

OPPOSED TO A NEW PARK

The Grounds and Buildings Committee to Fight.

THAT TRIANGULAR PLACE

It Was the Bone of Contention at the Meeting Last Night—Will Be a Big Fight in the Council Over the Matter.

As a result of the failure of the Finance Committee to prepare in the budget for this year a sum sufficient to erect houses of public comfort at Reservoir and Chimborazo Parks, the Committee on Grounds and Buildings, at a meeting yesterday afternoon, decided to fight with all their power the appropriation setting aside $1,500 with which to acquire a triangular lot at Hanover and Lombardy Streets, which is to be used for park purposes and would come under their direction.

The body was unanimous in this opinion, and nearly every one of them said that had they realized that it was proposed to expend so large a sum for another park site and ignore the improvement of the present places, they would have fought the budget to a hot finish.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED.

While the matter was under discussion there was some talk of having an extra session of the Common Council called that that matter might be given immediate attention, but this is unlikely, inasmuch as a resolution was already adopted requesting the City Attorney to hold up any condemnation proceedings he may have instituted with a view to obtaining possession of the property in question.

It will be remembered that a fight was made on the "triangular lot park item" of the budget in the Board of Aldermen, when an effort was made to have the money transferred to the School Board for building purposes.

But the fight in the Board will sink into oblivion when compared with the "scrap" that will be precipitated at the next meeting of the Common Council, which will be held on Monday next. The committee will exert its utmost efforts to kill the scheme to purchase the new park site and have the money appropriated for the erection of public comfort houses.

It was Mr. Pollock of Jackson Ward, who brought the matter to the attention of the committee, and he met with hearty support on every side. City Engineer Cutshaw had demonstrated to the body that owing to the "safety" allowance given to parks it would be impossible to carry out the long talked of and urgently needed public comfort houses at the resorts about the city.

"We have to have everything completed by June 1st," said the City Engineer, "while it will be impossible to erect any public comfort houses at the parks, as we hoped. We asked for $50,000 and got $30,000. Subtract from this amount the current expenses and you will find that the improvements will have to be out in half."

"What are you to do?" asked several members. "I am to do it," said Mr. Pollock, who had been busy writing, apparently unaware as to what was going on. "In the budget, the document about which you gentlemen are complaining, there was an item of $7,500 for the purchase of a triangular lot at Hanover and Lombardy Streets, which will be used for a park, and will come under the supervision of this committee."

"Now, gentlemen, when we get that additional item under the control of this committee, we will have an additional burden on this committee, while our present holdings must go to ruin for want of improvement. We will be what you call land poor."

Mr. Pollock continued by saying that he had the proposition which he wished to avert such a disaster, and he passed to the clerk two slips of paper, resolutions, after which he explained their purport before they were read.

BOTH WERE ADOPTED.

The first was a resolution requesting the City Attorney to hold up any condemnation proceedings he may have undertaken to acquire the property. Unanimously passed.

The next was a resolution recommending to the Council that the $7,500 for the lot be withdrawn from the budget and be used for another and better purpose, unanimously passed.

During the meeting there developed much opposition to the established custom of paying sick employees while they are away from the hospital, and the paying the salary of the man who takes his place. The matter will be thoroughly investigated and acted upon at the next meeting.

As has been before stated, the committee is displeased with the budget, more so than any other department of the municipality, and another of the consequences is that instead of any work being done on Riverside Park this year, $1,000 worth was allotted for improvements at the place, was apportioned out among other resorts about the city, only $200 being reserved to make necessary little repairs in the case of emergency.

YIELDED GRACEFULLY. Messrs. Whitte and Bottom, of Clay Ward, in which the park is located, yielded gracefully to a motion to disburse the money in other parts of the city after Colonel Cutshaw stated that the necessary and really needed improvements could not be made with the sum. He said that most likely any expenditure there would prove a bad investment, as by next year it would all have to be done over again.

$1,000 of the money was transferred to Monroe Square, on motion of Mr. Bottom, $500 went to Jefferson Park and $500 to Taylor Hill, at the request of Mr. Adams. Taylor Hill was allotted for the purpose of paving the Main Street approach to Libby Hill with granite spalls; $200 was given to Chimborazo.

There was much routine business, and before the body adjourned each member promised to visit the park in his immediate vicinity and report back at the next meeting.

Steering Gear Disabled. (By Associated Press.) LONDON, March 19.—The Atlantic transport Line steamer Minneapolis, which arrived to-day from New York, reports that on March 17th in lat. 41 degrees north, long. 19 degrees west, the body of a man was seen near Captain Brown, which sailed from Port Arthur, Texas, February 25th, via Newport News, March 6th, for Liverpool. The vessel was stopped and it was supposed her steering gear was disabled.

