

WILL OPEN THE EXHIBIT

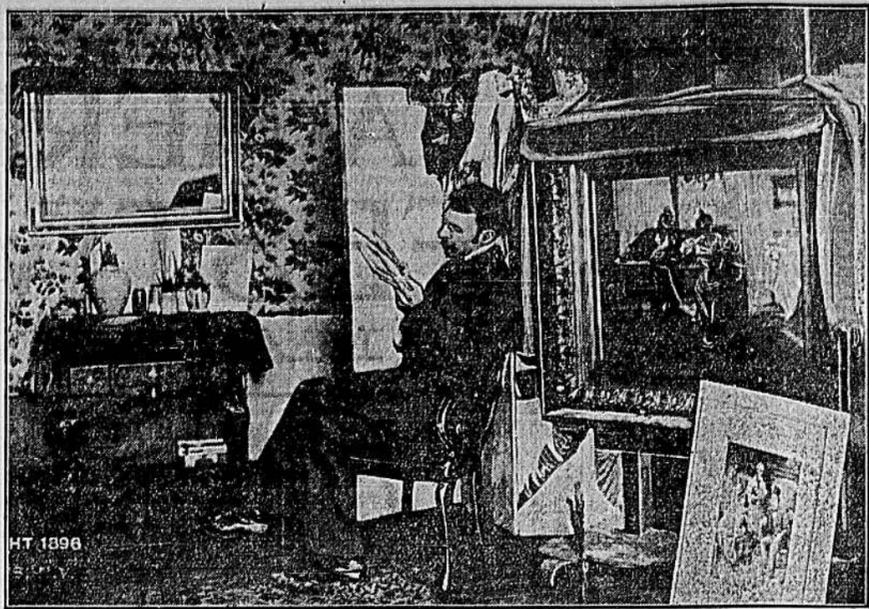

Art Club's Spring Event to Begin To-Morrow.

WORK OF BEST ARTISTS

Some of Those Whose Masterpieces Will Be Seen Here—Visitors Will Be Received To-Morrow by the Committee on Reception.

The spring exhibit of the Richmond Art Club will open to-morrow in the Greenhaw building, corner of Adams and Main Streets, under particularly happy auspices.

Never before in the history of the club have so great a number of the finest artists from great cities been represented at an exhibit by such numerous and splendid examples of their work. All day Friday and Saturday pictures were being hung, and all things were being put in order.

BENJAMIN WEST CLINEDINST, OF NEW YORK.

called "Olive," and was a portrait of a little girl in pink, the golden hair, big innocent eyes and the daintily modeled limbs of childhood showing with unstudied effect against the tapestried arm chair and hangings behind her.

Mr. H. M. Walcott, of New York, who will be remembered by his exhibition contributions of last year, and will be represented again this year, won the first Hallgarten prize at the recent exhibition of the National Academy of Design for his picture entitled "At the Party."

Other artists of note will be the portrait painter, Miss Anna Egan, of Washington, D. C.; Mr. Charles C. Curran, of New York, who has sent a number of views of the Jungfrau; Mr. Hobart Nicholas, the well known water-colorist of Washington; Miss Althea E. Soloman, of Washington; Miss Hattie E. Burdette, a Washington pastellist; Mr. R. M. Shurtliff, of New York, already and favorably known in Richmond; Mr. Walter L. Dean, of Boston; Mr. W. Verplanck Birly, of New York; Miss S. E. Pierson, of Alexandria; Miss Clara H. Saunders, of Washington; Miss Matilda Muedon, of the same city; Miss Clara T. McChesney, of New York; Mr. James Symington, of New York; Mr. Arthur B. Davies, of New York; Mr. W. L. Lathrop, of New Hope, Penn.; Mr. and Mrs. Kenyon Cox, of New York; Mr. Charles Warren Eaton, of New York; Mr. William Ritschel, of New York; Mr. Melbourne N. Hardwick, of Boston; Mr. J. D. Woodward, of New York; Mr. Luis Mora, of New York; Mr. Frank Verbeck, of New York; Mr. Ed-wherever it is thought copper may be found. As the syndicate which is now buying is a new one, it is generally believed that it will make a "clean sweep" of the land owners are jubilant at the prospect of selling all the hidden wealth in that rock-ribbed tobacco.

