The interment will be in Dr. Garland's family section of the Spring Hill cemetery, of that city.

Captain George B. Pegrum. Captain George Blackwell Pegrum died at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning at the home of his father, James B. Pegrum, No. 525 west Grace street.

Captain Pegrum was a man of great popularity, and his death will cause great grief among his wide circle of friends and acquaintances.

At the beginning of the Spanish-American war Captain Pegrum, then in command of Company B, of the Blues' Battalion, was ordered to Florida. He was at the time very weak and much run down in health from a severe attack of typhoid fever. Being entirely unable to stand the climate of Florida, Captain Pegrum was forced, through ill health, to resign his position as an officer in the regular army and to accept a commission as a great sufferer from locomotor ataxia, the disease which caused his death.

Captain Pegrum comes of an old and distinguished family. His father, Captain James J. Pegrum, was a gallant Confederate officer, and his grandfather was prominent in naval circles.

The deceased was in his 34th year. He is survived by both parents, one brother, and three sisters, Arthur Scrivener and Misses Emile and Mary Pegrum.

The funeral will take place from the residence of Captain Pegrum, No. 525 west Grace street, at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The interment will be in Hollywood.

Joseph Evans. Mr. Joseph Evans, aged 63, died yesterday morning at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. L. S. Whitmore, No. 239 Randolph street. The funeral will take place this afternoon from his late home.

Mrs. Bettie O. Moore. Mrs. Bettie Orland Moore, widow of Thornton E. Moore, died early yesterday morning at her home, No. 54 south Laurel street. She had been ill for six weeks.

The funeral services will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the New Central church, in Manchester.

JUNUS L. WILSON DEAD. Prominent Citizen of Cumberland—The Farmville Fair—Personals.

FARMVILLE, Va., April 18.—(Special).—Mr. Junius L. Wilson died this morning at Farmville, in Cumberland county, aged 44 years. He was sick only one week, with pneumonia.

Mr. Wilson was once the Superintendent of Public Instruction of Cumberland county, and held at different times other positions of honor and public trust. For several years he was the editor and publisher of the Farmville Journal, succeeding Hon. A. D. Watkins. He was born in Cumberland county, the son of the late John L. Wilson, Esq., and was married to Miss Eliza, daughter of Colonel Henry H. Wilson, who is survived by his wife and seven children. The eldest of the children is not quite 12 years of age.

The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock from the residence of Mrs. Wilson, at Farmville.

Mr. Wilson also leaves two brothers—Messrs. Daniel Wilson, of Detroit, Mich., and John F. Wilson, of Indianapolis, Ind.

The remains of Mr. Charles C. Farmer, whose death occurred on the 14th instant at Port Collins, Col., reached Farmville this morning, and after a short funeral service at the Baptist church, conducted by Rev. S. H. Thompson, they were deposited in the cemetery overlooking our beautiful little city.

Mr. Farmer was a native of Amelia county, but for some years had resided in the far West, where he married Mrs. Mary Ella Bondurant died at her

Catarrrh

The best authorities say, is a disease of the blood. Therefore local applications cannot cure. Requiring a constitutional disease it needs a constitutional remedy—Hood's Sarsaparilla. By thoroughly purifying the blood, this great medicine reduces the inflammation of the mucous membrane and stops all catarrhal discharges of the nose, throat, stomach, bowels, bladder and generative organs.

Catarrrh is especially dangerous in persons who inherit or have acquired a predisposition to consumption.

In these and all other catarrhal cases, Hood's Sarsaparilla so thoroughly renovates the blood and restores strength and vigor that it permanently cures.

In fact, because of the character of the disease, and the peculiar merit of the remedy, Hood's Sarsaparilla is the common-sense treatment for catarrh.

"I was a sufferer from nasal catarrh, gradually growing worse. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla which completely cured me of that troublesome disease."

CARRIED THE TOWN

MASSEY AND BOAZ WIN IN THE CHARLOTTESVILLE PRIMARY.

THEY CAPTURED EVERY WARD

It Was a Warm Fight—The Princess Anne Convention—Political Condition in Southampton—Convention Chat from Other Sections of Va.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., April 18.—(Special).—The first test of strength between Massey and Boaz, original convention men, and Perkins and Gordon, their opponents, for the constitutional convention, was had in a primary to-day in this city for the choice of delegates to the nominating convention.

Boaz and Massey carried every ward in the city by good majorities. The majority over Perkins was 130 in the city, and over Gordon 223. The fight was very warm.

The primaries in the county will take place Saturday. There are to be sixty-nine delegates in the convention, fifteen of whom Boaz and Massey captured to-day.

In the Council primary seven of the present members were nominated and five new men. The new members are G. E. Walker, L. W. Graves, H. D. Jarman, and James Harlan.

