

ROANOKE CARNIVAL

No Dearth of Pretty Girls in the Contest for Queen.

SUCCESSFUL AMATEURS

The Players' Club Have Been Invited to Give Their Latest Success, "Wealth and Matrimony," in Bedford City and Elsewhere.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) ROANOKE, VA., April 25.—Whether it is due to the weather or the many public entertainments, it is not known, but one or the other has been the cause of making the past week a blank so far as home social functions are concerned.

There have been any number of small affairs, a few couples to play cards, or take supper, but no large private entertainment. It is suggested that probably this may be due to the fact that the weather has been so wintry that the ladies could not wear their spring costumes to entertainments and they had laid away party dresses worn before the beginning of the Lenten season.

Anyhow, there has been no large private function and none scheduled for the near future.

The carnival begins on the 4th of May, and there has been a lively contest going on for Queens of the Carnival.

There have been many candidates up, but one after another has withdrawn and at the end of the week, there are only four.

They are Miss Annie Manning, a charming young lady, who is delivery clerk at the postoffice, and has hundreds of friends who have been actively at work for her.

Another candidate is Miss Agnes Dougan, who is stenographer in the clinic office of the Norfolk and Western and has also hundreds of friends who have been working for her.

She is also a very charming and popular young woman. Miss Annie Sexton, one of the prettiest of the young girls, is also a candidate and there are many who wish to see her queen.

They think that in point of beauty, she is best fitted for it. Miss Barbara Boyd, another pretty candidate, is a daughter of Rev. Mr. Boyd, and the young lady is a favorite with all who know her.

The Roanoke Players' Club has been invited to Bedford City to give a performance for the benefit of the Fire Department. They will probably accept the invitation and produce their latest success, "Wealth and Matrimony."

The club has frequently been invited to Bedford and other places near Roanoke, and always attracts large audiences.

The Roanoke Elks are hard at work on their bazaar, which opens on the 11th of May. They have received many contributions, some coming from long distances, and the people of the city have been very liberal.

The bazaar will run for two weeks, and the Elks are figuring on raising a large amount to complete the payments on their building.

The money to be given by the ladies of the Second Presbyterian Church at the residence of Major C. C. Talliferro yesterday was a most interesting and enjoyable affair. A novel feature of it was the display of a mission box, which had gone the rounds of the world collecting as it went.

The Knights of Columbus entertained the Ladies' Society, which acts as an auxiliary, Thursday night at the Y. M. I. Hall. It was a most delightful affair and thoroughly enjoyed by all the participants.

CAPE CHARLES GERMAN

Assembly Dance Given at the Arlington Was a Brilliant Affair.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) CAPE CHARLES, VA., April 25.—Quite the swiftest and prettiest dance that has ever been given in Cape Charles was the assembly dance given at the Arlington Hotel on Tuesday evening. There will be an assembly dance at the hotel every month during the season. At 12 o'clock a supper, such as the gods would provide, was served, consisting of the delicacies of the season, after which dancing was resumed. The elaborate costumes of the ladies gave a brilliant coloring to the scene. The patronesses were: Mrs. Carl Herdie, of Williamsport, Pa.; Mrs. George Jarvis Spady, Mrs. James Wilson and Mrs. Burchell Kellam. The dancers folk were: Mrs. Wine, of New York; Mr. Henderson Travis, Miss George Orton, of Eastville; Mr. Sam Nottingham, of Eastville; Lynn Fisher, Eastville; Mr. Paul Travers, of New York; Etta Ballard, Carroll Sturgis, Evelyn Nottingham, Mr. Waddell Jesse Savage, Walston Tyler, Lois Sterling, of Norfolk; Clifford Goffman, Bessie Crowder, of Keller; L. Storing Nottingham, Laura Nottingham, Clarence Holland, Nannie Nottingham, Irving Nottingham, Ethel Nottingham, Tom Jones; Stags: Will Sharley, Williams, Byrd Downing, Kellams, William Westcott, John T. Watkins, Eastville; C. C. Smithers, Harry Russell, Harry Orton and John and Stetson Goffman.

Visitors in search of fishing and sport are migrating to its mecca, and "the Arlington" have many guests registered.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Tucker Wilkins, who have been at "the Arlington" for the past year, have bought a beautiful home on Third Street, and are now living there.

Mrs. Barney and Miss Barney, of Meadowville, Va., have been visiting Mrs. J. C. Rodgers.

Mrs. Peter B. Smith, after a pleasant visit to her daughter, at Delmar, has returned to Cape Charles.

A QUIET WEEK IN FREDERICKSBURG

Reproduction of Bibl at the Opera House Was an Artistic and Financial Success.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) FREDERICKSBURG, VA., April 25.—This week has been an unusually quiet one socially, owing in great measure to the cool and cloudy weather, but with bright, warm days, there will be a marked change and gaiety will once more be the order of the day.

The reproduction of Bibl at the Opera House last night was the only public event of the week in which the society people were especially interested. It was welcomed with the same enthusiasm which marked its first presentation and the event was in every respect an artistic, social and financial success.