The American Tobacco Company have begun to enlarge their plant here; the building is to be erected at once. The present machinery is inadequate, and the new building and machinery are completed the capacity will be 75,000 pounds daily; therefore it has not been half that amount. The sales of tobacco are light, lasting only a few hours each day. Fertilizer agents report the sales as quite large during the season. Tobacco plants are plentiful, and a great deal of land has been well prepared for transplanting. If it would rain the great bulk of the crop could be planted within a few days.

Wheat and oats are looking yellow. The crop will be a very short one, no matter how favorable the weather may be from now until harvest. Farmers report that chinch bugs and fly have nearly ruined the crops in many sections.

Beautiful painting. The painting, which is very beautiful, is that of a young woman in a shadowy room, leaning forward with her left hand clasping the neck of a cello. The ray of sunshine falls upon the hand and it has been said ever there was sound in a picture it is in a picture.

Mr. A. W. Buhler, of Boston, famous for his marine pictures, sends a characteristic painting called "Reminiscences." It shows the interior of a fish house, with the nets hanging from the rafters. An old skinner sits in a chair, his pipe in between his fingers, but he has forgotten to smoke and is leaning forward, looking through a little window, to where a line of fishing boats shows against the distant horizon. There is a wonderful expression in the figure that appeals to all who see it.

Mr. J. H. Moser, known as widely for his fine work as art critic of the Washington Post, and from that he is president of the Washington Water-Color Club, the winner of the first Corcoran prize for water-color, a medalist of the Atlanta and Charleston Expositions, an instructor in water-colors at the Virginia School of Art, and painter whose individuality of tone and treatment have won him a distinctive rank among the artists of the day, is already a Richmond favorite. His work, "Sunrise at Virginia Beach," being specially admired at the exhibit of the Art Club last year.

Visitors to the annual New York, Washington and Baltimore exhibition at the Corcoran Art Gallery are familiar with Mr. Moser's style as a water-colorist. He will have a number of pictures at the exhibit in this city opening to-morrow. One of his best is a picture called "Morning on the Upper James." All are characterized by the freshness and delicacy of touch which make a great charm in whatever comes from Mr. Moser's hand.

Mr. B. West Clinedinst, a leader in American illustration and a contributor to the exhibit, is the director of the Columbian University, Washington, D. C. Mr. B. West Clinedinst, a leader in American illustration and a contributor to the exhibit, is the director of the Columbian University, Washington, D. C.

Mr. Walter Paris, of Washington, whose name appears in the catalogue of this year and whose paintings cannot fail to claim attention from the visitors to the exhibit, has in his catalogue "Sunrise on the Upper James." Educated as an architect, he was for many years architect to the government of Bombay, in India. He founded the "The Club, of New York," in 1877 and was its president. He is a water-color artist and drawing at the Royal Military Academy of Woolwich, England. Mr. Paris has made a wonderful reputation through his representation of snow scenes, which his paints with great effectiveness and realism.

THREE WATER COLORS. Mr. Edmund H. Garrett, of Boston, has chosen to be admired in Richmond, in May, 1908, by three water-colors done in one of his favorite working places, England and North Devon. Mr. Garrett has received his art education under such French masters as Boulenger, Lefevre, Hector Leryux and Laurent. Mr. Garrett has infused old English folk lore into much of what he has painted. The same quality is apparent in his New England coast sketches, where the savagery of the "Rock Bound Region" has crept into the fishermen's faces and the gloom overshadowing Hester Prynne is reflected in his New England type of womanhood. Mr. Garrett is an author of uncommon merit as a painter. The artistic temperament being as marked in one direction as in the other.

