

Especially Good Values in Tailor-Made Suits.

The illustration this afternoon shows one of our $16.50 Zibeline Suits, photographed by our special artist from a living model. It's in Louis XIV. style and you'll notice how perfectly the garment conforms to the figure. Skilled tailoring is responsible for that. The Coat is made with a cape and is trimmed with Peau de Soie. Full flared skirt—stitched at the bottom.

Covert Cloth in a castor shade is always attractive-looking and our Covert Cloth Suits in this shade at $20.00 have satin-lined jackets and a skirt pleated to match the jacket. Zibeline Suits at $25.00—tweed lined coats, with the entire suit trimmed with contrasting colors. One of the finest-looking and most serviceable suits in the store is a Light-Gray Imported Zibeline at $40.00. Deep shouder cape with epaulettes, cut-stick centre buttons, trimmed with silk braid and just enough black velvet to contrast nicely with the color of the suit.

The manner in which a suit is tailored is of just as much importance as the material—that's why our Venetian Cloth Suits at $18.50 are such very good values at that figure. The coat is 36 inches long and collarless; trimmed with braid. The skirt has a very graceful hang, neatly pleated and comes to the instep.

Social and Personal

Richmond and Norfolk society circles were much interested yesterday evening in the marriage of Miss Lizzie Duncan Richardson, the daughter of Mrs. Mattie L. Richardson, to Mr. Isaac Willoughby Enson, a prominent member of the Norfolk bar. The home of the bride's mother, No. 108 East Main Street, was the scene of the wedding, which was celebrated at 6:30 P. M. Tasteful and profuse floral decorations were in palms, ferns, autumn leaves and golden rods. Shaded lamps and wax tapers in silver and crystal candelabra lent additional beauty and brilliancy to the occasion.

The marriage ceremony was impressively performed by the Rev. Dr. W. W. Lear, of Centenary Methodist Church, who stood between the bride and groom. The bride and groom were escorted from the hall and through the rear parlor by little Miss Grace Gilham and Master Kirk Parrish, Jr., both of whom were dressed in white. Mr. Shepherd Webb struck the chords of Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bride party entered the room. After the interchange of bridal vows the sweet notes of "O Promise Me."

The Richmond Assembly will hold its regular annual meeting at the Masonic Temple Friday night, October 23d, at 8:15 o'clock. Although there has been rumors that this club will disband, the officers emphatically deny them, and assert that this season promises to be even more successful and enjoyable than the previous ones have been.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Grubbs have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Minnie Lee, to Mr. Leonard Blawie, of Norfolk, secretary and treasurer of the Norfolk and Western Railway, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Grubbs, on Wednesday, October 21st, at 8 o'clock. A reception will be tendered the bride party at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. Beadles is the youngest son of Mr. R. M. Beadles, a well known and prosperous farmer of Hanover. The bride is the pretty and accomplished daughter of Mr. David Grubbs, also a prosperous farmer of Hanover. They will make their home with the groom's parents for the present.

Miss Louise Marshall Richardson, the maid of honor, was also in white chiffon. Her flowers were La France roses. The groom was attended by his best man, Dr. Cyrilus Enson, of Norfolk. The bride party was escorted by the Rev. Dr. W. W. Lear, of Centenary Methodist Church, on Tuesday evening by Mrs. Mattie L. Richardson, the bride's mother, who appeared last evening in a handsome black crepe de chine, with chiffon trimming. Mr. and Mrs. Eason left by the 8:30 northern train last night for a several week tour. They will be home after November 1st, at No. 422 Hamilton Avenue, Norfolk, Va. Mr. Eason is a graduate of Randolph-Macon College, and was a graduate and class orator of the law class of 1897 at Washington and Lee University. He has since been most successful in the practice of his profession in Norfolk, where he is also very popular in social circles.

At the Academy.

Great interest has been aroused among the literary people and lovers of Shakespeare in this city by the announcement of the forthcoming appearance at the Academy to-morrow, matinee and night, of Miss Percy Haswell and the George Fawcett Company in "The Favor of the Queen," a romantic comedy of the Shakespearean time introduced by William Shakespeare as a character for the first time to the stage. This play, through its novelty in its construction, through its literary beauty and value, having been hailed by the critics as the greatest literary play of modern days in addition to being the most playable play of its class, has caused more comment than any production of recent years. It comes here in the course of a brief tour preceding the engagement of Miss Haswell, with the same company, in costume and scenery, in New York city. Miss Haswell, who is well known through the South as the star last season in "A Royal Family" is remarkably well adapted to the principal part that of a venturesome girl who dons male attire and seeks to find a company engagement in Shakespeare's play of players, where she, as a boy, creates the part of Juliet in "Romeo and Juliet." The part is one of dash and vivacity and striking beauty in its situations. Mr. Fawcett has surrounded his star with a selected company and a production elaborate in every detail. All these things would indicate one of the most important engagements of the season here. Supporting Miss Haswell are Regan Hudson, leading man, Alfred Hudson, Maudie Stover, L. B. Carleton, George Schraeder, Alfred Hudson, Jr., Edwin Evans, Viola Burton, Anita Carroll, Allan Fawcett, Thornton Alexander and half a dozen others, completing a cast of superior merit in every way.

"The Silver Slipper." One of the features in John C. Fisher's production of the delightful musical play "The Silver Slipper," by the authors of "Florodora," is the "Champagne Dance," which is performed in the second act. "The Champagne Dance" is only one of the many delightful features of "The Silver Slipper," which will be seen at the Academy Thursday and Friday nights. The complete production will be seen with all the dazzling scenic and lighting effects and the expensive costumes which made "The Silver Slipper" the most gorgeous and elaborately staged musical play of the season. The company that will be here will number one hundred in all.

