An exceedingly pretty home wedding took place in the home of the bride's parents, No. 250 East Marshall Street, when Miss Annie Maria Davis was married to Mr. Edward Ernest Wingfield, the Rev. Preston A. Cave, of the Third Christian Church, officiating.

The groom attended in white flowers and naparagus, and ferns were graceful and artistic. Mrs. William L. Dowell, of Gordonsville, struck the check of $200.00 which she presented at the bride's parlor.

The maid of honor, Miss Ella Mildred Smith, of Chester, was beautifully attired in biscuit-colored London tweed, garnished with medallions of coral lace applique. A row of white buttons, of cotton-plaited and embroidered chiffon, veiled touches of turquoise blue panne velvet. POPE LEO IS FAILING Consistory Yesterday May Be Last He Will Hold.

HATS FOR THE CARDINALS

New Appointees Kissed the Pontiff's Feet, and Received Their Red Hats as Cardinals and Rings as Princes of the Church.

(By Associated Press.) ROME, June 25.—The public consistory, postponed from June 18th, was held today with much pomp and circumstance and additional interest and reverence, for in spite of the news concerning the Pope's health, many persons believed this would be the last consistory under Leo XIII. The assemblage gazed at the venerable Pontiff with intense curiosity, and there was redoubled enthusiasm in the cries "Long live Leo!" He looked a little more wax-like, a little more bowed, his voice was somewhat thinner, and it was evident that his attendants were anxious.

The Pope smiled and blessed the crowds as he passed. In fact, at times he tried to rise so as to better impart his benediction, and it was only when he descended from the sedia Gestatoria that his extreme weakness was apparent. The ceremony was made as short as possible in order to lessen the Pontiff's fatigue.

The Pope sat on the throne facing the broad-covered benches in the form of a square, on which the cardinals were seated.

KISSED POPE'S FEET. The new cardinals present who were to receive the red hat from the Pontiff, according to custom, first took the oath, and were then ushered into the Sala Regia, where they were greeted by the master of the ceremonies. On approaching the Pontiff he kissed the feet of each cardinal, and then the Pope then gave them the double embrace. The new cardinals afterwards embraced the other cardinals. Returning to the Pontiff each of the new cardinals then kissed his feet and his hand, and the Pope then gave them the double embrace.

The Pope then arose, bestowed the apostolic benediction, and preceded by the pontifical cross, the cardinals and his attendants, impressively retired. Subsequently the Pope re-joined the cardinals in the Sistina Chapel, and the Pontiff announced the new episcopal appointments. In such appointments all had been announced from time to time.

The postulants for Archbishop Farley, Archbishop Quigley and Bishop Orth then entered the hall and were introduced by the secretary of the prelacy. They were represented, which was granted. They will be delivered to-morrow. The function ended with the Pope giving the new cardinals their rings as princes of the church.

MAY CAUSE ILL FEELING

President Will Send Jewish Petition to the Czar.

MAY REJECT THE PAPER

Thought Hardly Possible that Russian Government Will Receive It, and the Incident May Cause Rupture of Pleasant Relations.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—The President has decided to transmit to the Russian Government the petition presented to him by the Executive Council of the B'Nai B'Rith regarding the treatment of Jews in Russia.

This action has been taken after mature consideration. At first it was decided that the petition should not be presented because it might be resented by the government of Russia and lead to a response that would cause a break in the relations of the two countries. However, the first conclusion has been reconsidered by direction of the President, and the petition will now go forward. What the result will be is problematical.

Upon learning that the government of the United States had decided to forward the petition to the Russian Government, Count Cassini went to the State Department and consulted with Secretary Hay.

MAY BE REJECTED. The call of the ambassador upon Secretary Hay was shorter than usual, but it developed officially the fact that the government of the United States intended to forward the Jewish petition to the czar if possible to do so. At the White House conference on the 15th instant the Jews had made the point that the czar was kept from a knowledge of the truth as to the condition of the Jews in his empire by the bureaucrats, who hedged him about on all sides, and they were sure that if the President would only assist them in laying their case before the czar himself he would at once adopt measures to alleviate their condition. The President at that hearing promised to do what he could.