In the past were about sixty young people of the city, who were well fitted by grace, beauty and attainment for their different parts. The floral festivity formed a beautiful picture and the wedding scene with the fairy's wedding ceremony, which was added as a new feature, was most attractive. The proceeds were for the benefit of the Mary Washington Hospital, and a handsome sum was realized.

Miss Annie E. Willis, of Lignum, Culpeper county, is the guest of her relative, Miss Nannie C. Willis.

Miss Rosa Taylor, of Charlottesville, who has been visiting Miss Mary Gordon Wallace, has returned home.

Miss Carroll W. Wellford, of Sabine Hall, Richmond county, has been the guest this week of Miss Fannie Tucker Cutchin.

Mrs. J. Edward Tyler, of Baltimore, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Scott.

Miss Lucilla Yates is spending some time at Kenmore, the suburban home of her relatives, Mr. D. R. Miller and family, near Baltimore.

Mrs. John R. Linder, of Brazil, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. A. Henderson.

Mrs. Willis of Sta. Charles, Pa., is the guest of Mrs. John T. Goodrick and Miss Chow, of the same place, who are visiting Mrs. J. Arthur Taylor and family.

Mr. J. Samuel Spicer and wife, of Winchester, Pa., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Holden, of Chase City, who have been the guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Mullah.

IN DINWIDDIE

Old Virginia "Break Down" at the Home of Mr. W. M. Sterne.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) DINWIDDIE, VA., April 25.—The hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Sterne, at this place, was thrown open last evening, the occasion being a reception and an old Virginia "breakdown," given in honor of Miss Elizabeth Neely, of Portsmouth. The rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers of the season, such as smilax and dogwood. About midnight the guests partook of a fine supper, and the punch bowl, a most popular resort, was presided over by Misses Elizabeth Neely, of Portsmouth, and Anne G. G. Smith, of Richmond. A string band from Petersburg furnished music for the evening, and the young people danced until daybreak to its sweet and inspiring strains. Among those present were Misses Elizabeth Neely, of Portsmouth; Rena Fitzgerald and Anne G. G. Smith, of Richmond; L. M. Boisseau, Alma and Laura Harris, Emily Elizabeth Baskerville, Lilla B. Lucy, Bessie Alley, Mary and Evelyn Boisseau and Mrs. C. J. Brown and Mrs. O. J. Boisseau, of Dinwiddie. The gentlemen present were Everett Chambers and Benjamin Dobney, of Petersburg; Dr. W. H. Lippitt, S. Y. Gilliam, John Batte, Thomas Montague, Netherlands, Percy Doyle, R. B. Lewis, M. Adkins, A. G. Butterworth, Jr., Howard and Ben Butterworth, Preston Boisseau, R. A. Thrift, F. O. Brister, John Boisseau, J. M. Reese, Algie Boisseau, M. B. Branch, Jr., G. A. Boisseau and L. M. Applewhite, of Dinwiddie county.

IN GLOUCESTER

Marriage of Miss Cooke Recalls an Earlier Marriage in the Family.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) GLOUCESTER, C. H., VA., April 25.—The marriage of Miss Olga Mordcaid Thrommer Cooke, of Gloucester, and Mr. Floyd LeCato, of Delaware, which was solemnized lately at Rose Cottage, the home of the bride's aunt, Miss Mary Cooke, recalls the story of "Mordcaid Cooke," of "Mordcaid's Mount," an ancestor of Miss Cooke. The story runs thus: In the early days of the colony, when the gentler sex were not much in evidence, a ship appeared in the Ware River loaded with English ladies. The gentry of Gloucester were just then on the point of a red fox. Mordcaid Cooke, not being willing to give up the fox and wanting first choice of the ladies, paid the captain a good sum to keep the patches down till the chase was over, when he appeared with the brush, and choosing a buxom red-haired lass (Joan Constable), went his way home rejoicing.

ST. ALBANS GERMAN

Followed by the Dance of the Radford German Club, a Brilliant Affair.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) EAST RADFORD, VA., April 25.—The Easter german at St. Albans on Wednesday night was one of the enjoyable affairs after the breaking up of the Lenten season. The german was under the auspices of the St. Albans German Club, of which Mr. F. M. Moseley, Jr., of Alabama, is president. Twenty couples occupied the floor, and several persons were present who did not dance. Professor C. Ashby Henry, with Miss Gertrude Venable, led.

Mrs. Ernest Mitchell, of Bloomington, Ill., is spending a few days with her friend, Mrs. William Ingles.

Messrs. R. C. Munger and Edgar Chancellor, of St. Albans, boys, but now of the University, are visiting friends at the school, and took part in the german Wednesday night.

Miss Sue Hampton Tyler is training a troupe of children and youths preparatory to giving an entertainment, "The Frolic of the Holidays," on May 1st, for the benefit of the Presbyterian Church.

The Radford German Club gave a german at the cottilion rooms Friday night, and it was quite an elegant affair.

Mrs. Frank Cassel has gone to West Virginia to spend a few days with her parents.

General G. C. Wharton, one of the last surviving generals of the Confederacy, has been quite sick, but is now much better, and hopes to be well enough to attend the New Orleans reunion.

NORMAL AMATEURS
