NORTH CAROLINA SENATOR DISCLOSES NEGROES OF THE STATE. THE REPUBLICAN ATTITUDE. Their Position Regarding the Colored Brother Has Been Misunderstood—He Has Not Been Misrepresented—Won't Help Himself—What the Last Election Indicates.

WASHINGTON, D. C., December 2.—Senator Fritchard, of North Carolina, has issued the following statement with reference to his position on the race question. He has done this after a conference with the President.

AN ERRONEOUS IMPRESSION. It seems to be an erroneous impression to the attitude of the Republican party in North Carolina with respect to the colored voters. When our party met in convention at Greensboro and adopted its platform that insinuated that restricted suffrage in so far as the colored voters is concerned, had been a mistake and was not intended to be considered a political issue in the future if the measure would abide by the pledges made in the campaign of 1900.

There were contesting delegations from the counties in the East, and it was understood that they attended the convention at the invitation of Democratic leaders, and with the sole view of preventing the formation of a strong Republican organization in their respective counties. The delegates selected from these counties were substantially all Democrats, and were selected by small groups of voters. On the other hand, those who contested their seats were selected by citizens, the majority of whom were not entitled to vote, and in some instances these delegates had made incendiary speeches denouncing the National Republican administration, as well as those who are responsible for the management and control of the affairs of the State.

MANY NEGROES IN ACCORD. The committee on Credentials reported in favor of seating one or two delegates from each white and colored county who had been elected by constituents who were legal voters, and who were in sympathy with the movement which has been inaugurated in North Carolina, with a view of placing the Republican party on a permanent basis in the Eastern part of the State. Thousands of colored men are in accord with the movement, realizing as they do that any attempt in the future, by improper arguments and methods to secure the solid vote of the colored people for the Republican party will result in great injury to their race.

There were two classes of people who strenuously objected to the policy adopted by the Republican party, and strange to say, those classes had therefore been generally expected to catch other parties. The Democrats insisted that we ought to make the amendment an issue in the campaign, and a number of misguided colored people insisted that it should be an issue, but the demands of neither were needed and the result of the recent election affords ample proof of the wisdom of the policy adopted by the State convention.

NO DISPOSITION TO SQUELCH HIM. There has been no disposition on the part of the Republican party in North Carolina to prevent colored men from participating as a delegate in any convention to which he may be elected by those who are duly qualified voters; the Republicans in North Carolina simply refused to adopt any policy which has a tendency to create strife and contention among the people of the State. Every one who knows that anything approaching negro domination in the South would result in disaster for the colored race and lasting injury to the white race. These are plain facts that cannot be ignored by those who desire the best interests of the Republican party in the old North State.

While the white Republicans of North Carolina did all in their power to prevent the adoption of the constitutional amendment, yet a majority of the colored voters who were permitted to register and vote in the election of 1900, and at this election voted the straight Democratic ticket, and their action in this respect presents a new phase of the race question. I call attention to the following extract from an editorial in the Raleigh Post, a leading Democratic paper, published the day after the election.

MANY VOTES DEMOCRATIC. "Yesterday's election develops a new problem. A large number of the colored people allowed to vote cast their votes freely and with evident pleasure for the Democratic nominees from top to bottom. This was so in the city and country, and we are informed the same thing took place even to a larger extent in a number of counties. Indeed, we would not be surprised, taking all circumstances under consideration, if the facts could be ascertained that a large majority of those who voted throughout the State yesterday did not vote the straight Democratic ticket."

Here we have the Democratic press boasting that a majority of the colored voters were cast in favor of the Democratic candidates. The editor of the Post goes on to say that the best interest of the State is to be secured in effect to show that the recent election returns early indicate that the Democrats cannot carry North Carolina in the future without the aid of the colored voter. When we come to consider the fact that a majority of the colored voters voted the straight Democratic ticket, voted for the people who had disfranchised their fellows, it can hardly be expected that the Republican party would be willing to permit this class of voters to dictate its policy in the future.