Mr. Kenyon Cox, of New York, who has sent two pictures to Richmond, won at the twenty-fifth annual exhibition of the Society of American Artists in New York this spring the Julia A. Shaw prize of $50 for the best work of art exhibited by a woman. Her prize picture was of his landscapes are held. SCHOOL OF IMPRESSIONISTS. Mr. Weyl is especially noted as a landscapist. He belongs to the school of impressionists and is a daring color painter. He is very fond of mountain scenery, and has taken for his subject numerous views in the Adirondack Mountains and in the Warm Springs Valley of Virginia. He is the annual autumn guest of Mrs. Eubank at the Warm Springs, and there are few spots anywhere around that celebrated resort, far or near, that have not been explored by the artist.

Miss Bertha E. Perrie, of Washington, whose water colors show her art preference, has received high commendations as an exhibitor in Washington, New York and Philadelphia, where her pictures take rank with the best things shown.

Mr. Louis Pottar, of New York, whose versatility enables him to send examples in sculpture, water colors and etchings, proves the truth of what has been said about his work by a skilled critic, to the effect that "All castles open easily to the man who carries the key of skilled draftsmanship."

Miss Clara Hill, of New York, who is attracting attention in New York by her expert in modeling, and her artistic sense in conception, has sent to the exhibit a number of bronzes and plaster bas-reliefs.

Mrs. Jane Bridgman Child, known as one of a remarkable group of Washington pastellists, sends two portraits, which illustrate her talent and originality in touch and technique.

Mr. Everett L. Warner, whose "Revel of Green and Gold" was a thing which all Richmond people were delighted with last year, has this year two oil paintings and a water color. At the seventh annual exhibition of the Water Color Club in Washington the first Corcoran prize of $100 was won by Mr. Warner. Of a painting shown by him then the art critic of the Washington Post said: "It is so fine in technique, tone and art quality that it is a picture to live with—simply a joy to recall."

Other artists of note will be the portrait painter, Miss Anna Egan, of Washington, D. C.; Mr. Charles C. Curran, of New York, who has sent a number of views of the Jungfrau; Mr. Hobart Nicholas, the well known water-colorist of Washington; Miss Althea E. Soloman, of Washington; Miss Hattie E. Burdette, a Washington pastellist; Mr. R. M. Shurtliff, of New York, already and favorably known in Richmond; Mr. Walter L. Dean, of Boston; Mr. W. Verplanck Birly, of New York; Miss S. E. Pierson, of Alexandria; Miss Clara H. Saunders, of Washington; Miss Matilda Muedon, of the same city; Miss Clara T. McChesney, of New York; Mr. James Symington, of New York; Mr. Arthur B. Davies, of New York; Mr. W. L. Lathrop, of New Hope, Penn.; Mr. and Mrs. Kenyon Cox, of New York; Mr. Charles Warren Eaton, of New York; Mr. William Ritschel, of New York; Mr. Melbourne N. HALIFAX COPPER Mines in Operation for Several Years and New Shafes Being Sunk. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) SOUTH BOSTON, VA., May 16.—New life is being infused into the copper-mining business in the "High Hill" section of Halifax. The mines which have been working for several years are still in operation, and new shafts are being sunk in other localities. A northern syndicate is buying all the mineral rights signed the charge of all his churches in Halifax. His field will be in Charlotte exclusively after August 1st. Mrs. S. M. Klein, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. R. M. C. Glenn, of New York, has returned home.

At the meeting of the Richmond Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, last Wednesday afternoon in Lee Camp Hall, Mrs. Randolph presided. Arrangements were made for the presentation of crosses of honor on the evening of June 3d (Jefferson Davis' birthday) to those veterans who make application before May 20th. The crosses will be pinned on by the presidents of the Memorial Associations.