THE MYSTIC SHRINERS

They Added Brilliance to the Confederate Fair.

ARDELLA'S BAND A CARD

Business Brisk at the Various Booths, and Money Coming in Rapidly. Will Give a Bostock Benefit.

Last night was Mystic Shrine night at the Confederate Fair, and a very large crowd gathered in the hall and around the different booths.

Jardella's Band was a feature of the evening, and patriotic airs inspired the hearts of those who listened to them. It was a matter of regret that Little Miss Sullivan, of Washington, who was to have danced last night, was prevented from being present by sickness.

Business was very brisk at the different booths. Mrs. Montague was disposing of a white with the equally bright young ladies. Mrs. John W. Richardson was doing an excellent business at the fancy work booth. The doll contest at this booth will close Saturday night at 10 o'clock, and the prizes will be received later that hour. A smoking jacket and drawn linen for a shirt-waist were among the articles being voted for last night. Mrs. Lawson, Miss Conway Baker and Miss Kolbe will be the table this afternoon. Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Johnson, Misses Skeen, Gray and Hunter to-night.

All the other booths, the music and furniture booths included, seem to be progressing finely, as were the commissary booth and the restaurant. At the tobacco booth a handsome center-piece had been won by Mrs. J. B. Welch. Mrs. Sam Cohen had been donating a box of wrapping paper.

"Bostock Benefit" will be given in the hall from 12:30 to 5 P. M. next Saturday for the benefit of the drug booth. Admission will be ten cents, and a prize of a watch will be given to the person drawing the prize number at the door. Miss Savage won a handsome piece of silver at the drug booth, and her name is prominently mentioned in connection with the raffle. Miss Bodeker's committee last evening included Mrs. George F. Bagby, Mrs. William H. Nelson, Miss Mary Woodhill and Miss Belle Lawrence. The "benefit" Saturday will doubtless attract a large crowd.

A. D. JACKSON, REGENT

He Succeeds Mr. W. T. Dabney Who Has Made a Splendid Record. Shookoe Council, No. 895, Royal Arcanum, held a large meeting last night at the Masonic Temple. A class of fourteen candidates were initiated.

The attendance was large. Much business was transacted. Regent W. T. Dabney, who has made a phenomenal record, resigned, as he considered it proper for officers in his position not to serve two terms, but give the line officers a chance for advancement. The resignation was greatly regretted, but all the members understood that it was an action on Mr. Dabney's part for the benefit of the council's interest. Vice-Regent A. D. Jackson was elected regent, and Mr. W. Woodburn was elected vice-regent, and Mr. George D. Blake elected orator.

The Committee on Anniversary Entertainment reported everything ready for next Friday night, the 27th, at Belvidere Hill. The programme will be announced later. The affair will be up to Shookoe's standard for excellence. Grand Secretary J. B. Blanks and Secretary Stuart Hopkins, of McCarthy, paid Shookoe a visit and were cordially received.

The social session was one of great interest and lasted until midnight. The report that this council would have a burlesque Campbell trial was altogether erroneous.

VALUE OUR FRIENDSHIP

A Discussion of Venezuelan Affairs in the Reichstag.

ATTACK ON STERNBERG

Von Buslow Defended German Minister to This Country—Dreibund, He Says, Will Be Renewed for Purpose of Preserving Peace.

(By Associated Press.) BERLIN, March 19.—In the Reichstag to-day, during the discussion of the foreign office section of the budget, Baron Von Hertles, Center party, referred to the Venezuela affair. He said public opinion at first demanded action, since Germany's honor seemed engaged, but after action had been taken, apparently with success, his opinion changed and doubts arose as to whether it was necessary for Germany to risk so much.

Chancellor Von Buslow said: "The Venezuelan matter was from the very beginning neither a party question of territorial acquisition nor of glory for us, but of a settlement through extraordinary means of business which had been complicated by the debtor's untrustworthiness, whereby, of course, the maintenance of our honor played a part. We were able to establish claim only through common action with England and Italy. It was not merely a question of arranging the matter in hand, but of giving a warning which would serve for the future. The mere money standpoint must not control in such cases. We dare not submit to breaches of the law in America, and we would not need ships or cannons. The Venezuela case was exceptional. We shall not always dispose of such matters through force, but our action will depend upon special circumstances."

"Proof that force was necessary here in government, for the fact that the English government had taken such measures, whereas it is a well known principle of England's commercial policy that everybody investing private capital abroad does so upon his own risk. We found ourselves in the dilemma, that nobody can reproach us with acting without necessity. We dare not submit to breaches of the law in America, and we would not need ships or cannons. The Venezuela case was exceptional. We shall not always dispose of such matters through force, but our action will depend upon special circumstances."

