TO GET MUCH MONEY.

RETREAT FOR THE SICK WINS A BIG CASE IN LOUISVILLE.

THE BEQUEST OF MRS. STANARD.

Phonology of Her Will Involved.

Doubt, But Court Holds That the Richmond Institution is the One Intended as the Beneficiary.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 25.—(Special.) Judge Sterling B. Toney handed down an important decision this morning at 10 o'clock, settling the case of the Fidelity Trust and Safe Vault Company, trustees of the Richmond Eye, Ear, and Throat Infirmary, and others.

This case, which has been under consideration for more than a year, is an interesting one, as it involves the construction of an ambiguous bequest of $10,000 to "the Infirmary at Richmond, Va."

THREE CLAIMANTS. Under this section there were three claimants, none of them with the exact name set out in the will, but all claiming on collateral grounds.

Mrs. Martha Stanard, who was the testatrix, was a resident of Richmond. Judge Toney's decision is lengthy, and goes particularly into the history of infirmaries and of the law of ambiguities.

He decides the case in favor of the Retreat for the Sick in Richmond, and directs that the sum of $10,000 be paid into the court for the benefit of this institution.

The case was argued first in the Federal Court here, but Judge Evans declined to decide it. It was then removed to Jefferson Circuit Court by consent, and argued before Judge Toney, in February, 1900, by leading members of the bar of Richmond and Louisville.

WHAT THE TESTATRIX MEANT. The decision is lengthy and ends thus: "In conclusion, the Court finds from the record that the Retreat for the Sick is the infirmary in Richmond, Va., contemplated and intended by the testatrix in items 10 and 12 of her said last will and testament, and that it is entitled to the endowment fund mentioned in her said will for the purpose of endowing 70 beds in the infirmary of the city of Richmond, Va.—one in memory of her husband, Robert Craig Stanard, and the other in memory of three sons—Robert, Henry Vic, and Hugh Mercer Stanard."

The trustee, directed to pay the said fund into the court to the end that the same may be withdrawn by the Retreat for the Sick, or its attorneys, as the case might be.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

To a Conductor While Making a Coupling.

BRISTOL, Tenn., July 25.—(Special.)—Captain Robert Bibb, of West Virginia, a popular conductor on the Virginia and Southwestern railway, in an effort to make a coupling on a trestle at Cliff City this afternoon, fell and was run over by a car.

Both the car and the unfortunate man survived the shock only about two hours. He died as he was being carried into his home, on Goodson street. The deceased was 45 years of age and a son of Thomas Bibb, of Kentucky. He is survived by Mrs. Bibb and four children.

Captain Bibb had been in the employment of the railway company for a number of years, and was a valuable man.

ROANOKE.

Two Deaths—Republicans Express Satisfaction.

ROANOKE, Va., July 25.—(Special.)—E. D. Lawson, a well-known citizen, and formerly an employee of the post-office and editor of the Southern Weekly News, died at the Roanoke Hospital from apoplexy, aged 45 years. He leaves three sisters—Mrs. H. A. Washburn, Mrs. M. B. Kinnier, and Mrs. E. B. Spence, of this city. The funeral will take place to-morrow.

This demon will block in length, and a monster to behold. To man this parade properly over 300 gnomes, genii, beards, birds, etc., will be needed, besides the Fire Worshippers and their lackeys, fire-balls, and other novelties.

Director Benson has opened communications with the New York branch of a large Chinese importing house for the purpose of obtaining the needed material for the Fire Demon of the Fire Worshippers' party.

The added industrial and electrical features will greatly enhance the value of the season's event. It is now planned to have about ten electric arches and one grand arch in the fairground district.

The Music Committee reports that many hands will be employed. Chairman Clowes, in speaking of this feature, said, "in attending several affairs of this kind of late, notably the grand carnival at Wheeling, Va., it has been impressed upon me that the music is the life of the party."

Death in Manchester. Mr. Thomas Dunningan, a well-known citizen of Manchester, died last night at his home, at Fifth and Everett streets, of pneumonia.

Enjoyable Lawn Party. The Home for Needy Confederate Veterans, held a good orchestra party at the latter part of this week last parties and concerts upon the large vacant lot at the corner of Main and Fifth streets.
