An Interesting Lawsuit—Raleigh Base-Ball—Public Matters.

RALEIGH, N. C., June 7.—(Special).—Insurance Commissioner Young says he has succeeded in enforcing the law so strictly that no unlicensed companies are operating in the State. He is after them. In the Senate chamber the taking of evidence in an old and tiresome law suit has begun, before Referee S. F. Mordecai. It is the case in which the State sues Stewart Brothers, of Winston, for something like $10,000.

Stewart Brothers were the public printers under the first Fusion regime, 1876-78, and the State claims they were overpaid some $10,000.

In 1897 Treasurer Worth sued them. On their part there is a counter-suit, they claiming money due them.

There was considerable feeling between the Stewart and Treasurer Worth. One of the chief witnesses is Assistant-Labor-Commissioner Faison.

The official report on Major W. H. Murray's defection in the State Treasury has never yet been made. No reason for the delay is given.

The Raleigh Base-Ball Club has had extraordinary good luck. Though there has been a great deal of rain, it has not had to issue rain checks for a single game. It was expected that there would be two games with Newport News to-day, but the rain broke up that arrangement.

Rev. W. Bonne Daughtry, of Carversville, who recently graduated at the Theological Seminary, at Chester, Pa., has been invited by the Pulpit Committee of the Baptist church here to preach for this church next Sunday, both morning and night.

It is understood that the Rev. Mr. Daughtry is a field of labor, and that it is thought probable that this church will extend him a call.

Mr. Daughtry is a very fine man, a close student, and a good preacher. The commencement exercises of the West Point Female Seminary were held last Sunday night at the Baptist church by Rev. W. L. Britt.

Result of "Truth," was handled in such a way as to call forth a great deal of favorable comment.

Music for the occasion was furnished by the vocal class of the seminary, and was very good indeed.

STEAMERS FOR EUROPE.

Well-Equipped Vessels Now Carry Cargoes from Norfolk.

NORFOLK, VA., June 7.—(Special).—This port is now enjoying the benefits of an independent line of steamship to European ports, and the benefits thereof are, the shipping-men say, manifest in the great and growing export trade of the South.

The concern that is now operating a direct line of steamships out of this port on a frequent schedule is the Vogelsang Steamship Company.

It is the first concern to dispute this territory with the United States Shipping Company, to which the railway lines centering here in large measure turned the trade of the port last year.

It was expected that the diversion of the trans-Atlantic freights to the company, which operates its ships principally out of the port of Newport News, would work great injury to this port.

The heavy customs clearings that have been made through the Newport News Custom-House are largely those of Norfolk traffic, which has been barged across Hampton Roads.

The semi-annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Virginia Normal and Collegiate Institute was held to-day, nearly all the members being in attendance, and Superintendent of Public Instruction Hon. J. W. Southall being also present.

The number of students at the institution last session was 350. The board expresses pride at the admirable and economical manner in which this college is managed, and takes occasion to compliment in the highest terms the Executive Committee of the college, of which Mr. Thomas G. Watkins is president, to whom so much credit for this good management is due.

The strike of the machinists here is on, but it is believed that concessions will be made by the committee that a conference of the foundry owners with the machinists will be held probably to-morrow, at which a satisfactory solution may be reached.

A young man from Charlottesville arrived here this morning and went to work at one of the foundries, but soon after joined the strikers and left the city.

The married men among the machinists are receiving 75 per cent, and the single men $5, which is paid from the strike fund of the International Machinists and the Federation of Labor.

Revenue Agents Lay and Davis have finished their examination of the Internal Revenue office here, and say it is in first-class condition.

The Baker-Campbell Wedding—Progress of Farm Work.

WOODSTOCK, VA., June 7.—(Special).—A very pretty, but quiet, home wedding was solemnized at the bride's home, near Lantz Hill, on Wednesday evening, when Mr. James R. Baker, of Edinburg, and Mrs. Emma Campbell were married by Rev. C. A. Cox, of Lowell, Mass.

Intelligence was received here to-day of the death of Mr. William Buncutter, formerly a prominent resident of this county, which occurred in Ottumwa, Ia., several days ago. Over a quarter of a century ago Mr. Buncutter disappeared from home. His action caused a profound sensation at the time, as it was believed he was murdered. He went West, however, and at the time of his death was wealthy. His death now, at the age of 82 years, clears up the mystery of twenty-five years standing.

A telegram was received here this afternoon, announcing the death of Mr. Charles H. Bredemeyer, a former resident, which occurred yesterday at Roan Mountain, Tenn. Mr. Bredemeyer was a popular traveling salesman for many years, and at the time of his death was general southern agent for Kingan & Co., meat packers, of Indianapolis. He was 53 years of age, and leaves a widow.