"There was no lack of attempts to create such a disturbance. I here refer, of course, to no government, but to the press, which, through its organs in America, will be doing the governments at London, Berlin and Rome, on the one side, and the United States on the other. The most ungrounded and silliest rumors were circulated, as if we designed to land troops, make conquests or violate the integrity of the South American republics. In such a case, however, an American paper was especially great. It invented an official of its own in the foreign office, who informed the paper that we wanted to swallow Venezuela first, then Colombia, and finally Brazil."

"These perfidious attacks, now discarded, were frustrated through the loyalty of the Cabinets and the confidence in the honesty of our policy. These fantastic and malicious stories, to our satisfaction, failed to produce any effect. Our relations with the United States remained intact, and our demands against Venezuela are to be regarded as accepted, according to the protocol settling the controversy."

THE DREIBUND. The Chancellor then referred to the Dreibund saying: "It will be renewed unchanged at the proper time, which proves it is no accidental or temporary constellation. Its object is the maintenance of the status quo and peace. The Dreibund is the most peaceful, the strongest, the most lasting and the most useful alliance. A formal treaty that the tariff and other questions should not be mixed up with the renewal of the Dreibund."

Professor Hasse, of Leipzig University, Pan-German and National Liberal, said: "I am not satisfied with the settlement of the Venezuela affair. A formal treaty has not occurred. The moral effect of our co-operation with other powers and inviting the intermediation of America will be to increase America's reputation, while our sinks. I attribute to American intervention the hostile attitude of the press. The behavior of our minister, Sternberg, has been of such a character that the United States should pay his salary. I refer to his well-known interview, in which he even accused the late Prince Bismarck's policy as being antiquated. The interview shows to a high degree his vanity, and that the flatteries of President Roosevelt were a strong dose. I have no words in which to characterize his action. He even ventures to place the President on the same level with the German Emperor. Why that an incredible lack of national spirit. One can really call this gentleman Germany's expiatory envoy to the United States."

FOOLISH SENTENCES. Referring to an interview, which the New York correspondent of a Berlin paper had with Minister Sternberg, Herr Oertel, Agrarian, remarked: "I never read more foolish sentences. I do not take it ill of Sternberg that he assembled the commanding generals of the Seventh Great Power (the German expression for the press) around him. He can learn much from them."

Chancellor Von Buslow, in the course of a second speech, repelled Professor Hasse's assertion that Germany could have achieved more in Venezuela. He said: "Professor Hasse is not satisfied with material satisfaction. He wants a special act of expiation. I should like to know what the Professor had in mind. Does he want President Castro to send an expiatory Prince? I admit I got enough with the Chinese expiatory Prince."

Loud laughter followed the Chancellor's last remark. Continuing, the Chancellor rejected Lord Rosebery's statement in the British House of Lords that Germany got more from Venezuela than England had, saying that the advantages were pretty equally divided.

"Professor Hasse and Herr Oertel made sharp attacks on our representative at Washington. I had a strong desire to deny to the printer of the North German Gazette that Baron Von Sternberg used the language attributed to him, especially that he did not say Prince Bismarck's policy was antiquated, nor that he was not satisfied with the settlement, as well as the interests of his own country. The journalists misunderstood Baron Von Sternberg, as he explained in his report to the Foreign Office. I must get the members not to attack the German representative so important a post as Washington for matters which later prove untrue."

AN AMERICAN WIFE. "Professor Hasse also mentioned that Baron Von Sternberg married an American lady. Partitions of our ministers to marry foreigners have been treated differently at different times, which is only natural. Such cases cannot all be decided by the same formula. The principle has been held, especially under Count Von Caprivi, that a German diplomatist must marry only a German woman. Prince Bismarck emphasized the same principle, but he permitted numerous exceptions."

The Chancellor then mentioned cases where Prince Bismarck allowed distinguished German diplomatists to marry foreigners. He referred to the case of General Schuler, who married an American lady, the Ambassador at St. Petersburg, and quoted Prince Bismarck's letter giving him permission to marry an American, as follows: "I refused to grant permission to Count Von Schuler to marry an American woman, because an American would exercise an extremely unfavorable influence upon our relations with the United States which have been so carefully promoted. There are enough tensions at work against us in America, and our refusal would be utilized in a hostile sense."

"I believe, therefore," Von Buslow continued, "that we can apply the same principle to our present representative at Washington. Prince Bismarck took the greatest care to foster good relations with America and our over-sea interests are to-day much more weighty than in the seventies or eighties, and nobody can dispute the relations with America are just as important now."