Shakespearean revivals are always interesting and when they are made in the way Augustin DeLoach has done them at his New York theatre, they are instructive as well. Miss Ada Rehan and Otis Skinner will present next Wednesday at the Academy "The Taming of the Shrew."

Paul Gilroy comes to this city again next Saturday, to play the part of another Charles Wyndham and John Drew role—that of Lord "Jack" Lumley in the big New York and London success, "The Mummy and the Humming Bird." This play has had an enormous run at the Empire theatre, New York, and has never been seen in America outside of a few of the very largest cities. "Loopin' the Loop." The Norfolk Ledger has this to say of the show which comes to the Bijou Theatre next week: "The three-act musical absurdity, 'Loopin' the Loop,' had another full house at the Granby last night. The whole show, from beginning to end, is one continuous laugh, and in the last act, when the Otto Brothers, the German comedians, do their specialty, the audience became hilarious, and the clever team had to work overtime before they were allowed to go off the stage."

"Not Guilty." The engagement of the company presenting "Not Guilty" at the Bijou this week will end Saturday. The crowds are exceedingly grateful for the management. The play will be seen tonight, at matinee to-morrow and for the last time to-morrow night. Dr. Pagby's Successor. The first year of the pastorate of the Rev. H. A. Pagby, D. D., at Greenwood, S. C., has just closed. Dr. Pagby was steadily pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, of this city, and he has many friends here who are interested in his success. During the year of his pastorate to the church, of which 120 were by baptism. His church has now a membership of over 500, and he is one of the laymen of the State. The congregation has recently raised a large sum of money for improvements to the church and parsonage.

I used to be so bad that I could not move without help, but I can now do any kind of work." Another writes: "My illness of 7 years was a severe sufferer for several years, sometimes so bad that we could not hold him in bed, expecting any moment for him to breathe his last. Doctors did him no good and we had almost given up in despair when through accident we heard of Schiffmann's Asthma Cure, tried it and it almost instantly relieved him." Mrs. D. C. Harris, Elbow P. VETERAN REESE ALSO EXPELLED. Executive Committee of Soldiers' Home Lets Him Share Veteran Parker's Fate.

Veteran W. A. Reese, of the Soldiers' Home, who was claimed to have been associated with W. M. Parker in the assault upon Commandant A. C. Peay Monday morning, has been expelled from the Home, sharing the fate of Comrade Parker. The Executive Committee of the Home reached the decision to send Comrade Reese away at its meeting Wednesday afternoon. The action was kept a secret until the order of expulsion was read at the board of the Home yesterday morning, and so, within seventy-two hours after the alleged assault was made, the two offending veterans had been shown the front gate of the institution. The appended statement of the action of the committee was given out yesterday: "At the meeting of the Executive Committee last night, Veteran W. A. Reese was found guilty of holding the commandant and refusing to release him when so ordered by the commandant. W. A. Reese was also found guilty of striking the commandant. "By unanimous vote of the committee he was expelled from the Home.

Mr. Reese, it is understood, is to do violence to the commandant and three of the witnesses, was to-day placed under bonds by Justice Lewis to keep the peace for six months towards all citizens of the State, and especially A. C. Peay. "The president of the board will to-day issue an order prohibiting Veteran Reese to enter the grounds of the Soldiers' Home." "Squire James T. Maybee is the efficient superintendent, has in its possession twin baby girls, very lovely little tots, so it is said, for whom the society would be glad to find a home. The babies are six months old, in fine health, and are very anxious to get into the same Christian home where they will be cared for and not separated. Their mother is dead, and they are thrown upon the charity of the world. The society and the babes would be glad to hear that one family shall take them both, but if this be impossible, then separation will be necessary for the time being. The babies are not in Richmond at present, but information concerning them can be had at the office of the society, Room 8, State Bank building.

Day was charged yesterday with beating Josephine Frazzoli and the case went over to the 20th. William Lawson was also charged with beating Preston Carey, and he will tell about it on the 17th. Paul Smith, a small negro, was sent to the Reformatory for taking a guitar belonging to Charles Boynton. Julius Brown, as a suspicious character, was put under bonds for sixty days. Drunks galore then filed past and some collections were made and some were not, with the result that about half those charged were allowed to go down for a few days to sober up. Then court adjourned.

THE CHILD'S SKIN GROWING DARKER

Foster Parents Fear Little One They Adopted May Have Negro Blood. An incident has just occurred in which the foster parents of a foundling adopted from the Almshouse about five years ago are the principal actors. At the time the child was found deserted on the street in the West End and carried to the Almshouse it was believed to be white. Now as the boy grows older his skin has become darker, and the foster parents, who are highly respectable people named Tunstall, from New Kent, are in a quandary. They have brought the boy to Richmond, and Dr. J. G. Trevillian, resident surgeon of the City Hospital, has made a thorough examination. Dr. Trevillian examined the little one when it was first taken to the Almshouse, a few hours old, but it was impossible at that time to say whether there was any trace of negro blood, nor is it possible to tell now positively. Dr. Trevillian said last night that the anatomical characteristics of the negro were absent; the hair has no kinks, the eyes are blue and the cheeks rosy. "The child has been exposed to the sun," said Dr. Trevillian, "and is consequently much tanned. He has also been living in a malarial country, which may account in large measure for his shade. But he is a good looking boy, and has as pretty a foot as I ever saw." If the child, through age, develops stronger indications, the foster parents will endeavor to have Judge Witt amend the papers of adoption, so that they may still keep the child, but not under their own name. There is a strong affection existing between the foster parents and the child, whom they have raised from an infant a few days old.
