Social and Personal

The wedding celebration of Miss Parka McGinnis and Mr. Thomas Todd took place at 6:30 o'clock last evening in the home of the bride's cousin, Mrs. J. G. Henning, of No. 6 West Cary Street.

The bride was gowned in white organdy above silk. She wore a white rose in her hair and carried a bouquet of bride roses. The maid of honor, Miss Lillie Henning, of Powhatan, was a first cousin of the bride.

Many friends and relatives in Richmond are deeply interested in the wedding of Miss Georgia Morritt Chidester to Mr. George Stockton Willis, which took place July 24th, at 8 P. M., in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Holdridge Chidester, of Henrico, Va.

The bride was gowned in soft, clinging folds of white crepe de chine and chiffon. Her veil was caught with sprays of white Jessamine, and her flowers were a shower of white roses.

Mr. Edward Willis, of Greensboro, N. C., was the groom's best man. After the ceremony and the reception which followed, Mr. and Mrs. Willis left for a wedding tour, from which they will return to spend the summer in Greensboro, N. C.

His bride was a graduate of the Richmond Female Seminary during the time that Mr. John Powell was its principal. She is lovely in mind and person, and numbers her friends here by the score.

Company B of the Richmond Blues has a "strike mascot" in the person of a predecessor, which has cast in his lot with that of the company, and evidently imagines himself the most important member of it.

Mr. Dan Talley and family are booked to spend a part of the summer at the Old Sweet Springs.

Ocean View is to be made more attractive this season than ever. The management are taking pains in having new bath houses, fresh paint and flowers everywhere to offer great inducements to visitors.

Mrs. Derbysville, who has been spending several days this week with friends in the city, gives very cheerful accounts of her pleasant trip to the island.

Dr. Robert H. Fife, of the University of Virginia, was the week-end guest in Richmond of Mrs. R. T. Hunter.

Miss Lily Robert, of Cartersville, and Miss Nellie Balfour, of Powhatan, came to Richmond to attend the Todd-Mcginis wedding last evening.

For the accommodation of the patrons and consignor of the Richmond Exchange for Women's Work, the Exchange will be kept open Saturday, July 4th. It will be closed Monday, July 6th.

MAY DEFER ELECTION OF STATE LIBRARIAN

The State Library Board, just elected by the Board of Education, will meet here to-day for organization, and possibly elect a State Librarian to succeed Mr. W. W. Scott, though the latter is not likely.

The members of the board are Messrs. A. C. Gordon, of Staunton; John W. Fleishburne, of Charlottesville; S. S. P. Patton, of Richmond; Dr. J. A. Brown, of Richmond; and Judge Theo. S. Garnett, of Norfolk.

The latter is supposed and cannot be present, so it is thought the matter of the election of a librarian will go over. The law says this shall be done on the first day of July, and thereafter the election will be deemed practicable.

There are a number of strong candidates for librarian. Among them are Assistant Secretary of the Commonwealth J. G. Hankins; Secretary of the State Board of Education, Frank M. Carr, a former member of the House, John Jackson, Messrs. W. S. Archer, former Librarian Charles Pollock, Mr. Maples, of Charlottesville and others. The race is evidently going to be a very lively one when the final tally comes.

GERMAN OFFICERS. Distinguished Ones Call Upon Governor Montague.

Governor Montague was called upon at the Executive office yesterday by a party of distinguished Germans, two of them being officers of the government naval vessel "Panther."

Captain Liebohm, the commandant, and Lieutenant Schwartz were the officers, and they were introduced to His Excellency by Mr. E. K. Victor, the German consul at Richmond. They were accompanied by the Governor for some time, and all seemed pleased with the interview.

It will be recalled that some time ago the State Bar Association, many of its members, and other officers, and the latter ran from Old Point to meet His Excellency.

STATE LIBRARY TO REMAIN OPEN UNTIL FIVE

Pursuant to an act of the General Assembly, approved May 15, 1903, requiring the State Library kept open until 5 o'clock P. M. every day in the year (except Sundays and legal holidays), beginning on July 1, 1903, Colonel Richardson, Registrar of the Land Office, has ordered the elevator in the State Library building be kept running until the aforesaid hour each day, with exceptions.