THE PARK MUSIC

The Contract Again Awarded to Bandmaster Felix Iardella. At a meeting of the Committee on Grounds and Buildings yesterday afternoon the contract for furnishing music at the parks throughout the summer months was awarded to Iardella's band by a unanimous vote. There was no opposition, and members of the committee expressed their satisfaction.

COOL WEATHER COMING THIS WAY

Owners of Peach Trees Advised to Keep Their Eyes on Them. People who have peach trees in their yards with blossoms coming out would better look out, or the crop will be a failure.

The fine weather of the past few days has tended to start buds, leaves and grass, and now comes the distressing news from weather headquarters that it is going to be cold some more, and that frosts, blankets and overcoats are still seasonable.

Farmer Evans was out when he was called upon by a reporter, but his office boy was in. "You will do," said the reporter, as the office boy laid down "Deadwood Dick" and picked up a cigarette. "What are you doing with that?" "I am going to smoke a pipe."

"Well, what of it?" asked the boy. "It is going to snow again before peaches are ripe, or will the frost come down and kill everything, or are we to have a nice, gentle, mild spring and summer, and would it be a good thing for me to go out and get some camphor balls to pack my winter clothes away in?"

"You ask me too many questions at one time," said the boy, as he put his feet on Mr. Evans' desk. "Get me to look at the map a minute. Ah, we are to have rain, followed by a hard frost, and then a little snow, or even frost, and I don't think that any ice will form in the gutters for a day or two at least. There will probably be some snow in Alaska."

"Now, if Mr. Evans were here he'd say that the temperature was falling and that the barometer was showing a good sign, indicating a precipitation. The fact is, that we are going to have cloudy, followed by clear weather, and I'd advise you, though, if you have any peach trees to wrap them up to-morrow night, or at least build a fire under them."

COUNCIL OF MANCHESTER

Will Meet in Special Session This Evening.

DISCUSS LIQUOR LICENSE

Deaths and Funerals—Meeting of Ladies of the City Mission—Birth Day Party of Last Night—Personals and Other Notes.

Manchester Bureau Times-Dispatch. No. 1102 Hull Street. When the City Assembly meets at 7:30 o'clock this evening to consider the question of increasing the liquor license in Manchester, the Mayor will be in opposition in the shape of the liquor dealers of the city, headed by Mr. Ernest H. Wells, an legal adviser and as representative to state the case of the dealers to the Council.

The recommendation of the Finance Committee to the Council is to put the license up to $125 from $80, as it is at present. Opposition to the increase will be pronounced by some members of the Council, and it is known that one member will present a resolution putting the proposed license at $50.

The doctors do not believe they should be called upon for any increase, claiming that they are now paying as much as they can, under the amount of business that is being done. They say that Richmond draws more than half of Manchester's trade.

A joint session of the Council will be held previous to the special meeting of the lower branch for the election of school committee members.

DEATH OF MRS. CRIDDLE. Mrs. Criddle, wife of Squire Robert Criddle, of Swansboro, died at 5:15 o'clock yesterday morning, after being ill for several months. She is survived by her husband for the last ten years, where she was held in high esteem by a large circle of friends. She is survived by several children and grandchildren.

She was a devout Christian, and did much good work during her life. Mrs. Criddle was a member of the West-Bnd Church, from which her funeral will take place at 4 o'clock this afternoon, conducted by Rev. A. C. Barryman.

CITY MISSION ENTERTAINMENT. A meeting of the ladies of the City Mission will be held at the Manchester Bank this afternoon.

Among the important matters to be considered will be the proposition to give an entertainment at Leader Hall about the first week in April for the benefit of the mission fund.

The mission is a newly organized body, and has already secured good during the winter, but it is probable that a few dollars and a sick fund will be the features of the work of the mission during the summer. To this end the proceeds of the proposed entertainment will be placed. A full attendance is requested.

MR. LAMBETH COMING BACK. Mrs. George Lambeth expressed great indignation yesterday at the publication in another paper of a story that she had never felt that he would not return, and that he went away to take what he thought a better position, without telling her beforehand, because he knew that she would oppose his going.

He is heard from Mr. Lambeth yesterday. He is in Augusta, Ga., where he is working, but he told his wife that he expected to return to Richmond soon.

ENJOYABLE TIME. A large crowd enjoyed the features of the birthday party at the residence of Mrs. R. C. Broadbush, No. 118 Fort St. last night. The programme was arranged by Mrs. J. C. Sellings, chairman of the Birthday Committee of the Land-Ahead Society of Bunbridge Street Church. The musical and literary features were especially fine.