THE HOWARD AMENDMENT. It is a matter of history that the Fifteenth Amendment would never have been adopted at the time it was ratified by the various Legislatures had it not been for the fact that all the Southern States, with the exception of Tennessee, had refused to adopt what was known as the Howard Amendment. The Howard Amendment provided that the Southern States should have representation in Congress, but did not undertake to place any restriction upon the States with respect to the elective franchise. It simply intended to fix the status of citizenship in each State in the Union, and among

I consider Wine of Cardui a most excellent woman's remedy. It is certainly a specific as a uterine tonic and regulator. For eight years I suffered with female trouble and irregularity. I had intense pain in the back and head, leaving me so weak that I was unable to stand at times. Medicine did not seem to help me, but after all remedies had failed me Wine of Cardui proved my one great true friend. What a relief I experienced. It was only a few days after I started taking it, and I used it faithfully for four months and gradually grew stronger and better. My menses which had been irregular and painful now were regular to the day, and for the past two years I have enjoyed blessed good health and hardly know when I menstruate. I certainly wish every sick and suffering woman could know of your blessed medicine, how much pain and suffering it would prevent, and what a difference it would make in thousands of homes where there is sickness and sorrow today. If they had Wine of Cardui it would bring relief and joy instead.

Margret Greenmyre

THERE are thousands of women who are aggrieved by female weakness and half living, half existing. They are unable to fully discharge the duties that give that true significance to the name of "mother". A healthy mother is the soul of a home. And when she is sick she leaves a vacancy which no other can fill. With such a responsibility as this no mother has a right to be sick when it is within her power to be well. No mother, sister or daughter has the right to rob the home of her influence when such a remedy as Wine of Cardui is curing so many sufferers. Wine of Cardui is a medicine that has cured a million women, but it is a mild medicine that may be taken by a child without harm. It is a never failing regulator of the menstrual flow, accumulating many astonishing cures of chronic complaints that have baffled doctors for years. Thousands of doubting women who have given up hope of ever being well again have tested Wine of Cardui and have been joyfully surprised by returning health and strength. They have taken it because the trial costs only the price of the medicine and involves no costly doctor's fees, nor any danger of the operating table. A woman does not need to go to a doctor to tell her she has female weakness. She knows it sooner than anyone else without a doctor's holding a humiliating local examination. Every woman should know that Wine of Cardui always does the same thing and it can be relied on. Wine of Cardui will stop the wasting drains and cutting pains of menstrual troubles, and it will cure ovarian troubles and banish the sharp agonies of bearing down pains and give suffering women health and strength. Wine of Cardui is offered to you with all its power to relieve and cure.

other things it provided that as long as the negro was denied the right to vote he would not be counted in the Federal enumeration. If it had been adopted, there would have been no necessity for the Fifteenth Amendment; and for its defeat the Southern Democrats are responsible. Its adoption would have secured for the Southern man by common consent on the part of the Southern Democrats that which he has not secured under an express provision of the constitution of the United States; for under such circumstances the South could have obtained increased representation only by allowing the colored man to vote.

FIFTEENTH AMENDMENT NOT ENFORCED. Since 1876 it has proved in actual fact impossible to secure the enforcement of the provisions of the Fifteenth Amendment. There has been an almost complete disintegration of the Republican forces in all the Southern States where the colored men compose the party; but in States like Kentucky, North Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia there has been a steadfast adherence to the principles of Republicanism by the white Republicans. In the face of every form of political disaster. At times in North Carolina we have been defeated, but have at all times succeeded in electing one or two Congressmen and on two occasions we secured control of the Legislature and at one time elected a Governor, and have twice elected a United States Senator. We have stood stoutly for the negro's consistently recommended the men in each community most fit for the office sought, and have endeavored to consult the wishes of the good citizens as to whom they desired to have appointed to fill positions wherein the citizens were brought in direct contact with the official. Any other course would have been calculated not only to injure the cause of Republicanism, but to do a great and lasting injury to the colored race by arousing violent racial prejudice. The colored people have been given important positions in the administration, and I am satisfied that the race has received as fair treatment by this administration in North Carolina as it has in any State in the Union.

BREAKING AWAY FROM DEMOCRACY. There is a disposition on the part of the progressive people of North Carolina to break away from the Democratic party, and thousands of them did so at the last election, but the movement is not well under way yet, and while we made gains that are marvelous, at the same time if we adhere to the policy adopted at the Greensboro convention for a sufficient length of time to convince the people that Republican rule will mean just and fair government for all, then North Carolina will be as reliably Republican as Pennsylvania or Ohio. In other words, if we can only fix the status of the Republican party of North Carolina as being analogous to that of Pennsylvania or Ohio—that is to say, that the natural political rights as long as there was any chance to secure them; and now stand stoutly for his rights before the law; and ask only that, as he has shown himself powerless to fight his own battles, he will not now hamper us when we are trying to do all that can effectively be done for him.