The new law as to the keeping open of the library becomes effective to-day, and will prove of great benefit and convenience to the public and especially the lawyers of the State.

Camden Wanted. Governor Montague yesterday issued a requisition on the Governor of Maryland for one J. H. Camden, who is wanted in Newport News for malicious cutting.

The man is in custody at Hagerstown, Md., and Officer W. W. Morrison, of Newport News, left last night to bring him back.

Work of Police. Clerk Pollock's report of the arrests for June shows the following: 622; misdemeanors, 319; felony, 44; white, 349; colored, 34; ordinance violators, 24. Last month the total arrests were 471.

EPOCH IN HISTORY OF THE POSTAL CO

New Telegraphic Form that Symbolizes its Achievements.

To commemorate an epoch in its history and an event of signal importance to the country—the extension of the cables under the Pacific Ocean from San Francisco to Hawaii, Guam, Manila and China—a new telegraphic form has been designed and adopted by the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company.

The distinctive feature of the form is a unique device, or "trade mark," elliptical in shape, to indicate that the company's cables extend more than two-thirds of the distance from east to west around the world. The border of the ellipse is a representation of an armored submarine cable, with the words "Postal Telegraph Commercial Cable System" in white on the blue ground of a marginal band surrounding a reduced map, showing the silhouette of the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, the shores of Europe and Asia and the continent of North America, and indicating the routes of ocean cables and the main American land lines of the Commercial Cable and Postal Telegraph Company. The device is a graphic delineation in a remarkably small space of the comprehensive and far-reaching telegraph system, which will endure as a fitting monument to the late John W. Mackay, in whose patriotic public spirit it was conceived and by whose sagacity, financial ability and indomitable energy it was established and developed despite powerful opposition, until it gained public recognition as one of the most successful, as well as beneficent, business enterprises of the time.

The secret of its success is an open one and is summed up in the phrase that has become the motto of its employees: "Intelligence, diligence, energy and courtesy make the best telegraph."

It is justifiable pride that leads to the reiteration in the company's advertisements of the question, "Did you ever stop to compare the efficient telegraph service of the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company as it was before the Postal and Commercial companies entered the field?" followed by the answer, "It is better now, and we did it!"

LADIES RETURN THANKS

Grateful to All Who Contributed to the Success of the Bazaar. The ladies who so successfully conducted the recent bazaar here have issued the following notice of thanks, in which they request all the papers of the State to copy:

To the Daughters of the Confederacy, the Confederate Veterans, and all Confederates throughout the South. In the early spring of 1903, an appeal was sent out to the chapters and camps of each State (as well as to the South in general), asking for their aid in a bazaar to be held in Richmond, Va., for the benefit of the Jefferson Davis Monument. Nobly did they respond! Each State vying with the other in its generosity and loyalty! Where all did so well it would be impossible to mention any, but to each and all we extend our hearty thanks for their co-operation and liberality, which made the final success possible.

We take this method of reaching our many kind friends, not only to express our thanks, but to state the gratifying result of the whole patriotic undertaking. At this Confederate Bazaar, held in Richmond, Va., from April 21st to May 24th, we cleared the sum of $23,000. Of this, $15,000 was given to help complete the monument to President Davis. The remainder goes to the Confederate Museum.

Local sentiment demanded the erection of the first, and fidelity to history the preservation of the latter.

MRS. JOSEPH BRYAN, Assodate President, June, 1903. Confederate Bazaar.

By reason of the going into effect of the Barksdale public election bill on to-day, there can be no more money spent in elections, primaries or conventions in Virginia after that hour, except in the regular election of the famous statute.

Senator Barksdale had a hard struggle first and last to get the bill through, it having been fought by some of the strongest members of both houses. This law is sweeping in its nature, and being passed largely upon the New York and corruption statute, requires each candidate for office to file a sworn statement of his expenses with the proper officers of the law.

It is thought that the new law will tend to purify election methods in the State. It is indeed a most important and entirely new legislation, and will go a long way toward accomplishing the ends which it seeks.

General Passenger Agent Henry W. Fuller, of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, has been notified that the Coal and Iron Railway, a branch of the West Virginia Central Railway and Pittsburgh Railway Company, will be completed and in operation by August 1st. The line extends from Durban to Huttonsville, W. Va., and is controlled by the Gould interests.