Mrs. Randolph has written to ask of Secretary Wood the appointment of Colonel Knauus, of Ohio, as commissioner to mark Confederate graves, provided the bill to mark these graves shall pass next year.

Mrs. Randolph will go to the Lynchburg convention next week, instructed by the Richmond Chapter to vote for the union of the two divisions of the Daughters of the Confederacy in this State. The two divisions are known as the First Virginia and the Grand Division. The Virginia Division was the first to receive its charter; the Grand Division the first to organize.

Nothing to promote union has been held in Lynchburg, Norfolk, Appomattox and Richmond, but because each division wished to retain its own badge and name, the consummation desired by a large number of both divisions, forming the largest organized society of women in the State. It is claimed to be the largest organized society of women in the South. Among the Virginia chapters Appomattox was the fourth formed, and the eleventh in the National United Daughters of the Confederacy, being about the first among the many hundreds of chapters taking an active part in helping to form both State and national constitutions. Virginia was the first State to form a Division. A prayer for the required number to form this division.

McCull—Burwell. An interesting wedding of next week will be that of Miss Sarah Burwell, the daughter of Dr. Louis Burwell, to Mr. Reginald McCull, of England. Dr. Burwell formerly resided at Mount Savage, Md., but several months ago moved to Clarke county, Va., where his family has lived for several years. The nuptials will be solemnized on Saturday, May 23d, at the historic Protestant Episcopal Church at Millwood, Clarke county. After their marriage the couple will reside in New York.

Marriages of Last Week. Among the weddings of last week's calendar was that of Miss Florence Neblinger to Mr. James Ellison Failing, of Washington, which was celebrated in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Anthony, of No. 815 West Grace Street, the Rev. John Y. Downman, of All Saints' Episcopal Church, officiating.

The ceremony was performed in the front drawing-room, where the bay window was filled with palms and banked with daisies. From the net draperies festoons of smilax were caught on either side to form a sort of altar. The bride wore silver candelabra with tall white waxen tapers. The bride entered on the arm of Mr. Joseph Anthony, her father. She was very beautiful and graceful. Her wedding gown was white crepe de chine with a border of rose-point duchesse lace, a treasured family possession. Her veil was fastened with lilies of the valley, and she carried a superb bouquet of the latest flowers in her hand. The groom, with his best man, Mr. J. Warren Knepp, of Roanoke, advanced to meet the bride and her father at the altar.

There were two maidens of honor, Miss Betty Mearns, and Miss Julia Walton, and four ushers—Mr. H. Seldon Taylor, Jr., Mr. Walter Slicer, of Roanoke; Mr. Templesteece Laguna, of Porto Rico, and Mr. Thomas G. Anthony, the brother of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Failing are spending their honeymoon at Hot Springs, Va. Other weddings included those of Miss Mary Prescott Atkinson, the daughter of Mr. T. E. Atkinson, of Nottoway Court-house, to Mr. Charles Fitzgerald, the deputy clerk of Nottoway county, which took place in the parlors of the Dupuy Hotel; Miss Katharine Wortham Burrows to Mr. William Elmore Seal, in the home of the bride, No. 323 South Third Street, the Rev. Dr. George Cooper, of the First Baptist Church, performing the ceremony; Miss Alice V. Grady to Mr. Cincinatus W. Tyler, in Washington, last Monday.

Burwell—Eckles. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stith Eckles have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Nellie Leigh, to Mr. Robert Page Burwell. The wedding is to take place at the home of Mrs. T. B. Waddell, of Greensboro, N. C., Wednesday, May 20th, at 9 P. M. Miss Jane Ann Eckles, sister of the bride, will act as maid of honor, and Mr. Frank Stringfellow Burwell will be the best man.

Both parties are well known and very popular in Richmond. The prospective groom for a number of years has been employed in the home office of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia. After a short stay in Washington he will bring his bride to Richmond, and they will be at home to their friends in No. 5 North First Street.