THE PRINCESS ANNE CONVENTION. Further Account of the Nomination of Mr. Jonathan Woodhouse.

PRINCESS ANNE COURTHOUSE, Va., April 18.—(Special).—On the 15th instant, at Princess Anne Courthouse, a mass-meeting of the Democrats of the county was held for the nomination of a candidate to represent the Democracy of Princess Anne in the constitutional convention. County Chairman W. W. Corman called the meeting to order.

A more demonstrative and enthusiastic gathering has rarely been witnessed in this section.

Nominations for permanent chairman were made in appropriate terms. Judge J. J. Woodhouse was placed in nomination by a member of one wing of the mass-meeting and Dr. George T. Corman offered by the other for the same honor.

Dr. Snead, by a handsome majority, was made permanent chairman.

In brief, but pointed, terms he expressed himself as feeling peculiarly proud of the confidence reposed in him.

Major John T. Woodhouse then advanced to the front of the immense crowd and spoke at length on constitutional lines, but dwelt more particularly on questions of taxation.

Nominations now being in order, Mr. John A. Shipp, in fitting terms, placed the name of Mr. Jonathan Woodhouse before the meeting and representative of the county in the constitutional convention.

Major John T. Woodhouse was afterwards, in words of earnestness and eloquence, nominated by Mr. O. B. Mears. Division in ranks was effected by resolution, and adopted, as the mode by which each candidate's strength in numbers might be determined.

After several hours of some confusion, Mr. Jonathan Woodhouse was declared the choice of the mass-meeting.

MINISTER VS. LAWYER. Lancaster Democrats Want Rev. W. P. Dunaway in the Convention.

IRVINGTON, Va., April 18.—(Special).—On Monday (court-day) more than 400 voters of Lancaster county assembled at Lancaster Courthouse to select men to attend the joint convention of Lancaster and Richmond counties, which will assemble at Wheaton, Lancaster county, Friday morning.

The delegates were elected in open mass-meeting, and the whole affair passed off very quietly.

Resolutions were offered instructing Judge John C. Ewell, Judge of the county of Lancaster and Northumberland, for the constitutional convention.

No sooner was this done than numerous gentlemen made speeches advocating Rev. W. P. Dunaway, D. D., lately of Middleburg, Va., but now a resident of this (his native) State. His name was offered as a substitute. On account of the crowded house, it was impossible to get a viva voce vote, so the citizens fled out between two o'clocks who recorded their preference.

When all the men had voted it was found that Mr. Dunaway had received 180 votes to Judge Ewell's 133.

The twenty-one delegates were then chosen and instructed to cast their entire vote for Mr. Dunaway in the joint convention at Wheaton. This makes it practically certain that Rev. W. P. Dunaway will represent the counties of Lancaster and Richmond in the convention, and proves that when the people say that they don't want a lawyer they are not going to have one.

The day was wet and cold, but the crowd would hardly have been larger had the day been all that could have been desired.

W. P. Carter, E. L. Starr, and M. M. Riley were the marshals in charge, and Richmond music enlivened the evening.

Roanoke College this afternoon in a game of base-ball, by a score of 12 to 3. The batteries were Pitt and Haden, and Case and Kay.

A telegram from Mr. John R. MacArthur, from Bakersfield, Cal., was received here this afternoon, announcing the death of his brother, Met. A. MacArthur.

Mr. Met. MacArthur had resided in California for a number of years. He was one of the prominent men of Bakersfield, being City Engineer, and also a vestryman in St. Paul's Episcopal church. He was the son of the late C. W. and Ann P. MacArthur. His wife, who was Miss Ellen D. Anderson, and a daughter, survived him. His death was caused by pneumonia, and must have been sudden, as nothing was known of his illness. For many years he was connected with the Allegheny railroad office in Richmond, during which time he resided here.

THE AMPHIBRITE'S TARGET PRACTICE. SAVANNAH, GA., April 18.—The monitor Amphibrite concluded her three months' tour of target practice at Port Royal yesterday. For six hours moving floating targets were fired at by the monitors. An officer said the cost of the firing for six hours was $25,000. The percentage of hits during the tour was considerably higher than last year.

Blues' Battalion. Weekly Drill—Parade Saturday—Capt. Pegrum's Death Deplored.

Company A, of the Blues, held its regular weekly drill last evening, under command of Lieutenant Wilson. Captain Cheatwood was also at the armory, but was engaged in the preparation of papers for the company. There was a good attendance. After the drill there was a company meeting. Only routine business was transacted.

The annual 10th of May celebration is still in the hands of the committee. Many expressions of sorrow were heard at the death of Captain Pegrum. The company is ordered to parade at 3:15 the afternoon of Saturday, the 20th, for the purpose of attending his funeral. A large attendance is expected, as Captain Pegrum was very popular in this company, as well as in Company B, which he commanded in the Spanish-American war until compelled to resign on account of ill-health.

