

DETECTIVE MISSING

Richard Richards. One of Best Known C. & O. Special Men.

NOT SEEN FOR SOME TIME

Warrants Issued Against All the Social Clubs in Newport News for Not Complying With City Ordinance as to Licensee.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Sept. 19.—Richard Richards, one of the best known Chesapeake and Ohio detectives here, is missing. He is supposed to have been sent last when he received his salary at the company's office in Richmond last week. He left a wife and two children behind.

AFTER SOCIAL CLUBS. Warrants have been issued against all of the social clubs in the city, charging them with failing to comply with the city ordinance requiring them to pay licensee of $500.

Two of the clubs recently secured an injunction restraining the commissioner of the revenue from collecting the license, but the police claim that the injunction does not affect their actions in any way. The cases will probably be heard in the Police Court Tuesday.

MINISTER TO RUSSIA

Guest at Alleghany Hotel With the Langhorns and Mrs. Gibson.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) GOSHEN, Va., Sept. 19.—Among the prominent guests being entertained by Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McCormick at the Hotel Alleghany, are Ambassador Robert B. McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Langhorne and Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, who arrived this evening. Ambassador McCormick will sail for St. Petersburg in a few days.

Bon Air Breezes

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) BON AIR, Va., Sept. 19.—The shank end of the breeze that came with the Atlantic coast cyclone touched Bon Air but slightly. We heard the wind sighing through the pines on the hills, but it was just a kind of wind that soothes one to sleep and was rather enjoyable, if anything can be enjoyable just at the time when people are feeling lonely because of the departure of summer guests. They have about all gone and we are lonely indeed. They have made the village unusually lively during the season just closed, and they are greatly missed.

The Hotel is deserted now, but the memories of the season still linger. During the ten years of its existence, it never had a more successful season of a happier, jollier crowd. It was a great big happy family all the season 'round and we doubt if any other hotel in the county has ever had a more successful season of a happier, jollier crowd. It was a great big happy family all the season 'round and we doubt if any other hotel in the county has ever had a more successful season of a happier, jollier crowd.

TALE OF A MAN WITHOUT A PIPE

Writes All the Way to Richmond to Get Somebody to Cut Him Reed Stems

It's the pathetic tale of a man without a pipe that reached town yesterday. He is a Southerner, and he is an exile in Chicago, and he wants a whiff from a good old Powhatan clay pipe, a thing that he can't get in the great Northwest. So he writes all the way to Richmond to ask some kindly soul to help him out. This is the letter the postmaster of Richmond received yesterday: Dear Sir,—I am a Southerner, an exile in this Siberia of America—Chicago, where they don't know what a Powhatan pipe is, with a reed root stem, is. I have two Powhatan pipes, but have used up my reed root stems, and can't get any here, where nobody knows even what good corn bread is. Therefore, I enclose my money and enclose a few cents in stamps, and ask if you won't cut up a couple of medium sized reed stems into lengths of about one foot and mail them to me. If enclosure is not enough drop me a postal, and I will send more. Thanking you in advance, Yours for a sweet smoke, E. H. EMORY.

The letter was turned over to Branch R. Allen and the desire of the far-away Southerner, who wants a reed stem from old Virginia, will be speedily satisfied.

A MATTER OF INTEREST

To the People of Richmond and Vicinity When a new business is opened in Richmond it is a matter of interest to all those who do their trading with the merchants of Richmond. This is more especially the case when the new concern is of such proportions as to assure the public that they can place their confidence and their patronage there, for the more good business houses Richmond has the more variety and the more up-to-date goods at prices that are right.

Until the opening of the Elite Studio, 17 East Broad Street, Richmond did not have an up-to-date, all-around photographic studio. This is now being changed. It was promptly picked up by good men, who saw the need of such a place here, and pushed on until to-day it is positively in the lead in photographic work in our city.

This studio was selected by Tim Murphy, who recently played "The Man from Missouri" at the Academy, as the best place in Richmond to have his large company photograph and these pictures are now being finished.

Many of Richmond's best people know of the excellent quality of work turned out by this studio, so it is not necessary to speak of that here. But we do wish the fact to be known that, owing to the increased patronage, Mr. Staunton, the manager, states that he is able to reduce the prices very materially, so that all can now secure at the Elite the best work made in Richmond.

All the very best that can be obtained, and no work that does not come up to the standard is allowed to go out. You cannot miss it if you sit for your picture at this place.

Strong Case Against Managers of the Social Organization—Police Court.

Owing to the absence of Commonwealth's Attorney Richardson, the case of the Magnolia Club was further continued next Wednesday in the Police Court yesterday.

This case is one of several that have been ventilated in the Police Court. There is a general fight on among the police to break up all clubs that are being run contrary to the ordinances. The case against the club arose over an incident that occurred one night in a room in which the president and a member figured, together with a resident of the neighborhood. The two members got in an altercation in front of the house of the resident and used some strong language. For this they appeared before Squire Lonnie Graves, and one of them was fined $10.

Then the fight against the club was pushed, and when the case comes up all the pressure that can be brought to bear will be up with the prosecution. The headquarters of the club is on West Cary Street. The case of John Peak was dismissed Mr. Peak is one of the patriarchs. He threw a rock at a car during the strike, just because he was waked up on the spur of the moment. Nobody ever appeared against him, and he made himself known everytime the case was called. Yesterday he was dismissed, and that ends the case.