May Queen Fete. A May Queen Festival will be given under the auspices of the Board of Lady Managers of Chimborazo Hospital Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons at 4:30 o'clock, May 26th and 27th. The fete will be held in St. Patrick's school-yard, at the corner of Grace and Twenty-sixth Streets. A May pole dance by twenty children will be a most interesting feature. Cream and home-made candy will be served. The May Queen character cast is given in full, as follows: Herald.....Miss Alice O'Brian. Queen.....Miss Evelyn Harrison. Over the Door-Mats.

There is one society whose members can be instantly detected, for they wear its badge publicly. It is the society of well-shod women who wear "Dorothy Dodd" Shoes. The stylish woman is easily known by her shoes. When the fashion writers talk of "the Style of a Dorothy Dodd Shoe" they mean it has the distinction which attaches to the leaders of society.

A woman may be on the outer door-mats of society, but if she wears stylish shoes her feet have entered the sacred portals at least. I need not claim that my shoes are stylish; every fashion writer in this country has claimed it for me. Sincerely yours, Dorothy Dodd

Owing to the inability of the leader, Mrs. Ramon D. Garcia, to be present, and the absence from the city of the vice-leader, Mrs. George L. Currie, St. Circle of Kings Daughters will not meet Monday afternoon. The next regular meeting will be with Mrs. William Crump, of No. 2700 East Broad Street.

Brook Avenue Sewing School closed last Friday. The names of the pupils who, by unbroken attendance, deserve special mention are Miss Mary McDonough, Miss Helen McDonough, Miss Estelle Herbig and Miss Mamie Herbig.

Miss Rose Caperton, of Monroe county, West Virginia, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Randolph Caperton, of No. 20 Howitzer Place.

Mrs. Andrew Gray expects her mother, Mrs. John Springer, and her cousin, Miss Hewlett, of Wilmington, N. C., to visit her soon.

General and Mrs. J. Ford Kent, of Troy, N. Y., have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Sedgewick Kent, to Captain Claude Hamilton Miller, which will take place in St. Paul's Church at Troy Wednesday, June 3d, at noon. Captain Miller, who is a son of Mr. Thomas C. Miller, of Lynchburg, and is stationed at the West Point Military Academy.

The second class recital given by Miss Effie Aylett Cofer and Miss Malen Burnett took place at Miss Cofer's home, No. 1117 East Clay Street, at 4 o'clock last afternoon and was a most creditable affair. The regular army, is a son of Mr. Thomas C. Miller, of Lynchburg, and is stationed at the West Point Military Academy.

Miss Malen Burnett will be the guest of Miss Cofer after Tuesday next until Thursday, when both young ladies leave for New York. They will sail for Europe on Saturday, May 23d.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman Allan, after spending the past four months at different resorts in Florida, will sail May 21st on the Clyde Line steamer "Comanche" for New York, to visit Mrs. William R. Pryor, Mr. Allan's sister.

Miss Lucille Savage Alvey is now in Ashville, N. C., where she will spend a few weeks with her aunt, Mrs. Richard Alvey.

Mrs. G. V. Vere Tyler's humorous sketch in Appomattox for May, under the title of "Naming the Baby," has for the latest morsel in the "arming little" daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Leslie Blair, of this State. Mrs. Tyler is remembered in Richmond as Miss Powell, and is much admired by her friends here for her cleverness and strength in conception.

SPECIAL NOTICE. Mr. James H. Westfall and Mr. Walter R. Smith have formed a partnership, and are now located at No. 6 South Seventh Street, where they will be pleased to take orders for sign painting, Sunday-school and society banners. We make a specialty of gliding on glass.

MISS BLANCHE MORGAN, Directress of the Lady Nicotine Stock Company, who made such a brilliant hit in "Chopsticks and Spikins," given at the Academy April 30th.