TRIED TO DEFEAT THE AMENDMENT. The amendment which was proposed to our Constitution in 1869 was in my opinion in violation of the Fifteenth Amendment, and those of us who believe in the principles of Republicanism and what we could do to secure its defeat. After a desperate struggle it was adopted by an overwhelming majority, and it is now a part of the organic law of our State, and until it is stricken from the Constitution or annulled by the courts we have no alternative but to respect it as the law of the land, and nothing can be accomplished by attempting to keep the question before the people as a political issue. I have been criticized because I would not recommend the appointment of colored people in Eastern Carolina. I have leadership of the party, the intelligence and character of the party, will control its affairs, then there will be no question about our State giving her electoral vote to President Roosevelt in 1904. The result of the recent election should be highly gratifying to those who are opposed to the machine Democracy of the State. It has settled the question as to the number of white people, who, up to this time, vote the Republican ticket. The most extreme Democrats have contended in the past that at least 120,000 negroes voted the Republican ticket, while the more conservative Democrats have insisted that we did not have more than 25,000 white voters in the State, and that the remainder of our vote was composed of negroes. THE WHITE VOTE. The white vote of the State amounts in round numbers to about 300,000. Under the operation of the constitutional amendment at the last election, only about 6,000 colored people were permitted to register and vote, and according to the boasting of the Democratic papers, a large majority of those who did vote supported the Democratic ticket from top to bottom. It is claimed that only 1,000 negroes voted the Republican ticket in the entire State, but in the face of these facts the Republicans polled 881,000 votes for the State ticket, and a Republican vote on the legislative ticket, estimated from the returns of the vote in sixty counties, shows that the Republican vote was about 73,000.

Under the operation of the poll tax feature of the amendment, at least 30,000 white men were deprived of the right to vote, and I am satisfied that at least four-fifths of this number were Republicans. In fact, Senator Aycock, who presided at a meeting of the great majority of those who were disfranchised for non-payment of poll tax were Republicans.

THE LAST MAJORITY. At the August election in 1900, Governor Aycock's majority was about 61,000. At the recent election on the Democratic majority on the State ticket was 67,000. According to the election returns, the Democratic candidate lacked 61,000 votes of a majority of the white votes of the State, and in this election it must be remembered that had it not been for the new vote, their majority would have fallen far below that which Governor Aycock received in 1900.

We have at last reached that period in our history as a State when the Democrats are compelled to admit that they are indebted to the colored people for any increase in their majority. It is received in the way of a majority for their ticket. If the Democrat had been correct in their contention heretofore, as to the number of white Republicans in North Carolina, then our party made up the collected gains of the white people at the last election. The Republican candidate for Governor in 1900 only received 125,000 votes in the entire State, and if the contention that 120,000 negroes voted the Republican ticket at the election be true, then we had only 6,000 white Republicans in North Carolina in 1900, and the vote this year would indicate that we have gained 62,000 white votes. On the other hand, if the contention of those who have said that we had about 35,000 white votes be true, we have gained something over 31,000 white votes on the State ticket, and about 38,000 votes on the legislative ticket. Out of a white vote of 346,000 at the last election, which leaves 108,000 white people who did not vote; and the question naturally arises as to what course this class will pursue in the future. It is reasonable to believe that the white people who have been disfranchised on account of the non-payment of poll tax will vote the Republican ticket at the next election.

AN IMPORTANT ELEMENT. The remainder of those who failed to vote at the last election constitute a very important element in our State. This class is made up of farmers, merchants, laborers and business men, who are unalterably opposed to the Democratic party, and who were not thoroughly satisfied at the last election that the success of the Republican party would not mean negro domination. By the next election there will be no question as to the fact that the white people who failed to vote at the last election, which is really the policy of fair and equal treatment to all men with regard purely to their merits as men, will become the permanent policy of the Republican party in the future, and the result will be that this class of people will take a stand in opposition to the Democracy.

BIG DEMOCRATIC LOSS. The Democrats lost 61,000 white votes in the State at the last election, and these losses were sustained in almost every county in the State, and this, too, in spite of the fact that they made the most aggressive campaign that has been made in the history of the State. They not only had their prominent speakers on the stump, but the Governor of the State quit his post of duty and spent several weeks in campaigning in the different parts of the State, and the result was that the Democratic party sustained the heaviest losses in the Piedmont section and the Western part of the State, at the same time, the election returns disclose the fact that the Republican party has secured a firm foothold among the white voters in almost every county in Eastern Carolina.