William Fox was fined $5 for being exceedingly drunk, and being unable to pay the fine he went back to the pen. In addition to the above cases there were a number of small drunks, who were treated just as they should be.

FAIR SPONSORS

Fair Representatives from Two Ends of the State.

The Virginia veterans will be represented at the Newport News annual reunion by young women of distinguished lineage from two ends of the State.

General James MacCall, grand commander of the Confederate Veterans of Virginia, has appointed Miss Virginia Greener, of Chatham, Va., sponsor at large for the State, and Miss Mary Paul Roper, of Petersburg, her maid of honor. Miss Greener is the daughter of former Senator Greener, and will carry in the banner the flag that was carried by her distinguished father throughout the Civil War.

Miss Roper is the daughter of Mr. Bartlett Roper, a prominent citizen of Petersburg.

TRACY LEIGHTON

IS MANGLED BY TRAIN

The body of Tracy Leighton, an eighteen-year-old youth, who was killed by a train on the James River division of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway near Glasgow, Va., Thursday, was brought to this city Friday and interred yesterday in Oakwood Cemetery. Leighton was employed as a time-keeper by the railway, and his mangled body was found on the track as stated. Nothing further as to the circumstances of his death is known. The remains were taken to Clifton Forge and there prepared for burial. The young man lived at 310 North Twenty-eighth Street. It is supposed he fell between the cars and was run over or was killed trying to board a train. So little is known or attainable as to the casualty that any theory as to his death is largely speculative.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Master Charles H. Hall Celebrates His Thirtieth Natal Day.

Master Charles H. Hall, Jr., celebrated his thirtieth birthday Friday night, and his parents gave a party, which was enjoyed by many of the young people of the neighborhood. The parlors were decorated with potted plants. Red was the prevailing color. Those present were Misses Alice Stout, Willie Dewey, Bestie Couch, Mary Wood, Lida Reade, Edna and Louise Shuman, Grace Cottrell, Elizabeth Wright, Belle, Pauline and Rachel Pearce and Masters Perry Seny, Russell Couch, Lewis Wright, Wellington Cottrell, Edwin Stout and Charles H. Hall, Jr.

COOL WEATHER AND THEN WARM

Indications Are Uncertain, but Likely to Be Brisk for a Day or Two.

"Old Sol is hardly in it," said Farmer Evans yesterday. "And it is quite likely that he will be excluded, from participation in things for Sunday, at least."

This means that the weather to-day will be good for church-going and for quiet sittings at home in the afternoon. It is not likely that the frosty atmosphere will linger about here long, for the cool weather is a result of the severe storms that have played havoc along the coast for several days, and when that passes along in the course of events the sun will get in the game again. When severe and stray hats will be in vogue. Fall suits and fall hats, with light over

GOOD FINANCIERING

Prince Edward Board of Supervisors Have Done Well.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) MEHERLIN, Va., Sept. 19.—The Board of Supervisors of Prince Edward county met at Farmville Saturday. The entire corps of officers were paid the amount due them, and other debts against the county were received in full with the exception of a small outstanding note that is held by some person as part payment for work on the new clerk's office, and when the accounts were balanced it was found that something over $5,000 was left in the treasury.

The opening of the Woman's League Training School and Hospital will take place at Nos. 412 and 414 North Third Street Tuesday evening, September 22d, at 8 o'clock. Classes in cooking, dress-making, domestic science and trained nursing will be formed. The public is invited to attend.

Mr. L. B. Vaughan, who is critically ill with pneumonia, was considered slightly better last night.

Has Returned. Miss Annie Lee Kenney has returned to Louisiana after a delightful visit to the State.

Miss Ethel Fitzpatrick will return from Mt. Airy Tuesday evening, and will be the guest for the coming week of Miss Hossbud Brown, of West Grace Street. She will leave early in October for Boston, Mass., where she will reside.

MR. HECHLER OWNS THE HUNTER MEDAL

He Won It Yesterday for the Third Consecutive Time.

There was an enthusiastic lot of shooters at East End Gun Club yesterday, and much interest shown in the keen sport. The first string of twenty-five was for the weekly medal and with a handspan allowed, the same scores decided who should wear the Hunter medal. It was a very handsome emblem of the shooter's skill. The latter was won by Mr. Hechler, a visitor at the club yesterday with the medal becomes his personal property. The former medal was led for by Philip and Anderson, the latter winning out.

Next Saturday will be the most interesting, as well as the last, shoot of the season.

The Harris, Filpen & Co. medal will be contested for by a number of the crackers-jacks of Richmond. The one winning it becomes the final owner.

The Albatross Club have promised to attend this shoot in a body. This safe lot will be the first of the year.

Mr. C. Van Inogon, of New York, representing the Union Metallic Cartridge Co. was a visitor at the club yesterday and by his affable ways made many friends. He is not a shooter, but a very handy man to referee at such events.

Mr. Hechler was showing up a new hand-trap and the way Anderson, Hechler, Talman, Haughton, and Filpen stopped them, the club yesterday "scrappers" was a caution. It was impossible for one to escape the pattern of the new Schutte trap.

Twenty-five targets in each event; scores as follows: First Second Event. Event. Coleman ..... 20 10 Lowry ..... 9 10 Williams ..... 17 15 Baker ..... 20 8 Filpen ..... 22 20 Anderson ..... 22 21 Boular ..... 21 20 Robertson ..... 9 12 Haughton ..... 18 18 Jersey ..... 14 17