If there is to be a refusal on the part of the Russian Government to receive the Jewish petition, the United States charge of embassy at St. Petersburg, will fall the mortification, for the ambassador, Mr. McCormick, has not yet returned to his post from his recent mission to the czar. It is entirely possible that what happens at St. Petersburg when Mr. Riddle undertakes his disagreeable task may delay the ambassador's return to St. Petersburg indefinitely. Of course, in such a case, Count Cassini, who is sailing a week from today for Russia, might make a correspondingly long stay at home.

PRESIDENT HEARS FROM THE EMPEROR

He Thanks Him for Sending American Squadron to Kiel and Assures a Welcome.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—President Roosevelt today received the following cablegram from Emperor William: "Kiel, June 25, 1903. 'President of the United States of America, Washington: Upon my arrival at Kiel I was greeted by a fine American squadron and had the pleasure of receiving Admiral Cotton and his captains. It was a very happy and kind inspiration on your part to send the squadron to Kiel for the week, and, thanks to this fact, I was able to inspect the magnificent flag-ship Kearsarge to-day, when I was able to compliment the captains on the exceptionally good state of efficiency and neatness of the ship and the fine appearance of his gallant crew. With the expression of my warmest thanks, I assure you that the squadron is warmly welcomed here, and will, I trust, make an agreeable stay. Everybody will vie with each other to make them feel at home, in response to the kind and friendly reception of my mother by the citizens of the United States. (Signed) 'WILLIAM I. R.'"

Nothing seems to count against the attractiveness of the Bijou Musical Comedy Company in its latest and greatest success, "The House That Jack Built." It is not only that the play is attractive, that it is beautifully staged and cleverly acted, but because it gives every member of the company a chance to display his or her talents in an extraordinary degree. A special instance of this is pretty Mary Marble. For two of the three acts she is missed altogether from the cast, but when in the third act, she puts in an appearance, she arrives unexpectably. It is doubtful if she has ever done anything more breezy and delightful than her sketch of the music hall artist. She wears a stunning gown, sings a rattling song, does a graceful and dainty little dance and, in the end, she sings the best lines in the piece to speak, which she carries off with that intangible way of hers. The company will fill out the week at the Bijou, and it will be found a delightful relaxation from the strain of living in these strenuous days of strikes and their concomitants.

KING PETER TAKES OATH OF OFFICE

Swears to Maintain the Constitution of Servia—Ministry Is Confirmed.

(By Associated Press.) BELGRADE, June 25.—Amidst great enthusiasm King Peter this morning took the oath before the Skupschina. Subsequently he held a review of the troops.

The president of the Senate opened the joint session with the announcement that the King would take the oath to maintain the constitution. King Peter then appeared, wearing his orders and other decorations, and accompanied by the cabinet ministers.

The Metropolitan uttered a brief prayer and then read the oath, which the King repeated in a firm voice. Loud cries of "Long live the King!" punctuated the King's repetition of the oath.

All present joined in singing the national hymn. King Peter this afternoon confirmed the appointments of the existing ministry. During the day the King had several conferences with the ministers, and a royal proclamation was issued and well received.

It is believed that the question of the punishment of the assassins of King Alexander and Queen Draga will be allowed to lapse.

At the Theatres.

In passing upon the merits of the Dalton Stock Company, it must, of course, be borne in mind that the original plan of the company was to produce that perfection is not to be expected when half a dollar buys the best seat in the house.

The company presented "East Lynne" at the Academy last night, that old play which always appeals to an audience, and while she was acceptable, she did not distinguish herself by any very clever work.

Mr. George Schaefer was acceptable as Archibald, as was also Mr. Alfred Hudson, Jr., as Sir Francis Levinson. Mr. J. E. Toole did good work as Mr. Dill.

Miss Edith Mayo was decidedly amateurish as Barbara Hare. Indeed, she could not, in justice, even be called a good amateur, and the same may be said of Miss Bessy Glantz as Joyce. Miss Emma Frederick, as the spinner, followed the usual lines in playing the part, and while she was acceptable, she did not distinguish herself by any very clever work.