A heavy rain-storm, which passed over the western part of the county late yesterday afternoon, so swelled the streams that hundreds of visitors to Confederate Memorial Day exercises here could not cross. At one point 400 people congregated, and later were compelled to pass the night at neighboring farm-houses.

HUNTING BURGLARS WITH HOUNDS. A Rain Intervened and the Dogs Lost the Trail of the Robbers.

SUFFOLK, VA., June 7.—(Special).—A downpour of rain this morning spoiled what would have been a successful blood-hound chase after a band of burglars, who last night entered the grocery store of Richard Skimmer, on Pleasant Hill, carrying off much booty. Detective Branch's two celebrated dogs, John and Tiger, with Deputy Sheriff Norfleet's two dogs, Leo and Wheeler, were put on the trail, and the chase was getting hot when the rain came, which caused them to abandon the run.

DEATH OF A WELL-KNOWN LADY.

A New Charge Against Mr. Stengle—Memorial-Day Programme—Normal and Collegiate Institute Closing—Status of Machinists' Strike.

PETERSBURG, VA., June 7.—(Special). Miss Mary L. Minette died shortly after noon to-day at the residence of her brother-in-law, Mr. M. W. Payne, aged 57 years. For the past several months her health had been precarious. On the 16th of November last she was stricken with paralysis, and this was followed later by a second stroke. This morning about 2 o'clock she died, and a fatal stroke came. Miss Minette had been a teacher in the public schools here for thirty-five years or more, and for many years had been the principal of the Anderson School, on Washington street, the largest in the city. She was a noble-hearted woman, a splendid teacher, and a disciplinarian, highly educated, and one of the most popular ladies in the city.

She was the sister of Colonel Joseph P. Minette, of Washington; of Mr. George A. Minette, assistant postmaster of this city; of Mrs. M. W. Payne, of this city, and of Mrs. W. T. Payne and Mrs. Arthur Gray, of Norfolk.

THE AUSMUS CASE. The Mayor this morning received a letter from A. M. Merriam, of South Acton, Mass., asking for information relative to the Ausmus brothers. He says that Rev. David M. Ausmus was well known there; that he was a student at the Boston University, and had preached for the last three months in the Congregational church in South Acton. He left about a week ago to go home on a vacation. Mr. Merriam further says that Mr. Ausmus is a man of high moral standing, and was liked very much, and are very sorry for his sorrow which has come upon him.

A telegram from Emporia, published in the Dispatch this morning, stating that Rev. Mr. Ausmus was there last evening and was engaged to preach for Dunbarville, in the first intelligence received here of the gentleman's movements since he left his hotel in this city Wednesday afternoon, after writing a note to the Emporia, that he would see him no more, and that he had intended to go to the Appomattox river. He did not pay his hotel bill before leaving, and, as it would seem from the Emporia telegram, he went away in a direction directly opposite the river. No one here believes he intended to drown his troubles in death.

MR. STENGLE'S TROUBLES. Chief of Police Ragland to-day swore out a warrant for the arrest of Charles Stengle, charging him with the larceny of funds that had been contributed by sympathizers in this city for the relief of Mrs. Emmett Slaughter, of Richmond. Early in April last, it is alleged, a box was placed in the care of Mr. F. Stengle for delivery to the Emporia. Later this box was called for, and it is claimed, that it was never returned to the proper custodian of the fund.

The electric-cars are now running regularly on the route of the Southern Railway and Development Company out into Dinwiddie county, and the public have a delightful ride.

On Monday afternoon the annual memorial exercises, in memory of the Confederate dead, will take place in the grand opera house, at 10 o'clock, but impressive. The address on the occasion will be delivered by General Stith Bolling, and the ladies have provided a suitable musical programme.

Mrs. Sophia Lacombe, of Union Forge, died yesterday afternoon, at the age of 55 years.

The prospects of a large yield of fruit around Mount Jackson were never more promising than at present, and especially is this so of the peaches, of which there are a great many acres.

The farmers in this section are very much behind in their work on account of the recent heavy rains, and are pushing their work as rapidly as possible. The wheat harvest and hay-making time are rapidly approaching, and the yield throughout this section will be a very large one. What has been only slightly damaged by the winds and rains, while no complaint has been made this year of the fly, which heretofore has done considerable damage to this crop.

The Shenandoah Valley Dairy and Creamery Company, which was chartered recently, to do business at Edinburg, Va., has secured a good site for the building, which will be erected immediately.

The Milley-Bauserman faction of the Democratic party of Shenandoah county have replied to the communication of the Rhodes-Newman faction, which asked them to postpone the call for primaries to be held on next Saturday, June 8th, until thirty days' notice of same could be made.

The call for primaries was ample. The effect of this reply will be contesting delegations to the Norfolk Democratic Convention, to be held on August 14th.