Woman's College Luncheon. The Alumnae Association of the Woman's College met in the literature lecture-room of the college Wednesday afternoon, April 18th, at 5 o'clock. At this meeting orders will be elected, and plans for the annual luncheon are to be considered.

AUGUSTA'S PRETTY CAPITAL. Illness of Mrs. Robertson—A Staunton Wedding.

STAUNTON, Va., April 18.—(Special).—At the King's Daughters' Hospital here, yesterday, at 10 o'clock, died Mrs. Robertson, a well-known resident of Staunton, who had been suffering for some time from an illness.

The operation was to relieve an irritation above the mastoid process, consequent on a severe cold, and the surgeon's work promises to be effective.

Mrs. Robertson is as well to-day as reasonably good, and is expected to be discharged in a few days.

The United States has just opened a temporary office here, with the purpose of securing recruits for the cavalry, infantry, artillery, and hospital corps.

Mrs. R. H. Crett has gone on to Baltimore. Mr. Richard Henry Cartlett, of this city, who has been ill at Johns Hopkins Hospital, is slowly improving.

Miss Lisa M. Shepherd, of Orange, is in town, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Hoge, on north Market street.

Hon. J. William Churchman is here to-day. He tells your correspondent he will offer for re-election this fall as one of the representatives in the House of Delegates.

Mr. William Smith, of Burkettown, in this county, is the loser of his pocket-book and $50, dropped somewhere on the road near Harrisonburg and Noked.

A short time ago Mr. Smith lost his buggy crossing the deep waters of Noked creek in the night-time.

Deputy-Sheriff Thomas A. Dawson, with his mother, Robert Ferguson, is back from Eagle Rock, Ga., but on permission of the Staunton Hustings Court, Pleasants was allowed to go, under surveillance, to search for $200 he says he secreted in a cave near Eagle Rock.

Dawson and his prisoner searched the Botetourt cavern ineffectually and found no money. Pleasants is jailed here, charged with assault.

ELECTED MAJOR. Of the Third Battalion, Seventy-First Regiment, Newport News.

NEWPORT NEWS, April 18.—(Special).—Captain Thomas of the Old Dominion Rifles, of Smithfield, was to-night elected major of the Third Battalion of Seventy-first Regiment, which is generally expected that First-Lieutenant Gilkerson of the Newport News Light Infantry would get the plum. To-night's election makes Smithfield the headquarters of the battalion.

TWO GENEROUS GIFTS. Chief Puller Sends Letters of Thanks for Checks Received.

The following letters were sent to Chief Puller, of the Fire Department, by the Cohen Company yesterday:

"We beg your acceptance, on behalf of the Firemen's Relief Association, of the $100 check, in the amount of one hundred dollars ($100) as a token, in some measure, of our appreciation of the gallant service of your department at the recent fire in Meyer's store. We believe that the heroic efforts of your organization alone saved the whole block from devastation, and as business-men, with a large interest in the safety and protection of property, we feel that we cannot let this occasion pass without registering our most cordial estimation of your heroic conduct in the public service."

"I sincerely hope that your efforts will always be crowned with such conspicuous success."

It will be remembered that on Monday night the Grace-Street Baptist church was the scene of a most interesting and a similar gift of $100.

Chief Puller, in behalf of the department, sent letters of thanks to each of the generous donors, and expressed himself as being deeply indebted to the work of the Fire Department. The letter of thanks was sent to the Grace-Street church on Tuesday, and to the Cohen Company yesterday.

DR. J. L. HALL HERE. On His Way to Raleigh to Lecture on Anglo-Saxon Poetry.

John Leslie Hall, Ph. D., Professor of English and History in William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va., and a well-known author and Anglo-Saxon scholar, was in the city yesterday. He was on his way to Raleigh, N. C., where he goes to deliver a lecture on the "Poetry of the Anglo-Saxons."

Dr. Hall has recently written a charming and original work in verse, fashioned upon the Anglo-Saxon poetry of the early days. The book has been widely and favorably received, and has received the most favorable comments of the critics.

Professor Hall is devoted to Anglo-Saxon studies, and is constantly engaged in making research into the manners, language, and customs of these early ancestors of the English race. It is probable that Dr. Hall will have another book upon this or a kindred subject issued from the press in the course of the next year.

The author's most noted work is a metrical translation of Beowulf, the great Anglo-Saxon epic poem.

Union Depot at Savannah. SAVANNAH, GA., April 18.—The contract for the construction of the Union Depot will be let this afternoon to James H. McConkie & Co., of Augusta, Ga., for a sum approximately $165,000. The material to be used is marble, granite, and brick. The approaches will cost over $100,000 extra. The depot will be used by the Southern Railway, the Seaboard Air-Line, and the Plant System. It is to be completed next January.

