

THE BOSTON STRIKE GROWS LARGELY.

Grand Total of Idle Men Now 10,000—

Mayor Collins Asks Aid of Civic Federation.

BOSTON, MASS., March 11.—The second day of the great strike of organized labor against the demand of railroad and steamship companies that merchandise deliveries at freight depots by the R. I. S. Brine Transportation Company be not discontinued...

One of the most important developments of the day was the ordering out of the longshoremen at the Philadelphia and Metropolitan Steamship Company's wharves. The vessels of those lines were compelled to depart with only partial cargoes, while the wharves are partially filled with the freight which the men refused to handle.

A strong effort has been made to induce the Boston Central Labor Union, which is the largest of the city's unions, to endorse the strike, by ordering out all its members, and that body has the matter under consideration.

NO WAY OF SETTLEMENT. The State Board of Arbitration to-day had before it President Cox and the Strike Committee of the Allied Freight Transportation Council, but no way of settlement could be agreed upon.