The Republican party of our State, at its last convention, amended its plan of organization so as to provide that representation in the future in our State should be based upon the number of Republican votes cast at the previous election and I am sure that every loyal Republican in the State is willing that the next national convention shall represent the State on the basis of the States to the number of votes actually cast by the Republicans thereof. The real Republicans of the South are willing to stand or fall in the future by the record which they make with respect to the white voters in this day, and the will, in my opinion, act as a great incentive to the Republicans throughout the South, and will result in an increased vote for the Republican party in every State south of Mason and Dixon's line.

A RALEIGH DOCTOR'S BRIDE.

Wedding at Kittrell—State Tax Commission's Plans—Charters Granted.

RALEIGH, N. C., December 3.—At the Methodist church at Kittrell this afternoon Miss E. M. Crudup, daughter of Mrs. John Boddie Crudup, was united in marriage to Dr. James R. Rogers, of Raleigh. The attendance was large, Raleigh and other points being represented. The bride is a member of a family of prominence and wealth. Dr. Rogers is one of Raleigh's leading physicians and has a wide acquaintance in this State. His brother, Dr. Cary P. Rogers, of Baltimore, was his best man.

The State tax commission today made its annual report to the Legislature, filing this with the Governor. Chairman McNell of the commission gives your correspondent a statement of the chief features of the report. He says: "We recommend that the exemption of property from taxation be increased to $500 (it is now $25); that poll tax be levied for certain purposes and not for municipal purposes; that the State and county tax rate be limited to 6 2/3 cents on the $100 of property and that the municipal tax rate be so limited that the combined with the State and county rate it shall not exceed $1 on the $100 value of property; that the revenue for State purposes be derived from taxes on incomes, franchises, inheritance, etc. Our plan is to levy no ad valorem taxes for State and pension purposes."

CHARTER GRANTED. The State to-day granted several charters. One to the Hanover Iron Works Company, of Wilmington, capital $20,000; to the Winston-Buller Real Estate Company, of Rocky Mount, capital $50,000; to the Hackney & Moale Printing, Publishing and Bookbinding Company, of Asheville, capital $20,000; to the Charlotte and Wilmington Transportation

AT PREACHER'S DOOR Wilmington's Mysterious Baby Again Deserted and Rescued.

WILMINGTON, N. C., December 3.—(Special.)—The tiny girl baby, scarce a day old, which was spirited away from the James Walker Memorial Hospital and laid at the door of a prominent citizen, and subsequently returned to its young mother, who refused to disclose her real identity, was again taken from the hospital before last, and laid at the door of Rev. George B. Webster, a Methodist minister. The police were apprised of the inhuman conduct of the young mother, and the child was returned again to the parent, with the instruction that unless the babe is cared for by her, an arrest will follow. The mystery of the whole affair is the identity of the young woman, who persists in giving fictitious names. It is believed, however, that she is a member of a prominent family from one of the upper counties, and is making a desperate effort to conceal her name. She came to the hospital alone and entered one of the pay wards. One or two patients in the institution say that they know the young woman's name, but they, too, refuse to disclose her identity, and dismiss the subject with the remark that her family know of her whereabouts and are meeting at the hospital fees. The question with the authorities, however, is to put an end to the inhuman treatment of the infant, and the trouble and mortification it is giving to the hospital.

GLEANEAT AT GREENSBORO. Robert I. Hunter's New Position—Ex-Sheriff Jno. S. Johnson Dead.

GREENSBORO, N. C., December 3.—(Special.)—Robert I. Hunter, of Ashland, Va., who for the past few months has conducted a tea and coffee business here, has been appointed portmaster and secretary of the Virginia Conference to work under his father, the Rev. J. S. Johnson, and will have his headquarters at Richmond, and as soon as he can will go to that place to take up his new duties. A freight car of the track four miles this side of Danville Tuesday, gave the schedules of south-bound trains the best shake-up in the road in a long time. Some of them were delayed as much as six hours. The trucks of the car broke down and great difficulty was experienced in clearing the track. Mrs. Jennie Harvey, of this city, was called to Ruffin Monday night by news that her brother, ex-Sheriff John S. Johnson, had died. She had only returned Monday afternoon from a visit to Ruffin, and the news of her brother's death came as a great shock to her. The deceased was one of the best-known citizens of Rockingham county, having been a State senator, Sheriff and representative. He married Miss Cora Williamson, of Alabama, she being his second wife. He survived by his wife and four children. Right Rev. Abbot Charles Mohr, of Eastern Shore, Tenn., says he will visit Father Vincenz, the priest here, last Thursday at St. Mary's College, Belmont, he was blessed an abbot. His college is in Quincy county, Fla., and has lately been advanced from a priory to an abbey, and he is at the head of it with the title of abbot.