BRITAIN'S BUDGET.

rence has shown that we have practically reached the limit in the profitable taxation of spirits."

The receipts from the death duties were £1,500,000 below those of the preceding year, but he had better expectations for next year.

WAR EFFECT ON 'CHANGE. The prolongation of the war, and the absence of business on the Stock Exchange, were responsible for the unsatisfactory yield from stamps.

In noting that the yield from the income tax was £1,150,000 above the estimate, the Chancellor remarked that in twelve months the income on which taxation was paid had been increased by no less than £120,000,000.

The total receipts amounted to £120,019,000 and the expenditures to £128,522,000, of which £55,000,000 was for the war in South Africa, £23,000,000 for China, and the deficit, £23,207,000, showed that they had paid £15,413,000 out of the revenue for the cost of the war. The total amount provided by the State last year aggregated the enormous sum of £198,345,000.

NATIONAL DEBT. "As to the national debt," said the Chancellor of the Exchequer, "it stands in painful contrast with last year. But the funded debt has decreased by £1,425,000. April 1st, the national debt stood at £87,500,000, there being an increase of £25,000,000 on account of the war."

Turning to the present year, the Chancellor of the Exchequer said that the total estimated expenditure was £187,000,000. On the existing basis, it was estimated that the revenue would be £122,255,000, leaving a deficit of about £25,000,000.

"How is this deficit to be met?" asked Sir Michael. "I will never be responsible for the fatal policy of paying the whole cost of the war out of loans, without paying a reasonable amount on the taxpayers of the day."

COST OF OPERATIONS IN CHINA. "The real difficulty, however, is not so much the cost of the war in South Africa as the operations in China, as they will increase our ordinary expenditures, even if the war should come to an end."

"I have tried to put before the House a true account of our finances for the present and the immediate future. In our time, no Chancellor of the Exchequer has had so difficult a task, and none has had a more indulgent audience. I have not laid proposals before the House with the view of gaining transient popularity, but I have endeavored to establish a principle of contribution by the whole community to the burdens of the State."

Sir Richard Michael Hicks-Beach concluded at 3:44 P. M., amidst loud applause, having spoken two hours and twenty-six minutes.

ROCKEFELLER COMING AGAIN. The Wide Streets of Richmond Greatly Impressed Him.

Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is coming to Richmond again shortly. This was one of the last things he told Mr. Reuben Burton when the two parted on Wednesday night. He was greatly pleased with the wide streets of Richmond.

The visit of Mr. Rockefeller on Wednesday was the talk of the town yesterday. Every one wanted to know if he was going to buy the Jefferson and rebuild, or if he intended making still further donations to the educational institutions here.

Mr. Rockefeller asked Mr. Burton a great many questions, but gave no intimation of what was passing in his mind. This he did say over and over again, that he thought Richmond a beautiful city. He was particularly impressed with the width of the streets.

He questioned Mr. Burton thoroughly about the educational situation here. He asked especially about all the schools of the city. He asked especially about the progress of Richmond College, which his father has helped, and the Virginia Union University, where his father has erected a handsome structure.

Mr. Rockefeller impressed Mr. Burton as being one of the quietest and most unpretending young men he has ever had the pleasure of meeting. He is about 28 years of age, and is heir to about $20,000,000.

He is a regular attendant upon one of the unpretentious Baptist churches of New York city, and teacher of a Bible class in the Sunday school.

Dr. Hawthorne Will Deliver Address. At the request of the Centennial Committee, Rev. Dr. J. B. Hawthorne has given his consent to make an address at the coming meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention, which will convene at New Orleans. His theme will be "What Baptists Have Done and May Do for the Cause of Religious Liberty."

The Dover Association. It has been decided that the next meeting of the Dover Association will be held at Leigh-Street Baptist church, in this city, on Tuesday after the third Sunday in July.

Anti-Saloon League to Organize. The Richmond Anti-Saloon League will organize in the near future. It is said that the league and the Sunday-Observer League will co-operate in their work in the future.

Personals and Briefs. The Plan and Scope Committee of the Carnival Association will meet to-night in the rooms of the Travellers' Protective Association, at Third and Main streets, and it is probable that a direct vote on Carnival will be elected at that meeting.

Sergeant George W. Eggs, of the Third Division, lost his badge while on duty Tuesday night. He will be glad if the finder will return it to him at the Third Station.

Mrs. Robertson, sister of Mrs. R. A. Gibson, lies extremely ill in Staunton. Dr. Stuart McGuire and Dr. Dunn went to Staunton Wednesday to consult about the case.

Richmond
